WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the sanitation of mining settlements in Bengal;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal, including the Sonthal Parganas.

Definitions.

2. The expressions "agent," "employed," "mine" and "owner", as used in this Act, shall have the same meaning as in section 3 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901. VIII of 1901.

Appointment of Mines Board of Health.

3 (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint, for any area or any two or more areas in which persons employed in a mine reside, a Mines Board of Health, consisting of not less than five or more than eight persons.

(2) One of the persons appointed under sub-section (1) shall be the District Magistrate, and another shall be the Sub-divisional Officer (if any) having authority over the area or areas for which the Board is appointed.

(5) If the Commissioner so recommends, one of the persons appointed under sub-section (1) shall be nominated by persons who receive royalties, rents or fines from mines.

(6) Nominations under sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) must be made under such procedure, and within such period, as may be prescribed by rules made under this Act; and, in default of nomination in accordance with such rules, the Local Government may appoint any person it thinks fit.

Procedure for declaring area to be a mining settlement.

4. (1) A Mines Board of Health may at any time submit a report to the Local Government, showing what area or areas (not being or forming part of a mine) should, in the opinion of the Board, be declared to be a mining settlement or mining settlements and placed under the authority of the Board for the purposes of this Act.

(2) The Local Government may, after considering any report so submitted to it, publish a notice in the Calcutta Gazette and in such other manner (if any) as it may think fit, intimating its intention to declare any area described in such report to be a mining settlement for the purposes of this Act. (b) is punishable with imprisonment.

Power of Local Government to alter or rescind orders.

21. The Local Government may reverse or modify any order passed under this Act by any authority. [Cf. 1901, s. 30.]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to provide a procedure for enforcing sanitation in mining settlements in Bengal. A large coal industry has been rapidly developed in limited areas, and great numbers of illiterate and undisciplined labourers have settled therein. No practical effort has hitherto been made to carry out even the most elementary and necessary sanitary arrangements, except in a few areas, the inhabitants of which have justification for complaining that their neighbours are not compelled to take measures such as they have themselves introduced. The result has been the regular visitation of epidemic disease, and the Indian Mining Association have frequently moved for legislation to secure the enforcement of sanitary regulations.

2. One difficulty in dealing with the subject is that the areas above ground, in the vicinity of a mine, which require sanitation, are not all under the control of the same colliery, the lands belonging to the owners of mines and the zamindars being intermixed. It is therefore proposed that a Sanitary Committee, to be called the Mines Board of Health, should be appointed for each mining district, whose duty it will be to report to the Government, on the basis of local knowledge and with the help of the maps prepared by the Geological Survey Department, what specific areas should be brought under sanitary control. Notifications will then be published in the Gazette, declaring (after the lapse of a reasonable time, during which objections may be lodged) the areas to be mining settlements. Permanent Sanitary Officers will be appointed to report what measures of sanitation are required in mining settlements, and they will be under the direct control of the Board.

3. When a Mines Board of Health decides what sanitary measures are required, it will serve a notice on mine-owners and land-owners, requiring them to take the necessary action; and, in their default, will take the necessary action itself, recovering the cost from the owners of the mines and from royalty-receivers. Provision is also made for the payment of salaries, travelling allowances and incidental expenses, and for the recovery of such payments from the owners of mines and from royalty-receivers. All sums chargeable to mine-owners and royalty-receivers will be apportioned in the same manner as the road and public works cesses, and will be recovered in the same manner as arrears of land revenue.

4. The more important provisions of the Bill are explained in the subjoined notes.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 3 empowers the Local Government to appoint Mines Boards of Health for areas in which persons employed in mines reside. Each Board will comprise five or more members, up to a limit of eight. Two of the members will be nominated by mine-owners, and, if the Commissioner so recommends, one will be nominated by royalty-receivers. The District Magistrate (or, in his absence, the Sub-divisional Officer) will be Chairman. The remaining members of each Board will be selected by the Local Government.

2. Clause 4 empowers the Local Government, on the report of a Mines Board of Health, and after giving those interested an opportunity to lodge objections, to declare areas to be subject to the Act as "mining settlements."

3. Clause 5 directs the Local Government to appoint Sanitary Officers for mining settlements, and declares their duties.

4. Sub-clause (2) of clause 5 declares that Sanitary Officers shall, like Inspectors of Mines [Act VIII of 1901, section 4(4)], be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

5. Clause 6 empowers the Local Government to direct payment of remuneration to members of Mines Boards of Health, salaries to Sanitary Officers, travelling expenses and the cost of establishments. These payments will be recovered from mine-owners and royalty-receivers under clause 11 of the Bill.

6. Clause 7 empowers any Mines Board of Health to serve a notice on mine-owners or land-owners requiring them to execute and maintain such works, and to carry on such periodical operations, as may be necessary for carrying into effect the sanitary measures which the Board have decided to be required. The expenses incurred by a mine-owner will be payable by himself. Those incurred by a land-owner will be recovered from mine-owners and royalty-receivers under clause 11 of the Bill and repaid to him.

7. Clause 8.—If any person required by notice served under clause 7 to do any work should fail to execute the work to the satisfaction of the Mines Board of Health, clause 8 empowers the Board, after serving at least one warning notice on the defaulter, to have the work done itself. The expenses incurred by the Board in having the work done will be recovered from the mine-owners and royalty-receivers under clause 11 of the Bill.

8. Clause 9.—It will not always be practicable to call a meeting of the Mines Board of Health to give directions as to the execution of work. It is accordingly declared, in clause 9, that any of the functions of the Board under clause 7 or clause 8 may be discharged by its Chairman, whenever he considers the case to be of such urgency as to render it impracticable to call a meeting.

9. Clause 10, declares that notices as to the execution of work may be served by registered post.

10. Clause 11 declares that the expenses incurred in working the Act shall be charged to mine-owners and royalty-receivers, in the proportions in which the road and public works cesses are payable by them, respectively, and shall be recoverable in the same manner as arrears of land revenue, that is, by the certificate procedure.

11. Clause 12 empowers the Local Government to make rules for carrying out the purposes and objects of the Bill. The clause is based on section 20 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901 (VIII of 1901). In reproducing sub-clause (n) of that section in clause 12(g) of the Bill, power has been expressly taken to make rules to provide for the supply of filtered or boiled water in mining settlements.

12. Clause 13 is based on section 4(6) of the Indian Mines Act, 1901. It requires the Mines Board of Health to give notice to mine-owners and land-owners of any rules made under clause 12 and concerning them.

13. Clauses 14 and 15 are based on sections 6 and 7 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901. Clause 14 confers necessary powers on Sanitary Officers, and clause 15 requires mine-owners and land-owners to afford all necessary facilities to those officers.

14. Clause 16 is based on section 11 (2) of the Indian Mines Act, 1901. It confers on Mines Boards of Health the powers of a Civil Court for obtaining evidence.

15. Clauses 17 to 20 are based on sections 22 to 25 of the same Act. Clause 17 provides penalties, clauses 18 and 19 regulate prosecutions, and clause 20 confines jurisdiction in certain cases to Magistrates of the higher classes.

16. Clause 21 is based on section 30 of the same Act. It empowers the Local Government to reverse or modify orders passed under the Bill.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORTS OF THE VETERINARY COLLEGE AND OF TEH CIVIL VETERINARY DEPARTMENT BENGAL. FOR THE YEAR 1910-11.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—AGRICULTURE.

RESOLUTION—No. 2501.

READ—

The Annual Reports of the Veterinary College and of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, for the year 1910-11.

COLONEL RAYMOND was Principal of the Bengal Veterinary College and Mr. Quinlan was Superintendent of the Civil Veterinary Department throughout the year. Mr. P. J. Kerr, I.C.V.D., joined for training on the 22nd January 1911.

2. Bengal Veterinary College.—The number of students on the college roll at the beginning of the session was 176, but the actual number in the classes at the end of the session was 138. Of these, 38 came from Bengal, 15 from Bihar, 5 from Orissa, 67 from Eastern Bengal and Assam and 13 from other provinces. The results of the final examination were satisfactory, the percentage of passes being 76. The conduct and general health of the students were good. The Principal reports that the students' private sick bay which was opened last year has been useful and is appreciated. A curator and librarian has been appointed for the museum attached to the college. The usual nursing class for Army Transport drivers was held during the vacation and was attended by eight men who were found competent at the end of their course.

3. College Hospital.—During the year under report 5,869 cases were treated as compared with 5,680 during the previous year, showing an increase of 189. These figures do not include 4,000 hackney-carriage horses which were examined for the Calcutta Corporation. The number of animals sent for treatment to the college hospital in connection with cruelty cases was very small.

4. The administration of the Glanders and Farcy Act in Calcutta and its neighbourhood was conducted smoothly and efficiently under the supervision of Colonel Raymond. During the year 4,025 stables containing about 16,000 horses were inspected and glanders was detected in 34 stables as against 54 in the preceding year. The total number of horses admitted into the contagious diseases hospital was 303, including 7 horses which were under observation at the close of the preceding year. Of these, 57 were destroyed, 10 died in hospital and 230 were discharged as free from glanders, and 6 remained under observation at the close of the year. A sum of Rs. 245-5-4 was paid as compensation for the destruction of animals under the Glanders and Farcy Act in the area under the supervision of Colonel Raymond. There was no friction with the people. The management of outbreaks of all epizootic diseases undertaken by Colonel Raymond with the sanction of the Calcutta Corporation has borne excellent results. Special provision was made for the inspection of cattle belonging to private milk-vendors. Rinderpest was prevalent in Calcutta and the suburbs during the year ; and foot-and-mouth disease appeared in several parts of Calcutta and in the Howrah and Garden Reach municipal areas. Prompt assistance was rendered in all these outbreaks. In Calcutta and the suburbs 2,276 cattle were inoculated against rinderpest.

5. Raymond Research Laboratory.—This institution continued to do excellent work in the diagnosis of contagious and obscure diseases in cases admitted into the hospital and from materials sent by veterinary officers from the mufassal. The laboratory has now been fitted with an electric installation and with up-to-date instruments. Two veterinary graduates from the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, passed the post-graduate course of training for promotion to Inspectorships during the year.

6. Civil Veterinary Department—Treatment of Diseases.—Though an improvement has been noticed in some districts with regard to the promptitude with which outbreaks of disease are reported, much still remains to be done in this respect. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council notes with regret that there are complaints against the Agricultural Associations of supineness in reporting cases of outbreaks. The Inspector-General of Police has issued orders that a register of diseases is to be kept in each thana. The staff of the Veterinary Department attended 282 outbreaks in the mufassal and performed 25,782 inoculations as compared with 12,746 during the previous year. This is satisfactory, but more can be done if the co-operation of the more enlightened members of the public is secured and the raiyats become more willing to accept this method of prevention. In North Bhagalpur, Gaya, Hooghly, Burdwan, Sonthal Parganas, Muzaffarpur and Champaran the Veterinary Assistants met with great opposition, and the fact was brought to the notice of the District Magistrate on each occasion. The efficacy, however, of preventive inoculation is beginning to be recognized.

7. Veterinary Dispensaries.—No new dispensary was opened during the year. One is under construction at Bettiah, and one at Beguserai has not yet been equipped. Excluding the dispensaries at Howrah and Cooch Behar and the Pinjrapoles at Hazaribagh and Sodepur, there were 22 dispensaries under the direct supervision of the Superintendent during the year. It is proposed to close the dispensaries at Balasore, Palamau and Suri, in which very few cases are being treated. There was a slight falling-off in the total number of out-patients terated, and it is to be regretted that the raiyats have not yet learnt to appreciate the usefulness of these dispensaries.

8. Breeding operations.—Government does not at present possess any farms for the breeding and rearing of bulls. Two such farms are, however, maintained by the Hathwa and Bettiah Wards' Estates, which supply bulls for use in their respective areas. A herd of Siri cattle is being reared at Kalimpong by the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes with a view to improve the breed of cattle in Darjeeling. The demand for bulls for breeding purposes is on the increase, and the question has been engaging the attention of the Director of Agriculture for some time.

9. General.—There were 8 Inspectors and 71 Veterinary Assistants under the control of the Superintendent of the Civil Veterinary Department at the close of the year against 6 and 62 during the previous year. The scheme for the formation of a Provincial Veterinary Service was sanctioned during the year, but was not brought into operation. The local bodies concerned have been consulted by the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and his recommendation to give effect to the scheme from the 1st April 1911 has been accepted by Government.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council congratulates Col. Raymond on another year's efficient administration and thanks him for the care and tact which he has displayed in the conduct of his duties.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA PORTS FOR THE YEAR 1910-11.

No. 1015Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 10th August 1911.

RESOLUTION.

Administration Report of the Orissa ports for 1910-11.

READ—

Letter from the Commissioner, Orissa Division, No. 4710., dated the 29th July 1911, submitting the report on the Administration of the Orissa ports for the year 1910-11.

THE earnings of the ports decreased from Rs. 15,673 to Rs. 13,536, as the number of vessels which visited the ports during the year was less than that in the preceding year.

The expenditure was Rs. 3,421 less than that of 1909-10, and the fund closed with a credit balance of Rs. 1,760. This result was achieved chiefly in consequence of the revised distribution of charges sanctioned by the Government of India in August 1910.

The import trade in Cuttack shows a heavy decrease, and this was due to non-importation of rice and paddy from Burma, for which there was no demand in the local market on account of good harvests. On the other hand, the value of the export trade in Cuttack, Puri and Balasore greatly increased, as, owing to an excellent harvest, a large quantity of rice was exported to foreign and other Indian ports. The total value of trade, exports and imports, rose from Rs. 92,36,756 to Rs. 98,93,045.

The total number of vessels visiting the ports during the year was 188, with an aggregate tonnage of 154,293, as against 226 vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 209,716 in the preceding year.

The Port Officer of Cuttack and Balasore Ports inspected all the ports several times. The erosion of Shortt's Island continues towards the north-east; 75 feet was cut away during the year. Steps have been taken to protect the light-mast.

All buoys, marks and beacons have been shifted and placed in proper positions.

The health of the port was fairly good throughout the year under report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

T. BUTLER,
Secretary.

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1910-11.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 382S.R.—The 6th August 1911.—The following extracts from the Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the administration of the Salt Department in this Province during the year 1910-11 and from the letter of the Board of Revenue reviewing the Report, are published for general information.

H. WHEELER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3528B., dated Calcutta, the 13th July 1911.

From—W. A. MARR, ESQ., I.C.S., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P., Miscellaneous Revenue Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

Member in charge:
THE HON'BLE MR. R. T. GREER, C.S.I., I.C.S.

I AM directed to submit the accompanying report, received from the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the administration of the Salt Department in the year 1910-11. The report does not cover the preventive operations in Bihar, which are still controlled by the Commissioner of Northern India Salt Revenue, nor does it include within its scope the preventive work in the districts of Chittagong and Noakhali, which has ceased to be under the control of the Commissioner of Salt, Bengal, since the 1st April 1910.

* * * * * * *

3. Credit System of payment of duty on salt. * * * The salt credit system has gained in popularity, and increased advantage was taken of it by the salt merchants in Calcutta during the year under review. Large numbers of securities were in consequence deposited with the Collector of Customs, who, not considering it prudent to leave this valuable property permanently in the Custom House safe in the custody of the cashier, proposed to follow the practice in Madras and deposit the securities for safe custody in the Bank of Bengal. This proposal was approved by the Board and sanctioned by Government. * * *

4. Salt bonding arrangements in Calcutta. * * * The Government of India having disapproved of the proposals submitted by the Board for the extension of the salt bonding accommodation at Sulkea, at an estimated cost of Rs. 18,93,507, directed the preparation and submission of a revised scheme after re-examining the proposals and consulting the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam as regards the construction of salt golas at Chittagong on a cheaper scale. After the necessary enquiries a revised proposal, at an estimated cost of Rs. 4,49,806 only, was submitted to Government for administrative approval with the Board's letter No. 2518B., dated the 22nd May 1911. This proposal, however, meets only the immediate requirements, particularly those which are likely to arise when the salt godowns at Kidderpore have to be abandoned. If occasion arises, further proposals for extending the bonding accommodation within the gola compound at Sulkea will be submitted. A revised estimate for the provision of increased platform accommodation and turntables is now under preparation.

5. Imports. * * * The imports show an increase of a little over two lakhs of maunds, as compared with the previous year. This small increase calls for no remarks. As compared with the previous year, the import of Spanish salt fell off considerably. No explanation of the large decrease (over 12½ lakhs of maunds) has been furnished; but it may be ascribed to loss of popularity of this salt in the local market.

6. Consumption and prices. * * * The quantity of salt which passed into consumption in the Province during the year under review is estimated at 8,143,100 maunds as against 8,172,823 maunds in the previous year. There was a slight increase of two pies in the average wholesale price per maund of salt, and the average retail price for the Province was 9¼ pies a seer, which was the same as in the previous year. Exclusive of duty, the average wholesale price of Liverpool salt per 100 maunds as sold from the ship's side in Calcutta rose from Rs. 37-11-3·25 in 1909-10 to Rs. 45-11-11. The rise in price is attributed generally to low stocks and high freight.

7. * * * There was a large decrease in the number of seizures of illicit salt and in the number of prosecutions under the Salt Law (Act XII of 1882) during the year, as compared with the previous year. No cases were reported in Balasore, Midnapore, Howrah and Khulna, and no cases were sent up under section 5 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864. The decrease in the 24-Parganas is attributed to the wide distribution of shops for the sale of licit salt, systematic patrol and better condition of the people. The decrease in Orissa is ascribed to the improved condition of the people in consequence of good harvests.

8. Receipts and charges. * * * The financial results of the year, as compared with those of 1909-10, show a decrease of over 12½ lakhs or 10·7 per cent. in receipts, and of Rs. 66,514 or 16·6 per cent. in expenditure, the net revenue being less than that of the previous year by 10·5 per cent.

* * * * * * *

No. 237S., dated Calcutta, the 26th June 1911.

From—THE HON'BLE MR C. E. A. W. OLDHAM, I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L.P.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following consolidated Report on the administration of the Salt Department for the year 1910-11. The report deals with proventive operations in the saliferous districts in the province which were under my control, and the importation and issues of salt under the control of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta.

Charge of Department.

2. Mr. Foley held charge from the 1st April to the 16th May 1910, and I was in charge for the rest of the year.

CHAPTER I.—GENERAL.

Temporary golas at Sulkea, their use. Diversion of lines of rail, etc.

7. It has been reported by the Collector of Customs that owing to steady exports the five temporary golas constructed at Sulkea were not used to any large extent. In fact three only were used during the year, and since November it has not been necessary to use any. Sanction was received to divert two of the existing lines of rail, so as to make them run straight out of the premises instead of joining the main line. The work is nearly completed, and when finished should prove a great boon, inasmuch as it will provide space for marshalling 90 wagons instead of 60 as at present. Wooden gangways have been substituted for iron ones on all the old pontoons. An electric installation has been provided at the golas, which has proved to be of great benefit. The golas and the foreshore at Sulkea are now suitably lighted, and work can be carried on by artificial light when necessary.

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER II.—STOCKS, IMPORTS AND CLEARANCES.

Accounts of stocks and issues.

10. The stocks, imports and clearances of the salt warehouses in Bengal for the years 1908-09, 1909-10 and 1910-11 are shown below:—

STOCKS, IMPORTS, ETC.	1908-09. Mds.	1909-10. Mds.	1910-11. Mds.
Total of all stocks at the commencement of the year.	1,935,332	3,465,639	2,392,394
Total quantity imported during the year ...	13,910,757	11,678,319	11,879,570
Excess found in the golas	892	867	1,293
Total ...	15,846,981	15,144,825	14,273,257

Stocks, Imports, etc.	1908-09.	1909-10.	1910-11.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Quantity on which duty was paid during the year.	11,281,212	11,685,092	11,907,324
Quantity which passed free of duty for the manufacture of glazed stoneware, etc.	4,496	2,178	4,020
Quantity of non-duty-paid salt removed under bond to the warehouses in the transferred districts.	951,360	903,850	902,358
Quantity written off during the year for wastage or otherwise.	144,274	161,311	177,045

Balance at the close of the year ...	3,465,639	2,392,394	1,282,510

The importations of salt during the year may be regarded as normal. The clearances exceeded those of the previous year by about 2¼ lakhs of maunds, the increase being attributable to brisker trade. In addition to the closing balance, there were at the close of the year 114,356 maunds of salt lying afloat in the port of Calcutta, as compared with 5,589 maunds at the end of 1909-10.

Imports.

11. * * * The largest quantity of salt imported by sea came from the United Kingdom; Spain, Salif, Aden, Port Said, Bombay, Massowah and Germany were the next largest exporters in the order named. Salt from Rowayah (Red Sea), Phocee (Turkey in Asia) and Muscat, Linga and Hanjam (Persian Gulf) seems to have dropped out of the local market, there having been no importation of any of these kinds for the last three years. No Madras salt was imported during the year.

* * * * * * *

Sales of imported salt from shipboard and bond.

12. The percentage of the quantity of salt bonded in the Sulkea and Kidderpore golas to the total importations was 67 against 68 in 1909-10. During the last two years there has been a perceptible diminution in the percentage of salt bonded as compared with the total imports, owing to the arrangement of direct delivery from shipboard referred to in paragraph 10 of last year's report.

In Calcutta the sales direct from shipboard show an increase of 5·9 per cent., while those from bond show an increase of 1·0 per cent. only. Of the total sales in Calcutta 26 per cent. were from shipboard, and 74 per cent. from the bonded warehouses, against 25 and 75 per cent., respectively in the previous year. All the vessels carrying salt into Calcutta during the year were steamers.

Transactions in the Sulkea and Kidderpore golas.

13. The total transactions at the Sulkea and Kidderpore golas for the past five years are shown below:—

Years.	Maunds.
1907-08 ...	19,286,421
1908-09 ...	19,575,642
1909-10 ...	16,732,270
1910-11 ...	16,974,317

The quantity of salt handled at Sulkea amounted to 15,200,034 maunds, against 13,239,344 maunds in the preceding year; and that at Kidderpore to 1,774,283 maunds as compared with 3,492,926 maunds. A large portion of the transactions at Kidderpore has been diverted to Sulkea, owing to the reduced accommodation at the former place and the increased advantages at the latter.

* * * * * * *

Inland bonded warehouses.

16. There were only two private bonded warehouses in the province as in the previous year, both situated at Chandbali in the district of Balasore and owned by Messrs. Turner, Morrison & Co. The quantity of salt despatched to these two warehouses as well as to the bonded warehouses in the province of Eastern Bengal and Assam was 1,034,788 maunds against 1,008,750 maunds in the previous year. The quantity of salt despatched from shipboard to the warehouses at Chandbali alone amounted to 132,430 maunds against 104,900 maunds in 1909-10.

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER III.—CONSUMPTION AND PRICES.

Consumption in Bengal.

18. The total quantity of salt which passed into consumption in the province was 8,143,100 maunds. This is exclusive of 3,785,964 maunds, the net export by land, but inclusive of 21,740 maunds educed from saltpetre (excluding 455 maunds of sitta or impure salt).

* * * * * * *

Prices of salt in Bengal generally.

20. * * * * There was a slight increase of 2 pies in the average wholesale price as compared with the previous year. The retail prices in the saliferous districts, for which alone information is available, remained the same as in the previous year, the price per seer ranging from 9 pies to 1 anna 3 pies.

Exclusive of duty, the average wholesale price of Liverpool salt per 100 maunds as sold from the ship's side in the port of Calcutta was Rs. 45-11-11 against Rs. 37-11-3·25 in 1909-10. From the statement furnished by the Collector of Customs showing the prices of salt as described in the weekly price lists, it appears that from the latter part of the year under review there was a distinct rise in prices in all varieties of salt. In the opinion of the Collector everything conduces to high prices at the present juncture, stocks being low and freight high. If the rates of freight fall, keen competition in the trade may force a reduction in prices.

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER V.—FINANCIAL RESULTS.

Receipts and charges.

25. * * * * * * As compared with 1909-10, the receipts show a decrease of Rs 12,29,459, or 10·7 per cent., and the charges a decrease of Rs. 66,614, or 16·6 per cent., the net revenue being Rs. 98,96,552, which is less than that of the previous year by Rs. 11,62,945, or 10·5 per cent. The receipts show an aggregate decrease of Rs. 12,52,071 under the heads "Import duty on salt" and "Miscellaneous," while there was an aggregate increase of Rs. 22,612 under the heads "Excise duty on salt educed in the process of refinement of saltpetre," "Rents of warehouses" and "Sale proceeds of Government salt," resulting in a net decrease of Rs. 12,29,459. The large decrease of Rs. 12,51,289 under the head "Import duty on salt," in spite of increased imports and clearances, is nominal, as duty on a considerable quantity of salt issued under the credit system did not fall due within the year. The charges do not include a proportionate share of the Customs Preventive Service which is largely employed in safeguarding the salt revenue.

* * * * * * *

CHAPTER VI.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Trade in saltpetre salt.

26. The quantity of salt educed in the manufacture or refinement of saltpetre during the year and removed on payment of duty from the refineries in Bihar and in Calcutta was 21,740 maunds (exclusive of 455 maunds of sitta), against 21,510 maunds (exclusive of 121 maunds of sitta) in 1909-10.

Saltpetre refineries in Calcutta and its environs.

27. There are only two licensed saltpetre refineries—one at Soorah and the other at Kankurgachi—under my control, as in the previous year. The quantity of refined saltpetre produced in these refineries was 6,163 maunds, against 9,614 maunds in the prevous year. The quantity of salt educed fell from 1,154 to 548 maunds, and the quantity of sitta or impure salt left in the course of refinement from 1,374 to 794 maunds. Five hundred and three maunds of educed salt and 455 maunds of sitta were sold during the year, against 640 maunds and 121 maunds, respectively, in the previeus year. The license fees realized amounted to Rs. 100, and the duty to Rs. 730.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF THE YEAR 1911-12.

No. 3973B., dated Calcutta, the 7th August 1911.

From—W. A. MARR, Esq., I.C.S., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P., Misc. Revenue Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

Member in charge:
THE HON'BLE MR. D. J. MACPHERSON, C.I.E., I.C.S.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the first quarter of the year 1911-12, comprising the months of April, May and June 1911.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 3,075,795 maunds (including 993,683 maunds issued under the credit system), as compared with 3,262,719 maunds (including 1,018,556 maunds issued under the credit system) in the previous quarter, and 3,166,135 maunds (including 165,700 maunds issued under the credit system) in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The net amount of duty levied was Rs. 18,56,262 (excluding Rs. 7,96,191 adjusted under the credit system), as against Rs. 20,08,875 (excluding Rs. 10,20,655 adjusted under the credit system) in the previous quarter, and Rs. 27,17,375 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

LOCAL CELEBRATIONS IN HONOUR OF THE CORONATION OF HIS MAJESTY THE KING-EMPEROR.

Nos. 3264-3288.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

(PUBLIC.)

Simla, the 9th August 1911.

RESOLUTION.

In a Royal Proclamation dated the 22nd day of March 1911 His Majesty the King-Emperor declared his Royal intention to hold at Delhi on the twelfth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, an Imperial Durbar for the purpose of making known the solemnity of his Coronation. The Governor-General in Council is now pleased to issue the following orders for local celebrations of this unique, most solemn and auspicious event throughout the rest of His Majesty's Indian Dominions, except the cities of Bombay and Calcutta, on the abovementioned date In accordance with the dictates of fitness and the wishes of the Governments of Bombay and Bengal, the celebrations at Bombay and Calcutta will be timed to coincide with the presence in those cities of Their Majesties.

2. The Governor-General in Council directs that Thursday, the 7th December 1911, the date appointed for the State Entry of Their Majesties into Delhi, and Tuesday, the 12th December 1911, the date appointed for the Imperial Durbar, shall be notified as public holidays throughout India under the Negotiable Instruments Act. In view of the fact that the Christmas holidays, from December the 23rd to the 1st January, will follow so closely upon the celebrations at Delhi, and that Their Majesties' presence in Bombay and Calcutta will be celebrated by other public holidays in those cities and throughout the Bombay Presidency and the Province of Bengal, the Governor-General in Council considers that the notification throughout India of any other days than the two specified as holidays under the Act would result in serious dislocation of public business and inconvenience to the mercantile community and to the large number of visitors to India who may be expected on the occasion. His Excellency is however pleased to direct that, subject to the condition that arrangements are made for the despatch of urgent business, all public offices under the Government of India, except those which must remain open for the proper transaction of commercial business, shall be closed upon the dates intervening between the State Entry of Their Majesties into Delhi and the celebration of the Imperial Durbar, namely, the 8th to the 11th December inclusive, and desires local Governments and Administrations to issue similar orders with regard to the offices under their control.

3. It is the wish of the Governor-General in Council that the local celebrations of the most auspicious occasion of Their Majesties' visit to India should, save in the matter of the enjoyment of the holidays directed above, be concentrated upon the solemn date of the Imperial Durbar, the 12th December, and that some formal celebration of this unique occasion should, as far as practicable, be held in every village of the Indian Empire. With this object, it is directed that the Royal Proclamation, which will be read at the Imperial Durbar at Delhi, and which will be communicated to local Governments and Administrations in due season, shall be publicly read out not only at the headquarters of each local Government and Administration and at each district headquarters but at the headquarters of every subdivision, tahsil and taluk, and, as far as practicable, at every village throughout India The Proclamation shall be read in English and the vernacular by the senior civil officer present at midday on the 12th December 1911 at the headquarters of each local Government and Administration and of each district and subdivision, and in the vernacular at the headquarters of each taluk and tahsil by the officer in administrative charge thereof. In villages it shall be read in the vernacular by the patwari or headman of the village to be selected in this behalf by the local authorities

The Governor-General in Council desires in this connexion to commend to the consideration of local Governments a suggestion which has been made to him that a portrait of His Majesty should be supplied to the reader of the Proclamation in each village, who should be directed to exhibit it to the people assembled at the time.

4. At the headquarters of local Governments and of districts, and wherever else this can conveniently and suitably be arranged (possibly for instance at the headquarters of subdivisions, and, in some cases, of tahsils and taluks) the reading of the Proclamation should take place in a formal Durbar to be convened and arranged by the officer reading the Proclamation, and at this Durbar any honours that may have been conferred on residents of the locality by His Majesty the King-Emperor or His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General should be announced. The Governor-General in Council desires that the occasion should further be marked by the distribution at such Durbars of certificates of honour to be granted by local Governments and Administrations in the form annexed to this Resolution to Indian gentlemen of distinction. These certificates should, as on the three previous occasions when they have been granted, be distributed with discrimination, and be reserved for those who have actually rendered services meriting recognition by Government and capable of being distinctly specified in the body of the certificate.

5. At the time of the reading of the Proclamation a Royal Salute of 101 guns should be fired wherever this is practicable.

6. The Governor-General in Council directs that on the evening of the 12th December the District and Court Houses, Telegraph Offices and Post Offices, and, so far as this is practicable, all Government buildings throughout India shall be illuminated; and invites all local bodies to arrange for the illumination of their public buildings at the same time. His Excellency is confident that private persons will readily co-operate in this respect and will use every endeavour to illuminate their dwelling houses and business premises in a manner fitted to mark the great occasion

7. It has already been stated that it is the desire of the Governor-General in Council—and he does not doubt that his wish will be shared by all classes of His Majesty's subjects in India—that celebrations on the occasion of Their Majesties' presence at the Imperial Durbar at Delhi should, as far as practicable, be held in every village in the Indian Empire. Besides the reading of the Proclamation and the exhibition of His Majesty's portrait referred to above, which may be regarded as of the nature of ceremonial, the Governor-General in Council trusts that the feeding of the poor, athletic sports, the display of fire-works and other like events, which formed so marked and well appreciated a feature of the local celebrations in honour of the Durbar at Delhi on the 1st January 1903, will take place on the present occasion on a still greater and more widespread scale. As on the occasion of the last Durbar the Governor-General in Council will look mainly to the loyal feeling, liberality, kindheartedness and energy of local bodies and of the public, assisted by private individuals, to carry out his wishes in these respects, and he is confident that his hopes will not be disappointed, and that the celebrations will be of such a nature as to bring home as far as possible to every subject of His Majesty, young and old, rich and poor, throughout the country the great event of the first personal visit of a King-Emperor and of his Consort to his Indian Empire in order to announce to his Indian subjects the solemnity of his Coronation. To this end it is particularly desirable that entertainments for school children should be given an important place in the local celebrations, but with regard to this matter the wishes of the Governor-General in Council have been separately made known.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be communicated to all local Governments and Administrations* and the Superintendent of Port Blair for information and guidance, and to all Departments of the Government of India and the offices subordinate to the Home Department for information; and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information.

* The report is for the week ending the 5th August 1911.

General Summary.—Rain was general all over the Province. The fall was heavy in Cooch Behar, Darjeeling, Sambalpur and all the districts of Bihar except Purnea, Shahabad and parts of Gaya. In Birbhum, Bankura, Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad and Gaya the rainfall was heavy in parts only. In Purnea, most districts of Lower Bengal, parts of Puri and in Chota Nagpur the rainfall was moderate, but in parts of Hooghly, Howrah, some parts of Cuttack and Balasore the rainfall was light. The recent rainfall has been beneficial and has facilitated transplantation which is going on briskly. More rain, however, is wanted in Shahabad and in most districts of Orissa, Chota Nagpur and Lower Bengal. Standing crops are, on the whole, doing well. The recent rain has improved prospects. The price of common rice has risen in Howrah, Murshidabad, Jessore, Patna, Darjeeling, Balasore, Angul, Sambalpur and Hazaribagh and fallen in Hooghly, Manbhum and Singhbhum. Cattle-disease is reported from Midnapore, Champaran, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Purnea, Cuttack, Angul, Puri, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Palamau and Manbhum. The supply of fodder and water is sufficient throughout the Province.

BOARD OF REVENUE, L. P., CALCUTTA. the 14th August 1911.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3939B.—The 5th August 1911.—The following instructions, which have been framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, as to the specifications and tests of the denaturants prescribed in Notification No. 7488.R., dated the 8th December 1910, published at page 1741 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th idem, are published for general information :—

Definition of "light caoutchoucine."

1. By "light caoutchoucine" is meant caoutchoucine (such as is at present used as a denaturant in most parts of India) which has been further redistilled, so that only those portions of it which boil at or below 200° centigrade are obtained. The specific gravity of this product should be between ·830 and ·860 at 60·0° Fahr.

Testing.

2. For "light caoutchoucine" it is sufficient, for the present, to specify that its specific gravity at 60° Fahr. should be between ·830 and ·860: and that about 85 per cent. should distil at or below 200°C. in the apparatus prescribed for the pyridine distillation test below.

Definition of "Pyridine."

3. "Pyridine" proper is a single definite compound (C_5H_5N), boiling at about 116° C.

Laboratory tests.

4. "Pyridine bases" are mixtures of pyridine with closely allied compounds, boiling at various temperatures.

(i) Colour.—The colour must not be darker than that given by two cubic centimetres of deci-normal iodine solution dissolved in one litre of distilled water.

(ii) Miscibility with water.—20 c.c. of the pyridine bases should give a clear mixture with 40 c.c. of water; or else a mixture only so slightly opalescent that, after standing for five minutes, ordinary newspaper type is clearly visible through a layer 15 c.m. deep.

(iii) Amount of water present.—From 20 c.c. of the pyridine bases mixed with 20 c.c. of caustic soda solution (density 1·4), at least 18·5 c.c. of the bases should separate, after having been repeatedly shaken together and allowed to stand.

(iv) Titration.—Dissolve 1 c.c. of the pyridine bases in 10 c.c. of distilled water. Titrate with normal sulphuric acid until a drop of the mixture gives a definite blue spot on Congo-red paper (the blue colour should at once disappear). At least 10 c.c. of the normal sulphuric acid should be required to produce this reaction. (To prepare the Congo-red paper, dissolve one gram of Congo-red in one litre of distilled water. Soak filter paper in this and then dry.)

(v) Cadmium chloride reaction.—Vigorously shake together 10 c.c. of a solution of 1 c.c. of pyridine bases in 100 c.c. of distilled water with 5 c.c. of a 5 per cent. solution of dry fused cadmium chloride. A distinct crystalline precipitate should immediately result.

(v) Boiling point.—Distil 100 c.c. of the pyridine bases in the manner described below. At least 90 per cent. should distil over at or under 140° C.

Method.—100 c.c. of pyridine bases are placed in a short-necked copper flask of about 200 c.c. capacity. The flask is arranged on an asbestos card, which has a circular hole of 30 m.m. diameter cut in it. To the flash is attached a fractionating column (consisting of a tube 13 m.m. wide and 170 m.m. long, provided with one bulb) of which the side tube (issuing 1 c. m. above the bulb) joins a Liebig's condenser of which the cooled part is at least 400 m.m. long. A standard thermometer is placed in the head of the column so that its bulb occupies the centre of the bulb of the column.

The speed of distillation is adjusted to 5 c.c. per minute, the distillate being received in a graduated glass cylinder. Al least 90 c.c. should distil over at or under 140° C. at a barometic pressure of 760 m.m.

If the barometer varies from 760 m.m., a correction of 1° C. for each 30 m.m. of variation should be applied, (e.g., under 770 m.m. of pressure 90 c.c. of distillate should come over at or under 140·30° C., whilst under 750 m.m. the same amount of distillate should come over at 139·7° C.).

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

W. A. MARR, Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF CO-OPERATIVE CREDIT SOCIETIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1910-11.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—AGRICULTURE.

RESOLUTION—No. 2619.

READ—

The Report on the working of Co-operative Credit Societies in Bengal for 1910-11.

The report covers the period from 1st April 1910 to 31st March 1911. During the first half of the year Babu Jamini Mohan Mitra officiated as Registrar. Mr. W. H. Buchan, I.C.S., resumed charge in October and held the office during the remaining six months.

2. The report is a record of steady though cautious progress. The rate of advance is considerably above that of previous years, as the following tabular summary shows:—

Year.	Central societies.	Urban societies.		Rural societies.		Total number of societies.	Membership.	Capital (excluding value of grain).
		Limited liability.	Unlimited liability.	Lending cash.	Lending grain.
								Rs.

1910-11 ...	8	34	19	650	4	715	35,250	10,95,3[illegible]9

3. The urban development has been wholly spontaneous. The Registrar, regarding the rural movement as having the first and chief claim on his time, has left the urban branch of the work to develop naturally. The societies composed of Government subordinates and the employés of mercantile firms continue to benefit their members at a profit, moral and financial, to all concerned. The Midnapore People's Bank, which is open to all residents of Midnapore town, is a promising experiment in urban co-operation, properly so-called, which it is hoped will be repeated in other urban communities. A spirit of commercialism induced by prosperity is a danger to be guarded against; and all urban societies would be well advised to safeguard their co-operative character by placing a maximum limit on their dividends.

4. On the rural side of the movement much useful work has been done both in the consolidation and expansion of established areas, and in the opening of new centres. The average village society has become a more effective institution, financially stronger and better managed. A gratifying feature is the ease with which funds are now obtained. The marked increase of local capital is an encouraging sign of confidence, and the sum of members' deposits, which has risen from Rs 64,000 to Rs. 1,16,000, indicates a growing habit of saving. That the societies can be trusted to employ their funds to good purpose, the statement of the objects of loans proves. More than one-third is employed for the repayment of debts, one-tenth for the purchase of cattle, while less than one-twenty-fifth is used for marriage expenses. In the actual working of societies the Registrar reports a very general improvement while admitting that many are still very far from perfection. Economically the development must be regarded as satisfactory. It is only natural that the less obvious principles of co-operation should take longer to grasp. But there can be little doubt that this too is only a matter of time. Outside the purely economic sphere the influence of the societies is being felt. Their interest in education, in sanitation, and the wellbeing of their villages, the healing of party feuds and the employment of their panchayets in the settlement of local disputes are indications of the very valuable functions, which co-operative societies may one day perform in village administration.

5. The problem of how to make the societies provide for their own finance and control becomes increasingly important as the movement expands. Special interest therefore attaches to the Central Banking Unions. Their number has risen from four to eight, and this experiment in centralisation is now on its trial in every territorial division of the province. One or two, notably Rampur Hât, have been somewhat ineffective and one, Raruli, has been handicapped by climatic misfortune. But the rest have done very useful work. They have organised 88 societies, with considerable care as a rule; their arrangements for supervising affiliated societies are adequate, and on the whole fairly well carried out; and, especially when linked to a joint stock bank, they have supplied that much-felt want, fluid capital. Most of them have made their own arrangements for capital, and several are now paying their own inspecting clerks. It is hoped that before long they will be both financially and administratively independent of the Registrar. It is too early to pass judgment on these infant institutions, but the work certainly justifies further trial on a wider scale. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council accepts the Registrar's opinion that it is premature to devise a central machinery on a provincial scale. While the subject should always be kept prominently in view, the centralising tendencies now at work may safely be left to evolve a suitable machinery when the proper time comes.

6. Compared with the size and needs of the province, the visible results of six years' work are relatively minute. But the Lieutenant-Governor in Council would not measure these results by the standard of mere figures, which are easy to multiply. It must be borne in mind that the policy has always been to make the co-operative movement a popular one, dependent for its success on the peoples' sense of interest and deriving its impetus from private enterprise. The Registrar and his staff do not organise societies; the assistance of officials has not been sought, although it has occasionally been voluntarily offered and gratefully accepted; societies are usually formed by unofficial organisers interested in the work for its own sake; and such help in the matter of local inspecting clerks as Government furnishes is given strictly on the understanding that in a year or two the societies themselves will assume the charge. Viewing the progress made in the light of these facts, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council considers that it is encouraging both in itself and as a proof that a self-administered co-operative movement is a realisable ideal. He regrets, however, to notice that the number of unofficial organisers is still small. Progress will be confined within definite limits until it is realised that the future depends not on Government but on the people themselves.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council desires to place on record his appreciation of the care and energy displayed by Mr. Buchan in his supervision of the societies during the year, and of the excellent work done by Babu Jamini Mohan Mitra both as Officiating Registrar and as Personal Assistant. He acknowledges the assistance rendered by officials in the local work of the department, and his special thanks are also due to the honorary organisers and other non-officials mentioned in paragraph 14 of the Report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE EARLY VARIETY OF THE SESAMUM (til) CROP OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1911.

(On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 the area under til in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 4·8 per cent. of the total area under this crop in British India.)

Character of the season.—The crop is cultivated in Bengal Proper and Orissa and also in Shahabad, Saran, Muzaffarpur and Manbhum. It is important in Midnapore and also in Burdwan, Bankura, Khulna and Manbhum. In most districts of the Burdwan Division and also in Murshidabad and Jessore the weather conditions were not favourable at the beginning of the season. Some damage was also done later by excessive rain in June in Burdwan, Birbhum, Murshidabad and Jessore In Orissa, Manbhum, Saran and Muzaffarpur prospects of the crop are favourable.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the crop is estimated at 35,700 acres against 36,800 acres of last year. The normal area under the crop is estimated at 47,200 acres.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the District officers the outturn of the crop for the province works out to 80 per cent. of the normal against 90 per cent. estimated last year. In some districts the outturn appears to have been under estimated. It will probably not fall short of 85 per cent. of the normal. Accepting 4$\frac{1}{4}$ maunds as the normal outturn per acre, the gross yield for the province works out to 4,700 tons against 5,200 tons estimated last year.

It was, however, favourable at the time of the growth of the crop, but the recent floods in the Kandi subdivision (where the crop is grown to a very large extent) has done serious damage to the crop, resulting in so low outturn.
Jessore ...	1,372,188	1,191,600	Middle of February.	3,300	1,500	1,400	45	46	...	...	...	Middle of June.	The weather and general condition of the crop was not favourable. The low outturn is due to early and excessive rainfall. The date of harvesting was late. The difference in the area sown under this crop as compared with the preliminary forecast is due to the fact that the Subdivisional Officer of Magura did not report any figure in the preliminary forecast, but reported 600 acres in the final forecast. This has also affected the percentage outturn. The figures shown in columns 7 and 9 represent the area cultivated in all the subdivisions except Bangaon.
Khulna	3,049,016	879,000	5th February.	4,400	4,400	4,300	95	95	177,900	1903-04 to 1909-10.	4	11th May	The weather was seasonable. The condition of the crop was fair. The date of harvesting was early this year. The decrease in the area sown this year is due to the fact that in some portion of the Sadar subdivision til was not grown, the soil becoming unfit for it on account of ingress of salt water.
Shahabad ...	2,808,772	1,843,600	25th July	3,900	1,100	700	58	36	...	...	...	Not yet commenced.	The decrease in the area sown as compared with that of last year is due to excessive rainfall in the beginning and want of rain afterwards. The weather and general condition of the crop was not so favourable as ought to be. Harvesting of the crop has not yet commenced.

FIRST REPORT ON THE COTTON CROPS OF BENGAL, AUGUST 1911.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 the area under the cotton crop in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 0·8 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.]

Explanatory.—This report deals with the area sown and the prospects of the early crop and gives a brief summary of the progress of sowings of the late crop.

Character of the season.—The early crop is most important in Ranchi, where it covers about half the total area under the crop in the Province. The less important districts are the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, Manbhum and Singhbhum. The weather conditions have been favourable in these districts except in Angul and parts of the Sonthal Parganas. Heavy rain at the sowing season retarded the growth of the crop in Angul. Some damage by insects is reported from Sambalpur. The late crop is chiefly cultivated in North Bihar, Cuttack and Singhbhum. Fair progress has been made in sowings of the late crop. In Cuttack, Balasore and Angul sowings have not commenced as yet. The condition of the standing crop is reported to be favourable, except in the important district of Saran, where scanty rainfall has injured the crop to some extent.

Area sown.—The area sown with early cotton is reported to be 60,238 acres against 34,614 acres of last year. The large difference is due to the revision of figures in Ranchi in the light of the recent survey figures. Up to date 28,432 acres have been sown with the late cotton crop. Last year's area under the crop was 33,588 acres.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1911.

(On an average of the five years ending 1909-10, the area under sugarcane in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 17·1 per cent. of the total area under the crop in British India.)

Character of the season.—Sugarcane is cultivated chiefly in Bihar. Outside Bihar it is an important crop in Burdwan, Bankura, Hazaribagh and Manbhum. The weather conditions have been generally favourable. Planting began in normal time and the present condition of the crop is reported to be good. Some damage was done to the crop in Bankura, Birbhum, Shahabad and Bhagalpur by heavy rain and floods in June.

Area planted.—The area planted with sugarcane this year is estimated at 340,300 acres against 334,300 acres the revised figures of last year. Since the issue of the final forecast of last year in January, normal areas have been revised in some districts and the total normal area in this Province is now reported to be 361,100 acres.

Outturn.—From the appendix attached to the report, it will be seen that five districts report more than a normal crop, viz., Midnapore (116 per cent.), Angul and Sambalpur (115 per cent. each), Saran and Puri (108 per cent. each). Eighteen districts report a crop between 90 and 100 per cent., three districts between 83 and 89 per cent. and five districts between 75 and 78 per cent. The remaining two districts, viz., Birbhum and Nadia, report crops of 62 and 69 per cent. respectively.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 92 per cent. of a normal, as against 100 per cent. estimated last year.

Other sources of gûr.—The quantity of gûr likely to be obtained from the juice of the date palm is estimated at 1,332,100 cwts., and the output of sugar from the juice of the palmyra-palm is estimated at 13,200 cwts.

2. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THUMB IMPRESSIONS OF PARDANASHIN LADIES IN REGISTRATION PROCEEDINGS.

The Hon'ble RAI BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN BAHADUR asked:—

I.—Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for insisting upon thumb impressions of purdanashin ladies who can write and regarding whose identity there cannot possibly be any doubt or suspicion? [1]

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

"The matter, which is raised by the Hon'ble Member, was considered in 1894 and again in 1895. It was decided in those years that the exemption which is allowed to male executants, regarding whose identification there can be no doubt or room for suspicion, even when not personally known to the Registering Officer, should not be allowed in the case of purdanashin ladies. The reasons which impressed the Government of that day were that the personation of purdanashin ladies was extremely easy, and that special safeguards were necessary to protect their interests. Thumb impressions provide a test of practically scientific certainty, and during the long period that the system has been worked, no complaints have been made against it. The present Government considers that the reasons which prevailed 16 years ago still persist, and that it is its duty to maintain the protection of this class of executants against false statements of identification, and forgery of signatures."

SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked:—

II.—(a) Is the Government aware of the representation submitted by the Bihar Landholders' Association, Bankipore, on the 5th April, 1911, relating to the grievances of the people of Bihar against the survey and settlement operations in Bihar?

(b) Has the Government taken any steps to make any inquiry into the matter? If so, with what result?

(c) Does the Government intend to take any steps to redress the grievances?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

"(a) The answer to this question is in the affirmative.

(b) A report has been called for from the Director of Land Records and is awaited.

(c) Government cannot intimate what steps, if any, will be taken in the matter until it has received and considered the report of the Director of Land Records."

HOSTEL ACCOMMODATION IN THE PATNA COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR UD-DIN asked:—

III.—(a) Is the Government aware that the present hostel accommodation within the Patna College is totally insufficient to accommodate all the intending boarders?

(b) Is the Government willing to extend the accommodation by the addition of new buildings?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

"(a) Government is aware that the recently constructed hostel for Hindu students at Patna College is full, and that there is a demand for further accommodation.

(b) Proposals are at present under consideration for the construction of an additional hostel to accommodate over 40 students."

[1] This is a supplementary question which was put by the Hon'ble Member at the meeting of Council held on the 22nd July, 1911. Notice of the question was required by the Member in charge, and the question was put again and answered on the 16th August.

NEW BUILDING FOR THE PATNA COLLEGIATE SCHOOL.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked :—

IV.—(a) Is the Government prepared to make a new suitable building for the Patna Collegiate School?

(b) If so, what site has been selected for the purpose, and when is the building likely to be constructed?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

"(a) Government is aware that the present quarters for the Patna Collegiate School are not altogether satisfactory. They are held on a short lease which expires next year. The arrangement is only temporary, and it is the intention, as soon as funds are available, to construct buildings for the school.

(b) The site to be selected has not yet been finally determined, nor can it be said at this stage when the building is likely to be constructed."

PATNA COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked :—

V.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an article headed "Patna College" in the Beharee, issued from Bankipore on the 28th July, 1911?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state how far the statements contained in the said article are correct?

(c) If the statements are correct, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for adopting such a course, and who is responsible for the same?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) and (c) The Professor of History at Patna College started a private class in History Honours in July, 1910, without the knowledge or authority of the Principal. The matter was only brought to the notice of the Principal in April, 1911, and he then asked the Director of Public Instruction to submit an application for affiliation to the Syndicate. The Director of Public Instruction, however, in view of the fact that a similar application had been recently rejected by the Syndicate, and that in the meantime the staff had not been appreciably strengthened, was unwilling to submit the application."

CREATION OF A NEW GRADE OR MUNSIFS.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked :—

VI.—Will the Government be pleased to state if the creation of a new grade of Munsifs, on a pay of Rs. 500 a month, is still under the consideration of the Government of India, or has the matter received any final and definite decision?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied :—

"The proposal to create a new grade of Munsifs on Rs. 500 was negatived by the Government of India in 1909. Since then the Government of India have not been addressed again by this Government on the subject."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked :—

VII.—Will the Government be pleased to state the amount of the maintenance grant allowed to each of the colleges in this province in the current year, as also the contributions from private sources in each of them?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

"The amount of the maintenance grant has not yet been determined for all colleges. A statement which gives the information, as far as it is available, is laid on the table."

Statement referred to in the Answer by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming to Question No. VII asked by the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din.

TROUBLE IN THE PATNA COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked:—

VIII.—(a) Is it a fact that the Principal of the Patna College ordered his students to work with the ordinary hired coolies in pulling the roller for levelling the play-ground?

(b) Is it a fact that one of the students has been rusticated for a month on account of his refusal to work with the coolies, and that others have been threatened with similar punishment?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

"(a) The answer is in the negative.

(b) The answer is in the negative."

PAYMENT OF LATRINE TAXES.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

IX.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is aware of the fact that, according to the provisions of the present Bengal Municipal Act (Ben. Act III of 1884), in many municipalities in the district of Bihar, latrine-rates are levied from many holdings which are merely huts having no latrines at all, the occupants of them being mostly poor people who cannot afford to have latrines in their houses?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is aware of the fact that such levying of latrine-rates from such holdings works great hardship on the poor people?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is aware that the local, official and non-official opinions, in the said municipalities, are against such levying of latrine-taxes?

(d) If the Government be not aware of the aforesaid facts, does it intend to make an inquiry into, and to call for the opinions of local authorities and Municipal Boards and other public bodies on, the subject?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state if it intends to take any action in the matter and to amend the provisions of the Bengal Municipal Act (Ben. Act III of 1884) on the subject?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

"(a) Government is not in possession of any information as to the classes of holdings upon which rates under Part IX of the Municipal Act are levied in Bihar.

(b) A general inquiry was made in 1904 as to the sufficiency of the existing legal provisions permitting exemptions from this taxation, and some opinions were then expressed to the effect that they were inadequate.

(c) Government is not aware whether the general statement made is accurate or not.

(d) Government does not intend to make further inquiry.

(e) Proposals to amend the Municipal Act, so as to give power to exempt the very poor from taxation under Part IX, were submitted to the Government of India in 1905. They are pending the general amendment of the Act."

THE ELECTIVE PRINCIPLE IN THE CONSTITUTION OF LOCAL BOARDS.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

X.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what Associations or public bodies, or what persons, in the Tirhut Division, have been consulted by it on the subject of its inquiry as to whether the principle of election should be introduced in the constitution of Local Boards?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to invite the opinions of other Associations and public bodies, and also of representatives of the people, besides the District Boards, on the subject of the said inquiry?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

"(a) The Commissioner of the division has been asked to report, in consultation with the district officers concerned and representatives of public opinion. The subject will also be discussed at the Commissioners' Conference at which non-official representatives are ordinarily present. The selection of the persons, to be consulted locally, rests with the Commissioner and district officers.

(b) Government has no intention of interfering with the discretion of the local officers as to the persons whom it may be suitable to consult."

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION BILL.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

XI.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what Associations or public bodies, if any, in the Tirhut Division have been asked by it to express their opinions on the Elementary Education Bill of the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale, which is pending in the Imperial Legislative Council?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if it has called for the opinions of the Municipal and District Boards of the Tirhut Division on the said Bill?

(c) If not, will the Government be pleased to state its reasons?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

"(a) The Tirhut Landholders' Association has been invited to express its opinion on the Elementary Education Bill.

(b) and (c) The opinions of the Municipalities and District Boards of the Tirhut Division were not called for direct. It was recognized that the Commissioners of divisions, who were asked to report, would consult these bodies within their respective divisions. It is not usual for Government to consult the Chairmen of Municipalities or District Boards direct."

LOCATION OF AN ADDITIONAL JUDGE OR A SUBORDINATE JUDGE AT MOTIHARI.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked :—

XII.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the respective numbers of civil suits, including miscellaneous cases of the value of above Rs. 1,000, and of suits of the value of above Rs. 100, which could be tried by a Court of Small Causes, and of civil appeals, arising from the district of Champaran, in each of the years from 1895 to 1910?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the approximate average number of civil suits and civil appeals which a Subordinate Judge ordinarily tries during the course of a year?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances and reasons that led it, in the year 1901, to locate the court of a Subordinate Judge at Motihari, in addition to the two courts of Munsifs which were already existent there?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances and reasons that led it, in the year 1903, to withdraw the said court of the Subordinate Judge from Motihari?

(e) Is the Government aware that, at Motihari, there is at present only one court, viz., a Munsif with the ordinary powers to try suits up to the value of Rs. 1,000 only which causes great inconvenience to the litigant public there?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state if it has received a memorial or representation from the people of Champaran, praying for the location of the court of an Additional Judge, or a Subordinate Judge vested with the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge, and also empowered to hear civil appeals, at Motihari?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state what action, if any, it has taken on the said memorial?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

(a) "The District Judge has been requested to supply the figures asked for. When received, they will be furnished to the Hon'ble Member.

(b) The average number of civil suits and civil appeals disposed of by a Subordinate Judge in 1909 were 316 and 170, respectively.

(c) & (d) In 1901, a Subordinate Judge was, on the recommendation of the High Court, deputed, as a tentative measure, from Chapra to Motihari. He was sent back to Chapra on administrative grounds in 1903, as the file of each of the two Subordinate Judges at the latter place was heavier than that of the Subordinate Judge at Motihari.

(e) Two Munsifs are ordinarily posted at Motihari. One is now on deputation to Sitamarhi. The Government is not aware that great inconvenience to the litigant public has resulted. An inquiry is being made from the District Judge.

(f) & (g) Yes; a memorial has been received and has been forwarded to the District Judge, Muzaffarpur, for a report."

ALLEGED EXTORTION OF CONFESSIONS BY THE POLICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked :—

XIII.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an editorial paragraph appearing in the Beharee of the 9th June, 1911, under the heading "How the alleged confession was extorted"?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the confession of the accused in the Neora train-wrecking case was extorted by the police, and if so, whether the Beharee's account of the circumstances and the manner in which it was extorted is correct?

(c) Considering the serious nature of the case and the clear and definite allegations made in the said paragraph as to the manner in which the confession was extorted, will the Government be pleased to state whether they intend to make any inquiry into the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING, in the absence of the Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE, replied:—

(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) and (c) Proceedings against Abdul Majid being still sub judice, Government is not prepared to make any statement in the matter."

6. The Hon'ble Mr. Greer moved that the Bill to transfer functions of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL MINING SETTLEMENTS BILL, 1911.

7. The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the sanitation of mining settlements in Bengal.

He said:—

"Sir, I beg leave to introduce the Bengal Mining Settlements Bill. A few words of explanation are due to Hon'ble Members before the question is put. First of all, the existing facts regarding the coal-mining areas in Bengal have to be stated; next, the problem to be solved; and then, the solution which commends itself to the Bengal Government.

"The facts are that a large coal industry has come into being and has rapidly developed, and that great numbers of labourers have settled in a limited area, while at the same time no comprehensive effort has been made to ensure the sanitation of the area, either in the direction of conservancy or of water-supply or of vaccination. Within the compact Jharia field, in the north of the Manbhum district, there are 193 mines, employing nearly 60,000 workers, with an annual output of five and three-quarter million tons of coal; and the Ranigunge field has nearly 40,000 workers and raises over four million tons. Inquiries have been made from time to time by medical and sanitary officers of Government, and the paramount necessity of bringing the mining tracts within sanitary control has been urged both by these officers and by the Indian Mining Association. Outbreaks of plague, of cholera and small-pox have resulted in regrettable loss of life. This is bad for the people and bad for the industry. Amongst the owners of the coal mines there are some who, from enlightened self-interest, take measures for the sanitary protection of their own areas, but they have justification for the complaint that their neighbours do not take similar measures, and that there is no authority to compel them to do so. There is the further difficulty that there are some surface lands which are not under the control of coal-mine owners. Proposals to appoint union committees under the Local Self-Government Act, to extend the Municipal Act, and to proceed under the Epidemic Diseases Act have been made and have been examined; but all these expedients have been found impracticable. Besides, the Indian Mines Act gives no authority for dealing with surface sanitation in miners' villages; and an amendment of that Act was considered and rejected.

"What then is the problem? It is to devise a means of ensuring sanitation in the coal-fields of this province by the constitution of an authority which would have jurisdiction over land-owners as well as over coal-mine owners, which would take charge of the public health in all its aspects within these areas, and which would be able to meet the cost of its special services by means of a local levy from those who are directly interested. In other words, the problem is the creation of some central authority. It is a novel problem to some extent, and therefore its solution had to be found outside ordinary practice. As Bengal raised last year more than nine-tenths of the total output of coal for the whole of India, it is also a local problem.

"The Bengal Government have, in this matter, to express their indebtedness for the willing and helpful co-operation of the Indian Mining Association. The solution which the Bengal Government now put forward, with the approval of the Government of India, is that, for each mining district, a Mines Board of Health should be constituted, containing representatives of interests both above and below ground; that this Board should, after proper inquiry, select specific areas, to be called mining settlements, which require to be brought under sanitary control; that there should be a sanitary officer or officers under each Board, who would advise on the necessities of the place as regards water-supply, housing, conservancy and the prevention of epidemics; that the Board should have the power to direct owners of mines or of lands to carry into effect measures of which the Board approves, either of its own motion or after accepting suggestions from the sanitary officer; that, if any measure be not undertaken, the Board may, after a warning notice, itself undertake the work; and that the cost of the establishment and other expenses of the Board shall be charged to coal-mine owners and the receivers of royalties on coal in the same proportion in which they are liable under the Cess Act. These proposals have the merit of elasticity in view of the varying conditions of the area concerned, and also the merit of local control and of local assessment. I venture, Sir, to express a hope that if this Bill becomes law, the good example of enlightened owners will be contagious, and that, in the interests of the humble workers no less than in those of the coal-mining industry, preventable causes of disease may be removed, and the insanitary conditions which in the vicinity of some mines are a menace to public health may be a thing of the past.

"I now beg formally to move that leave be given for the introduction of the Bengal Mining Settlements Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

8. The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming introduced the Bill, and moved that it be read in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Secretary accordingly read the title of the Bill.

9. The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Rai Kisori Lal Goswami Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. D. J. Macpherson, the Hon'ble Mr. Garrett, the Hon'ble

Mr. Norman McLeod, the Hon'ble Maharaja Manindra Chandra Nandi and the Mover, with instructions to report after one month.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT BILL, 1911.

10. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas moved that the Preliminary Report and the further Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the improvement and expansion of Calcutta be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 14 (2a) [now 9 (1)][1] in the Schedule to the Bill.

The President said :—

"Gentlemen of the Council,—Before we proceed to the consideration of the clauses of the Bill, I wish to make a statement for the information of the Council, which, I think, it would be convenient for Members to have at this stage, although it will only be considered in Council towards the end of the debate. It is this : that having in view the great difference of opinion which exists with regard to the omission of the 15 per cent. additional compensation from the land acquisition clauses of the Bill, this Government thought it proper to consult the Government of India as to their attitude in respect of these clauses, and accordingly we very recently requested instructions from the Government of India as to whether the provisions of clause 14 (2a) [now 9 (1)] of the Schedule, referred to in clause 61 C(b) [now 71 (b)] of the main Bill, were to be taken as embodying fundamental matters of principle, any modifications of which could not be permitted without reconsideration of the measure of assistance which the Government of India were prepared to give to the Trust. The Government of India have, within the last day or two, replied that their answer was in the affirmative, that is to say, should this Council pass these clauses as proposed to be amended, i.e., if the 15 per cent. additional compensation be added, then the Government of India, in considering the assent to the Bill, will reconsider the question of financial assistance which they will give. I think it only right to inform those interested in the amendments at the earliest stage possible, in order that they may have time to consider this question."

11. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 1 (3).

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

[2] 11A. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "which extends only to the Calcutta Municipality", in lines 2 and 3 of clause 1 (3), be omitted.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I ask Your Honour's leave to withdraw this amendment, and wish to add, by way of explanation, that I ask for this leave because this amendment is more or less verbal. Having regard to the very lengthy business before us, I do not propose to press for verbal amendments except where they appear to be very urgent and necessary. I wish to make this explanation, so that it may not be considered that we have tabled these amendments without due consideration. In framing these amendments and the others, we have tried to improve the Bill from all possible points of view, in the best of the light that is in us, and if they, the amendments, do not commend themselves to the official Member in charge of the Bill, in spite of our pointedly drawing attention in time, the responsibility of rejecting them will be his. We shall have done what we deem our duty under the circumstances, and the rest is in their hands. If the official Members do not see their way of accepting the amendments, which are matters of drafting more than anything else, but which are none the less necessary, it will not be worth while to take up the time of the Council in arguing them or pressing for them. For these reasons, I ask for leave to withdraw this amendment, as an earnest indication of the manner in which I shall deal with my amendments."

[1] The clauses and sub-clauses of the Bill having been re-numbered under the direction of the Council, the present number of each clause and sub-clause is inserted in brackets, wherever the new numbering differs from the old.

[2] From this point, the numbering of the entries in this list is irregular, the reason being that it was decided, for convenience of reference, to make no change that could be avoided in the numbering of the motions for the amendment of the Calcutta Improvement Bill as they appeared in the List of Business for the meetings of the 1st April, 1911, and following days.

12. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "within a distance of ten miles from Government House" be added at the end of clause 1 (3)

He said:—

"If we refer to clause 146 (now 148) of the Bill, which controls the procedure for this proposed extension, and if we read clause 145 (now 147) in conjunction with that clause, we find that, when any provision of this Act has been extended to any area under clause 1, sub-clause (3), the Local Government may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, and in such other manner as it may consider necessary, extend, to such area, the whole of the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1899, if it thinks fit to do so, or any portion thereof, subject to such restrictions and modifications, if any, as may be specified in such notification. Clause 146 (now 148), no doubt, provides that, before finally publishing any notification under section 1, sub-section (3), or section 145, sub-section (1), [now 147(1)] the Local Government shall publish a draft of the same in the Calcutta Gazette, and it is obliging enough to enact that any ratepayer or inhabitant of the area affected by such draft, if he objects to it, may submit his objection, in writing, to the Local Government within six weeks from its publication. The Local Government is next enjoined to take such objection into consideration. Since the amalgamation of the suburbs with Calcutta proper under the Municipal Act, previous to the one now in force, such a large, comprehensive, and I was going to add, encyclopædic question has not come before the Legislature, and certainly not in this incidental way. Hon'ble Members will remember what strenuous opposition was offered to the amalgamation at that time. I do not mean to say that the whole of that objection was well founded and that the amalgamation has not partially justified itself, or that further amalgamation will not be necessary or desirable. But the amalgamation I refer to was resolved on after due consultation of public opinion and detailed and prolonged consideration in Council. But we are, under the new order of things, not to have any of the hitherto existing safeguards, such as they are, and the most extensive and widespread amalgamation would be possible on mere executive action, without any consideration of principles or details in Council. So far as public opinion, expressed on the publication of a draft notification by the Government, is concerned, that is no doubt provided for here for what it is worth. But it can hardly be worth much if all that can be done or said in Council fails.

Ben. Act III of 1899.

"In view of the necessities of the situation, I concede that it may be necessary that some such power should be taken, and I have accordingly indicated, in my amendment, due recognition of the necessity which some feel for such a power. I feel, however, at the same time, and feel strongly, that there ought to be, and must be, some limit with regard to a serious and important matter like this, and although it may be an exaggeration to believe that, by virtue of this clause, if it chooses so to exercise its power, the Government may, by mere notification, include within the purview of this Act a considerable outside area stretching away miles and miles from the metropolis. Though this may be an exaggerated state of things, its likelihood in a modified but no less objectionable form cannot be altogether ignored as an arrant impossibility. As the outside areas grow in importance, value and population by reason of the operation of the Improvement Act, there would be a decided object in extending the area, and such extension at each important step ought to be carefully and judicially considered by the Legislature on due consultation of public opinion.

"The Calcutta Municipality is interested in seeing, according to the opinions that have been collected together in this admirable précis of opinions, which the Legislative Department has prepared for our use, that when it has been recommended that the amalgamation—as I shall call it for present purpose—does take place, the outside municipalities concerned should be called upon to make equitable contribution towards the finances of the Trust. That is not only the observation of the acting Chairman of the Calcutta Municipality but also of the Special Committee of the Corporation, which says that, if the Act were extended outside Calcutta, the outside municipalities should bear a portion of the cost. This view may be quite sound, but the outside municipalities would have their views as well, which would have to be consulted and respected. Objection to this view was forcibly expressed by one of the speakers at the Town Hall meeting the other day, which resulted in the memorial that has been presented to the Government and which was circulated amongst the Members of this Council last night. Babu Jogendra Chandra Mukherjee, a distinguished Vakil and a late Member of this Council, who has been intimately associated with some of the outside municipalities, said as follows:—

'Under clause 56A (now clause 56) the Board can prepare schemes and plans relating to such outside areas and the Select Committee have worked out details in several other parts of the Bill contemplating the application of the proposed Act to those areas. But reading through the list of public bodies which have addressed Government on the subject, and whose criticisms have been taken into consideration by the Select Committee, I have not come across any reference to any communication whatever from any of the municipalities in the neighbourhood of Calcutta which will most certainly be affected by the provisions of the proposed Act. The only provision so far as I can see in the Bill which admits of an expression of opinion on the part of municipalities on the outskirts of Calcutta, or on the part of rate-payers living in those areas, is that they will get a notice before the actual extension of the Act itself in its entirety or of any portion thereof takes place with reference to those areas calling upon them to show cause why the provisions of the Act should not be extended to them. Now I ask you in all seriousness is this enough? Will the outside municipalities concerned get any opportunity of pointing out any defect in the provisions of the Act itself? Further if the area itself be not included in Calcutta by another provision which is contained in the proposed Act, you will have this curious position that large areas outside the town may be brought under the operation of this Act without there being any representatives at all from those areas on the Board constituted as a permanent body under the Act. There may be temporary members of the Board from such areas, but they will have place on the Board merely for a temporary purpose and for a short period only although the interference with the municipal administration of those areas will be of a more permanent and abiding character.

'I think, gentlemen, I am fairly entitled to presume that none of the municipalities, such as Howrah, Cossipore-Chitpur, Manicktala, Garden Reach, Tollygunge, etc., have been consulted as regards this Bill as they should have been, regard being had to the fact that the proposed Act will materially affect the areas under their charge.'

"As matters now stand, Sir, if land outside the Calcutta area were to be acquired before any portion of non-Calcutta areas were amalgamated and the provisions of this Act were extended to them, the owners of these lands would be entitled to certain indulgences and concessions with regard to extra compensation, which, for the moment, is denied to the Calcutta land-owners. They would be denied that right,—at least they ought to be, as I am inclined to read the clause in question,—the moment any amalgamation takes place. That is one of the striking results of these features of the extension, which should be taken into consideration. There may or may not be good reasons why, for the present, that drastic clause about non-payment of extra compensation is not being applied to non-Calcutta lands,—if I may so call them for the sake of convenience and brevity,—but the fact of the extension of the non-Calcutta provisions may withdraw that indulgence from non-Calcutta lands and would make distant municipalities liable for the contribution for which the Calcutta Corporation and their sub-committee press, probably with justice. These are some of the considerations that strike us, Sir, in considering the clause as it stands at present, and it has been thought, by those who agree with me with regard to the framing of this amendment that there ought to be some limit about the extension that may be insisted on under this section when passed. The notes of Objects and Reasons on the clause point out that, for the present, the provisions of the Bill will extend only to the limits of the Calcutta Municipality, but portions of it [clauses 72, 73 (now clauses 83, 84) and 75 (now omitted)] will have effect in wider areas already determined, and portions will be applied in areas in the proximity of 'municipal Calcutta,' which will be determined in the future. But the principal provisions of the Bill, which have a much more serious aspect than these comparatively innocent clauses, will be capable of extension over an indefinite area any time and on any reasons that appeal to Government. If some such restriction as I advocate is not placed in the Statute, the position will be intolerable, and inordinate powers will be placed in their hands without any safeguards, no case for which has been foreshadowed in the Objects and Reasons or any of the speeches that we have heard in Council or any official papers that have been published. For this reason, I ask that this restriction of ten-mile limit be added to this clause, which would be amply sufficient for all reasonable present purposes and purposes of the immediate and near future."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—

"Sir,—I am sorry I am unable to advise the Council to accept the Hon'ble Member's amendment, because it seems to me inopportune to place any arbitrary limit upon the Board, as we cannot at this stage foresee the scope of the operations of the Board."

The motion was then put and lost.

13. Motion No. 12 being lost, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "within a distance of fifteen miles from Government House" be added at the end of clause 1 (3).

He said:—

"The next amendment is more liberal than the previous one, and this, at all events, ought to meet all possible requirements. It seeks to place a limit of 15 miles from Government House. I am afraid the expression of opinion from the Hon'ble Vice-President of the Council, that fell in connection with the ten-mile limit, will be taken to have application to this amendment also, though it has a much larger scope. I do not wish to cover the same ground that has been covered in connection with the earlier amendment, for that would be needless waste of the time of the Council. Fifteen miles from Government House, either way, would be very respectable dimensions for any Trust to deal with and an indefinite expansion ought on no account to be contemplated or countenanced. There is an additional observation that strikes me, which I should like to place before this Council, in connection with the larger area. Having regard to the statement which you, Sir, made this morning, the question of financial responsibility ought to be one of great and anxious consideration to this Council, and it should be careful as to how it countenances indefinite expansion. The financial figures have been worked out on certain basis, principally confined to Calcutta as it now stands. This larger responsibility would make the situation still more indefinite, and probably risky and unworkable, if no territorial limit at all is insisted. For that reason, I think it is my duty to press this amendment with a decidedly larger limit than ten-mile, as that limit does not commend itself to the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—

"I will ask the Council, Sir, not to accept the amendment for the same reasons which I gave in the case of the previous amendment. In my opinion, it is absolutely unnecessary at present to impose any arbitrary limit upon the actions of the Trustees."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 3.

17. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "until dissolution as hereinafter provided" be inserted after the words "perpetual succession", in line 5 of clause 3.

He said :—

"I beg to draw the attention of the Council to clause 195 (now 177) of the Bill, which says that, when all schemes sanctioned under this Act have been executed or have been so far executed as to render the continued existence of the Board, in the opinion of the Local Government, unnecessary, the Board shall be dissolved from such date as may be specified. Having regard to these words, it strikes me that some qualifying words, like those I have proposed in my amendment, ought to be introduced after the words 'perpetual succession'. As far as I have been able to find out, there is no express provision for dissolution in the Bombay Act, from which the present words have been borrowed. No doubt it is an essential feature of all Corporations sole that that they should have what is called, in law, perpetual succession; but when a limitation, like that contemplated in clause 195 (now 177), has been deliberately provided for, a corresponding limitation seems to be necessary in giving the Corporation limited succession of the kind that is indicated in my amendment of clause 3. To provide for cases like these, what has been called 'continuous identity' has been recommended by Lord Halsbury in his Laws of England; that does away with the idea of perpetual succession, strictly speaking. It ought to be possible, therefore, and I think it is necessary, to provide for these restricting words that I seek to introduce; for the Corporation, which this Bill seeks to create, is one of limited duration, however indefinite, and cannot be said to have perpetual succession in its strict and unlimited sense, though it certainly has and ought to have what Lord Halsbury aptly calls 'continued identity'. For these reasons I recommend the addition of the restricting words after the words 'perpetual succession', for it ought not to be left to the tender mercies of future generations of lawyers as to what, according to the then obtaining rules of interpretation of statutes, 'perpetual succession' will mean, in spite of section 195 (now 177) which makes the dissolution of the Trust dependent upon the will of the Government of the day. The risk I wish to avoid is neither fanciful nor imaginary."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—

"I would ask the Council, Sir, to allow the clause, as drafted, to remain as it is, because, in the opinion of the Legal Adviser to the Government, the Hon'ble Member's amendment is a purely verbal one and does not make any improvement whatever in the clause as drafted."

The motion was then put and lost.

18. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the word "shall" be substituted for the word "may", in line 5 of clause 3.

He said :—

"Sir,—I beg to move that the word 'shall be substituted for the word 'may', in line 5 of clause 3. This is a formal amendment. The section of the Bill runs thus—

'and such Board shall be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and may by the said name sue and be sued.'

"In the same section the word 'shall' and the word 'may' have been used in two places, conveying the same meaning. Though 'may' sometimes is used in the mandatory sense, the use of the word 'shall' in the earlier part of this very section may lead to a legitimate interpretation that the word 'may' in this section has been purposely used in a permissive, and not obligatory, sense. As it is worded, therefore, it would be optional with any one to sue the Board in any name he may choose, whereas the obvious intention is that they must be sued in that name. I submit that the wording of the Bombay Act, in which the word 'shall' has been used in both the places, may be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—

"I would ask the Council, Sir, to accept the Hon'ble Member's amendment, because it is really not a matter for discussion. We have 'shall' in the Bombay Act, and I think we may as well have 'shall' in this Bill also."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

Clause 4.

19. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the word "thirteen" be substituted for the word "eleven" in line 1 of clause 4.

He said :—

"Before I go into my amendment, of which I have given notice Your Honour will allow me to express to Your Honour's Government the deep sense of my personal obligation for having kindly consented to let the consideration of the Bill to stand over for a few weeks. I am deeply grateful for this indulgence, and I express not only my own feeling, but also that of my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Golam Hossein Casim Ariff who also was away from India for a short while. It is, however, Sir, a matter of some concern to us to find that the time which has been fixed for the consideration of the Bill is rather inopportune for as Your Honour observes many of our non-official members who have not got the same pressure upon them as others may have, have been unable to be present on this occasion, and for one of us the temptations for a pageant at Dacca have been too strong to induce him to stay here to do his duty, and as for the others the coming ceremony of Janmustami has had something to do with their attendance on this occasion. In rising to move our amendments, I cannot escape the feeling that we are considerably handicapped on this occasion, for even if all of us who are present here to-day voted on our side on any particular amendment, there is little hope of such amendment being carried. We are in the position of leading a forlorn hope, but Your Honour and my colleagues will pardon us if we think it our duty to place before this Council our views on what we consider the essential features of the Bill. I am sure Your Honour knows that we, non-official members, are as anxious as our official colleagues that there should be some measure enabling some body to be constituted under the Act to carry out large schemes of improvement of the city of Calcutta. In that our position is identical with that of Government and the public of Calcutta have been anxiously awaiting for many years since it was suggested when first plague broke out, the advent of a comprehensive Improvement scheme. It is not a measure that we oppose, but we only wish to place before Your Honour's Government our view that in the details of that measure there is reasonable scope for difference of opinion, and that it will be better and safer if the measure is carried out with the co-operation of the people concerned. The Local Government Board in England in one of its recent circulars dated 3rd May, 1910, lays great emphasis on this principle of co-operation.

"In the Circular letter which they addressed to town councils and urban and rural district councils on the 31st December, 1909, the Board drew attention to the importance of co-operation on the part of the local authority with the owners and other persons interested in the law proposed to be included in a town planning scheme. The Board desire again to emphasise this point.

"Sir, our grievances have all along been that in seeking to attain an ideal efficiency, the Government of my country is sometimes apt to overlook the environments amidst which it is placed, and it is sometimes, I regret to say more often than otherwise, apt to go forward without taking along with them the people in whose interests it legislates. I would therefore respectfully appeal to my colleagues, official and non-official, that even if they find that there ideal may not at once be attained if they conceded to some extent to popular demands and popular requirements, but if they find that we are making a fair way towards the attainment of that ideal, I ask them to consider whether some concession to popular wishes should not be made. With these few words I come to the specific amendment which is now before us. We have in the Select Committee made a specific advance from the principle originally proposed which, I believe, was from 7 to 11, but there was one consideration which our official friends placed before the Select Committee, and which has to a great extent marred the beneficial effect of that increase, viz., if there was to be an increase of four, the Government which had already a majority should also have a corresponding increase, and that increase of four was split into two parts, two seats being given to Government and two being given to the non-official or the non-Government element in the composition of the Trust. Well, Sir, I for one do not appreciate the view of Government that in all local matters there should be a directly preponderating voice of Government. In the control of the body which is charged with such matters, I do not certainly appreciate the view that our people should always be treated as children who have yet to learn work. As soon as we succeeded in the Select Committee in increasing the number to four, the benefit of that enhancement was greatly reduced by the attitude of the official members in claiming and securing two of the four for themselves. Well whatever may be the attitude that is a fact which we cannot get over, but I think I am entitled to say that the number that we have now got, namely, three out of eleven is not sufficient for the purposes of proper administration of the body which is going to be created and the proper consideration of the various matters with which it will be entrusted. If we are following the Bombay Act, let us follow it as it is. It was said on a recent occasion when the Bombay Police Act was taken as the model upon which the Calcutta Police Act was framed, that we have got a Bombay Act which is working well. Why should we not have in Calcutta a similar Act on the same lines. Well, Sir, if we are to be governed in India as I suppose we must be, by the argument of analogy let us have the argument pushed to its legitimate issues. If Bombay has got 14 members, Calcutta certainly with a bigger population and more varied interests and a larger superficial area is certainly entitled to 14. I know, Sir, that an eminent Viceroy on one occasion said that if the affairs of Calcutta were entrusted to a single individual, things should go on much better, and Calcutta would soon assume a different and improved aspect. That single individual was as my hon'ble friend to my right reminds me being the Viceroy himself. I have no doubt that many masterful spirits on the Civil Service also harbour a similar feeling. I am speaking in the presence of the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation, for whom we all entertain the highest respect. I am quite sure he feels that if he had got control over the Rs. 75 lakhs a year unhampered by the discussion of troublesome colleagues, he would be able to do a great deal more than has been done. Well that may be a correct feeling, and though it may be considered that despotism or absolutism in some respect may be good, we under the British Government have been accustomed to deal with public bodies concerned when dealing with great public questions. Well if that is to be admitted, then I certainly think that the number 11 is far too small for a body that is going to be formed for the disposal of such large sums of money as are likely to come into its hands and the consideration of questions which will greatly affect a very large class of people for the present and for a long time to come, and it is necessary in your own interest that in that body all conflicting opinions should be well represented. At present I submit that that representation does not obtain and why, if we are at all to follow the model of Bombay why should we in this very important particular deviate from that model? There has been no suggestion in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, no justification put forward in the discussions which took place in the Select Committee for limiting the number to 11. I therefore appeal to Your Honour and to my official colleagues with some confidence that in order to associate with yourselves representatives of all the different interests in Calcutta and its immediate vicinity it is not only desirable but necessary and more than necessary and more than desirable I say it is just and fair that this body should at least be composed of 13 members."

Bom. Act IV of 1902.

Ben. Act III of 1910.

The HON'BLE RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said :—

"I beg to say, Sir, that my amendment is also to the same effect as moved by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. But before speaking on the amendment, I beg to say that a cry has been raised in some quarters that the Indian members of this Council are opposed to this measure. I beg to repudiate this allegation emphatically. Living as we do in the midst of congested and most insanitary and unhealthy areas which are the nurseries of all epidemic diseases, it is our earnest desire that prompt measures should be taken to remove all the insanitary areas, to remove congestion, and to provide streets and wide roads in the northern portion of the town. We are not opposed to the principles of the Bill, but we are opposed to some of the drastic provisions of the Bill,—the provisions which seek to restrict our right of appeal to the High Court, the provisions which seek to reduce the amount of compensation, the provisions which would deprive us of the statutory allowance of 15 per cent.—these are the provisions which we are opposed to. I beg to assure Your Honour and the Council that we are not at all opposed to the principles of the Bill. We will hail the Bill with delight provided some modifications are made in the existing provisions.

"I thankfully admit that the Select Committee have been good enough at our instance to raise the number of Trustees from seven to eleven; but I cannot comprehend why our Board should be less comprehensive, should be less representative than that of Bombay which consists of fourteen members. Considering the vastness of interests at stake, the colossal amount of money involved and the magnitude of the task, it is of the utmost importance that the Board should be thoroughly representative and sufficiently comprehensive. The apprehension of the Hon'ble mover of the Bill that the formation of a comprehensive Board here would lead to the disclosure of their schemes and the consequent speculations is, I venture to assert, as unfounded as it is unreasonable. It is by implication a reflection on the representative men of Calcutta that a sufficient number of reliable men amongst them cannot be found here to constitute a Board as comprehensive as that of Bombay."

The HON'BLE MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir, I regret that the mover of this amendment finds that this is not an opportune time for the consideration of this Bill. He appears to be somewhat hard to please. The month of April was originally fixed for the consideration of the Bill and the debate was then adjourned to August to suit his convenience, and still he finds the moment inopportune. Certainly there was no sinister motive in fixing on this date, and I for my part feel no satisfaction in hearing from the Hon'ble Member that some of the non-official members are not present. On the contrary I wish that more non-official members were present, for I have every confidence that I can persuade some of them to oppose this amendment. There are several amendments to this clause 4 proposing to raise the number of members of the Trust, and I will not ask the members of this Council to listen to a somewhat barren discussion of the abstract question whether 11 or 13 is the proper number for a body of this kind. The amendments proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur are followed by consequential amendments, which state what interest these additional members are to represent, and what their qualifications are to be. In considering whether it is desirable to raise the number of members of the Trust from 11 to 13, it is impossible to do so satisfactorily without also considering what is the object to be attained in doing so as revealed by the subsequent and consequential amendments. There have been, in the course of the years that have passed since this Bill was brought under consideration, various opinions as to the number of members that should constitute the Trust. When the Bill was submitted to this Council it was intended that the Board shall consist of the Chairman of the Corporation, two Government nominees and three members elected—two by the Corporation and one by the Chamber of Commerce.

"In 1904, as members of this Council are aware, a Committee sat to consider the provisions of the draft Bill. That Committee was strongly in favour of a small executive body of six members, which would act secretly and act vigorously. It was also proposed that that body should be entirely composed of nominated members. The late Babu Nalin Behari Sarkar was strongly opposed to the elective system. The Chamber of Commerce was also in favour of six members. When the proposal was submitted to the Government of India and to the Secretary of State, they agreed that a body of six would be most effective. These opinions must carry some weight with every thinking man. A good deal can be said in favour of a small executive body. The Chamber of Commerce still adheres to the opinion that the smaller number is preferable. There were, however, several opinions, received from public bodies, in favour of a larger body, and it was recognised that the Corporation of Calcutta which would make substantial contributions to the funds of the Trust and upon which will devolve the assets and liabilities of the Trust, should have a substantial voice in the administration of the Trust. To give the Corporation such a representation and to add one or two other elected members necessitated the raising of the number of members above six. But I do not suggest that the Trust, as constituted, is intended to be representative of all the classes and all the interests in Calcutta, and what is more, I will ask this Council to hold that a body of thirteen must be as inadequate to do that as a body of eleven.

"This Trust will have very large funds to administer. The Government is taking from the general tax-payers considerable annual sums as well as large lump grants, and the Government in doing so—as every Government must—is bound to see the money put into the hands of a body for whose administration it will be to a large extent responsible. That would certainly be the course that would be adopted in England. I do not know of any case in England in which public money raised from general taxation for a public improvement is entrusted to anybody but a body nominated by Government. Take the case of the Congested Districts Board in Ireland. It might have been thought that in a country like Ireland where class feeling runs so high, provision would have been made to represent different classes and conflicting interests—landlords and tenants, Catholics and Protestants. But this has not been done and was never suggested. In 1891, when the Congested Districts Board was first created, it consisted of two ex-officio members and five members appointed by the Crown. In 1909, it was reconstituted, and now consists of three ex-officio members, nine unpaid members appointed by the Crown for five years and two paid members on £ 2,000 a year each holding office during pleasure. In 1909, the Parliament allotted funds for the purpose of promoting industrial and agricultural development and also for the construction of main roads. Two Boards were constituted to carry out these operations and to these the funds were entrusted. These Boards were not representative. There are eight Development Commissioners appointed by the Crown for a period of ten years, while the Road Board consists entirely of persons appointed by the Treasury. These are illustrations of the working of the principle which I submit to this Council, to wit: that if Government takes money from the general tax payer it owes it to him to keep control over the agents who will spend the money and cannot divest itself of that responsibility.

"I do not regret the addition to the Board of some elected members. I look upon those members mainly as a guarantee to the public that the Board which will spend their money will not be actuated by motives which would not bear the light of the day. These elected members representing the public will see that nothing is done contrary to the public interest, and that the public money should be spent in such a way as will bear scrutiny. The particular amendment moved by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu aims at raising the number of Trustees to thirteen, and the Hon'ble Member, as his subsequent amendment shows, desires that these two additional members, should represent the landholding classes of Calcutta. There are some more similar amendments. But this amendment is the first step in the move to add two representatives of the landholding classes to this Trust. Now the land-owning classes of Calcutta are vitally interested in this Bill. That is to say, they are a class that will be vitally affected by the operations of this Bill. But it does not follow that a person who is greatly interested in the decision of any matter should necessarily have a prevailing voice in deciding it. No one is so interested in the result of a criminal trial as the accused in the dock. But that is no reason why he should be allowed to decide as to his own guilt. There are interests which disqualify as well as interests which qualify. There are other classes which are as much interested as owners of property in the operations which it is proposed to undertake on the basis of this Bill. There is the enormous mass of labour which is attracted to Calcutta and which now suffers seriously in health by having to reside in congested and over-populated quarters of the town owing generally to the lack of proper means of communication, and to the insanitary lines of which much of the town has been built. The claims of this class among others to consideration are as great as those of the property owners. A sum of fifty lakhs of rupees has been given to Bombay by the Government of India, and none of us grudges it being given to that city, although the sum was taken from the general revenue. But after all the population of Bombay or the population of Calcutta is less than a million. Many districts of Bengal have a population of double that number. But we know that there is no chance of a grant of a hundred lakhs being made, say, to the district of Burdwan, the population of which may be two millions. The resources of Government cannot possibly extend so far. But this fact must necessarily make those who live outside Calcutta and Bombay watch with a jealous eye the manner in which these large grants are spent. When we saw the allotment of this sum to Bombay, I for one did not feel the desire that it should be handed over to a committee of landowners to divide according to their mutual satisfaction. What I, and, I think, most of us, felt at once was that it was the duty of the Government of India to see that this large grant was spent with the utmost economy and the utmost efficiency. I submit that this scheme is not a matter of local interest only. The people of Calcutta will only provide three-eighths of the money to be spent, and those living outside Calcutta will provide five-eighths of the cost of the works that will be undertaken by the Trust, and they will have a preponderating interest in the administration. And I submit that it is the duty of the Government to protect their interests. It is the duty of the Government to see that the money shall be spent by an impartial body and a body free from the suspicion that must attach to a body composed mainly of those who have vested interests in existing conditions in Calcutta. With these words I would ask the Council to reject this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Well, Sir, I am obliged to my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas for a very frank statement of his views. I have nothing to complain of. But when I stated that the sitting of this important session of this Council had by some coincidence been fixed at a time when some of the hon'ble members were unable to attend, I did not for a moment suggest or intend to suggest, and if there is any suggestion like that I expressly withdraw it, that there was any sinister motive which actuated the Government in fixing that time. There was no such thought passing through my mind. Why is it and how is it that that thought comes to my friend's mind? Did he at all by some psychological process think that things might be so taken as to give it an aspect which he was so anxious to combat? There was no evil in my mind, nor any suggestion of evil. My hon'ble friend says that the original idea was to entrust the working of this Trust to a body who would act secretly and vigorously. I will remind my friend from the history of his own country that the Star Chamber was a secret and vigorous body, but it had to go its way; and so many other secret and vigorous bodies like the cabinets of Louis XIV and Louis XVI. It is well known that secrecy in the matter of public work has ceased to be a doctrine and is no longer believed by any man or body in matters of administration concerning large masses of people. Secrecy may be very good in the Turkish and Russian Empires, but in no department, I hope, of the British Empire, and in the present framing of the Bill carrying on the proceedings of the Board in secrecy has been given up. There is to be the full light of day, and I may remind my friend that instances in the history of the world are not rare where bodies created by Government have misapplied the money that has been entrusted to them from time to time, and that it is only by the appointment of private individuals that misapplication of public funds has been put a stop to. But apart from that, Sir, my hon'ble friend has again made this astounding declaration that in England public funds are not entrusted to representative bodies for distribution but to secret or private Boards. It is a news to me, Sir. Does my hon'ble friend know what enormous sums the London County Council has spent for the improvement of London?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I am afraid the hon'ble member has misunderstood me. What I said was that money given by Government from the national exchequer for a certain purpose is invariably spent under the control of the Government.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"I accept my friend's explanation, but if he had only considered the situation in Ireland, where there were varied interests which could only be safeguarded by third persons, he would see that that example would not apply to the state of things in Calcutta. My friend has admitted that the presence of outsiders on the Board is after all to some extent desirable, and I am grateful to him for that admission. I do not wish that outsiders should be there to fatten their own interests, and I suppose that it is not the wish of any body here that different elements should be introduced into the composition of this Trust for the benefit of any particular interest. My object—if I had not been able to make it clear—is this: that all interests affected should be considered, not that those interested should have predominence; but if any class of people—be they the offending landlords of Calcutta or otherwise—are injuriously affected, they should have a hearing. That their case should be properly considered, I suppose, is a proposition which will commend itself to my hon'ble friend, who has exercised judicial functions for many years, and I am sure he will assent that persons whose interests are being affected should be given a fair hearing. In that view, I had suggested that the numbers should be increased. My hon'ble friend has gone further and attacked me, if I may say without disrespect, from behind. Well, Sir, the landlords, whether in Calcutta or outside Calcutta, seem to be a veritable bugbear to the official mind. They may have their fault; who of us, human as we are, are without our faults. Even the mighty members of the Civil Service will admit that they have had their faults in the past at least. But I say this that it is a mistake to suppose that the landlords' interests are such that they should be brushed aside, that they should have no voice in the Board which is going to adopt measures which will largely affect them, and in using the word "landlord" I take care to state what I mean. I do not mean to refer to the great territorial landlords in Europe who have usurped large parts of the city and who have built tenement residences for the poor and for the occupiers. It is not they who are in my mind, for, if any such class does exist in Calcutta, they are powerful enough and wealthy enough to protect their own interests. But I refer, Sir, to quite another class of landlords, just as in the Punjab the cultivators are called the zamindars because they own the land which they cultivate in some sense. So in Calcutta the occupiers of those dwellings that you see on the north of Bowbazar Street are the landlords of Calcutta who will be very seriously affected. It is difficult for Englishmen, brought up under a different state of things altogether and in a place where large tracts of land are held by individuals and where they make their own terms, to realise the real state of things which obtains in an oriental city like Calcutta which has grown under its present conditions for the last century, and I shall come to that point later on when we consider the question of additional compensation to be awarded to those who will be displaced by reason of the carrying out of these improvements. But if the wealthier landlords do not appeal to you, I say at once that I do not represent them in this Council. They are men who are able and worthy enough to protect their own interests, and some of them are in this Council. I represent the middle classes, the middle class householders, who have occupied ancestral houses in Calcutta ever since the days of British rule in India, ever since the time of Clive and Hastings, and is considering this Act from the very beginning to end I am concerned with the question as to how the rights of these people are to be dealt with, as to how large masses of them are to be removed from one place to another, as to how they are to be treated in connection with improvements which are to be carried out. It is because these matters have to be considered that I think the representative of this class ought to be in your Board to place their voice before the Board. It will do you no harm, it will not weaken your composition, for under the constitution as it is Government has got (a), Government has got (b), Government has got (c), and all four of (d), so that it has got seven out of a body composed of 11 members. Then the Government has got in the representative of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce a gentleman who is always animated by European ideals and inspired by things which he sees in his own country, and who in a measure in the carrying out of large improvements will support Government in their laudable desire to effect improvements, and I am quite sure also that the middle class people will desire to associate themselves with you. They will only seek to do so, in order to prevent you from falling into a great error, to prevent you from ignoring their legitimate grievances, to prevent you from undertaking operations which may lead to disaster, and to prevent you from accentuating the discontent which a measure like this, if carried without due consideration, is bound to foment. Will you say that you will disregard all these? 'We shall go on in our way, discontent or no, misery or no, because we think that this should be done for your protection, for the greater efficiency of the improvements which we will undertake.' Does my friend say—would he venture to say: 'You landlords will have no representatives in this body, although you represent ⅞ths of the population, although you contribute towards the cost of this improvement scheme, and I shall do what is good for you.' But what of those whose houses will be taken without the payment of the 15 per cent. compensation because it is in insanitary neighbourhood, because it is occupied under circumstances for which it ought not to receive the full value for which it ought to be sold in the open market? What of those upon whom you will levy an enormous amount of burden for the privilege of retailing a portion of land about which when the matter comes on for consideration I will place the experience of England about the recoupment and the betterment processes? Do they not by the process of recoupment contribute towards the capital cost of the schemes that are going to be carried out? And what of that powerful body, the Corporation of Calcutta, which has got the ultimate responsibility, the entire financial responsibility of this Trust? Where in this body is the representative of this class of householders?

"First of all you have got a Government President; secondly you have the Chairman of the Corporation, a Government official and three other members of the Corporation. You will at once tell me 'Here I make a present of three to you,' but how three? I am tendering you this challenge. Let us consider who these three are. One of these will be elected by the 25 elected Commissioners. These elected members are again elected not only by the landholders or the residential owners of Calcutta, but by the occupiers also. So they are not in any true sense the representatives of the householders of Calcutta, that is the man who is to be elected by the 25 Commissioners. These 25 Commissioners are returned by the owners—by the property holders as well as by the tenants. You cannot, therefore, say that this is the man who represents the landlords of Calcutta. The other man is elected by whom—by the other 25 Commissioners—and who are these 25 Commissioners—15 Government nominees, of whom I believe twelve are Government officials, 4 representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, 4 of the Calcutta Trades Associations and 2 of the Port Trust. Of these 25, who do you say would represent the landholding classes? Then come to the whole body of 50. There again you have got a composite mixture of opposites, by what chemical process will you extract as representative of the landholding classes of Calcutta from this body. You have given a representation to the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce because they are interested in the jute industry. Are the householders not interested? Are they not interested at the present moment and are they not interested in the future of Calcutta? I ask you this in all fairness. Do you think that I seek to introduce this amendment in order to find room for these obnoxious individuals in the Board? Have you given them any where any direct representation? Have you considered their claims. These are matters for your consideration. You have got the power, but you have not got the will. Popular opinion has been lightly set aside; do not for God's sake add to the discontent already existing."

The result of the division was ayes 18, noes 27, and the motion was therefore lost.

Motion No. 19 having been lost, an identical Motion (No. 20), of which the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur had given notice, was withdrawn.

21. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the word "twelve" be substituted for the word "eleven" in line 1 of clause 4.

He said:—

"I, on my part, have no idea of withholding the purpose of my amendment. I openly avow that my intention is to obtain another member for the Corporation, and I will go further to say that my observations on this amendment shall cover my amendment to clause 7, if only the Hon'ble Member will allow this amendment to pass. I regret that my hon'ble friend has begun to gird at the landlords already. If I may refer to a personal matter, I, on my part, have but the slightest interest as a landlord, and such as I have is not held on my own volition. The knowledge I have obtained of the position of landlords and my study of their prospects under this Bill when it becomes law, however, influence me to say that I would not become, by my choice, a landlord in Calcutta. My only feeling about landlords is that they should have fair treatment. But it seems to me that we are introducing a new code of morality—'not to do to others as they should do unto you.' The same feeling against landlords has found expression in England. Mr. Alfred Lyttleton, from his place in the House of Commons, in the discussion on the Housing and Town Planning Act, 1909, ascribed it to tenants who think that it is for themselves to fix the rent they should pay. And I do not seek admission by amendment for another member of the Corporation to reinforce the landlords or in order that he may scrutinize the expenditure of the Board. I want rather to bring to the aid of the Board co-operation with those who will be affected.

"I am glad that my hon'ble friend (Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu) has already brought to the notice of the Council the advantage of co-operation. Sir, no person who has endeavoured to study the special laws from which we are borrowing, and their practical working in England, can have failed to observe that co-operation is the key-note of their proceedings in that country, and that bureaucratic or departmental action would have been fatal to successful operation under those Acts. Co-operation is made a prominent feature in their Statutes and is emphasised by rules and regulations of the Local Government Board. Personal effort by individuals representing local authorities, to obtain co-operation with those who will be affected, is insisted upon, by workers and writers alike, as a necessity to try to remove, so much as is possible, hardship on owners of small properties. This entails great labour, but it is found, as is to be expected, to quote the words of a high authority who has devoted himself to the subject and written most usefully on it: 'So much more work is done when those concerned are pulling together, instead of different ways.' In England, co-operation is a living element, because the authorities to give effect to these special laws are local municipal bodies composed, throughout, of popularly elected councillors who are in intimate touch with the people whom they represent. The conditions here are to be different. But while I accept the Board ad hoc, it is not inconsistent with that attitude if I examine the composition of the Board and the effect of its working for the purpose for which it is being created.

"I have no desire to minimise the effect of the generous contribution, by the Government, of the special taxes that are promised. But mere provision of money, for a Board such as is contemplated, for the purpose of a law such as is before us, will not necessarily spell success, any more than the handing over of a cheque would equal the service that personal interest and a proper understanding of the wants of those whose poverty it is desired to relieve, can achieve. There is anxiety now; it may develop into discontent and dissatisfaction which will hamper the smooth working of the Act, unless the Board are capable of getting into touch with those whose rights are threatened, and winning their confidence and co-operation in the measures that are contemplated.

"I have desired, in my amendments, not to be out of proportion to the view now entertained by the Government, and yet to ask for so much representation as I think I very fairly may ask for the Corporation,—to which body, I may add, as their representative in the Council, I have confined my attention. I have left it to others to move as in their discretion they might think fit on behalf of other interests. On my own part, I do not seek to advance the claim of any association or individual. Personally I am not concerned, because, with a Board that will be constituted as is contemplated, I believe that the Corporation will be best represented for the work of the Board by men of this country, and I shall not offer myself as a candidate. But, Sir, the more I have studied this subject, the more firm has my opinion grown that it would be a real help to the Board if the number of Trustees were increased, to give opportunity for a larger representation by those who, I think, would most usefully serve the Board and, therefore, the public: not as occupants of merely honorary offices, but workers who would give ungrudgingly of their time and labour: and among the workers on the Board, I believe none would be found more zealous than such as may be chosen from among the elected Commissioners of the Calcutta Corporation.

"The maintenance of secrecy for the schemes of the Board, as a reason for keeping the Board of Trustees numerically small, has been wisely abandoned as an impossible ideal. The principle that where there is taxation there should be representation, has been in a measure recognised. But the most important reason of all, for wider and popular representation on the part of those who will be affected, co-operation and the necessity for securing a representation that will help to that end,—has apparently been neglected.

"After the careful consideration I have been giving to the questions involved, I have been led to the conclusion that there is even greater need of popular representation for the work before the Board than for municipal administration, of course under the actual control of the Government such as exists in England. My appeal, however, is whittled down to a very humble dimension; but even that little, I am assured, will be an advantage to the public, if it is allowed. And we have an additional reason for consideration that gives a stronger claim than others have, in the provision that on the Corporation will fall the ultimate responsibility of the acts and expenditure of the Board."

The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Behadur said:—"Sir, the amendment which stands in my name is exactly the same as that which stands in the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar. I should only add a few more observations to what has already been said on this subject by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar. The enlargement of the Board by one or two members forms the gist of the amendments. Government has shown its anxiety in having a fair and adequate representation of different interests. To quote the words of the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, one class of people, namely, the land-owners and the owners of houses, who are not only vitally interested but would be vitally affected by the Bill, have got no representative on the Board, and the question therefore is ought not the Government to be consistent in having a representative from the land-holders in the Board. What I beg to submit, Sir, is that in order to maintain and preserve consistency some provision should be made by which the land-holders can have at least one representative."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said:—"Sir, I must resist this amendment and the two similar amendments raising the number of members from 11 to 12. The mover of this amendment has very fairly made his proposal comprehensible to the Council by explaining the effect of the consequential amendments Respecting the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar's amendment, I may say that I have no intention of girding at the Corporation. He has charged me with girding at the landlords, but I think unjustly. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu in his reply spoke of the landlords as obnoxious individuals and called them by other hard names as if I had made use of those epithets. But I think that the members of the Council will bear me out when I say that it was not I who used language of that kind. The interest of the landlords in the working of the Trust is not of such nature that it would be wise to give them a preponderating voice in the Board. There is an interest which qualifies a man to serve in a Board, and we all know that there are interests which would also disqualify a man serving in the Board. I do not deny that the landlords are interested in the scheme, but I think their very interest should disqualify them from having a preponderating voice in the working of the Board. If I had the eloquence of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, and could take up the time of the Council, I could also draw a picture of the sorrows and trials of the tenants and of the labourers living in crowded and insanitary bustees. There are many classes who suffer. It is possible that the operations of the Trust will result in the lowering of rents in Calcutta. Why should not those whose interest lies in the lowering of rents have a preponderating influence on the Board?

"As regards the Corporation, I resist the amendment on the ground that, although the Corporation has such a large interest in the working of the Trust and provides a large portion of the funds, the representation that it has—it is represented by the Chairman and three elected members—is quite adequate and fair. It is misleading to say, 'Oh, I ask for one member, and it can't do any harm.' The Corporation is generously represented and I cannot assent to the increased representation which will upset that balance which now subsists. The argument against having one more landlord appears to me to be covered by what I said in dealing with the former amendment. That interest is an important one, but no one can deny that they are well represented. The Bengal National Chamber of Commerce will probably send a landlord as one of the Trustees. The Corporation of Calcutta will, I think, also send landlords. Undoubtedly there is a preponderance of landlords on the Corporation, and it is inconceivable to me how the interests of landlords and of the ratepayers should not be represented by the elected members from the Corporation.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has insisted strongly on the necessity of co-operation between the Trust and the public. I do not think that the constitution of the Trust and the proportion of the representatives of the Corporation on that Trust has very much to do with such co-operation. That will depend very largely on the spirit in which the Trust acts and it is quite possible for a single Government officer and a purely nominated body to recognise the advantages of co-operation between the authorities and the public and to seek to secure such co-operation. Both he and the mover of the first amendment have quoted from the Circular issued by the Local Government Board. We all agree with the spirit that animates that Circular, but I must point out that it is not strictly in point, for it was issued in reference to town-planning schemes. Under the law which authorises the formation of such schemes, the local authorities have power to dictate the manner in which landlords shall develop their estates. Obviously no such scheme could possibly be framed except in consultation with the landlords.

"As regards facilities for co-operation I would ask the members of this Council to look at clause 17A (now 19) of this Bill.

"They will see that in that clause the Board has power to co-opt additional members for any particular purpose, and under clause 18 the Board has power to appoint outsiders to serve on committees. There is no similar provision in the Bombay Act, and I submit that these provisions afford every reasonable means of co-operation between the Trust and the public. In Bombay the Municipality supplies the bulk of the funds which are administered by the Trust. The Bombay Trust received no money grant from Government and the proceeds of no special taxation. But the Bombay Corporation has only four representatives on a Council of fourteen, while we propose to give the Calcutta Corporation three members out of eleven. The proportion is the same, although Calcutta bears nothing like the same proportion of expenditure as is done in Bombay. In view of these considerations I would again ask the Council to leave the clause as it stands."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"The Hon'ble Member has misunderstood me. I did not suggest that an extra member would do no harm, but, on the contrary, that he would be of great help. The Hon'ble Member has very fairly attempted to meet me by reference to clause 17A (now 19). But his answer is not sufficient. Those who may be appointed will be appointed by favour of the Board. They will not be members of the Board; they will not have the same influence and the same opportunity for usefulness and rendering help. The Bombay Trust may not have received an annual subvention or grant of money, but they were given the use of property valued at over 50 lakhs. And as for landlords, I am innocent of landlordism in my proposal, in intention or purpose. If a landlord becomes a Trustee under cover of my amendment, it will be due to his merits in other respects rather than the fact that he happens to belong to that class. I will not take up further time of the Council in view of the voting disclosed in the last issue. But the Hon'ble Member in charge must pardon me if I say that he has not met me in my contention."

The result of the division was Ayes 18, Noes 27, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

22. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that the word "twelve" be substituted for the word "eleven" in line 1 of clause 4.

23. If motion No. 20 be carried the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the word "four" be substituted for the word "three" in clause 4 (c).

24. If motion No. 21 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the word "four" be substituted for the word "three" in clause 4 (c).

25. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that after sub-clause (d1) [now sub-clause (e)] of clause 4, the following be inserted, namely:—

(d2) a member of the British Indian Association.

He said:—

"Sir,—It was an intelligent and an irresistible anticipation of events that made me hesitate fruitlessly to seek to disturb the figure 11 as it stands in the Bill. My amendment merely seeks a slight readjustment in the assignment of the seats, so that a representative of a body which is not purely commercial—such as the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the National Chamber of Commerce, must be taken to be—may come in, and I ask that, instead of the Government reserving to itself four out of the 11 members under sub-clause (e) [now sub-clause (f)] of clause 4, one should be given to this public body, and the Government should have at its disposal three instead of four. The principle of associating representatives of public bodies with the Trust did not find acceptance in the earlier stages of the consideration of the Bill, when, in the interests of secrecy, promptitude and continuity, the Government of India of 1907 did not see its way to recommend a larger body than six. But a change came over the Councils of the Government in 1908, when the Hon'ble Mr. John Morley, as he then was, while agreeing that the Board should not be a large body, thought that Trustees should be elected by the Municipal Corporation, and perhaps by other bodies. That was in 1908, and the only other body that was accepted as fit to return such a representative was the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. When the matter came up before the Select Committee, the Select Committee was good enough to add the National Chamber of Commerce as well, for which, I am sure, we are all thankful. But I am afraid, Sir, the representation of other public bodies, contemplated by the Hon'ble Mr. Morley, does not go far enough even with the concession that the Select Committee has made, and it is necessary that some public body that is not representative of any particular interest and limited, should have the opportunity of sending a representative to this Board. After careful consideration, I thought that the British Indian Association might fittingly have that concession. Sir, so much has already been said about landlordism and anti-landlordism that I shall not attempt to cover the same ground, at this stage of the debate. Although the British Indian Association is popularly believed to be, and is also called, a landlords' association, I can, without fear of contradiction or challenge, claim that it is no such thing. My Hon'ble friend, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, and myself, whom the landlords proper would object to term as landlords, happen to be members of that association. I have been carefully going through the list of 160 members of the British Indian Association that constitute that body at the present moment, and the most exaggerated of imaginations would find it impossible to declare that body to be purely an association of landlords. In view of this, there can be no objection to my amendment on the part of those who would like to keep direct representation of landlords out of the Board, if possible. The British Indian Association, Sir, does consist, no doubt, of a fair and, I am prepared to say, even a large, body of landlords owning lands both in Calcutta and within the Province. But it also consists of merchants, of professional men, like my hon'ble friend and myself, who cannot aspire to rank as landlords in the larger, and as some would like to call, the proper, sense of that term. That being so, I thought that it woul be a body that could fittingly receive the honour of appointing a delegate to this Board. When a question like this came up before this Council in connection with the present Municipal Bill, it was urged, though not without much effect, that the British Indian Association should be one of the bodies allowed to return members to the Corporation. Sir Edward Baker,—with regard to whose absence from this Council at the consideration of this vastly important measure I desire to associate myself with what fell from Your Honour on the previous occasion,—was in charge of the Municipal Bill at the moment that this particular question came up. And in referring to the various bodies who were aspirants for the honour of representation on the Corporation, the Hon'ble Mr. Baker observed: 'I now turn to the amendment of the Hon'ble Babu Jatra Mohan Sen, which is, on the whole, a moderate amendment. He proposes to reduce the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association to three each; he would assign two seats to the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, two seats to the Muhammadan Association and two to the University.' The representative of the University has not thought fit on the present occasion, to put forward the claims of University representation, but does press the claims of the British Indian Association which were admitted on that occasion by the Hon'ble Mr. Baker, who proceeded to say: 'The first thing that occurs to one, on looking at these proposals, is that the one association in Calcutta which would have a prior claim to special representation, if we were giving any, is left out,—I mean the British Indian Association. The Hon'ble Member felt, I think (that was Babu Jatra Mohan Sen, who had not a word to say about the association) the weakness of his position in omitting that body, because he said that it would be for the Government to appoint representatives from that association. But if we are going to give in the body of the Act special representation to any additional association, I think there can be no question that the British Indian Association has the first claim.' I should have liked to remind Sir Edward Baker now of his observations on that occasion, if he was here, and, with no less confidence, I remind Your Honour and this Council of what fell from the responsible adviser of Government on that occasion. The principle that representatives of other public bodies should be associated in the Trust has been fully conceded by the Hon'ble Mr. John Morley, although he advocated that the Trust should not be large, and in not moving for a larger number, I have accepted what Lord Morley laid down and which has been carried out by the Select Committee; but I repeat that the essence of the concession made by Lord Morley, coupled with what the Hon'ble Mr. Baker said on the occasion to which I have referred, makes it abundantly clear that that principle has not been fully given effect to. The one association which could possibly be allowed to have any representative, if any, and which would have occurred to Sir Edward Baker, is the British Indian Association, which has been left out, and I believe that that association should be allowed a representative, which can easily be arranged if the Government, instead of reserving to itself the four seats mentioned in clause 4 (e), [now 4 (f)] were to give up one, and make a present of it to the body that I name. Sir, the question of the representatives of landlords as such, in the sense of those who are responsible for correcting the insanitary evils that the Bill seeks to combat, has been referred to on more than one occasion in the course of this morning's debate, and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has observed that in a trial it would be out of the question to allow the accused to participate in the trial, although he would be vitally affected and interested in the result of that trial. If, Sir, landlords are to rank as the accused in the present case, it is difficult to see why they are to be denied representation for that reason, when the Government and the Corporation, who would also be the co-accused in the case, should not be denied similar representation. Who is it that is responsible for the present state of things? Have the Government and the Corporation no share in the blame that is to be attached for the existing state of things? Let the report of the Beverley Commission answer, and in any event the peers of the accused ought to have a place on the bench at such a trial. There is no need to go into an elaborate analysis and apportionment of the blame that could be apportioned, if there was any need to do so; but the Buildings Commission, the recommendations of which are the real basis of what we are proceeding with to-day, made it quite clear that those who had been responsible for the insanitary administration before the Municipal Act came into force were as much responsible for the present state of things as those that came afterwards; and therefore, the Corporation, who had powers given to it and never exercised those powers, are, to an extent, responsible for the present state of things. I can recall to mind one instance in the neighbourhood of the Jellia Para Nebutollah Lanes Bustees, schemes for improvement of which had been before the Corporation for twenty years, and ever since I was a member of that Corporation: a workable scheme was sanctioned, a notification was issued, and lands were forbidden to be built upon. They proceeded so far, and then, somehow or other, the scheme was abandoned. If the scheme had been carried out, we should have had a fine road in the neighbourhood. The insanitary slums, which plague and other diseases visit first, infest the longest and leave the last, would have been a thing of the past. But it has not been and was not to be because there was unaccountable vaccilation I am not impeaching the Corporation with regard to that, but I am only illustrating the correctness of my proposition that, if the landlords of Calcutta are to rank as the accused in this case and, therefore, to be denied representation, the Government and the Corporation occupy a similar position, though they may not be culprits to the same degree, perhaps, as the landlords, with regard to whom I for one moment accept the use of this obnoxious epithet. Therefore, there is nothing in an argument like this that the landlords' interest ought not to have any direct representation, because they are in the position of an accused, and, therefore, although vitally interested in the trial, they cannot be allowed to take part.

"Sir, the framers of this Bill have largely, no doubt, gone on the analogy of what is happening in England with regard to a very restricted area. The reason why more had not been done in London, with a population as large as that of Ireland, was because of the leasehold system that has been referred to with great effect by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, and I will not detract from that eloquent pronouncement by any observations of my own; but we have nothing like that in this country, as here it is a case mostly of people living in their own houses, and that dignifies them into the position of landholders. That is a mistaken state of things which, I think, ought not to be allowed to colour our deliberations, which are very much more comprehensive than those relating to the little consequential Acts which British legislation of late has thought of. Ideas and opinions are very much in advance now in England of those that have always prevailed in this country and still prevail with regard to many matters and we should be careful as to how we introduce premature ultra socialistic ideas as to property here. However that may be, it is not the question of revision of leasehold estates so far as my amendment is concerned. I seek to plead for the representation of a cultured and enlightened public body, which, ever since public life began in this country, has admittedly been doing great service, and which is not a purely landlords' association—which admits to its membership those that cannot claim to be landlords; it contains members of the learned professions, merchants and other representative people, men of light and leading who can assist the Government in their deliberations. That is the work that the association has so long been doing, and that is the association on whose behalf I claim the acceptance of this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said :—

"Your Honour,—I have not made a study of the interests of the different classes of the population who are either likely to benefit or to be affected prejudically by the Bill before the Council, and I did not, I confess, make a special study of the Bill. One thing I notice, that there is a provision in the Bill that people who come to Calcutta and go from Calcutta are to be subjected to a certain taxation. That provision affects us—outsiders. Sir, we all admit that the discussion that has taken place to-day makes it clear that sanitary improvements in Calcutta are necessary. We are all agreed there ; so there is no good likely to come from crimination or recrimination as to whether the Government or the Corporation or the people are responsible for the present insanitary condition which does exist, or, if they are all liable to blame, in what share the blame should be apportioned to each. The fact is that a common danger exists, and official and non-official, rich or poor, agree that this present condition should be removed. There was at first, in the early part of the discussion, some cloud hanging over it. It was not clear what was aimed at, but the storm of discussion, which has just preceded, has cleared up that cloud, and the question at issue is, whether the landholders should have any representation or not. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has used an illustration saying that the accused has a very great interest in the trial, but he is not allowed to give his opinion or decide the case. On the contrary, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has said that he does not claim a preponderance in the constitution of the Trust of the landlord class ; what he claims is that their representative should have a seat there. They should have a representative who will be able to bring before the Trustees how the working of the Trust affects the interests of that class. He takes actually what the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas would describe as the position of the accused. The accused has not the right to decide his case, but his mouth is not gagged. Is it not his right to have somebody who can speak on his behalf? He has not only that right, but he has the right to put his version of the case in the Court and to get the services of the best possible lawyers available to speak on his behalf. It must be admitted that there will be men in the Trust who are foreigners, and I think there should be men of the country who would be in a position to bring before the Trust the actual feelings of the people; and I suppose no wise Government, in embarking on a measure like this which affects the interests of the people who are to be deprived of their ancestral homes and seats, should ignore popular feelings. The Hon'ble Mover of this amendment says that the British Indian Association is not an association composed entirely of landlords, but I was all along under the impression that it is composed of big and small landlords residing throughout Bengal, and most of them are very wealthy big zamindars. I am anxious to see that a popular grievance of that nature should be removed, and I do not think that the presence of one man is likely to upset the decisions or the arrangements of the Trust. The Hon'ble Member does not give any definite information as to whether a landholder is likely to be returned from the British Indian Association. In case this is guaranteed, that the Hon'ble Mover is sure that the land-holders, whose interests are chiefly affected, will be represented by an election by the British Indian Association—if this be the undertaking, I would certainly support the amendment."

The Hon'ble THE MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said:—

"Your Honour,—I thought I would be spared making a speech at this stage of the Calcutta Improvement Bill. So far, though the debate has been animated, it has not been insanitary; but I am sorry that in this Council the Hon'ble Mr. Das has introduced an insanitary element. He has confessed that he knows nothing or has read very little of the Improvement Bill, and then he has further confessed his ignorance about an association regarding which he knows nothing and about which he is groping in the dark. The British Indian Association, of which I have the privilege and honour to be the President at the present moment, is situated in the heart of Calcutta, and I think it would be of the greatest help to the Hon'ble Mr. Das if he went to 18 British Indian Street, and studied the annals of that association. The reason that my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, has proposed that, instead of increasing the number of Trustees, a member of the British Indian Association may be appointed as a Trustee, is that the British Indian Association, as at present constituted, is certainly not purely a landholders' association. In the past it has been the father of all the associations—political and otherwise—of Bengal. In the present, while representing the interests of landholders, it has not failed in its duty to bring before the public matters of importance, which not only have affected the landholders, but the general public, and that has been the glory of the British Indian Association in the past. What its future will be, at the present moment, one cannot say, but it cannot be doubted that if we have a member, as advocated by my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, appointed through the British Indian Association, he will not only be able to represent the interests of the landholders in the province, but also of the poor landholders of Calcutta. We have come in for a bad time, because the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas happens to be in an unfortunate mood to-day towards the landholders of Calcutta. What I say is this, that of course I do not refute the argument that the members, who will be appointed by the Calcutta Corporation, will also indirectly represent the interests of the landholding classes of Calcutta; but what crime have the landholders of Calcutta done not to be directly represented? Moreover, by electing a man through the British Indian Association or allowing that association the privilege to have one of its members as a Trustee, you will not only give, what I may say, a practically direct representation to the Calcutta landowners, but you will also have a man who will be able to represent other interests as well, and that will take away the venom that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas thinks the landlords are showing by voicing their interests. Of course I know what the fate of this amendment will be, but, as President of this ancient and honourable association, I deem it my duty to support my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"This amendment, I may say, is a sort of flank attack. Other amendments, which aimed at raising the number of members on the Board, having failed, the Hon'ble Member now tries to deprive me of one of the nominated seats, and he says that one of the members of the Trust should be taken from the British Indian Association, and he says that it is not an Association of landlords. I am sorry that amendment No 27 will no longer be moved, as I might then have left it to the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to show that, at least in his opinion, the British Indian Association is an Association of landlords. If the British Indian Association is not an Association of landlords, not even of Calcutta landlords, the mover of this amendment does not give us any reason why that body, of all public bodies, should be represented. I suggest that we need stronger recommendation for nominating a member from that body in particular. It would be unwise to fetter the discretion of Government in the selection of the member nominated by it. The work of the Trust will be very important, and a great deal of it of a technical nature. It is very important that all the nominated members should be men of very first-rate qualifications for work of that nature. Those members, who are elected as representatives of other public bodies, may be elected with an eye to their general competence and their claims to represent the body which elects them. This makes it more important that Government should be absolutely at liberty to appoint, as its nominees, men selected solely as being the most competent persons in Calcutta to assist in carrying on the work of the Trust, and I would strongly oppose fettering the discretion of Government in any way.

"As regards the particular amendment before us, I beg to submit, although we have heard from the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan more about the exact nature of the British Indian Association, still I submit that no sufficient reason has been given for choosing that Association of all others, when it is not even a Calcutta Association, to be given the right to have one of its members appointed as a Trustee under this Bill."

"Sir,—If the movement represented by this amendment has been a flank movement, it has been certainly frank. There is no doubt that the amendment is actuated by a certain amount of that superstition which the Hon'ble Member in charge would so much like to discount—superstition which is the salt of this life and of the life hereafter, and for which some of us might be all the better. I frankly confess, Sir, that that superstition has to a certain extent actuated my choice of this reverend and revered body—a body—if for one moment I may be allowed to be remotely personal—to which Your Honour's Government and the Government of India and the Secretary of State—went when they thought of appointing the first Indian Member of the Executive Council of this Province. Sir, we have been told an astounding thing to-day, that, in considering the claims of the British Indian Association to send a representative to this Board, we must steer clear of the possible difficulty of an absolute lay man—coming in by reason only of his standing in that society or in society in general. Lest the dotards of the British Indian Association, in their softness and innocence, should send somebody who will know nothing of the work—the arduous work before the Board, let us not have anything to do with that body: that it what is comes to. It comes to that when you analyse that portion of the argument of the Hon'ble Member in charge. If what has been referred to by the Hon'ble Member in charge, with much naivety, and not position competence for the work proper is likely to be an incentive to choose a representative, what guarantee is there that the Corporation, three of whose present and past Chairmen I see here in this Council to-day, that the Corporation will not fail in its duty and make a choice that would be open to the observations that have fallen from the Hon'ble Member in charge. And I ask the same question about the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the National Chamber of Commerce. Sir, arguments like these must not be allowed to cloud the issues. The Hon'ble Mr. Das, who has been followed in the same argument by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, says:

'You want a landlord representative; you say the British Indian Association is not a landlords' association; ergo, the British Indian Association cannot be allowed to send a representative.' Where have I said that I want a landlord representative? I want men, men no doubt preferably aware of the state of things with regard to the so-called landlordism, men such as the British Indian Association would be able to send. Sir, if I may refer to an amendment that follows, and for this amendment of mine will be sure to follow the fate of those that have preceded; which I do not anticipate will ever come up for consideration of this Council, it says that the member of the British Indian Association who is to come on the Board is to be selected under the rules to be framed by the Government. It has not even asked that that association should determine for itself the class of people that they should send. Therefore, that argument has absolutely no application to the proposition that I venture to bring forward before this Council. Directly or otherwise, no one need under any of the different sub-sections of clause 4, be a landlord. As has been pointed out by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, the first two are out of the consideration so far as that goes. The third may be. During much of the time that I was a member of the Corporation,—it is impossible to get out of some personal matters now and again,—I was not the owner of a single chittack of land in Calcutta. It is possible for one to be a member of the Corporation without being the owner of a single chittack of land, as by paying the professional license or the carriage license, one can be a Commissioner, and it is no shame or humiliation to me to confess that, during the long years that I have spent on the Corporation, I could not even by courtesy be called a landlord. And yet I could have been a member of the Board, if my colleagues placed in me the same repose that they did when they sent me as their representative to the Imperial Library at the head of the poll. Sir, then I come to (d) the Chamber of Commerce. My hon'ble friend to the left has made a frank confession that if he was not the landlord he would be happier: that is a general feeling among Europeans here; they will not own land if they can possibly help it, and yet they are to have direct representation because certainly they represent commerce, and Indian commerce is also allowed to be represented. The Hon'ble Member in charge incidentally said that he took it that the member for the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce will be a landlord. Why should it be so? There are merchants in Calcutta doing very large business, who are not landlords and who live in tenanted houses. I have no doubt that if there is a proper representation, one of the four that will be at the disposal of Your Honour's Government may possibly be a landlord, but in putting the amendment; positively claiming it, I wanted to provide that there would be a possibility for a landlord being a member of the Board from the British Indian Association, which represents the landowning as well as other interests. It would be impossible to think of an association, although it has its members in the province, and is 'not even a Calcutta Association' according to the Hon'ble Mr. Bompass, and 'represents no body.' In spite of such disparaging opinion it is largely representative of all interests that we could possibly think of, and in saying so, it was not my own obiter that I was putting forward. I have the high authority of the Hon'ble Sir Edward Baker, which I have read to this Council, and to which, I think with advantage, reference could be made again in this connection. I would also refer to the Buildings Commission which advocated the claims of this body to such representative. If there was any association, said Mr. Baker, the prior claim was that of the British Indian Association, and he would give them and no others, and that is the body whose claims I advocate. The observations of the Hon'ble Mr. Das and the Hon'ble Member in charge have therefore no application. The Honble Member in charge has referred to the observation of the President of the British Indian Association, who promptly came to my rescue and who said more vigorously and effectively what could be said, than what I have been able to say. I cannot say, Sir, that I am leaving this amendment in the hands of this Council in a very hopeful mood, but I certainly leave with the sense that I am discharging a duty which, I think, I owe to the general ratepayers of Calcutta, who are fully represented by the British Indian Association outside the Corporation."

He said :—

"Sir,—Regard being had to the attitude of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill with respect to the representation of the landholder class of Calcutta I move this amendment with considerable misgivings about its fate. Though this is so I still hope that my amendment will be favourably considered. The Council will see that my amendment with regard to the constitution of the Board is a most modest one. Although, under my amendment, the total number of Trustees is retained at 11, as decided by the Select Committee, I suggest that the number of the Government nominees be reduced from 'four' to 'three', and this one seat be given to the landholders of Calcutta by election, under rules framed by the Government. Notwithstanding the observation of the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, I submit, there is no doubt that the landholders as such have no representation on the Board. Is it fair, is it just, that this class should go unrepresented? It is possible that Government may nominate one or more representative landlords under sub-clause (e) of clause 4, but I submit that the privilege of election from amongst their own class will be greatly valued by the landholders and ought to be conceded as a reasonable and moderate demand. If this is accepted, Government can easily make rules for the election of a member from the landholding class of Calcutta, based on the paying the qualification of owners' share of the rates."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—I oppose this amendment for the same reasons that I have opposed the previous amendments. I have given important reasons for asking this Council not to diminish the number of four members who are nominated by Government, on account of the very special nature of the work of the Trust. I have said that I do not consider that the landlord class in Calcutta have any interest of such a nature in the working of this Bill that they should have a preponderating representation. I have claimed that their interests will be sufficiently represented by the three members elected by the Corporation and the one elected by the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce. I take it that this landlord class is the class which was represented at the Town Hall meeting and which has submitted a memorial which was circulated to the Members of this Council last night. Can it be said that the class which has submitted that memorial is so heartily in favour of the machinery and of the working of the Bill that we should select them particularly to carry it out? They begin their memorial by saying that 'your memorialists are unable to discover any ground, either in necessity, utility, reason or equity, which could ever have justified the drafting of the Bill upon the lines of the Bombay Improvement Act of 1898.' That is to say, in their opinion, the Bill is unnecessary and useless, unreasonable and inequitable.

"If we had to entrust the working of this Act to any single individual, would it be reasonable to select a person who held such views as those about the Act which he was to administer? I see no more reason why we should go out of our way to entrust the working of the Act to a body on which persons holding these views have a preponderating voice."

The motion was then put and lost.

30. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din moved that, after sub-clause (d1) [now sub-clause (e)] of clause 4, the following be inserted, namely :—

(d2) a representative of the Muhammadan community.

He said:—

"Your Honour,—After seeing the fate of the preceding amendments of clause 4, and after hearing the opinion of the Hon'ble Member in charge, I feel very little courage in putting forward my amendment. But, however, as I hold myself responsible to the Muhammadan public, I cannot but place my amendment before the Council. In moving this amendment I am not at all actuated by any feeling of caste or creed, though I must submit that, considering the important functions and responsible duties of the Board, it is highly desirable to have a due representation of all classes and communities on the Board. My chief reason for moving this amendment is that it is not at all improbable that, both in preparing the scheme of improvement and in carrying out the same, important questions relating to mosques, wakf properties, burial grounds, shrines or other sacred places of religious or semi-religious sanctity might arise, and a difficulty might be felt in the right decision of such questions. If a competent and well-qualified Muhammadan were to associate with the other members of the Board, the Board, with the advice of such a gentleman, will be in a better position to decide such questions. The Muhammadans of Calcutta are strongly of opinion that such questions relating to religious or semi-religious susceptibilities will necessarily arise, and without having a Muhammadan on the Board, their interest might not be safeguarded.

"As the sub-clauses of clause 4 stand at present, no Muhammadan can conceive with any amount of certainty of being on the Board. So far as the nomination of four persons by the Local Government is concerned, we do not know if the claim of any Muhammadan will be taken into consideration in such nominations. It is, therefore, better to frame the sub-clauses in such a way as to admit a Muhammadan in the Board.

"It has already been proposed to increase the number of Trustees from 11 to 12 or 13, but those amendments have been lost. However, the amendment which I wish to propose does not depend upon the increase of the numerical strength of the Board; though, I submit, the acceptance of the proposal to increase the number would have facilitated the inclusion of a Muhammadan in the list of Trustees, without affecting in the least any of the sub-clauses of clause 4 as they stand at present.

"However, as the representation of the Corporation, Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Bengal National Chamber of Commerce should not, under any circumstances, be affected by the amendment which I suggest, I would propose that the number of Government nominees, other than the President, should be reduced from four to three, and the deficit thus caused may be made up by the appointment of a representative of the Muhammadan community as a member of the Trust.

"A question may naturally arise as to how the representative of the Muhammadan community should be elected and secured on the Board. I believe there are many Associations of Muhammadans in Calcutta, but out of those, only a few, such as the Bengal Provincial Moslem League, the Muhammadan Literary Society, and the National Muhammadan Association, are recognised by Government. Though I am not personally aware of the comparative competency, usefulness and merits of those institutions, yet it can be said that the Bengal Provincial Moslem League has of late done good services to the Muhammadan public. However, the Government will be the best judge as to which of the Muhammadan Associations in Calcutta is justly entitled to receive the privilege of returning members to the Board, and as to what restrictions should be imposed as to the merits and qualifications of such a Muhammadan Trustee. It may be suggested that all such recognised Associations may get this privilege by rotation.

"Sir, I do not for a moment grudge the anxious desire of every class and community of Calcutta to have their representatives on the Board,—rather I appreciate their claims and demands,—and is it too much, Sir, if I stand here to demand the rights and claims of my own community?

"I am glad to find that I am not quite unsupported in my views. I note with great satisfaction that a similar amendment has been proposed by my friend, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur.

"Sir, I am perfectly confident that Your Honour and this Council will give best consideration to the request and will approve of the amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"I beg to say that my amendment has not been properly put here. My amendment was to the effect that, of the four persons appointed by Government, one would be a non-official Muhammadan, and my reasons for this are that it would be a good thing to have a Muhammadan, as it would be useless for me to proceed in attempting to raise the number of Trustees. So my amendment is that, out of the four persons nominated by Government, one should be a non-official Muhammadan."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"I have much pleasure in supporting the amendment moved by my hon'ble friend, Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas will admit that, in this case at least, no question of landlord arises. The Muhammadan community of Calcutta are certainly vitally interested in the work of the Board, and it is fit and proper that they should have representation on that Board. I conceive that if no Muhammadan comes in under the other provisions, the Government will probably appoint a non-official Muhammadan under sub-clause (e) [now sub-clause (f)]: but it must be admitted that that would be doing little justice to the Muhammadan community. The Muhammadans would naturally want to have a man whom they would elect and in whom they would have confidence and who will bear their mandate. The effect of giving to the Muhammadan community powers to send their own representatives is well illustrated by their attitude in this Council and elsewhere, and we welcome independent Muhammadan gentlemen to all deliberative bodies where they can act according to their own judgment and according to the dictates of their own conscience. I think the case that my friend has made out is a very strong case, and the Government, I hope, will see its way to accept this suggestion by reducing the number of its own nominations from four to three."

"Sir,— Amendments 30 and 31, as they stand on the agenda, are identical. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur has explained that the amendment that he intends to move is different, and I assume that we are not now considering his suggestion. The amendment of the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din cannot be accepted by me on the general ground that, as I mentioned before, it is very desirable that Government should retain an unfettered power in nominating its four members on the Trust in order that it may, as far as possible, secure four preeminently competent men resident in Calcutta to carry on the very important executive work of the Trust. Also I cannot see that, in a body of this size and constituted to perform these duties, it is necessary to insist on the members representing any or all of the numerous communities which make up the population of Calcutta. If the Muhammadan community is to be entitled to one seat on the Board, there is the claim which has been advanced by the Eurasian community, the housing of which community is one of the most important problems in Calcutta. The Marwari community is a very important community and will be much affected by the operations of the Trust, and similar claims will arise. I do admit that questions may come under the cognizance of the Trust, in which Muhammadans, as Muhammadans, will be particularly interested, and I submit that clauses 17A (now 19) and 18 (now 20) of the Bill exactly meet that difficulty. These are clauses which have no corresponding provisions in the Bombay Act, which are novel and at the same time useful. Supposing a question arises regarding the way in which the acquisition of a Muhammadan mosque, burial ground or a wakf property is to be effected, the Board can always associate with itself some of the leading Muhammadans of Calcutta. It is open to the Board to appoint a Muhammadan committee under clause 18 (now 20) of the Bill, for sitting on which the members will draw allowances and which will be a legally appointed body to carry on work.

"I think that these provisions exactly meet the case and afford ample facilities for dealing with questions which affect particular communities in a manner satisfactory to those communities."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The result of the division was ayes 15, noes 27, and the motion was therefore lost.

31. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that, after sub-clause (d1) [now sub-clause (e)] of clause 4, the following be inserted, namely:—

(d2) a non-official Muhammadan.

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—My objection to this amendment is the same as to the amendments that have been moved recently. It is inadvisable that Government should be fettered in the selection of the four persons whom it nominates to the Trust. I have already explained that this Bill contains ample provisions for the representation of Muhammadan interests in regard to any question in which those interests are particularly involved."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

32. If Motion No. 25 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word "four", in clause 4 (e) [now 4 (f)].

33. If Motion No. 29 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word "four", in clause 4 (e) [now 4 (f)].

34. If Motion No. 30 be carried, the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word "four", in clause 4 (e) [now 4 (f)].

Clause 5.

35. If Motion No. 27 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "and the Member referred to in clause (d2) of section 4" be inserted after the words "The President", in line 1 of clause 5.

36. If Motions Nos. 19 and 28 be not carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "two of" be inserted before the words "the four persons", in line 1 of clause 5.

37. If Motion No. 32 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word "four", in line 1 of clause 5.

38. If Motion No. 33 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word "four", in line 1 of clause 5.

39. If Motion No. 34 be carried, the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word 'four", in line 1 of clause 5.

40. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din moved that the words "one of whom shall be a Muhammadan" be inserted after the words "section 4", in line 2 of clause 5.

He said :—

"Your Honour,—When I have found myself unfortunate in respect of my first amendment, what hope can I now entertain in respect of this amendment? This is an amendment in the alternative form. This amendment is exactly the same as has just been pressed by the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur and lost. Naturally my amendment will share the same fate. However, I am in duty bound to press this amendment. I have already discussed the utility and the desirability of having at least a competent Muhammadan member on the Board of Trustees, and I do not intend to take up the valuable time of Your Honour and this Council by repeating the same discussions. Suffice it to say that Muhammadans are anxious to safeguard their interest, and it is necessary to satisfy them by putting a Muhammadan on the Board. Though the right has been denied to the Muhammadan associations of returning members by means of popular election, though the nominees of Government can hardly be excluded from the category of officials, though such nominees will be more under the influence of Government than that of the people in general, yet I believe that, as a last resort, I should be content with a Government nominee who might be of some use to the Muhammadans in safeguarding their interest. Hence I propose that there ought to be a clear provision in the Act that, out of the four nominees to be appointed by Government, at least one should be a Muhammadan. With these observations I move the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I oppose this amendment.

"I do not think I need repeat all that I have said when asking the Council to reject amendment 31 by the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

41. If Motion No. 20 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "and one of such four persons shall be a non-official Muhammadan" be inserted at the end of clause 5.

42. If Motion No. 36 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that, to clause 5, the following be added, namely :—

(2) Two of the four persons referred to in clause (e) of section 4 shall be landholders of Calcutta.

43. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that, to clause 5, the following be added, namely :—

(2) Two of the persons referred to in clause (e) of section 4 shall be persons who pay the owner's share of the consolidated rate and other municipal taxes in their own right, to the extent of not less than three hundred rupees a year.

He said :—

"Sir,—It may be said that here also there is a desire to hamper the selection of Government. So far as the qualification that I propose will have that effect, the choice may to some extent be no doubt restricted. But that restriction will not apply to the remaining two. It is of importance that, amongst those who are selected by Government, there should be some at all events who have some stake of the kind that this amendment contemplates. As we have heard, direct representation of the landowning interest is considered objectionable, and, as the failure of the previous amendment has given effect to that idea of things, it is of importance that the owner-ratepayers' point of view should be brought before the Board in some way or other. As on a previous occasion I indicated that it would be quite possible for all the three members selected by the Corporation to be non-ratepayers, although they may be tax-payers, the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has found new reasons, apparently since the adjournment, why the landowning classes should be kept out. The iniquity and bad draftsmanship of the memorial which they and they alone are supposed to have adopted at the Town Hall meeting—although we have no evidence in support of that conjecture—further disqualifies them from having any representation. He practically urges that none but indifferent persons should have a place on the Board. If some persons have views and opinions like those mentioned in the memorial so strongly condemned by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, they would not be disqualified by that reason from sitting on the Trust. The experiences of the Universities Act show that those who were strongly against it in the Bill stage are loyally administering it in the Act shape. Moreover, the memorialists are fondly hoping that the Bill would be recast somewhat on the lines of their suggestions in this Council and thus rendered less harmful and objectionable. It ought not to be said that those who are capable of expressing opinions like these ought to be ruthlessly excluded from the Board. Similar observations would not, however, apply to Government nominees, in whose case we desire by this amendment that some stake of the kind that we propose ought to be insisted on. If they are otherwise qualified and if they do not happen to possess extremist views like those enunciated in that memorial, and if, at the same time, they know something of the real troubles and grievances and difficulties of the owner-ratepayers, it would be an advantage that the Government would welcome. In this amendment there is a very slight attempt, and not a flank attempt, to get in two, at all events, out of the 11 members, who will assuredly be bonâ fide ratepayers, and not merely tax-payers."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—I must oppose this amendment on the same ground that I have opposed the previous one. The Government of India have entrusted to this Trust Rs. 50 lakhs down, and have promised to pay 1½ lakhs a year from the general revenues of the country—proceeds from taxes on railway passengers and an export tax on jute. Obviously, in doing so, Government incur a serious responsibility, as I have said before, in seeing that these funds are applied to the very best advantage, and it is very important that in securing that object Government should leave to the body of the Trustees an unfettered discretion. I do not say that the hon'ble mover of the amendment has said anything to convince us that persons who pay the owner's share are people for whom we should more particularly legislate and supply them with two seats out of 11. Why should we not say that the people who pay the tenant's share have a claim to two seats out of the 11? It is known that in the existing condition of Calcutta that their position is worse than that of the owners of property, and I have not yet heard to-day a voice uplifted on their behalf. I oppose this amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 7 (1).

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

44. If motion No. 23 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the word "four" be substituted for the word "three", in line 1 of clause 7 (1).

45. If Motion No. 24 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the word "four" be substituted for the word "three", in line 1 of clause 7 (1).

46. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the word "two" be substituted for the word "one", in clause 7 (1) (a) [now 7 (1) (b).]

He said :—

"Sir,—I believe we are at one with the idea that, when the number was enhanced by four, one should be given to the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, and that another should be given to the Corporation, and then the question was as to how this seat was to be filled up. There was no idea of any one of us at first of adjusting the different elements in the Corporation.

"It is a matter of adjustment of three seats in the Corporation. In this adjustment, a rough-and-ready way was come to. One was given to the nominated Commissioners, and one was given to the Corporation as a whole. I have nothing to find fault with this arrangement. But, then, if you take the whole group together, and take all the seats and analyse the elements which send up the three members from the different groups to the Corporation, you find that, of the additional four seats placed at the disposal of the Trust, three are being appropriated by Government. The understanding was that two should be appropriated, and why, I say, three are being appropriated is this, that the member who will be returned by the nominated Commissioners, these gentlemen being Government nominees and being a preponderating number in the 25 nominated Commissioners, this is practically in essence a Government nomination, and therefore, instead of Government having two, as it was understood, it is going to have three, and, I, therefore, hope that my suggestion would be accepted, because these gentlemen, who are Government nominees, have got their representation—I mean the Government nominees themselves so far as they are only representatives of Government, and Government itself has got representation on the Board. As regards the other gentlemen, the members of the trades and commerce, they have got a direct representation on the Board, and consequently it does not affect them, whereas it does affect the purely non-official representation in the constitution of the Trust, and that is why I press this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—I oppose this amendment. I do not propose to follow the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu in the subjects which he raised in moving it, because they seem to take him rather far afield, and to be more properly discussed in connection with some of the subsequent clauses in this Bill. The question before us is a simple one. It is recognised that the Corporation of Calcutta has a very large interest in the working of the Trust. It has a very large financial interest, and it is vitally interested in effecting the schemes of improvement of the town, and it has eventually to take over the responsibilities and, what is more important, the assets of the Trust. The question, therefore, is a simple one. How can the Corporation be best represented on the Improvement Trust? It is represented by its Chairman and, as the Bill has left the Select Committee, it is represented by three elected members. When this Bill was introduced in Council there were only two elected members from the Corporation, and as the Bill was introduced it was proposed that one member should be elected by the Ward Commissioners and one by the Commissioners appointed under sub-section (2) of section 8 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899. That seemed to be a reasonable means of obtaining a satisfactory representation of the Corporation. In the Select Committee it was decided that the representation of the Corporation should be increased, and an additional member was proposed. The question then arose, how that member should be elected. We had the benefit, on the Select Committee, of the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar who represents the Corporation in this Council. So far as my recollection goes, it was certainly his advice that the member elected should be elected by the Corporation as a whole."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"May I explain, Sir? I was out-voted and said that I would bring this question up before Council."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I am very sorry that my recollection was at fault, and that I have done injustice to the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar, but I think that I am not in fault in saying that this proposition was accepted without any serious discussion. I do not follow the mover of the amendment in his objection to the Corporation being represented by a Commissioner appointed under sub-section (2), section 8. I have the good fortune of being a member of the Corporation, and I have certainly failed to see any reason for believing that the members who sit on the Corporation, by virtue of this section, are any less devoted to their duties in the Corporation than the elected members. I claim that they are as much members of the Corporation as the members elected under sub-clause (1), and I, for my part, have seen no sign that any of them is ashamed of the position that he occupies. In Select Committee we had merely to add one representative of the Corporation and it seemed most natural and simple that he should be elected by the Corporation as a whole.

"Sir,—I hope in this instance I shall not meet with a strong opposition from the Hon'ble Member in charge, for it does not affect the Government at all. He seems to think that Government is entitled to have a completely upper hand over the deliberations and working of the Trust by a payment of Rs. 50 lakhs towards the improvement of a city. A Commission appointed by Government found that Government was largely responsible for the present state of affairs in Calcutta. I believe the Hon'ble Member, who is a new comer to Calcutta, is ignorant that up to 1888 there was no legislation by the Government of India or by the Government of Bengal which in any way sought to improve the sanitary condition of Calcutta buildings. It was in 1888 that the Municipal Act was passed, amalgamating the suburbs of Calcutta, and it was for the first time that sanitary ideas were introduced into the working of the municipality of Calcutta, and I believe it is nothing strange to him that sanitary ideas were in their infancy in England until a very recent time, and I believe no Government in Europe would say that because we make a contribution, however large it may be, towards the improvement of an area for whose state of things we are responsible, that you people who are now affected must have a subordinate part, and we must have an upper and preponderating part in the working of the institution which will carry out the reform. This is a claim which has been put forward for the first time by any responsible Government—a claim which, I must tell my friend, is absolutely unjustifiable and, if I may use a strong expression, preposterous, because, what is the extent of the contribution of the Government of India? My friend says there is the jute tax, there is the terminal tax. Well, the jute tax is protected by two members of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and one by the National Chamber of Commerce, and I suppose that is a sufficient protection. How much does my friend expect that the terminal charges will bring into the funds of the Trust and what proportion will have to be borne by the rate-paying public of Calcutta. As regards those who have to come to Calcutta paying the terminal charges, I suppose my friend will admit that they enjoy much of the amenities which Calcutta provides for the comfort and convenience of those who live or spend some time in it. But apart from that consideration, we have never claimed that we should have a preponderating voice in the administration of this Trust. I do not see, nor I can understand, from where my friend brings forth that suggestion of preponderating influence in this Trust. We want some representation. Well, I am, on the other hand, disposed to think that, though the Government should have a preponderating, or may have a preponderating, influence, it ought not to have an overwhelming influence. My friend says that if need be the landlords or the Muhammadans or people like these may be consulted; but there is such a thing, I may tell my friend, even in India, as self-respect, and if we feel that we are merely advisers, hangers on on the outskirts, and not dwellers in the city, it is quite possible that there may be found men amongst us who, from no other motive but purely from self-respect, would decline to sit on the Board, and there may be men, even in India, who, from self-respect, will decline to associate themselves with the working of a committee like this. There was, on one occasion, I may tell my friend—he may know of it—that more than half the elected Commissioners of the Calcutta Corporation, out of self-respect, had to abstain from taking part in the municipality as it then was. Amongst them was my friend the late Rai N. N. Sen Bahadur who, alas, is no more. But, apart from that, I believe leaving to Government what is claimed for it by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas its preponderating influence in this Trust, leaving all that, there will be no harm done if instead of one member being elected by the Ward Commissioners, two are elected by them. It will not affect the number, it will not affect the position of Government. You have given one vote to the nominated members, is it not unfair to the public of Calcutta? The elected members not only represent the so-called landlords of Calcutta, but they represent, what my friend says, those who only pay the occupiers' taxes. The European wards of Calcutta send their representatives to the Corporation just as the Indian wards do, and what I say is this, that if you allow the nominated members only to elect one member, you take away with one hand what you give with the other, because you cannot get out of the position that the election by the nominated members is the nomination of Government, for these 25 members, as I said on a previous occasion, consist of 15 nominated members, 12 of whom, I understand, at the present moment are Government officials, and 10 other members—of whom eight represent the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the trades, and two the Port Commissioners. Consequently, that election is practically the nomination of Government. Is it necessary that this amount of preponderance should be reserved to Government, or would it not be more appropriate that the Government should have a working majority and not at the same time such an overwhelming majority as to make the presence of non-official members derogatory,—I will not say a mere farce but a matter of little use? Therefore, if out of the three men whom you have given to the Corporation, one is to be elected by the Corporation, where the Government men and others will vote equally, and two are given to the representative Commissioners and the elected Commissioners from the 25 wards, it does not affect the adjustment of power or the number, but at the same time it makes some concession to popular demands. Am I asking too much, or is the fact that I am asking too little? I hope, Sir, that my friend will see his way to accepting the suggestion that I have ventured to make."

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

47. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "two" be substituted for the word "one", in clause 7 (1) (a) [now 7 (1) (b).]

48. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that the word "two" be substituted for the word "one", in clause 7 (1) (a) [now 7 (1) (b).]

49. If Motion No. 20 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the word "two" be substituted for the word "one", in clause 7 (1) (a) [now 7 (1) (b).]

50. If Motion No. 21 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the word "two" be substituted for the word "one", in clause 7 (1) (a) [now 7 (1) (b).]

51. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that clause 7 (1) (a1) be omitted, and that the word "two" be substituted for the word "one", in clause 7 (1) (a) [now 7 (1) (b).]

He said :—

"Your Honour,—My amendment is in support of the representation that was made by the Corporation, so that I trust that Your Honour's Government and the members of this Council will at least pay some consideration to that representation. It is a matter, after all, of internal arrangement, if I may say so, and if the Corporation desire to be represented in the manner I indicate, I think that that ought to have weight. I am sorry myself, Sir, that the Hon'ble Member in charge referred to incidents in the Select Committee, because it may lead to disagreement, if not recrimination, if we refer in detail to occurrences in Committee, but I was outvoted, and my hon'ble friend on my left will remember that, when he found that he had acted on a misapprehension we tried to make things good, but the Hon'ble Member in charge would not allow the question to be reopened, and I at once said that I would bring the question up in Council. That was how the matter stood. But I think it is a question of some importance, and I do ask that when the Corporation, who were not able to come to an understanding as to the number of the Board, nevertheless in the representation they made recommended that the popular element should have a preponderating number given to them. I trust that it may be agreed to. Sir, I, perhaps, would not have had any need to move this amendment at all, if the Hon'ble Member in charge had conceded four members to the Corporation; and now, I do not seek to deprive the official members and the representatives of special constituencies, such as the Trades Association, Chamber of Commerce and Port Trust, of their member; but I submit that they should not vote in the election of a second member at the risk of ousting the direct representatives of the ratepayers. The officials will be sufficiently represented on the Board, and surely Government members of the Corporation are not wanted to reinforce that element on the Board. The representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Trades Association and Port Trust, may be ratepayers, but they represent certain special interests which have direct representation on the Board. They naturally have community of interest and will have mutual sympathy with and the support of the official members. I do not cavil at that, but I lay the greatest stress on the necessity of as many members on the Board as possible, who will be the direct representatives of ratepayers. We have not a sufficient number of them. Personally I am not in the least interested, but I clearly see it will be these members who will be in touch with the people of this country and poorer classes among them, and will be able to give much-needed assistance to the Board. On these grounds I submit my amendment for acceptance."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir,—I had not understood Mr. Apcar's amendment until he explained it just now, and I am bound to confess that it is a better suggestion than the one I had made. He leaves the power of the nominated Commissioners just as it is, but, instead of giving them again a very large voice in the election of the popular representatives, he proposes that the two other representatives should be chosen by the elected Ward commissioners. I think that it is a very reasonable suggestion; it interferes with no one's powers or prerogatives as proposed in this Bill, and will, to some extent, satisfy the popular demand of having more than one representative on the Board."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I oppose this amendment, but, in doing so, I should be much obliged if the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar will inform me to what he referred, when he said that his amendment was supported by the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"I am supporting the representation of the Corporation. It will be found in the collection of opinions I have not got a copy, but if only I could see one, I will show it at once. I was a member of the Committee of the Corporation, and I know that their representation was as I have stated it. I am perfectly clear in my mind that there was a question about the number that should form the Board. We could not come to a conclusion on that point, and then the agreement arrived at was in the form I have stated. I am sorry that I did not come prepared with a copy of the opinions. I did not suspect that any question could be raised on this point. But I believe that my recollection is quite correct."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Perhaps, it would clear matters if I say that the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar must be referring to something that occurred before the Select Committee decided to raise the number of the members of the Trust. When the Corporation considered the matter, it was of opinion that, if the Board had seven members, it would not sufficiently represent popular interests. But there was no question then as to how three representatives of the Corporation could best be elected. In the Select Committee, it was decided to recommend that the Corporation should have three elected members instead of two. I may say with confidence that, since that occurred in last February or March, the question has not been before the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"What the Hon'ble Member in charge has said is perfectly correct. The matter had been before the Corporation before it was referred to the Select Committee. But the principle that was there recommended was, as I have stated it, that the popular element should have larger representation. I submit that, if you give two members to the Ward Commissioners, you give a representation to the ratepayers. It is at all events quite clear from the report kindly handed to me by the Hon'ble Member in charge that what has been recommended was agreed to in our Committee, and it was accepted by the Corporation that the popular element should have a preponderating voice (paragraph 2 of the Corporation Special Committee's Report, page 3, papers No. 8). I understood that, and it seems quite clear, by the popular element, the Ward Commissioners or those whom they represent, were referred to; that is what I have submitted here, and I am supported in this by the Opinions to which I have been referred. Whether the Corporation made their recommendation before or after the Select Committee of this Council met is immaterial. Therefore, I think I may say that, so far as the Corporation are concerned, the desire they have expressed is that there should be larger representation given to popular interests; here there is not that representation given to popular interests. I say that what was really adopted in the Committee of the Corporation is that it should be the popular element, that is to say, the representatives of the tax-payers, in other words, the Ward Commissioners. This is the view, I submit, Sir, and I think what I have said is a reasonable view, and I think in all circumstances, inasmuch as it does not affect the Government, what the Corporation have submitted as their view ought to be accepted, and for this reason, I would ask the Council to accept my amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I think, we understand now that, when the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar said that it was the opinion of the Corporation, he referred to the opinion expressed during the discussion of the Corporation in September 1910, and, in opposing this amendment, I am not taking up the somewhat difficult position of opposing the considered opinion of the Corporation? The Corporation has made no recommendation in this matter at all, and I say now, as I said before, that the solution adopted by the Select Committee seems to be perfectly a reasonable one. We had, in the original Bill, one member to be elected by the Ward Commissioners, and one by the nominated Commissioners, and we have added a third to be elected by the Corporation sitting as a whole. We want a representative from the Corporation, and what reason there is for having a representative elected by the elected Commissioners, I fail to see; because it is not, as might be judged by the arguments of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, that the nominated Commissioner was added in the Select Committee. What has been added on is one member elected by the Corporation."

The result of the division was ayes 12, noes 31, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

52. If Motion No. 46 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that clause 7 (1) (b) [now 7 (1) (c)] be omitted.

53. If Motion No. 47 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that clause 7 (1) (b) [now 7 (1) (c)] be omitted.

54. If Motion No. 48 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that clause 7 (1) (b) [now 7 (1) (c)] be omitted.

Clause 7 (2a) [now 7 (3)].

55. If Motion No. 25 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that, after clause 7 (2a) [now 7 (3)], the following be inserted, namely:—

(2b) The member of the British Indian Association referred to in clause (d1) of section 4 shall be elected under rules to be made by the Local Government.

56. If Motion No. 28 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that, after clause 7 (2a) [now 7 (3)], the following be inserted, namely:—

(2b) The two members referred to in clause (d2) of section 4, to be elected as representing the landholding classes of Calcutta, shall be elected under rules to be made by the Local Government under section 136.

57. If Motion No. 36 be carried, and if neither Motion No. 42 nor Motion No. 56 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that, after clause 7 (2a) [now 7 (3)], the following be inserted, namely:—

(2b) Two of the persons referred to in clause (e) of section 4 shall be elected by the landholding classes of Calcutta under rules to be made by the Local Government under section 136.

58. If Motion No. 29 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that, after clause 7 (2a) [now 7 (3)], the following be inserted, namely:—

(2b) The Local Government shall make rules to regulate the election of the member from the landholder class of Calcutta referred to in clause (d2) of section 4.

59. If Motion No. 30 be carried, the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that, after clause 7 (2a) [now 7 (3)], the following be inserted, namely:—

(2b) The representative of the Muhammadan community referred to in clause (d2) of section 4 shall be elected by a recognized association of Muhammadans specially authorized by the Local Government in that behalf.

Clause 7 (3) [now 7 (4)].

60. If Motion No. 59 be carried, the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the words "the Secretary to the Muhammadan association referred to in sub-section (2b)," be inserted after the words "Bengal National Chamber of Commerce", in line 3 of clause 7 (3) [now 7 (4)].

Clause 9 (1).

61. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that, after the word "elected", in line 2 of clause 9 (1), the words "and for being" be inserted.

62. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "to be" be substituted for the words "for being appointed or elected", in lines 1 and 2 of clause 9 (1).

He said:—

"With your permission, Sir, I would ask that Motions Nos. 61 and 62 be considered together.

"If my amendment, which is purely formal, be accepted, clause 9 will run thus:—

'A person shall be disqualified for being appointed or elected and for being a trustee if, etc.,' as in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899 (Ben. Act III of 1899), section 39, or if the alternative amendment (Motion No. 62) is accepted, which, to my mind, is still better and concise, the clause will run thus:—

'A person shall be disqualified to be a trustee', as in section 14, clause (1) of the Bombay Improvement Act.

"The reason why I suggest this alteration is that the disqualifications referred to in this clause not only affect the appointment or election of a Trustee, but also affect his acting or continuing to act as a Trustee after he is so appointed or elected, as is recognised in clause 15B (now 15), sub-clause 2 (1) of the Bill. The wording I propose is, I venture to submit, more concise and to the point and brings our Act into a line with the wording of the Calcutta Municipal Act and of the Bombay Act."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"These amendments are purely of a verbal nature, and they do not add anything to the Bill. The first is taken from the Calcutta Municipal Act, and the second from the Bombay Act, while, as a matter of fact, the Bill meets all the requirements of the case. A trustee is made, not born, and he can only be made by appointment or election. If these processes are both barred, he is sufficiently incapable of becoming a Trustee."

The amendments were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

63. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "or bankrupt" be inserted after the word "insolvent", in clause 9 (1) (b).

He said :—

"Sir,—This amendment is not one strictly of drafting. I desire to have the words 'or bankrupt' inserted after the word 'insolvent' in clause 9(1)(b), for the simple reason that there may be a doubt as to whether the word 'insolvent', as understood under the Indian Act, really covers a bankrupt in England. Till of late there has been a distinction, under the English law, between traders and non-traders. That difference has been removed, and traders and non-traders may be indiscriminately bankrupts. It is conceivable that some one may be declared a bankrupt in England, under a variety of circumstances, most of which may be applied to this country, but not all. It would be a state of things under which, although he would not be an insolvent in the sense we understand here, he might be a bankrupt. For this reason, I desire to insert the word 'bankrupt' after the word 'insolvent', so that both the classes may be covered."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"The point is not of great importance, and the Hon'ble Member apparently relies on section 14(1)(a) of the Bombay Act, which contains the expression 'bankrupt or insolvent.' It is a technical matter, but we are informed by the legal advisors of Government that the amendment will really add nothing to the Bill, and that the word 'bankrupt' is not a term which is ordinarily used in Indian legislation. If the Hon'ble Member will refer to the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, he will see that the word used there is 'insolvent' throughout. I think the amendment adds nothing."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"In that view of things I do not wish to press it, but I wanted to bring it to the notice of the Council."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

64. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "other", at the end of line 1 of clause 9 (1) (e), be omitted.

He said : —

"Sir,—This motion also is not so much a matter of drafting as of intention. It is possible for a director or secretary or manager may not to be salaried, although generally, in most companies, directors, secretaries, managers are salaried, in some cases they are not. Therefore, the omission of the word 'other' would make the section run thus: 'is a Director or a Secretary, Manager or salaried officer of any incorporated company', so that the salaried officers may be classed by themselves and the directors may not be left out either."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"Here again the point is merely verbal, and the amendment perhaps proceeds on a misreading of the clause, which refers to (1) directors and (2) secretaries, managers or other salaried officers. If the Hon'ble Member omits the word 'other', then it might be said that the clause infers that 'secretaries' or 'managers' are not salaried officers. I think it is purely a matter of drafting."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SABADHIKARI said :—

"In that view of things, I do not wish to press it."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

65. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "has any share or interest in any contract or employment with, by or" be substituted for the words "contracts with, or is employed by, the President", in clause 9 (1) (e).

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 9 (2).

66. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the word "a" before the word "contract," in line 2 of clause 9 (2), be omitted.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler said :—

"That also we accept."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

67. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "any transaction with the Board in relation to" be inserted after the words "interest in," in line 4 of clause 9 (2).

68. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "other," in line 3 of the concluding paragraph of clause 9, be omitted.

69. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "has any share or interest in any contract or employment with, by, or," be substituted for the words "contracts with, or is employed by, the President," in lines 3 and 4 of the concluding paragraph in clause 9.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler said :—

"This is analogous to No. 65 and may also be accepted."

The motion was put and agreed to.

70. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that at the end of clause 9 the following be inserted, namely:—

or by reason only of his rendering occasional professional service to the Board.

He said—

"Sir, with regard to this, I beg to refer the Council to clause 9(d) under which a person shall be disqualified from being appointed or elected a Trustee if he has, directly or indirectly, by himself or by any partner, employer or employee, any share or interest in any contract or employment with, by, or on behalf of, the Board. With regard to highly technical matters, it is difficult to get expert advisers in this country, and if all should, by reason of having to render occasional service to the Board in their professional capacity, be incapacitated for all time, the Government and the Board may find it difficult with regard to highly technical experts. In that view of things I think that if a little relaxation like this should be provided, that no one who occasionally renders professional advice to the Board should be incapacitated or disqualified."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler said :—

"As the Hon'ble Member explains, the object of the amendment is to protect the occasional practitioners, I presume the legal practitioners, practising before the Board, but I think it is unnecessary. It could only be held that such are debarred under clause 9(d) as having a share or interest in a contract or employment with, by or on behalf of, the Board. But the word used is 'has', and that implies that the employment must be existing at the time. It would not apply to occasional work done in the past. Also it is arguable that the employment must be of a fairly continuous character. As the clause stands, a Trustee could not appear on behalf of the Board, nor could any body of the nature of Standing Counsel to the Board be appointed as a Trustee, and I do not think any reasonable objection could be taken to that. The wording of the clause is exactly the same as that of section 39(f) of the Calcutta Act."

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

"Sir, I confess, sir, that a lawyer was the farthest away from my mind, because my lawyer friends well know and will testify that as there are many in the field and the Board will have no difficulty in regard to them. But the greater difficulty will come in with regard to engineers and possibly medical gentlemen also. It was really a matter of sanitary and engineering experts. In bringing this to the notice of the Council, I was trying to help the Board, because it must not be considered—as is unfortunately sometimes considered—that our object is only to be obstructive in whatever we bring up. We have pointed out whatever has struck us as incorrect. If the Hon'ble Member does not think it necessary, I do not press it."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 10.

71. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that after the word "office," in line 2 of clause 10, the following be inserted, namely:—

or do any other work for remuneration.

He said—

"Sir, we want a whole-time President and an absolutely bonâ fide President, and that is a reason, why I want to bring in the words 'or do any other work for remuneration.' Without positively holding another salaried office, it ought not to be impossible for highly qualified gentlemen like the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas (who is likely to fill the office of the President of the Board) to earn money by a variety of ways that are known to cultured earners of money, not exactly by becoming University examiners, which is one way of making a little money—but even which has been objected to by Government in certain cases if indulged in without the leave of the Government. To leave no possibility of a highly paid officer devoting his time for purposes other than those of the Board, I think that these qualifying or restrictive words ought to be brought in.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said:—

"Sir, I must oppose this amendment. The section as it stands in the Bill provides that the President should not hold any other salaried office and shall devote his whole time and attention to his duties under this Act. That is what the Hon'ble Mover really wants. He asks for a guarantee that the President should devote his whole time to the Board. I think the clause sufficiently provides for that. But the amendment goes too far. In the Calcutta Municipal Act the corresponding provision expressly provides that the Chairman may be a Port Commissioner; so in the same way it is conceivable that the President of the Trust may be a Port Commissioner drawing fees or a member of the General Committee of the Corporation. If the Chairman were a man of literary tastes, it is quite possible that he might publish a book, or occasionally write for the press without detriment to his duties. There is no reason to forbid this, and the amendment goes too far."

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikary said:—

"Sir, none would welcome more than myself literary and, therefore, I take it, a cultured President of the Board. Sir, the exception for which this clause provides would amply safeguard requirements like these, if the Government sees fit to permit and if the President happens to have leisure enough for becoming a member of the General Committee of the Corporation, and if the Government thinks fit to allow him to do so. The Government will be the best judge of the situation."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said—

"If the Hon'ble Member's amendment is accepted it would have no such power."

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, said—"I do not see that at all, and would therefore press my amendment for what it is worth. Of course, even too much literature may not be good for the President of the Board and his literary bend may take him away from his work in the same way as the Chairman's attention may be diverted if he was too much of a Trustee of the Board or anything of that kind. I think that with regard to everything that carries either a salary or remuneration, the President ought to be under the orders of the Government, and the acceptance of my amendment would not necessarily hamper the discretion of Government in allowing exceptions in such cases in which it ought to be allowed. I, therefore, ask that my amendment may be put to the vote.

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

Clause 11.

72. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that after the words "may be entitled," in line 2 of sub-clause (2), the words, "under sub-section (3)" be inserted.

Clause 14(1) [now 12(1).]

73. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "on the recommendation or at the request of the Board," be substituted for the words, "after consultation with the Board," in clause 14(1) [now 12(1)].

He said—

"Sir, I beg to move that the words, 'on the recommendation or at the request of the Board,' be substituted for the words, 'after consultation with the Board,' in clause 14(1), [now 12(1)] which has reference to the leave to be granted to the President of the Board. The words, 'after consultation with the Board,' have been added by the Select Committee—I presume to meet the case that the Board should have effective voice in the matter of granting leave to the President. The expression used, however, is objectionable and does not go far enough. If it is intended that the Board will be consulted, but it will be optional with Government to accept the Board's advice or not, it should be distinctly stated. Further, if that is the intention, it is no concession at all and the words added by the Select Committee will be of no practical use.

"In the case of the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation, it is the Corporation which grants leave with the sanction of the Government (see section 35 of the Calcutta Municipal Act). It is not clear why a different procedure is contemplated in the case of the Board. My submission is that if the power of granting leave to the President be not given to the Board as in the case of the Chairman of the Corporation, it should be given only on the recommendation or at the request of the Board."

The Hon'ble Mr. Slacke said :—

"I am afraid, Sir, I cannot advise the Council to accept this amendment. In the case of the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation leave can be granted him by Government subject to the rules which the Corporation may frame on the subject. Here the case is very different. The bulk of the finances of the Trust will be found by Government, and therefore it is not necessary that Government should require the permission of the Board before granting the President leave. For these reasons I oppose the amendment and ask the Council to reject it."

The motion was then put and lost.

74. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the words "or depute him to other duties," in clause 14 (1) [now 12(1)] be omitted.

He said :—

"The provision to which we take exception, evidently is intended for application to the members of the Civil Service. It is easy to see that the office of President will be a prize appointment among the rising juniors of that service, and I do not think that we shall be asking too much from one selected for that appointment to be prepared to serve, and feel bound to serve, for a period of not less than three years, which I think only too short for such a position—without breaking into his work to go elsewhere on what is termed deputation. His will be work that will require many more years of experience for efficient administration than three years, at the end of which he will have only about begun to prove his usefulness. If the President has earned his leave by service in that office, or if he breaks down in health, no one would grudge him his holiday, to recuperate and return to his duties, with renewed vigour. But if he is going away, possibly to a work that will be more anxious and more tiring to his energies—and this may possibly happen—he will return to his own duties more jaded than before, and perhaps only to lead to an application for leave.

"The work of the President will be of a special character which will require special study and aptitude. Leave that has become due and ill-health will give occasion for a sufficiency of interruptions in the continuity of service which is so essential for efficient work, and I trust that the Government will be induced to yield to the representations that are being made on this issue.

The President said:—

"As four of the motions are identical, I think it would be better that the Hon'ble Members should speak now."

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said:—

"Sir, I do not wish to cover the same ground that has already been covered by my Hon'ble friend to the left. All that I desire to remind the Council about is the case of the Calcutta Corporation, where frequent changes in the office of the Chairman have been looked upon and pronounced to be seriously interfering with the work of the Corporation to the extent that was mentioned in connection with the Municipal Bill in 1899. For the reasons which the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has suggested, I beg to associate myself with him in opposing this deputation of the President."

The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu said:—

"Sir, I beg to support my friends, and I wish to say that we, people of Calcutta, have felt—and in that I include my friends, the members for the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association—that too frequent interruptions have not been conducive to efficient work, and we want to safeguard our future President of the Board against the temptations of Government utilising his services for other work. We desire that he should, so long as he continues to be the President, devote his whole energy and attention to the work of the Board, and that Government may not feel tempted to take him away. If Government wishes to take him away, let it take him away for good. He comes there for a certain time and let him stay for a certain time. I do not think that Government will unnecessarily take him away, but we must protect ourselves against that contingency."

The Hon'ble Mr. Stewart said:—

"Your Honour, I beg to submit that, from my practical point of view, there is much to be said for the amendment which is now under discussion, especially in looking to the short tenure which is proposed to the President of the Trust I hope therefore that the amendment will commend itself to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill."

The Hon'ble Mr. Slacke said:—

"I regret that I cannot accept this amendment, since it seems to me that Government, as has already been admitted by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, will never unnecessarily exercise the power which is proposed to be given under this clause. Moreover, the clause provides that the power in question should not be exercised without consultation with the Board. It seems to me unreasonable to imagine that if the Board strongly oppose, the Government will reject their opinion. In these circumstances I do not think there is any sufficient cause for apprehension, and would recommend that this amendment be rejected."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said:—

"May I add a few words to what has been said by the Hon'ble, the Vice-President. I thoroughly sympathise with the desire expressed by the movers of this amendment that there should be as much continuity in the service of the President as possible. The words 'depute him to other duties' were inserted by the Select Committee with the object of attaining greater continuity than was possible otherwise. If the Local Government has only power to grant the President of the Board leave, it cannot depute him to other duties. It is, however, conceivable that some temporary vacancy may occur and the President may be allowed to fill that vacancy for three months, and then come back and do the work as President of the Trust, whereas, if he cannot be deputed to any other post he must resign, and his successor must be appointed for a full period of three years. The President of the Trust who has done three years' work and is willing to do another year's work will be prevented from doing so. It may be desirable also to depute the President of the Trust to attend a Town Planning Conference or some special work of that kind which will harmonise with his work as President of the Trust. If this amendment is accepted, it will not be possible to do so. It was with these facts in view that we inserted the words, which are now objected so, while the Bill was in the Select Committee.

The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar said:—

"Sir, one is put in rather an invidious position by reason of the grounds given for maintaining the present position, because it is open to the question for whose benefit this provision is inserted? Does it not occur to the Member in charge that if the President may go on deputation that he does not intend to make his work on the Board his career, even during his short period of service in that office? And that if this power is to be reserved to him merely to enable him to create a lien on an appointment, the law is made to serve the interest of his service and not the public? It seems evident that if he is allowed to look out for other appointments his mind will be filled with thoughts how to secure his own advancement, and that clause 10 which requires him to devote his whole time and attention to the duties as President will be disregarded. I think, Sir, the weakness of the present proposal on the Bill has been disclosed. I do not, however, wish to take up your Honour's time, but it does seem to me that this temptation ought to be eliminated altogether from this Bill, so as to induce the President of the Board to understand that he is not to look to any other appointment at all during the period he is serving there. I do not think that it is consistent with proper regard for the public interests that he should be allowed to go on deputation to other duties."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

There being an equality of votes, the President gave his vote against the motion.

So the motion was lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

75. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "or depute him to other duties," in clause 14 (1) [now 12(1)] be omitted.

76. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "or depute him to other duties," in clause 14 (1) [now 12(1)] be omitted.

77. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "or depute him to other duties," in clause 14 (1) [now 12(1)] be omitted.

Clause 14 (2) [now 12(2)].

78. If Motion No. 75 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "(if any)," in clause 14(2) [now 12(2)] be omitted.

79. If Motion No. 75 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "or deputation," in clause 14(2) [now 12(2)] be omitted.

80. If Motion No. 74 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "or deputation," in clause 14(2) [now 12(2)] be omitted.

81. If Motion No. 76 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "or deputation," in clause 14(2) [now 12(2)] be omitted.

82. If Motion No. 77 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "or deputation," in clause 14(2) [now 12(2)] be omitted.

83. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the proviso to clause 14(2) [now 12(2)] be omitted.

Clause 15 (1) [now 13 (1)].

84. If Motion No. 74 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "or deputed to other duties," in clause 15(1) [now 13(1)] be omitted.

85. If Motion No. 75 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "or deputed to other duties," in clause 15 (1) [now 13(1)] be omitted.

86. If Motion No. 76 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "or deputed to other duties," in clause 15(1) [now 13(1)] be omitted.

87. If Motion No. 77 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "or deputed to other duties," in clause 15(1) [now 13(1)] be omitted.

Clause 15(3) [now 13(3)].

88. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "so far as may be," in line 3 of clause 15(3) [now 13(3)] be omitted.

He said :—

"The words here used 'so far as may be' are objectionable and ought to be omitted.

"It is curious that these words 'so far as may be' in the Bill do not govern the powers which may be exercised by an acting President; but only govern his liabilities, restrictions an d conditions.

"I confess I cannot understand the significance of these words. They are vague and may mean anything. Moreover, I beg to point out that these words are innovations in the Bill. They do not find a place either in the Calcutta Municipal Act, section 35, clause (6), or Bombay Improvement Act, section 22 (3), where the liabilities, restrictions and conditions of the acting Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation and of the Bombay Improvement Trust respectively are referred to and from which the language of the present section in the Bill is borrowed almost word for word. It is not clear as to why these new words are introduced in the present Bill. They are out of place and ought to be omitted. They will mean that the Legislature intended to reduce the liabilities of the acting President."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said :—

"Perhaps I may say that I am prepared to accept the amendment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

89. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "so far as may be," in line 3 of clause 15(3) [now 13 (3)] be transferred to the end of that clause.

Clause 15A (now 14).

90. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "three" be substituted for the word "six" in line 4 of clause 15A (now 14).

He said :—

"We have all been told that continuity is a great point of these Boards. The President is now to be deputed; he is to have all the leave that is entitled to and wants and the Trustees also are to be allowed no doubt under proper circumstances leave from the meetings of the Boards ; but six months seems to be too long a period, and therefore I beg to move that the word 'three,' be substituted. This ought to be sufficient for ordinary purposes."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said :—

"I must oppose this amendment, partly because if it is accepted it will involve a great many subsequent consequential amendments which have not been provided for, and partly because six months' leave in the circumstances that exist in Calcutta seems to be a very natural period. A great many people, both European and Indian gentlemen, go on six months' leave to England. It was decided in the Select Committee that six months' leave should be granted to Trustees, and if any of them overstays his leave. he will forfeit his appointment. That seems to me a very reasonable solution of the difficulty, and I trust that the members of the Council will not go against the decision arrived at by the Select Committee."

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said :—

"Sir, so far as the subsequent arrangement is concerned, if it was acceptable I have given notice of a series of amendments for the purpose of meeting that. The Trustees hold office for no more than three years, I believe. Under a subsequent clause 16 (1), if any trustee be permitted by the Board to absent himself for any period exceeding three months, then the vacancy shall be filled within one month by a fresh appointment or election. Well, Sir, we had this provision later on, and it seems to me a matter of doubtful expediency to allow longer leave which is proposed to be done by clause 15 (a). I do believe, Sir, that the continuity is bound to be disturbed by these absences, and this is my reason for proposing this amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

91. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the word "consecutive" be inserted before the word "months," in line 4 of clause 15A (now 14).

"This is a verbal amendment. I suppose the intention is that leave may be granted for any period not exceeding six months at a time and that it will not be against this section if leave is granted in an aggregate for more than six months not at one time. If it is not made clear, the section may mean that the aggregate period of leave to the trustee during period of his tenure of office cannot exceed six months. The words 'consecutive months' have been used in clause 15B (now 15), clauses (b) and (c), and my suggestion is that in this section also we should use the words 'consecutive months' to make it clear."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said :—

"I am advised that this amendment is unnecessary, and certainly it seems to me to be so. The months in a period of six months must be consecutive. I oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shanker Sahai Bahadur said :—

"If 'six months' means 'six consecutive months' I fail to see why in the very next clause 15B (now 15), clause (b), the Hon'ble Member has used the expression 'six consecutive months,' and in clause 15B (now 15), sub-clause (c), he has used the expression 'three consecutive months.' I submit the insertion of the word 'consecutive' in one place and its omission from another place in the Bill will certainly lead to an interpretation that 'six months' does not necessarily mean 'six consecutive months'."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 15B(1) [now 15(1).]

92. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "remove any" be substituted for the words "declare that any Trustee shall cease to be a," in line 2 of clause 15B (1) [now 15(1).]

He said :—

"This is a verbal amendment. The words I propose to use seems to be more clear and appropriate and have been used in the Bengal Municipal Act, section 19 and section 20, Bengal Local Self-Government Act, section 18. In fact, in the marginal note we have the word 'Removal' used. There is no reason why we should not adopt this simple word in the body of the Act also."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said :—

"We are advised that this amendment, which the Hon'ble Member himself admits to be purely verbal, is unnecessary and also not desirable from a drafting point of view."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

93. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that clause 15B(1) (a) [now 15(1) (a)] be omitted.

He said :—

"I may be permitted to take up motions Nos. 93 and 94 together.

"Section 21A provides that a Trustee shall not take part in proceedings in which he is personally interested or has acted professionally on behalf of any person having such interest. Section 15 lays down as a penalty that if he does so take part in proceedings in which he is personally interested he may be removed. It appears to me that the penalty is very hard, specially in those cases in which he might have acted owing to inadvertence, or in the bonâ fide belief that he was not so personally interested as to have debarred him from taking part in the proceedings. In many cases it will be found that he had satisfactory and reasonable explanation for his action. My submission is that the penalty as provided for in this section is too drastic and should be altogether removed.

"In any case, if it is retained, it should be provided that he may be removed only if he has acted in contravention of section 21A without reasonable explanation.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said:—

"Sir, I must oppose this amendment. Clause 15B (now 15) of the Bill deals with the removal of the Trustees. Sub-clause (2) gives the reasons which make it compulsory for the Local Government to remove a Trustee and in sub-clause (1) are given the causes which make it optional with the Government to remove a Trustee. One of those causes to which the Hon'ble Member objects is that the Trustee has acted in contravention of clause 21A, that is to say, if he has taken any part in any proceedings in which he is personally interested without disclosing the fact. Now, the Improvement Trust is going to exercise very great powers. It will have great powers in interfering with private property. Therefore, it is desirable that the conduct of the Trust should be above suspicion. In England, in the corresponding section of the law, the punishment is more drastic. In England, if a trustee is personally interested and does not disclose the fact, he is fined £50 before the Magistrate. Clearly the Government would not exercise the power of dismissal without giving the trustee the opportunity to explain his conduct. That the Government would not do so seems to me entirely imaginary, considering the position of the men who are to be appointed or elected as trustees. In the interest of the public and in the interest of the confidence which the public will have in the Trust, I recommend that the amendment should be opposed."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by the leave of the President, withdrawn:—

94. If motion No. 93 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "without satisfactory explanation" be inserted after the word "has" in clause 15B (1) (a) [now 15(1) a).]

95. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "three" be substituted for the word "six" in line 2 of clause 15B (1) (b) [now 15(1) (b).]

96. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that clause 15B (1) (c) [now 15(1) (c)] be omitted.

97. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "whose" be substituted for the words "and if his," in lines 1 and 2 of clause 15B (1) (d) now 15(1) (d).]

98. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that after clause 15B (1) (d) [now 15(1) (d)], the following be inserted, namely:—

and thereupon the office of such Trustee shall become vacant.

Clause 15B (2) [now 15(2).]

99. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "remove any" be substituted for the words "declare that a Trustee shall cease to be a," in line 2 of clause 15B (2), [now 15(2).]

100. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "for appointment or election as a Trustee" in clause 15B (2) (i) [now 15 (2) (i)] be omitted.

101. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that clause 15B (2) (ii) [now 15 (2) (i)] be omitted.

102. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that clause 15B (2) (ii) [now 15 (2) (ii)] be omitted.

He said:—

"This clause lays down that a trustee elected by a particular body shall cease to be a trustee if and when he is not a member of that body. This is not the provision in the Calcutta Municipal Act or even in the Rules for election of members to the Legislative Council.

If this section stands as drafted, constant changes may have to be made in the body of the trustees. I know that this is borrowed from the Bombay Act, but my submission is that it is desirable that it should be omitted."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler said:—

"I submit that the clause should be retained. It is really one which has been inserted in the interests of the bodies who will elect certain representatives on the Trust, and all that is said is that, if any person has been elected to the Trust as representing a particular body, and ceases to be a member of that body, he thereby loses the qualification under which he sits on the Trust, and to retain him on the Trust after he ceases to be a member of the body which elected him is practically to disenfranchise them. This seems scarcely fair, and I think the clause should be retained."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

103. If motion No. 30 be carried the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakir-ud-din to move that the words "or the representative of the Muhammadan community" be inserted after the words "The Bengal National Chamber of Commerce," in clause 15B (2) (ii) [now 15 (2) (ii)].

Clause 15B (3 [now 15 (3)].

104 The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "is" be substituted for the words "has shown himself to be," in line 2 of clause 15B (3) [now 15 (3)].

He said:—

"This is a matter of drafting, and if the Hon'ble Member in charge does not accept it, I will not press it."

The motion was not accepted, and was, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

105. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "remove him" be substituted for the words "declare that the President shall cease to hold office as such," at the end of clause 15B (3) [now 15 (3)].

106. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "remove him from his office" be substituted for the words "by notification declare that the President shall cease to holdo ffice as such," at the end of clause 15B (3) [now 15 (3)].

He said :—

"In this amendment, I seek to eliminate the laying down in the particular manner in which the removal of the President should take place. It is a matter for the Hon'ble Member in charge to consider. But I do not intend to press it."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"It is to be hoped that the necessity of applying this clause will never arise. If unfortunately it does, the facts must be publicly known, and there is no objection to adhering to the procedure of a notification declaring the President to have ceased to hold office. The proposed amendment does not materially improve matters."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"In that view of things I withdraw this amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

Clause 16.

107. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the word "consecutive" be inserted before the word "months," in line 3 of clause 16.

108. If motions Nos. 92 and 99 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "is removed" be substituted for the words "ceases to hold the office of Trustee," in lines 5 and 6 of clause 16.

Clause 16 A (now clause 17).

109. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "not being less than thirty days from the commencement of this Act," in lines 3 and 4 of clause 16A (1) [now 17 (1)], be omitted.

He said :—

"Is it not necessary to provide for this amendment ?"

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said :—

"I accept this amendment, Sir."

The motion was put and agreed to.

110. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that after clause 16A (2) (c) [now 17 (2) (c)] the following be inserted, namely :—

Provided that a Trustee appointed or elected in the place of an outgoing Trustee shall not hold office longer than the period at the expiration of which such outgoing Trustee would have had to vacate office.

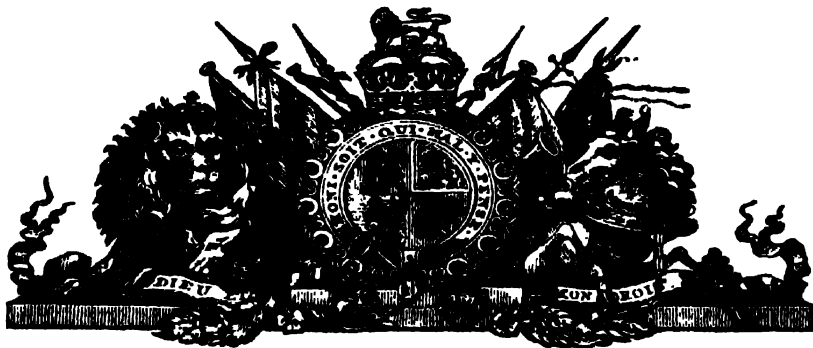
He said :—

"Does the department concerned consider this necessary ? I only provided this to make it clear as to the term of the office of a trustee or his successor. If it is not considered necessary, I do not press for it."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said :—

"The clause was introduced in the amended Bill to secure greater continuity of service. We do not want that the whole body of trustees should change office at once. I oppose it on principle."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.



The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 16th August, 1911, at 11 A.M.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES COMMISSION FOR THE YEAR 1910-11.

No. 2060 Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 23rd August 1911.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 152, dated 3rd August 1911, from the President, Bengal Smoke-Nuisances Commission.

Read also—

The annual report of the Bengal Smoke-Nuisances Commission for the year 1910-11.

The Commission held 12 meetings during the year. The Chief and Assistant Inspectors of Smoke-Nuisances made observations of smoke emissions in 3,962 cases, as against 3,938 in the preceding year, and, in the course of their inspection of factories, over 200 furnaces and stoking appliances were tested for the prevention of smoke.

2. The improvement in the abatement of smoke nuisances continued during the year. During the last three years, the average emission of smoke has been kept below the prescribed limits. The Commission are of opinion that a further improvement is possible in this direction by greater care in the management of furnaces. A proposal received from the Commission for the reduction of the present limits of smoke emission is now under the consideration of the Government.

3. There was an increase in the number of complaints received from the public, and this is an indication of growing confidence in the work of the Commission. On the other hand, the number of statutory warnings issued decreased appreciably, being only 31 as against 43 in the preceding year. The majority of them were for the raising of chimneys. In six cases only had prosecution to be resorted to for inattention.

4. There were in all 47 prosecutions, as against 51 in the previous year, for infringement of the law, in all of which convictions were obtained. This shews that proper care and forethought had been exercised before prosecutions were instituted.

5. The substitution of gas and electric power for steam continues steadily, 140 new electric motors and 74 gas appliances having been introduced during the year. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council notices with satisfaction that the public confidence in the work of the Commission is increasing.

6. A proposal for the enlargement of the scope of the Act, to enable the Commission to deal more effectively with the emission of smoke from coke-making by open fires and from furnaces other than those used for domestic or religious purposes, is under the consideration of the Government.

7. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council are due to the President and the members, and specially to the non-official members, of the Commission for their efficient administration of the Act during the year under review.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry; the President, Smoke-Nuisances Commission; the Commissioners, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions; the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta; the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce; the Secretary, Calcutta Trades Association; and the Honorary Secretary, Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

T. BUTLER,

Secretary.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Rain fell in all districts. The fall was heavy in Darjeeling, the greater part of Shahabad and Gaya, some parts of Patna, Darbhanga and Monghyr. It was moderate in Hazaribagh, Ranchi, Palamau, some parts of Midnapore, Khulna, Muzaffarpur, the Sonthal Parganas and the greater part of Hooghly. It was light in the remaining districts. Transplantation of winter paddy continues. The recent rainfall has facilitated the operation in most parts of Hooghly, but more rain is still wanted in the remaining part of this district as well as in Balasore, Cuttack, Angul, Midnapore, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, and parts of Burdwan, Khulna, Puri and Purnea. Standing crops are on the whole doing well. Some damage has been done by floods in Cuttack. The price of common rice has risen in Howrah, Nadia, Murshidabad, Cuttack, Balasore, Angul, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Manbhum, Singhbhum and Cooch Behar and has fallen in Burdwan, Bankura, Jessore, Saran, the Sonthal Parganas and Palamau. Cattle-disease is reported from Midnapore, Murshidabad, Patna, Champaran, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Angul, Sambalpur and from all the districts of Chota Nagpur except Singhbhum. The supply of fodder and water is sufficient throughout the Province.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

FORFEITURE OF BUNDS, ETC.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has considered the two memorials submitted to it, one after the other, by the people of Champaran, each of which was signed both by certain of the European planting community and certain of the Indian zamindars of the district, praying the Government to rescind its notification published in one of the issues of the Calcutta Gazette of May, 1910, forfeiting to Government all the bunds, pynes, etc., to the north of the Tribeni Canal ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state what orders it has passed on the said memorials?

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER replied:—

"The matters referred to by the memorialists are under the consideration of Government."

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT BILL, 1911.

The PRESIDENT said:—

"I had hoped that what I said yesterday as to the views of the Government of India, on the question of additional compensation for compulsory acquisition, was sufficiently clear, and I believe it was understood by the Members of the Council I observe, however, that in the newspapers it is not correctly reported. To remove any possible misapprehension, I will state again that what the Government of India have held is that the provisions of clause 14 (2a) [now 9 (1)] of the Schedule, referred to in clause 61 C (b) [now 71 (b)] of the main Bill, are to be taken as embodying fundamental matters of principle, any modifications of which will involve the reconsideration of the amount of assistance which the Government of India are prepared to give to the Trust."

Clause 17 (now 18).

111. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the word "other", in line 3 of clause 17 (b) [now 18 (b)], be omitted.

He said:—

"I beg to move that the word 'other', in line 3 of clause 17 (b) [now 18 (b)], be omitted. I do not know what the word 'other' here means. The word 'other' has been added by the Select Committee, with what object I have failed to discover. The President can call a meeting whenever he thinks fit. The privilege of making requisition to call a special meeting is given to not less then two Trustees. What is the significance of the word 'other' here? If it means that the President must not be one of them, the safeguard seems to be unnecessary as the President can always act singly. The Bombay Act, section 18, clause (b), the Calcutta Municipal Act, section 77, and the Provincial Municipal Act, section 39, do not contain the word 'other' as in this Bill, and I suggest that it may be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"The justification for the word 'other' is to be found in clause 4 of the Bill, under which the President is a Trustee. The object of inserting it was to provide for the calling of a special meeting on the requisition of two of the other members."

The Hon'ble RAI SHIBA SHANKAR SAHAY BAHADUR said:—

"Two Trustees in any case will be other than the President. If the President wishes to call a meeting, he can of his own accord call a meeting. The word 'other' has no meaning here and is unnecessary."

The motion was then put and lost.

112. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "of" and "existing", in line 2 of clause 17 (d) [now 18 (d)], be omitted.

He said :—

"This is a formal amendment, and I beg to move that the words 'of' and 'existing', in line 2 of clause 17 (d) [now 18 (d)], be omitted. As it stands, Sir, it is not so objectionable, but I would ask Your Honour to read it along with sub-clause 3 of clause 19 (now 21) on the next page. In one place we have the words 'half of the existing number', and in another place 'half the number' is used obviously in the same sense. There seems to be some difference: if there is any difference it should be clearly specified. I would point out, Sir, that this question about quorum is a very important question which will affect the action of the Board in certain respects, and may form the subject of judicial decision.

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"I do not think that there can be any reasonable objection to the wording of the clause as it stands. It may be possible that, from time to time, there will be vacancies among the Trustees, and a short interval in filling them up, and it is desirable to leave no doubt as to the number with reference to which the quorum is to be calculated. The discrepancy with clause 19 (3) [now 21 (3)], to which the Hon'ble Member has drawn attention, does not really exist, because that has reference to a committee, and a person who was not a member of the Trust at the time is not in the least likely to be appointed to a committee, the duration of which is temporary. The only objection to the wording of the clause would be if there was some danger of business being run through without the presence of a reasonable number of members, and that is not in the least probable."

The motion was then put and lost.

113. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "the Trustees present shall choose one of their number to preside" be substituted for the words "one of the Trustees present, who is chosen by the others who are present", in clause 17 (e) [now 18 (e)].

He said :—

"I beg to move that the words 'the Trustees present shall choose one of their number to preside' be substituted for the words 'one of the Trustees present, who is chosen by the others who are present'. The wording used in this clause is, I submit, not very happy. It does not follow the wording of the Bombay Improvement Act, section 18, clause (d), nor that of the Calcutta Municipal Act, section 81, clause (2). It is so worded as to exclude the person so chosen from taking part in his own election. My submission is that the wording of the Calcutta Municipal Act be adopted."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"I beg to support this objection with Your Honour's permission. The difficulty which has been pointed out by my friend, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur, is, I think, a real difficulty, because the President of the meeting will be chosen in the absence of the President by all the members present, so that the person who is going to preside before he does preside will have the vote. Otherwise, the man who would preside will have to be kept aside and the others will vote for him. That will create a difficulty in the mode of selection. I think that, by the adoption of the words recommended in the amendment, the difficulty will disappear."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"I am afraid, Sir, I am somewhat at a loss to discover where the difficulty comes in. The wording of the clause is, 'the person to preside at a meeting shall be the President, or, in his absence from any meeting, one of the Trustees present, who is chosen by the others who are present.' The proposal is to substitute that 'the Trustees present shall choose one of their number to preside.' It seems to me to be practically the same thing. If I have understood the argument of the Hon'ble Member, it is that the Trustee elected as President should not vote for himself. This can scarcely be avoided, because there is no possible means of knowing beforehand who will be chosen."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Well, Sir, when the election does take place, it will be invalidated by reason of the man who is chosen by the others having voted for himself, so that if 'A' is going to preside, he could not have voted either for himself or for anybody else."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Is it that the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler does not see any possible objection to the form of the wording ?"

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"I do not think so. It is in the definition 'one of the Trustees present, who is chosen by the others who are present.' It is in apposition to the word 'one'. I do, therefore, feel that there is a difficulty."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"I see no harm in accepting the amendment, altho ugh I do not quite appreciate the advantage of it."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

114. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that, for clause 17(e) [now 18(e)], the following be substituted, namely:—

(e) the President shall preside at all meetings, but, in his absence from any meeting or during any portion of the proceedings of any meeting, any other Trustee elected by the other Trustees present may preside.

He said :—

"I did not propose this amendment as a matter of principle so much as one of wording, and, if it appeals to the department it may be adopted; otherwise, under the canon that I have laid down for myself with regard to these amendments, I do not press it. If it is adopted, I find my own wording is capable of improvement, and the word 'other,' between 'any' and 'Trustee', may be left out, which, I think, would also meet the last amendment that has been adopted."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler said :—

"I think, Sir, that the adoption of the amendment, which has just been accepted, removes the difficulty, and the Hon'ble Member will probably not press this further change."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 17A(1) [now 19(1)].

115. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "associate with themselves" be substituted for the words "add to their number", in line 1 of clause 17A(1) [now 19(1)].

He said :—

"Sir,—In place of the words 'add to their number' I propose the substitution of the words 'associate with themselves', for this reason, Sir, that the addition to the number may involve having rights which are inconsistent with those that are given to the co-opted members,—a word which finds place in the University Act. I take it that these members are to be called in for the purpose of advice or assistance, and, although, later on, I move an amendment which, if adopted, will give them the right of voting with regard to particular questions that they may be called to assist in, there would be an object in making it quite clear that, when they are called in, they are not called in as members but as associates whose advice and assistance the Board would like to have, and which the self-respect of my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, would not stand in the way of their rendering."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—I should be willing to accept this and the consequential amendments if it were not that amendments 118 and 120 stand for debate. If those amendments are rejected, I agree that the words 'associate with themselves' are preferable to the words 'added to the Board'. And with your approval, Sir, I would suggest that this amendment should stand over until we see the fate of amendments 118 and 120."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"Do you agree to that suggestion?"

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir,—Without claiming to be a very good prophet, I can foresee the fate of that amendment, if the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas fails to do so. I do, however, think that the substitution would be an improvement, and, for once I am glad that my hon'ble friend thinks that anything which comes from us is likely to be suitable. Though it will help the adoption of these words, I do not wish to stand in the way of the arrangement which the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas proposes."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"Then we will take 115 and 116 after 120."

The motion was then postponed.

The following motion was also postponed:—

Clause 17A(2), [now 19 (2)].

116. If Motion No. 115 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "associated with themselves by the Board" be substituted for the words "added to the Board", in line 1 of clause 17A(2) [now 19(2)].

117. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "may" be substituted for the words "shall have a right to", in line 2 of clause 17A(2) [now 19(2)].

He said:—

"Sir,—This is a crucial matter, and I think that, self-respect or no respect, people, who are called in to assist and advise the Board with regard to special and technical matters that may be particularly within their purview, ought to be given some status on the Board with regard to that particular question. If that was not the intention, they might as well have been called in as expert witnesses to give the Board the benefit of their advice with regard to the matter that might be pending before the Board. In order to enable the Board to get the proper kind of men it would be essential to give them some idea of being able really and truly to assist the Board, and not to be so many figure-heads or witnesses called in for the purpose of merely getting their ideas and opinions. For that reason, I propose that, so far as the particular matter in question is concerned, they may be allowed to vote on the question and not merely deliberate. What the result of that vote may be, one need not ask himself or stay to examine; but it would look better, on paper certainly, if they were told that, for the time being, they were just as much members of the Board as any one else."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I think the Hon'ble Member is labouring under a misapprehension. He was asked to move amendment 117, but he seems to have spoken on 120 The amendment 117 is purely a verbal one. The clause runs—'a person added to the Board under sub-section (1) for any purpose shall have a right to take part in the discussions, etc.' He wants to substitute 'may' for 'shall have a right to.' I really fail to see what he gains by it. And the trend of his arguments tends to support the clause as it stands. If he would withdraw 117, we could go on with on 118."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"The Hon'ble Member is quite right, Sir. I thought I was moving item No. 120. I would drop that. I am much obliged to my hon'ble friend."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

118. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that, for the words "but shall not have a right to vote at a meeting of the Board and shall not be a member of the Board for any other purpose", in lines 3 to 5 of clause 17A [now 19] (2), the following be substituted, namely :—

and shall have a right to vote and shall be a member of the Board for all purposes.

He said :—

"My view is that, when it becomes necessary to appoint a new member for any particular purpose and for a particular period, he should be a member of the Board for all purposes and should have the right of voting, as is the case in the reformed Councils; otherwise, he cannot feel much interest in the subject-matter of the discussion. I therefore beg to move that, in sub-clause (2), the following be substituted, 'and shall have a right to vote and shall be a member of the Board for all purposes' for the words 'but shall not' down to the end of the sentence, and in line 3, to substitute the words 'all purposes' for 'that purpose.'"

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Sir,—In this connection I beg to support the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur, for this reason that the Board, I apprehend, will always have the power of seeking the advice of men in connection with a particular matter when such advice will be desirable to have. It is not necessary to give the Board a statutory power to add to their number a gentleman whose advice or assistance is necessary, if that person—the person so added—will have no other right than to offer the advice that is sought from him. In that view, I think that this amendment is necessary. If you do call him for advice and assistance, and you think that the advice and assistance is so essential that he should be one of your members, in that case I think it is right and proper that you should give him the right to vote. Otherwise, I am afraid, except as witnesses, you will not get colleagues who will be willing to come forward to give you assistance or advice under these restricted conditions."

The Hon'ble Mr. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—I must resist this amendment, and I am rather surprised that it should be supported by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, for it seems to me extremely unconstitutional. We create a Trust which is responsible to Government and to the bodies which elect members to it. On that Trust is placed the responsibility of carrying on the administration of sums placed at its disposal. Surely we cannot run the risk of the working of the Trust being conducted by its co-opted members, of whose qualifications and numbers we know nothing as yet. On the other hand, the clause, as it stands, is eminently calculated to secure that co-operation between the Board and the members of the public for which the Hon'ble Member is so anxious. I see nothing undignified in the position of a member of the public, who is interested in any particular scheme, being invited to attend the Board and take part in its discussion and favour it with his advice; and a little later on it is provided that he will draw fees from the Board for his attendance. But that is one thing, and giving him the power of voting is quite another. You may provide for the co-operation between the Board and the public, but you cannot divest the Board of its responsibilities. The ultimate responsibility will rest with the Board, and not with the co-opted members. I oppose this amendment, Sir."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said :—

"At least I beg to suggest, Sir, that if his assistance is thought valuable, he should have the right of voting on that particular subject."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I do not think it is open to the Hon'ble Member to modify his amendment at this stage."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"That relates to 119, Sir."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I do not think the Hon'ble Member can alter his amendment now."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said :—

"I have nothing further to say, only that he should be entitled to vote on that particular subject on which his assistance is sought."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

119. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "all purposes" be substituted for the words "that purpose", in line 3 of clause 17A (2).

120. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "have a right to", in line 4 of clause 17A (now 19) (2), be omitted.

He said :—

"Sir,—I beg to move this amendment and I do not wish to go over the same ground as in connection with the previous amendment. But there is just one observation that I should like to make, having regard to what has fallen from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill with regard to the question of the possibility of getting the proper kind of men to associate themselves with this Board for the purposes that the Board may think fit to have their assistance in. When we were discussing the question of additional members on the Board, we were referred to this clause [clause 17A (now 19)], and we were told that all that was necessary by way of dealing with, if not protecting, particular interests like those of the landlord element, would be abundantly met by this clause that we are now discussing. The Hon'ble Member has referred to the possibility of these associates getting remuneration. A witness called to give his evidence would be entitled exactly to the same solatium, if that was all that was necessary to induce them to take part in the deliberations of the Board in the particular way suggested. But what we understood yesterday, and in order to give effect to that notion of things, we think that it would be necessary to give them a definite and recognised status so far as the particular matter before the Board was concerned. If the principle of co-option is to be adopted at all, it must be adopted with all its incidents, whether they are advantageous or disadvantageous. I have referred to the Universities Act, which allows co-option and under which the members summoned and co-opted for the particular purpose are allowed to vote. That is a matter which I do not see how we can very well override if the principle of co-option is to be admitted. As the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has pointed out, if you can have them as witnesses to give you information about the particular matter in question, and you can look upon them as deliberative persons and you can give them their fees just in the same way as co-opted members under the subsequent clause, that does not make co-option proper in the sense as it is understood in the English Acts and on the basis of which we are incorporating this provision. Let the Board stand by itself, if it so wishes. There is no obligation to co-opt, but if co-option does take place, all the incidents of co-option ought to be allowed, and the most essential ingredient of that is the right of being able to influence the vote with regard to the question on which they have deliberated. I could not vote in favour of the amendment that has just preceded, because it goes a longer way than my amendment. In the former the Hon'ble Member wanted to have these gentlemen to be members of the Board for all purposes. My amendment does not go so far; it is limited only to the particular issue before the Board for the time being."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I question whether your amendment stands on the agenda paper. I understand you to desire that the co-opted members shall have a right to vote. The effect of the amendment on the agenda paper is that the clause, if amended, shall not confer on them the right to vote."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"The Hon'ble Member was not only labouring under a misapprehension as to when he should move this amendment, but he is now under a misapprehension as to its meaning."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The word 'not' appears in the clause."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I am afraid, Sir, there must have been some mistake in printing, because it was intended that 'not' should come within the range of omission, and the amendment would render the clause like this—'shall vote at a meeting.' There has been some mistake, and I may be responsible for it in the hurry of the moment."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The amendment on the agenda paper says that the words 'have a right to' be omitted. You take it that the words in the amendment should have been 'not have a right to.'"

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Yes : that was my intention."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I think that the Hon'ble Member had the wording of the amendment, as it stands, in his mind when he suggested the words 'associated with' in amendment 115. It is because those associated with the Board would not have a right to vote that the words 'associated with' have been found desirable. They will not be in the position of witnesses in a Court but that of assessors, and no one can say that it is undignified to serve as an assessor."

The motion was then put in the latter form and lost.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Sir,—Before we proceed to the next item, there is one matter regarding which I wish to explain. I had misapprehended the amendment of the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur, where he sought to give the members co-opted the liberty of voting for all purposes. I understood it was only restricted for the purpose for which members were called in to assist, and that was why I supported the Hon'ble Member."

121. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "be deemed to" be inserted after the words "shall not", in the last line of clause 17A (2).

He said :—

"This Sir, is more a verbal amendment than anything else, and I leave this for the consideration of the department."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I think it would be as well if it is taken after 115."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"All the same, I oppose it, Sir."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motions, which were postponed, were then taken up for discussion :—

Clause 17A (now 19) (1) and (2).

115. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "associate with themselves" be substituted for the words "add to their number", in line 1 of clause 17A (now 19) (1).

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I think these members will be in the position of assessors, and I think that the words are suitable. We accept the amendment".

The motion was then put and agreed to.

116. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "associated with themselves by the Board" be substituted for the words "added to the Board", in line 1 of clause 17A (now 19) (2).

The PRESIDENT said:—

"As 115 is accepted, I think this will be accepted also."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"This is also accepted, Sir."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

Clause 18 (now 20).

122. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "associated with" be substituted for the words "added to", in clause 18 (now 20) (1) (ii).

The motion was put and agreed to.

123. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that, for the words "All proceedings of any such Committee", in clause 18 (5), the following be substituted, namely:—

Proceedings of such Committees.

He said:—

"This also, Sir, is a matter of drafting—'proceedings of such Committees'. I suggest 'proceedings', but I do not press it."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"We are advised that there is not sufficient reason for changing the wording of the clause, Sir."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 19 (now 21, (2).

124. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "the members present shall choose one of their number to preside" be substituted for the words "one of the members present, who is chosen by the others who are present", at the end of clause 19 (now 21) (2).

He said:—

"This has already been accepted with reference to Motion No. 113, and this amendment is similar to it."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"This is analogous to that which has already been accepted with reference to clause 17 (now 18) (e). This may also be accepted."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

125. The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI moved:—

(a) that the words "The President shall" be substituted for the words "The person to", in line 1 of clause 19 (now 20) (2);

(b) that the words "shall be the President", in lines 1 and 2 of the same clause, be omitted; and

(c) that the words "shall preside" be added at the end of the same clause.

He said:—

"This amendment, as well as the next, Sir, is a matter of drafting. I tried to bring to notice all imperfections that struck me, whether of drafting or otherwise, in the best of my light, so they may be dealt with as the department thinks fit. If this does not commend itself to the department, I beg to withdraw it."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"This has reference to clause 19 (now 20) (2), an amendment to which we have just accepted, which, I think, fully meets the case."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 19 (now 20) (4).

126. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that, for the words "All questions at any meeting of a Committee", in line 1 of clause 19 (4), the following be substituted, namely:—

Questions at meetings of Committees.

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"This is very analogous to No. 123 and does not add anything to the Bill."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 21 (now 22).

127. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "and the Chairman of the Corporation", in lines 1 and 2 of clause 21 (now 22), be omitted.

He said :—

"I beg to propose the deletion of the words 'and the Chairman of the Corporation'. I do not see any reason why the Chairman of the Corporation should not be entitled to receive fees like other Trustees for attending to duties which are foreign to the duties of his office as Chairman of the Corporation.

"It is well known that the Magistrate of Howrah, when appointed a member of the Port Trust, and the Collector of Customs, who virtually is an ex-officio member of the Port Trust, though they are highly-paid officials, always receive fees (Rs. 32 for each meeting) for attending meetings of the Port Trust, and such is also the case with the members of the Board of Revenue and other Government officials when appointed members of the General Committee of the Calcutta Corporation—that they receive fees for attending meetings of the General Committee. Under the circumstances, I cannot see any justification for depriving the overburdened and overworked Chairman of the Corporation of his legitimate fees."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"The question, Sir, is rather a moot one, and as the Hon'ble Member says, there are precedents in other cases for allowing official members to take fees. It is also the case in the Bombay Act that the municipal commissioner, an ex-officio member of the Trust, can take fees. The idea underlying the present clause is that the Chairman of the Corporation, who is the whole-time servant of that body, and is deeply interested both in the welfare of Calcutta and in the operations of the Trust, might possibly be expected to give his help to the Trust without further remuneration. It is quite arguable, however, that this is somewhat hard on him, and that there is no reason for differentiating his case from that of the other Trustees. The point is one, Sir, which might very well be left to the sense of the Council to decide."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

128. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "associated with" be substituted for the words "added to", in line 2 of clause 21 (now 22).

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I will accept it, Sir."

The motion was put and agreed to.

129. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "or for such period as the person presiding at the meeting may consider sufficient to justify the payment of the fee", in clause 21 (now 22) (ii), be omitted.

He said :—

"I think, this innovation, Sir, that we have introduced in clause 21 (now 22), should be omitted. The innovation is this: the member attending the meeting is entitled to a fee of Rs. 20. If he is a member of the Board, and if he is attending a Committee meeting, he gets a fee of Rs. 10. The original language was, 'which he attends from the beginning to the end thereof.' The addition of the words 'or for such period as the person presiding at the meeting may consider sufficient to justify the payment of the fee' does not occur either in the Bombay or in our own Calcutta Municipal Act, and therefore I do not think we ought to make a new departure and introduce those words in this Act. It is not merely a feeling of captious opposition that leads me to move this amendment; there is a principle underlying it, and that principle is this: that the members attending should be absolutely independent of the President for any matter of personal benefit. Of course, I think it will be conceded that if he is late by a very few minutes, or leaves a meeting earlier by a few mintues, nothing will be said, but if the payment of his fee is dependent upon the good will of the President, I object to it on principle, and I am fortified by precedents, as it does not occur either in the Calcutta Municipal Act or in the Bombay Improvement Act."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said .—

"I really do not think, Sir, that any very great question of principle arises on this clause, or that it is likely to undermine the independence of any members of the Board. The provision was deliberately inserted in Select Committee to provide for a case which seemed to be not only possible, but almost certain to arise, looking to the general frailties of human nature, namely, that members may not always arrive with absolute punctuality, and may also leave somewhat before the close of the meeting to attend other appointments. At the same time, for all practical purposes, they attended the business of the meeting. It is perfectly true that there is no such provision in the Bombay or Calcutta Acts, but we were told in the Select Committee—and I understand this to be the case—that the practice in Calcutta is in accordance with the clause, and these little lapses are condoned"

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir,—I do not for a moment suggest that some slight departure may not take place or may not be overlooked. That is one position of things. I suppose the Calcutta Port Trust Act is also the same, but it is quite the other way when we say that it will depend upon the sanction of the President."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The result of the division was, ayes 16, noes 27, and the motion was therefore lost.

130. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "two hundred rupees" be substituted for the words "such sum as may be prescribed by any rule made under section 136 in this behalf" at the end of clause 21 (now 22).

He said:—

"Sir,—I do not think that, in such an important matter as this, it should be left open in the way it is suggested under the Bill as framed, 'the aggregate amount of fees payable to any person in respect of meetings of any kind during any month shall not exceed such sum as may be prescribed by any rule made under section 136 in this behalf.' Why do you leave at that? The Bombay Act and the Calcutta Act specifically say that it shall not exceed Rs. 200 a month. Then why should our present Act differ? I will refer to section 17 of the Bombay Act, which provides:—

'Provided that the aggregate amount of fees payable in respect of meetings held during any month shall not exceed Rs. 200, or such sum as may be fixed by any law from time to time made in this behalf'.

"I think the same thing ought to be adopted by us, instead of leaving this question of fees open for future decision. If we fix it now, we will do so before the world and will prevent any misapprehension on this subject and will make it perfectly clear that a person who comes to be a member of the Board need not expect a higher remuneration than Rs. 200 a month. Therefore, I wish to move this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler said:—

"The original draft of this clause in the Bill followed the Bombay Act. When the matter was considered by the Select Committee, it was considered rather absurd to mention a sum and then, in the same breath, to give absolute power to vary it. It seemed eminently more sensible to leave the amount to be fixed by rule. The amendment would go further; it would fix Rs. 200 absolutely, but there is no special virtue about that sum. It is unlikely that more than that would be earned, but it is impossible to say. After all, it is only a question of the volume of business to be done by the Board. If the work required a daily meeting of the Board, which is most improbable, and the principle that fees are legitimate at all is admitted, it is difficult to see why they should not be paid on each meeting. If members earn in excess of Rs. 200, they will undoubtedly have had heavy calls upon their time. If the members of the Trust are of the class we anticipate, their time spent outside the Board will almost certainly be more valuable than that spent within it, and they are not likely to make use of the Board as a money-making machine. For these reasons I would leave the maximum to be fixed by rule."

The result of the division was, ayes 16, noes 32, and the motion was therefore lost.

131. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that clause 21 (now 22) be placed after clause 11, and be re-numbered accordingly.

He said:—

"Sir,—This is a matter of mere arrangement, and therefore comes under the heading of drafting. I thought that a more suitable place for this clause would be where the President's pay, house-rent and such other things are provided. If it is accepted I will move it; otherwise, I do not press for it."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"We are advised that this would be no improvement."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir,—I realise that attitude. There would really have been no difficulty if it was accepted. However, I would withdraw it."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

Clause 21A (now 23) (1).

132. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "other", in the penultimate line of clause 21A(1), be omitted.

132A. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas moved that, for clause 21A (now 23) (1), the following be substituted, namely:—

21A. (1) A Trustee who—

(b) has acted professionally, in relation to any matter, on behalf of any person having therein any such share or interest as aforesaid, shall not vote or take any other part in any proceeding of the Board or any Committee relating to such matter.

He said:—

"The alteration is only in sub-clause (b) and is merely verbal. It seemed to us, on examination of the original clause, that it was rather obscure. I think it reads better as it is shown in the amendment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 21A (now 23) (2).

132B. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "then, if he is cognisant of having such beneficial interest" be inserted after the word "Act", in line 7 of clause 21A (now 23) (2).

He said:—

"My motion is not as it is constituted here, but it has reference to clause 21A (now 23) (1). My object in moving this amendment is that a large landowner like the Maharaja of Cossimbazar or Maharaj-Kumar Hrishikesh Laha cannot possibly know every chittak of land which he owns in Calcutta. So it is not unnatural that he might take part, though unwittingly, in the discussion about the improvement of an area in which he may own some land. This amendment proposes to guard against a Trustee being removed from the Board in such a case."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—I oppose this amendment on the ground that it is unnecessary. The clause says that if any Trustee has an interest in any land situated in an area comprised in any improvement scheme, he shall inform the President of the Trust of that interest and shall not vote in such matter, and shall leave it to the discretion of the President whether he should take any other part in the matter. That is a very wholesome provision and it does not lay down that a man should do what is not possible for him to do. No one can report a matter of which he is not cognisant. It is incredible that Government should exercise the power conferred by clause 15B (now 15) of removing a Trustee without giving him an opportunity for explanation. If a Trustee fails to report the existence of any interest owing to his being ignorant of such interest, naturally no fault would have been committed and Government would certainly not take action against him."

The motion was then put and lost.

133. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that clause 21A (now 23) (2) (iii) be omitted.

He said :—

"Sir,—This clause seeks to provide that any Trustee, who has any interest in any land covered by the improvement, area directly or otherwise, shall inform the President that he has such interest and shall not vote upon any resolution relating to the land which he possesses. There can be no objection to that part of the procedure, and we do not object to it. The next proviso is that 'he shall not take any other part in any proceeding at a meeting of the Board or any Committee relating to such area, if the person presiding at the meeting considers it that he should do so.' I conceive, Sir, that, in the improvement schemes that will be framed under this Act when passed, large areas will be taken up for consideration—areas probably aggregating, say, 10,000 bighas in one scheme. In this area a Trustee A may have a chittack of land or a small house. It is quite conceivable that, so far as that scheme affects that house, he shall not be entitled to vote. But I do not understand why he should be precluded from voting in reference to other parts of the scheme which do not affect the house that belongs to him. It is stated that he will be allowed to take part if the President permits him to do so. Well, in the first place, I should like to know what is the objection to his taking part in other schemes. I shall take a concrete case. Suppose you want to open up a large square in the congested area, somewhere in the area between Beadon Street on the south and the Grey Street on the north. Far from that square towards the north, a Trustee A may have a plot of land which is in no way affected by this square but which may, however, very remotely affect that improvement in that block, and if he is precluded, except by the permission of the President, to take part, then, so far as he is concerned, his advice or assistance will not be wanted, and he will not be able to have a voice in the improvement of an area in which he is otherwise very much concerned. It may be said, in answer, that such a contingency will not arise, for the President will not veto his power of taking part under circumstances like that. That I am ready to concede. I am ready to concede that the President will act as a reasonable man; but, at the same time, it gives a very large power of control to the President, and it makes the task of Calcutta men who may be Trustees very difficult, and their position one of very great difficulty. The President will be the final authority. If, for instance, a Trustee, who has taken up an antagonistic attitude in reference to some improvement, in a very small part of which he may have interest, it is quite possible—I do not say that it will happen—that he may be precluded from taking any part in the proceedings of the meeting which will consider the question of improvement in this area. What I say is this. Give me definite rules. Say under these circumstances you will have a vote, and under the other circumstances you will not, but do not leave me to the tender mercies of the President who may be an autocrat and who may not like that his voice should be opposed by a man whom he might otherwise throttle. I should not like, under any circumstance, to put my liberty of conduct merely at the discretion of the President. I do not object to definite rules, and I think that nothing can be fairer than this that if any part of that scheme affects my property, so far as that part is concerned, I cannot vote, but I do not see the object of vesting the President with the power of stopping me from taking any part in other parts of the scheme in which I am neither directly or indirectly concerned, and therefore I move this amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"All that I say in support of this amendment is that the sub-clause would, if allowed to stand, place a landlord, who may own land in different parts of Calcutta, entirely in the mercy of the President as to whether he should take part in the proceedings or not. And if he is so inclined, he can prevent any such member from taking any part in the proceedings of the Trust. What I want is a definite proposition which will allow him to take part."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I would oppose this amendment, Sir. I think that if sub-clause (iii) is removed, we shall expose ourselves to far greater evils than those which have struck the imagination of the mover of this amendment. I submit that it is most essential that this Trust, which will have an enormous power of interference with private property, should be above suspicion, and that it should command the confidence of the public. The object of the clause is that, when the Trust deals with an area which is the subject of an improvement scheme, not only shall the members who own houses or land in that area not have the power to vote about any question directly relating to such houses or land, but also that if a Trustee has an interest in any land in the area which might give reasonable ground for doubt on the part of any other landholder in that area, that that Trustee is quite impartial, then also the Trustee should take no part in the proceedings. Take the case of a Trustee, for example, who has a dwelling-house in one corner of an area in which it is proposed to make a public square. The exact position of the square is to be determined; it may be a hundred yards to the east or a hundred yards to the west. It would very seriously affect the interest of people owning houses in that area. The question may only indirectly affect the dwelling-house Trustee, and it would be unfair for him to take part in the discussion on that particular matter. And it is very undesirable that the public should have any suspicion. As to placing the Trustee at the mercy of the President, I fail to see any force in such an objection, and I do not think that any hard-and-fast rules can be laid down as a guide for conduct in such matters. It will very often be more a matter of good taste than of right or wrong. Such questions are very difficult to decide for oneself. As the clause stands, the Trustee will say to the President, 'I have such and such interest in this land, and such and such a question is before us. I put myself into your hands as to whether I should take part in the proceedings or no.' For my part I do not see that any gentleman would object to taking up such an attitude. I should have thought it a most satisfactory way of dealing with such a question."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"It seems to me, Sir, that no reasonable principle is followed in the framing of this measure that we are discussing. When we have a precedent in our favour we take as much of it as suits us. When we protest that the Bombay model which we are following in this does not agree, then we are met by the answer that we know better than the Bombay people do, and when we say that this should not be done we are told that this must be done because it is in Bombay. This does not occur in the Bombay Act and we have not heard that they feel any real difficulty. It is borrowed from an Act for which I suppose even my friend in the opposite will have some deference. It is borrowed from an English Statute—the Housing and Working Classes Act of 1890. Section 88 of that Act says, a person should not vote as a member of a local authority or County Council or any Committee thereof upon any resolution or question which is proposed, if it relates to any dwelling-house or lands in which he is beneficially interested. We are quite content with that, and that is amply covered by clauses (1) and (2). Then why is it that my friend goes beyond clauses (1) and (2)? That raises a suspicion in my mind. If the English people have found that clauses (i) and (ii) have been a sufficient safeguard for the protection of public interests, for maintenance of the integrity and the preservation of interest of that body, of which I am as much solicitous as my honourable friend in the opposite is, then why is it that he brings in clause (iii)? I do not wish to make any personal observation, but in this case the difficulty is enhanced by the fact that the President is a Government officer, and the person that may be objected to may be the only representative of a non-official element in that country. Sometimes it is very convenient to ignore these troublesome non-official representatives: they talk more than is desirable; they take up more time, and therefore what is there to prevent him from the exercise of this authority which even the Speaker in the House of Commons does not possess, and which even the Lord Chancellor in the House of Lords does not possess, but which this official—always inexperienced of these things, because he has no training in the public life of his own country and a source often of grave danger in matters which concern great public questions—is to be made the sole judge and arbiter? Supposing I, Bhupendra Nath Basu, was a member of the committee. Because I have some miserable dwelling-house, not even fit to be a pigstye, in some part of Calcutta, so I should be precluded from having any part in the discussion of a scheme which relates to a large area in some corner of which I have this ancestral dwelling-house. If you appoint a man in whom you have not that trust, you are responsible. My friend was saying, that he makes the composition of that body so ludicrously absurd having regard to the necessities of Calcutta, having regard to its requirements, dimensions and to the necessity that will have to be considered by this committee, he makes it so small because he wants the pick of the men in this town, the pick of the men who are interested in this question. Cannot you trust the pick of men in such a small matter as this? Do you think that their character for integrity is so low that you cannot allow them to use their own discretion as to whether they should take part or not? It will affect the position and the character and the standing of your Board in the public eye. Is that, after all, what your small numbers mean? If that is not so, if you choose your members with great deliberaion, as you say you will, why should you seek for powers which are nowhere else to be found, either within or outside India? Why is it? Will you explain that? Therefore, am I not entitled to feel that there may be something behind which may be used occasionally, at a time of great excitement, to stifle the only opposition that may be offered in a committee the composition of which is largely official? These are the grounds upon which I move this amendment."

134. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the word "and", at the end of sub-clause (ii) of clause 21A(2), be transferred to the end of sub-clause (i).

135. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "associated with" be substituted for the words "added to", in line 1 of clause 21A(2).

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 22 (now 24).

136. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the words "and perform", in line 1 of clause 22 (now 24), be omitted.

He said:—

"Sir,—I have studiously abstained from intervening on any question of drafting, but these two words 'and perform' have attracted my attention almost every time I have looked at this Bill. I have thus been induced to submit that these two words should be omitted. They are not wanted there. You give a discretion to enter into contract and you withdraw it after the contract has been entered into. I submit this merely for the consideration of the Hon'ble Member in charge."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"We are unable to discover any particular advantage in omitting these words, although the matter has been considered in the Legislative Department. The wording is precisely the same as that of section 86(1) of the Calcutta Act. I think that the Bill had better be left as it is."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Sir,—I do not accept the Municipal Act as a precedent. I have merely suggested the amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clauses 23 and 24 (now 25 and 26).

137. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that, for clauses 23 (now 25) and 24 (now 26), the following be substituted, namely :—

23. (1) Every such contract involving an expenditure not exceeding one thousand rupees shall be executed by the President on behalf of the Board.

Execution of contracts and approval of estimates.

(2) A contract involving an expenditure exceeding one thousand rupees shall be executed by the President on behalf of the Board, and sealed with the common seal of the Board.

(3) A contract involving an expenditure exceeding one lakh of rupees shall not be entered into without the previous sanction of the Local Government to such expenditure.

(4) No contract shall be entered into unless the estimate for the work to be done under such contract has been previously sanctioned by the Board, and, in cases involving an expenditure exceeding one lakh of rupees, unless such estimate has been sanctioned by the Local Government.

(5) Same as sub-clause (3) of clause 24 of the Bill.

(6) Same as sub-clause (4) of clause 24 of the Bill.

(7) Same as sub-clause (5) of clause 24 of the Bill.

He said :—

"Sir,—In this motion I have suggested an alternative form of draft for clauses 23 (now 25) and 24 (now 26), which to my mind seemed a simpler way of dealing with the matters that are dealt with by these two sections. This should have been considered by the gentleman in charge of the Bill, and if he does not consider it desirable, I do not wish to press for it."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—I do not accept this amendment because it seems to me that, under the proposed clause, it would be possible for the President and one Trustee to execute the contract without the sanction of the Board, which would still be binding in law upon the Board. I prefer the clauses as they stand in the Bill."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 23 (now 25).

138. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "the Board and", in line 3 of proviso (d) [now (b)] to clause 23 (now 25) (1), be omitted.

He said :—

"Sir,—The previous sub-clause (c) defines that contracts between Rs. 1,000 and one lakh of rupees shall not be made by the President without the previous sanction of the Board. In the subsequent clause, we seek to enact with regard to contracts above one lakh of rupees, that the sanction of the Local Government is essential. This is to be taken for granted. In fact, what is provided later on in various clauses is that nothing that has not been considered and sanctioned by the Board can possibly go up before the Local Government, and, therefore, to my mind it appears that if we have merely a provision that no contract above one lakh of rupees shall be sanctioned without the previous sanction of the Local Government, it will amply meet the requirements of the case, and the words I seek to delete are not necessary. It is not merely a question of drafting."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I do not agree that it is merely a matter of drafting, because if it is accepted, it will change the meaning of the clause altogether, and deprive the Board of any control over contracts exceeding one lakh of rupees. The clause says that a contract not exceeding a lakh of rupees requires the previous sanction of the Board. Then we come to contracts above a lakh of rupees. If we say that it must require the sanction of the Local Government, it need not come before the Board first, before going to the Local Government. Surely the Hon'ble Member does not mean that the Local Government should enter into a contract without any reference to the Board."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Well, Sir, if that would be the effect of my amendment, I would not press it at all."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

139. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "who is", in line 3 of clause 23 (1a, [now 25 (2)] be omitted.

140. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "make or", in line 4 of clause 23 (1a) [now 25 (2)], be omitted.

Clause 24 (now 26).

141. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "and" be substituted for the words "except that", in line 4 of clause 24 (now 26) (1).

He said :—

"That also is a matter of drafting, which I leave to the department."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I do not consider it necessary to accept it, Sir."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

142. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "in addition to" be substituted for the words "distinct from", in line 1 of clause 24 (now 26) (4).

He said :—

"I take it, Sir, that what is intended by sub-clause (iv) is that a signature of the Trustees is and shall always be distinct from the signature of the witnesses. I believe it is intended that over and above a signature of the Trustee, there shall be the signature of an witness. That ought to be clearly provided for. It is more than a matter of drafting, and I therefore ask that the matter may be considered by the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"The clause, as it stands in the Bill, follows the wording of the Calcutta Municipal Act, but I have no objection to accepting this amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

143. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that sub-clause (4) of clause 24 (now 26) be placed before sub-clause (3), both sub-clauses being re-numbered accordingly.

He said :—

"This is a matter of arrangement, which I leave to the discretion of Hon'ble Member in charge."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"The official advice is not in favour of the rearrangement."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 24A (now 27) (1).

144. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "any contract is entered into" be substituted for the words "the President enters into any contract", in lines 1 and 2 of clause 24A (now 27) (1).

He said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member in charge accept this amendment?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"No: I do not think that there is any necessity for accepting this amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

145. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "the President" be substituted for the word "he", in line 4 of clause 24A (now 27) (1).

146. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "local", in line 5 of clause 24A (now 27) (1), be omitted.

He said :—

"These matters ought to be more largely advertised than merely in the local papers. Of course, so far as the discretion of the Board is concerned, it would be unfettered if it were left merely as a requisition of advertisement in newspapers. It would be useful to advertise it in some papers outside Calcutta."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"The wording of the clause follows section 88 of the Calcutta Act, which also runs that 'the General Committee shall give notice by advertisement in local newspapers inviting tenders for such contract.' The meaning of the word 'local' will be understood by a reference to clause 163 (now 164). The object of the clause is briefly that public notice should be given of all tenders, which is most essential, and the most important point is to give notice locally. The corresponding section of the Calcutta Act does not debar them from also advertising in newspapers outside Calcutta, and there seems no objection to the retention of the word 'local' in the clause."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I take it, Sir, that if the amendment were accepted, the local newspapers would not have been excluded. So far as clause 163 (now 164) is concerned, no doubt, it is a comprehensive section, but some of the advertisements required in the Bill refer to local matters, where advertisement merely in the local newspapers may be useful, but in matters like contracts involving large sums, it would be desirable to have the liberty of advertising in newspapers other than Calcutta newspapers."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the Council, withdrawn :—

Clause 24A (now 27) (4).

147. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "which has been made", in lines 2 and 3 of clause 24A (now 27) (4), be omitted.

148. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "of such", in line 6 of clause 24A (now 27) (4), be omitted.

149. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that, for the word "appears", in line 6 of clause 24A (now 27) (4), the word "appear" be substituted.

150. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "upon a view of all the circumstances", in lines 6 and 7 of clause 24A (now 27) (4), be omitted.

151. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "or may direct the rejection of all the tenders submitted to them", at the end of clause 24A (now 27) (4), be omitted.

Clause 25 (now 28).

152. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "involving an expenditure exceeding one thousand rupees", at the end of clause 25, be omitted.

He said :—

"I move for the omission of this word, because I do not quite see the reason why the security that is considered necessary in other cases, involving expenditure of more than a thousand rupees, should be omitted in the case of smaller contracts It is the experience of all, who have to deal with these matters, that it is the smaller contracts which often give trouble, and if there is the safety of security with regard to them, business would be put on a surer footing than otherwise. We must not forget that a hundred thousand rupees make a lakh, and hundreds of those insecure contracts may go their own way, and will lead to difficulty that we cannot foresee now. If we insist on securities in every case, public business would certainly be more safeguarded. With regard to well-known and large contracts, the question of security may often have less bearing than it has in the case of smaller and obscure, unknown men, upon whom it is difficult to have hold."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—

"I gather from what the Hon'ble Member said that he is of opinion that there must be a limit somewhere, for it would be absurd to take security for small contracts. Here, at least, we might go by precedent, which is borrowed from the Calcutta Municipal Act. It has existed for the last 11 years, and there have been no drawbacks experienced, so far as I know. I would ask the Council therefore to follow the precedent of the Calcutta Municipal Act, and reject this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Unfortunately, in this case, the precedent of the Calcutta Municipal Act has not been followed. The Calcutta Municipal Act, section 89 lays down this : 'The Chairman shall take sufficient security for the due performance of every contract into which he enters after a tender has been accepted, and may, in his discretion, take security for the due performance of any other contract into which he enters.' After a tender has been accepted he must take security, whereas this is a departure from the precedent of the Calcutta Act."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—It is true that the wording of the clause does not follow, word for word, the precedent of the Calcutta Act. But I can say that the meaning is the same. The Chairman should take sufficient security for the due performance of contracts in connection with which a tender has been called for. But there is no provision which makes it necessary to call for tenders over Rs. 1,000. Thus the Calcutta Act is in effect the same as the clause in this Bill. It is quite true that section 89 also makes it optional for the Chairman to take security in smaller contracts, but surely it is not necessary to put that into the Bill. It may be left to the discretion of the President. But what the Bill does is to require the President to take security for greater sums."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir,—I think that, if the Calcutta Municipal Act is to be accepted as our model with all its known irregularities, we may no doubt adhere to the Act in this instance, and it provides that the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation has discretion in the matter by actually taking a security wherever he thinks it necessary. Reference has been made to what obtains in the Calcutta Corporation in regard to smaller contracts. I do not of course know what happens now. But when I was a Commissioner many years ago the difficulty was with regard to the smaller contracts and not with the larger ones. Things may have improved now, but that is no guarantee against similar things happening again with regard to the new Trust."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 26 (now 29) (1).

153. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "and the Chairman of the Corporation" be inserted after the words "the Local Government", in line 2 of clause 26 (now 29) (1).

He said:—

"I think, Sir, this is an amendment which is essential. If my hon'ble friend accepts it, I will move it. By this amendment I seek to introduce a condition that the President, when forwarding a copy of the minutes to the Local Government, shall forward a copy to the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation, a body which is so essentially interested in the business of this Trust. I do not see what harm there will be—what difficulty there may be entailed—by the incorporation of this provision that a copy of the proceedings should be sent to the Chairman as well, having regard to the interests of the Corporation at stake."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"No, I certainly do not accept it."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"I beg to support my hon'ble friend."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"My view is, Sir, that the assets and liabilities of the Trust will devolve upon the Calcutta Corporation The Corporation is vitally interested in all proceedings. It is only necessary and fair that the Corporation should be kept informed as to what is going on in the Trust, so that it may take action when necessary. I think there is no harm in sending a copy of their proceedings just as the Trust will send copies of their proceedings to the Local Government. With these words I beg to support this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—I oppose this amendment, and I do not fully appreciate the arguments in support of it, and I do not think they have been such as to carry conviction. In the first place, the Trust is not subordinate to the Corporation in any sense whatever, and there seems to be no reason why it should send its proceedings to a co-ordinate authority any more than to any other public body in Calcutta. Of course, if the proceedings are to be sent to the Chairman of the Corporation, it is not intended that they should be for the private information of the Chairman, because he is a member of the Trust and is fully cognisant of what is going on in the Trust: they must be meant for communication to the Corporation. It has been repeatedly said from the very beginning of the Bill that the proceedings of the Trust should be kept as confidential as possible, and that purpose will be frustrated if the proceedings are sent to the Corporation. I submit there is no ground for sending these proceedings to the Corporation."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"After the explanation that we have heard from the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, I do not wish to put my amendment to the vote."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

154. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "and the Corporation" be inserted after the words "Local Government", in line 2 of clause 26 (now 29) (1).

Clauses 26 and 17 (now 29 and 18).

155. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that clauses 17 (now 18) and 26 (now 29) be placed after clause 17 A (now 19), and be renumbered accordingly.

Clause 27.

156. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that, for the words "The Board shall prepare and maintain", in line 1 of clause 27 (now 30), the following be substituted, namely :—

The Board shall from time to time prepare and shall maintain.

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"The statement will undoubtedly be prepared on more than one occasion, and there is no harm in adding the words 'from time to time'."

The motion was put and agreed to.

157. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that, for lines 1 and 2 of clause 27 (now 30), the following be substituted, namely :—

The Board shall, after they are constituted, prepare and submit for the sanction of the Local Government a statement showing—

He said :—

"Sir,—My object in moving this amendment is that the Government should have some control over the establishment charges of the Board, and the checking of expenditure should not be left entirely to the Board. In the initial stage it is necessary that Government should be in a position to judge as to the strength of the establishment, whether it is going to be large or small. I therefore beg to submit that, after the Board is constituted, the Board should prepare and submit, for the information of the Local Government, a statement showing the number of officers. Moreover, the Calcutta Municipal Act, so far as higher appointments are concerned, has specified and enumerated the number of higher appointments and salaries attached to them. In this case also, the Board should prepare and submit a statement showing the number of higher appointments and salaries attached to them, so that the public and the Local Government may be in a position to judge of the amount of expenditure that would be incurred by the Board in maintaining the establishment."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"I think, Sir, the amendment is open to objection. The wording of it, for one thing, appears to be defective. The words 'after they are constituted' seem to be unnecessary, as the Board will certainly not take action before it is constituted. The amendment would, moreover, clash with what has just been approved by the Council; these statements will be prepared on more than one occasion, and is it contemplated by the Hon'ble Member that they should all be submitted for the sanction of the Local Government? The statements are to contain the number, designations and grades of all officers and servants other than temporary employés, the salaries, fees and allowances to be paid to each such officer and servant, and the contributions payable under clause 144A (now 146) in respect of them. They will thus include very lowly paid servants of the Trust, and is it really necessary that all such details should be approved by the Local Government? Even in the case of ordinary municipalities, it is only with appointments of over Rs. 200 that the Local Government exercises control, although the Commissioner has power as regards posts over Rs. 100. In the case of the Calcutta Corporation, the salary limit is Rs. 1,000, and from clause 31 (now 33) of the Bill it will be seen that Government sanction is already required in the case of the higher paid officers of the Board. It is sufficient that the control of the higher appointments should rest with Government, and to require it to scrutinise these petty matters would render possible a most unjustifiable degree of interference."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 30 (now 32).

158. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "two hundred" be substituted for the words "three hundred", in clause 30 (now 32) (a).

He said:—

"Sir,—I think that the limit should be reduced from Rs. 300 to Rs. 200 for servants of the Board, in whose case the President is to be vested with the sole power of reducing, suspending or dismissing, and this is the reason of this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—

"I am unable, Sir, to accept the Hon'ble Member's amendment, because I would prefer to follow a precedent, and the precedent in this case is to be found in the Bombay Act. In Bombay the limit is Rs. 300, and it will, I think, also be found suitable in Calcutta."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Unfortunately, Sir, the conditions of Bombay and Calcutta are not exactly identical, and in many instances, as I have pointed out, we have deviated from the precedent of Bombay, and in this also, I think, we may deviate with some benefit."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

159. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "two hundred" be substituted for the words "three hundred", in clause 30 (now 32) (a).

160. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "reduced, suspended or" be inserted before the word "dismissed", in line 3 of the proviso to clause 30 (now 32).

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

161. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "whose decision shall be final", at the end of clause 30 (now 32), be omitted.

Clause 31 (now 33).

162. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "seven hundred" be substituted for the words "one thousand", in line 2 of clause 31 (now 33) (a).

163. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "seven hundred" be substituted for the words "one thousand", in line 3 of clause 31 (now 33) (c).

Clause 32 (now 34).

164. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "in matters of executive administration and in matters concerning the accounts and records of the Board", in lines 3 and 4 of clause 32 (now 34), be omitted.

He said:—

"Sir,—I confess I do not understand quite the meaning of the words, the omission of which I seek by this amendment. There is no reason why the President's supervision should be limited to supervision only of the 'executive administration' whatever that may mean. I cannot approve of this unaccountable self-abnegation."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I am prepared to accept this amendment, Sir."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

Clause 33 (now 35).

165. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the words "subject to the control of the Board," be inserted after the word "may", in line 1 of clause 33 (now 35) (1).

He said:—

"Sir,—The Council will see what large powers of delegation are here conferred upon the President. With the exception of very few of the most important duties, and duties which could not possibly be delegated, which could not be delegated by the President, he has authority under this clause to delegate any of his duties to any officer. It seems, Sir, an acknowledgment that he has not got time to perform all these duties, and I think, that the Board should be treated as the central authority, in the same way as Corporations and Committees in England are, and then for the Board to delegate such authority as they might think fit. However, I do not go so far as that, but when we have a Board which is going to be a very select body, I think that the authority might be left with the Board, and I move to that extent, i. e., the President shall delegate under the control of the Board, so that the Board should have a voice in this question of delegation, and such large powers should not be left entirely and absolutely in the hands of the President."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN said:—

"Your Honour,—Under this clause, the President is authorised to delegate his own powers and duties to any officer of the Board. But it is desirable that the delegation of such important function should be done with the approval of the members of the Board. This would produce a salutary and wholesome effect, and, moreover, this will prevent the abuse of such a power; with this short remark I propose that the words 'subject to the control of the Board,' may be inserted after the word 'may,' in line 1 of clause 33 (now 35) (1)."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"I think no reasonable exception can be taken to the clause which is merely designed to expedite the transaction of business. The President's power is not absolutely unrestricted, insofar as various important sections are set apart from delegation, and the principle of the clause is precisely the same as that of section 18 of the Calcutta Act, which, in the same way, allows the Chairman by general or special order to delegate to any municipal officers his powers other than those which are specially excepted in that clause. The Hon'ble Member appears to think that the Chairman may in some way subvert the functions of the Board by the delegation of some important powers, but he does not mention the powers to which he is referring. It is unnecessary that a section of this kind should attempt to specify the exact details of the future working of the Trust, and I do not think that any reasonable exception can be taken to the clause."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"I think, Sir, that the Hon'ble Member might have understood that I made no insidious suggestion. All I say is, that there is a Board, and I think that authority should centre in the Board."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by permission of the President, withdrawn:—

166. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saivid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the words "subject to the control of the Board" be inserted after the word "may", in line 1 of clause 33 (now 35) (1).

167. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "(if any)", in line 3 of clause 33 (now 35) (2), be omitted.

He said:—

"Sir,—It appears to me that these words 'if any' have no meaning or place at all. These are redundant words which may go. However, I leave it to the discretion of the department."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"We are advised that the words are scarcely redundant, and if they were omitted it might be said that the President would have to prescribe conditions and limitations in every case. The words might be retained."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 35 (now 36).

168. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that for clause 35 (now 36) the following be substituted, namely:—

35. When an official representation, as hereinafter mentioned, is made to the Board that, within certain limits where this Act is in force, either—

(1) any buildings used, or intended or likely to be used, for human habitation are unfit for human habitation, or

(2) the narrowness, closeness and bad arrangement, or the bad condition, of the streets and buildings, or groups of buildings, within such limits, or the want of light, air, ventilation or proper conveniences, or any other sanitary defects, or one or more of such causes, are dangerous or injurious to the health of the inhabitants, either of the buildings within the area of such limits, or of the neighbouring buildings; and that the evils connected with such buildings and the sanitary defects in such area cannot be effectually remedied otherwise than by an improvement scheme for the rearrangement and reconstruction of the streets and buildings within such area, or of some such streets or buildings;

the Board shall take such representation into their consideration, and, if satisfied of the truth thereof, and of the sufficiency of their resources, shall pass a resolution to the effect that such area is an unhealthy area, and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of such area; and, after passing such resolution, they shall forthwith proceed to make a scheme for the improvement of such area.

He said:—

"This is an important clause. There are no less than 44 amendments on the list of business in connection with this section. There is no doubt that this section is of the most vital importance. If I may be permitted to say so, it is the important section in the whole Bill. It lays down rules as to when, why and wherefore an improvement scheme for the whole of Calcutta or any part of it can be framed by the Board. While it is necessary to give the Board ample powers to deal with the evil of insanitation, it is equally necessary to see that no arbitrary power is vested in the Board, causing inconvenience, hardship and loss to the residents. The Bill as introduced in the Council followed the Bombay Act except in one or two particulars. But as it has emerged from the Select Committee, changes of far-reaching character have been made.

"My submission is that we should follow the Bombay Improvement Act in this connection, and the amendment standing in my name follows the language of the Bombay Act almost word for word. It is significant, that in the Bombay Council, I find from the printed proceedings of that Council, that section 23, corresponding to section 35 (now 36) of the present Bill, was passed without a division and no amendment was suggested by any of the members of the Council. I am not aware of the reason as to why the Bombay law, on which the present Bill is mainly based, is not adopted in this instance. In the report of the Select Committee we find at page 3, a statement that the wording of this clause has been modified so as to bring the procedure more definitely into accord with that prescribed in the corresponding sections of the English Act. I understand that the wording of this Bill is inconsistent with the English Act in important particulars. But whether this is so or not, my submission is that we have not been told of any satisfactory reason as to why we should give up the Bombay Act and travel beyond the seas to find out a suitable procedure for our guidance.

"Now, comparing clause 35 (now 36) of our Bill with the corresponding section 23 of the Bombay Act, I hope it will be conceded that, so far as the language is concerned, the Bombay Act has an advantage over our Bill. Our clause is very loosely worded: for instance, if the Board is authorized to act either on official representation or on its own initiative, the words 'whether upon an official representation made under clause 36 (now 37) or without such representation,' in paragraph 1 of the clause, seem to be wholly unnecessary. It would have been sufficient to say, 'whenever it appears to the Board, etc., etc.'

"Then the paraphrase or splitting up of sub-section (2) of the Bombay Act into clause (b) and its three sub-clauses in the present Bill, hardly seem to have improved matters.

"Coming to the substantial changes made in this section of the Bill, it appears that our Bill varies considerably from the principles of the Bombay Act. I shall briefly indicate them here.

"In the first place, while in the Bombay Act the Board can take action only on official representation, here the Board can act irrespective of such representation. Secondly, our section provides that if a general improvement scheme is the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evils, action can be taken, whereas the Bombay Act provides that action can only be taken if the defect cannot be effectually remedied otherwise than by an improvement scheme. Thirdly, our section does not provide that the Board has to be satisfied of the truth of the representation, as the Bombay Act provides. Fourthly, there is not a word in our Act as to the Board being satisfied of the sufficiency of its own sources before framing any scheme. The Bombay Act makes it a condition precedent to the framing of a general improvement scheme by the Board. Fifthly, clause 35 (now 36) does not make it obligatory on the Board to pass a resolution and frame a scheme if all these conditions exist, but simply gives it discretionary power to do so or not, as it may choose. The Bombay Act, on the contrary, provides that if these conditions subsist, the Board shall be bound to frame a scheme.

"I shall briefly deal with these differences of principles between the Bombay Act and our own, one by one.

"Firstly, here the Board is authorized to act on its own initiative without an official representation. This means larger and more extensive powers to the Board. May I ask what machinery the Board will have to enable it to take the initiative? There is no indication of any such machinery at least in the Bill. Is it not necessary that the Board should move only on the representation of some responsible body or person, who have knowledge of the conditions of Calcutta? But no; the Board must be clothed with extensive powers and, therefore, it is necessary that they may take action on their own initiative.

"The second point of difference between the Bombay Act and our Bill is still more astounding. In Bombay, the general improvement scheme can only be made if there is no other effectual way of dealing with the evil; here the improvement scheme may be made if it is the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evil. There is a good deal of difference between the two. In the one case, that is at Bombay the general scheme will be adopted as a last resort where all other remedies fail. Here the general scheme will be adopted perhaps in each and every case. For who can deny that a general improvement scheme will in all cases be the best method of dealing with the evil? Demolish all the houses, widen all the streets, and start a new city altogether,—a beautiful city, of course, and deal with the evil for good and for ever. This will certainly be 'the most satisfactory method.' But that is not what is wanted. You have to take things as they are. If there be no other effective method of dealing with the evil, make a general improvement scheme by all means; but do not empower this body with absolute powers to make a scheme if and when such body choose to do so.

"The third point of difference is that, while the Bombay Act lays down that the Board must be satisfied of the truth of the representation, the present clause does away with it altogether. Of course, this is in consonance with the nature of the power intended to be bestowed on the Board. They need not take the trouble to satisfy themselves with anything; they need not make any inquiry; they need not act on the representation of any person; they must have absolute and arbitrary powers, unfettered by any restrictions. The next point of difference is that, while the Bombay Act lays down that the Board must be satisfied as to its resources before taking any action, our Board need not be hampered with any such considerations They must be free. Whether they have funds or not, they have the discretion to frame a scheme all the same and leave the taxpayers to find out the funds.

"Fifthly, while in Bombay the Board is bound to make a scheme when all these conditions exists, here it is optional with the Board to make a scheme or not, even if the condition of any part of the town is very bad. Truly, this is also in consonance with the general tenor of the section. An autocrat must not be told by the legislature that he shall do this or that. He must be told with all due deference that he has the power, but he is not bound to do it.

"Sir, I have sufficiently indicated that the changes that have been made in this Bill, as compared with the Bombay Act, have all the tendency to clothe the Board with absolute and arbitrary powers, unfettered by any consideration, however weighty it may be. I submit it is hardly fair, and the Council, I hope, will not allow this clause to be passed without material alterations.

"My suggestion is to follow the Bombay Act. We have heard it mentioned off and on that what is good for Bombay is good for Calcutta. All right. If it is so, then why not adopt section 33 of the Bombay Act in this connection in its entirety—why do away with the conditions and restrictions that are in force in Bombay?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir—The fact that there are forty amendments to this clause will draw the attention of the Council to the fact that it is one of the important clauses of the Bill. Up to the present, this morning we have been considering the details of the manner in which the Trust is to carry on its duties. We now come to a certain clause which lays down the work which the Trust is to perform. The Hon'ble Member in moving that his clause should be inserted in the Bill in the form in which it exists in the Bombay Act, has raised six questions which are all covered in greater detail by amendments which are on the paper and which are to be subsequently considered. I will therefore content myself on this omnibus amendment with giving the general arguments which I think justify the general shape which the clause has taken in the Bill, and I will go into greater details when the more detailed amendments are moved.

"There is first the most important difference between the clause in the Calcutta Bill and that in the Bombay Act. By the clause, as it stands in the Calcutta Bill, the Trust will have power to take action in regard to insanitary areas and to prepare general improvement schemes for such areas without receiving an official representation. Although I anticipate that there will be considerable discussion on this provision, yet it seems to me one of the most trifling importance. For we must consider the work that has been performed by the Bombay Trust and the work which is to be performed by the Calcutta Improvement Trust. Calcutta is suffering from two maladies: it is cramped, and there are no means of access to suburbs There are no channels for the circulation of the population. One of the principal works of the Trust will be to remedy that evil and to provide a cure for that malady. The Trust is to provide main thoroughfares which will render rapid transit possible, and will enable the population to spread over a greater area than it occupies at present, thereby removing congestion and overcrowding. But besides these, there are certain plague-spots, certain unhealthy areas which need to be excised, and clause 35 (now 36) is the clause which gives the Trust the power to deal with the areas in which insanitary conditions exist in an aggravated form. No one has suggested that the Trust should be debarred from taking action under clause 38 (now 39), which is the clause which enables it to prepare street schemes without receiving any official representation. For is not there a corresponding power in section 30 of the Bombay Act, which is the section that enables the Bombay Trust to prepare street schemes? Street schemes that have been prepared in Bombay—for instance, Princess Street and Sandhurst Road—have, of course, been works of greater magnitude than any of the useful improvement schemes which that Trust had carried into effect with respect to insanitary areas on receipt of official representation. I do not think, therefore, that any one can apprehend that excessive power is rashly put into the hands of the Trust, because, as the clause stands, the Trust may undertake any scheme without official representation. If the Trust can run a hundred feet road, say, from Bagbazar to Chowringhee, without any official representation or application from any one, surely there is no very special or insidious danger in giving the Trust the power of making improvements in small areas, the sanitary conditions of which are deplorable. It is true that the Bombay Act provides for official representation as being necessary before the Trust can take up small and minor schemes of improvement, but surely the objects of the clause and the corresponding clause in the English Act, as well as of the clause standing in this Bill, are not to restrain the Trust from doing any work. The whole object of that legislation is to compel dilatory public bodies to take action in certain cases. It is a very valuable power. The Bombay Trust had no staff, when it started work, who were acquainted with the sanitary condition of Bombay, as the Corporation was with its staff of health officers and sanitary officers. It was therefore quite right and natural that the Corporation should have power to bring to the notice of the Trust insanitary conditions in certain areas and should have the power to insist on a remedy being applied. It is, on the other hand, clear that that there will be no authority so competent as the Calcutta Trust to deal with the greater schemes of rapid transit, and development of building areas which will deal with Calcutta and its suburbs as a whole. There is no other one authority which covers the whole area. This is the reason why no official representation is called for in such cases. But in regard to unhealthy areas regarding which the Calcutta Corporation has the best means of information, the Corporation will have power to make official representations, and if it rejects them, the Trust will have to give reasons for such rejection. I cannot conceive what harm there is in allowing the Trust this power, when it would in any case be open to the Trust under clause 38 (now 39) to call any work an improvement scheme and carry it out.

"The Hon'ble Member takes exception to the words 'most satisfactory method of dealing with evils,' and asks that we should adopt the wording of the English law as it is reproduced in the Bombay Act The English law has been amended since the Bombay Act was passed, and we, following the English examples, have adopted the words which now stand in the English law. There is clearly good reason for a change. It is obviously difficult to say that the evils connected with an insanitary area cannot be effectually remedied expect by an improvement scheme. A general conflagration, for instance, might be a very effectual remedy. The words, as they stand, seem to me to express exactly what the duties of the Trust will be. Before proceeding to frame a general improvement scheme, the Trust is to be satisfied that the conditions of the area are seriously insanitary, that a general reconsideration is necessary, and that the work is beyond the capacity of individual owners.

"Then the Hon'ble Member suggests that the Trust, after recieving the official representation, shall pass a resolution and proceed to make an improvement scheme. That he will find provided for in the subsequent clauses of the Bill which lay down the duty of the Trust in respect of official representations. It is true that in this clause there is no specific mention that the Trust must be satisfied as to the sufficiency of its funds. But it is, of course, understood that the Trust will not undertake to prepare of its own motion any general improvement scheme, unless it is satisfied that it has means to carry it out It will, of course, also inform the Corporation if, for want of funds, it rejects any of their official representations. It is also true that this clause does not provide that it is obligatory for the Board to pass a resolution when an improvement scheme is to be prepared. But it is provided for in the subsequent clauses dealing with official representations. It will have to give its reasons to the Corporation if it rejects its representation, and the Trust cannot do that unless the Trustees are satisfied as to the reasons of such rejection.

"This is my general answer to this general amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur. I cannot recommend the Council to accept it. The Bombay Act refers to a condition of affairs which does not exist here. For one thing, it was right that the Bombay Corporation should have a large voice in the Bombay Trust, for it was paying for the whole work of the Trust with the exception of such profits as the Trust was able to make by developing certain Government lands. Seeing, therefore, that the Corporation was paying the piper, it was very natural that it should have a large power for calling the tune. But, as I pointed out, it is only in cases of houses and buildings that the Trust has no discretion. In all other respects it has an absolute and unfettered discretion. And what is the official representation in Bombay? The following have the power to make official representations in Bombay:—First, the Commissioner, who is an officer appointed by Government; secondly, the Municipal Health Officer; thirdly, the Justices of the Peace; and fourthly, 12 or more persons residing in a ward, and all except the first must do it through the Commissioner. These are very large powers, and it was to the interest of the public that, if some plague-spots were to be removed and wiped away, there have been no difficulties in getting official representations. I do not suppose that the debate on this clause will be finished if this amendment is rejected. But this amendment ought to be rejected, because a considerable part of it is obsolete or relates to a state of affairs which exists in Bombay, but which does not exist in Calcutta."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Your Honour?—We have only just now heard the first explanation or declaration of the policy on the part of Government in connection with this Bill. There was a statement made at the first reading by the Hon'ble Member who introduced the Bill. It was clear with regard to the finances but bare in other respects. But if the principles upon which the Government were going to proceed had been indicated, when the Bill was referred to the Select Committee, which answers to the second reading of a Bill, in the House of Commons, when the principles of a Bill are discussed, it would have been a very great advantage indeed. It would have helped me to try to shape this Bill on altogether different lines. It now is the first occasion when we have heard this idea of action to be taken under clause 35 (now 36) minimised in the way we now hear, and that the whole effort is really to be in connection with street schemes: that makes a very great difference in the whole scope of action that is to be undertaken, but how does it compare with the powers that have been reserved under clause 35 (now 36)?

"It is in consequence of the very wide powers, conferred under that clause, that anxiety has been created. Before, we used to heard of the plague-spots of Calcutta and the necessity of having those cleared away. And also in communications, such as have been available to us from the Government of India to the Secretary of State, there has been stress laid on the action that has to be taken in order to have large clearances made. But now we are told that the Board will operate on a small scale only on such schemes.

"Sir, the Hon'ble Member has reserved his remarks for a later occasion to discuss in detail the various points embraced in this amendment, and it is not difficult to foresee what the result of this amendment will be, when such a declaration is made on behalf of the Government. The Bombay Act is closely modelled on the English Act, and this present clause is very widely different from the Bombay Act and consequently from the English Act. What we now are really endeavouring to do is to assimilate our procedure to the English Act.

"In my anxiety to submit material readily available, I have ventured, in anticipation of our meeting in Council to day, to publish a statement that will enable Hon'ble Members as well to grasp the scope of the section of the English Statute on which this clause purports to be modelled, as to follow the comparisons with the English law, which I think is essential to understand the amendments to this clause which are proposed.

"I can safely say, so far as that statement has gone, that it is a strictly accurate presentment of the conditions which prevail in England on the questions in issue. And I appeal to you, Sir, whether I could show greater confidence in the propriety of our proposals, than that I should ask that those proposals should be thoroughly well understood and tested, in comparison with the English law, from which our inspiration for this Bill is drawn.

'The wording of this clause has been modified so as to bring the procedure more definitely into accord with that prescribed in the corresponding sections of the English Acts.'

"These words are taken from the Select Committee's Report, and I invite Hon'ble Members to see how far the standard that Committee has set up has been reached.

"At the outset I venture to ask attention to section 4 of the Housing Act of 1890, which I have set out in my statement already before the Council. It will be seen, that under English law, local authorities carry that Act into effect,—a local authority meaning, in general terms, the Corporation charged with the municipal administration of the locality in which the area proposed to be dealt with is situated. They are permitted to entertain a question of an unhealthy area, only if an official representation is received for that purpose, which means, as I have explained in my statement already published, that expert medical opinion in its support is a condition precedent to the consideration by the local authority of the question whether or not an area is an unhealthy area; the area, be it noted, being a 'certain' area, or, as it appears in the Bombay Act, an area 'within certain limits' in the City. And consequent upon that issue, whether an improvement scheme should be framed.

"We find also a mandate to the local authority that they shall consider such official representation, and in the first instance satisfy themselves of its truth and of the sufficiency of their resources, and if they are so satisfied, then they must proceed to an improvement scheme. And the instructions that are given with regard to their future conduct, are equally peremptory. This is the procedure in England. It would be difficult to see a likeness to any of the clauses of this Bill. And our aim is nothing more outrageous than to assimilate our clauses to the English law.

"This Bill, similar to the law in England, attacks private rights in an extraordinary degree. It gives power to depopulate a large area, and to dispossess owners of land in that area. I by no means desire to impugn the policy of the Bill in that respect, a policy with which I entirely agree. I only seek an examination of the conditions under which effect should be given to that policy.

"The Hon'ble Member's amendment proposes no new matter. So far as it goes, it is taken, as I have indicated, bodily from the Bombay Act. If it is accepted, I shall be content. If, however, it is not desired to substitute this section of the Bombay Act in its entirety, we shall endeavour to adapt the clause in the Bill, as it stands, to the English law. Our aim is exactly the same as that expressed in the Select Committee's Report, 'to bring the procedure more definitely into accord with that prescribed in the corresponding sections of the English Acts.'

"Sir, if official representations are not required for such matters owing to the trifling character of the Board's operations, then my labours in the latter stage of this discussion will be lightened, because there is not the same intention apparently for the adoption of these large clearance schemes, as we were led to believe.

"If that is so, I do not understand, as I before have said, why such very wide powers have been reserved. I will not now speak further on the question, as we have been promised a more detailed discussion later, but I have thought it necessary to make those observations at once with reference to what has been proposed."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The result of the division was, ayes 18, noes 30, and the motion was therefore lost.

169. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din moved that the words "Upon the Board being satisfied, on due and proper inquiry" be substituted for the words "Whenever it appears to the Board", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36).

He said:—

"Your Honour,—The amendment which I now propose to move is, though simple, yet very important. I wish to substitute the words 'Upon the Board being satisfied on due and proper inquiry' in place of 'Whenever it appears to the Board.' The clause, as it now stands, gives a very wide power to the Board without any restriction limitation, or reservation.

"Before the Board takes any action to declare any particular locality or area as unhealthy, the Board should be satisfied, after making due and proper inquiry, whether, as a matter of fact, such conditions as are laid down in sub-clauses (a) and (b) do or do not exist. This restriction is more necessary because power has been given to the Board to take action under clause 35 (now 36), even without any official representation. The word 'appears', in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36), does not necessarily indicate the idea of making previous inquiry, and if the intention of the legislators be that the Board will have to make an inquiry and will have to be satisfied before taking an action under this clause, then why do you not express that intention in express words? I do not think that any harm will be done by the amendment. Under the Bombay Act the Board has got a right to take similar action only upon official representation, but under the present Bill the Board is going to get wider and more extensive powers, and therefore it is necessary to safeguard against the abuse of power of taking action without first being satisfied of the necessity of such action Hence I would propose that the words 'upon the Board being satisfied on due and proper inquiry' be substituted for the words 'whenever it appears to the Board' in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36)."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

" Sir, —I cannot recommend this amendment to be accepted. The Hon'ble Member says that it does no harm, but I submit that the burden of proof is on him to show that it does good. The Board will surely not undertake any work without due and proper inquiry. I believe you will gain nothing by putting in these words."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

" Your Honour sees how matters stand here. There is now a group of amendments for ' a due and proper inquiry. ' Then there is a group of amendments to omit ' without such representation '; then comes my amendment which includes ' due and proper inquiry ', and also the omission of ' without such representation ', with a third element in it, which is not in any of these, that it should be ' within a certain area only '. The first of these amendments is ' upon the Board being satisfied, on due and proper inquiry. ' I do not know, Sir, whether I may follow afterwards, on my own amendments, because we are taking my amendments in detail but omitting the third head of my amendment. My three amendments are :—' due and proper inquiry ', ' omission of the proper representation', and the third one ' within a certain area only '. "

The PRESIDENT said :—

" I think the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar desires that it would be considered as a whole, even though the various parts have been negatived. "

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"What I propose to do, Sir, is that, inasmuch as these two groups of amendments are included in mine, to deal with them separately as they come up. Now, with regard to this ' due and proper inquiry ', it may be convenient to Your Honour and the Council to take them separately in that way, because I do not agree that this question, as has been suggested by the Hon'ble Member in charge, is of no moment. I submit that it is positively necessary, for reasons I shall state, that it would be a harmful thing for us if this broad question of ' due and proper inquiry ' was not included as a direction of law in the Bill itself. I am afraid I am not ready yet to accept the light air with which Hon'ble Member in charge treats this question. On the contrary, I think that this is a serious matter of great importance. The term ' Improvement Scheme' has now obtained a definite and recognised meaning, if not a technical meaning. All the books that we have at our hands, that refer to the subject of ' Improvement Scheme', refer to it as large schemes. There are other schemes in which other methods are employed of a less drastic nature, but none of these can be used under this Bill. Therefore, when there are such great powers included in this Bill in connection with these Improvement Schemes, and there is no alternative allowed, then, Sir, we should be wanting in proper appreciation of our duty if we do not treat this matter seriously.

"This clause will introduce a law which is strange to us and, in my humble judgment, is the most important in the Bill. We now are discussing an amendment, and we are approaching the discussion of other amendments of the highest importance. And the fate of Calcutta will depend on the spirit in which these amendments will be considered by the Government representatives. It will now be decided whether we shall take proper advantage of the careful investigation that was started in England so far back as in the year 1842, and the experience that has been collected by men who have become experts in the question, out of which has been evolved the present law in England ; or, we are to plunge into a law for which we have no authority and no precedent. The Government representatives will not, I trust, fail to appreciate that there is criticism which is the outcome of conviction and is the honest contribution of those who have a common object in view, and the desire to secure in the best possible way the common end, and will not class it all as dictated by an endeavour to grasp sordid gain or dictated by political rancour.

"I confidently can say that the amendments that are before us will not in any degree destroy the efficacy or the stringency of the law in its operation. On the contrary, they will improve the Act. I submit not only that the proposals are fair, but I go further to say that it would be unfair if action were permitted to be taken contrary to the principles of those proposals and in accordance with all that would be permissible under the clause in its present form. I crave the indulgence of Hon'ble Members in my endeavour to deal with these amendments, as they come up for discussion, with the close attention which I think the circumstances demand. The consequences, if this clause is passed as it stands, will, I am convinced, be so grave and unexpected that I earnestly ask Your Honour and this Council seriously to consider what I have to say, because it is my belief that the difficulties to which I shall refer have not been realised.

"It has been forcibly represented to me by citizens of Calcutta, with knowledge of public affairs and in what manner public business should be conducted, that the Board will transact their business with closed doors. We do not know who the Trustees will be, and what the conception of the majority of them of the conduct of public business; or how they will perform their duties I think there is substance in these representations, and I take the responsibility of submitting them to this Council.

"I venture to urge that it would be advisable to enact express direction that the Board shall make due and proper inquiry. If for no other reason, let me urge that it be inserted, as at least an ever-present guide, to remind all the members of the Board of what is necessary in their conduct of proceedings.

"And if it is intended or assumed that there shall be a proper inquiry, as I hope is the case, by all the Hon'ble Members of the Council, then, Sir, what objection can there be to express such intention? It would be only in the order of things—and my honourable and learned friend, I feel sure, will agree—to express in words the intention of the legislature, because whatever our assumptions are, whatever our á priori explanations of our meaning of a section, when a certain intention is not expressed, then it may be taken as if that intention did not exist. I, of course, am aware of the contention that the Board of Trustees will be so constituted and so select that they may be relied upon to conduct their proceedings on strictly correct principles. But, I submit, legislation on a subject such as is before us should not proceed on these lines. It might be said, certainly with no less reason, that the Corporations in England and the Local Government Board might be depended upon to act properly; yet we have seen in our present discussions, express instructions of an imperative nature to control their proceedings and actions have been found necessary by the British Parliament to be included in their Statutes. It is important always to bear in mind that, although enormously increased powers have been extended to the Local Government Board, there has never been any wavering in the policy of controlling and directing that body, by express statutory enactment, in questions leading up to, a declaration of an unhealthy area, and by so much as the increase of powers in other directions has been extended, there is a corresponding degree of emphasis in the obligations created by Statute being continued in connection with all questions relating to an unhealthy area. It can hardly therefore be deemed derogatory or unnecessary to insert in this clause that the Improvement Board shall make due and proper inquiry in respect of the question now in issue.

"To give extensive powers to and depend on the individuals who may constitute a statutory body to do all that is right and proper, and regard express directions and instructions for procedure as superfluous, is an alluring theory but dangerous to put into practice. Actual experience has shown that, given a carefully constituted body and even express instructions to make due inquiry, there has been failure. I will give one instance. The General Committee of the Calcutta Corporation was conceived to form, under the present Municipal Act, a co-ordinate authority in the municipality, to whom large powers were to be transferred from the Corporation who were exercising them. There was every incentive to Government, in order to vindicate their policy and justify the revolutionary changes that were contemplated, to devise a most highly efficient working executive body, and they had free scope in modelling the General Committee.

"They gave us a specially selected Government officer as President, a carefully chosen group of four members to be appointed by the Government, four other members to be elected by Government nominees, and those returned as commissioners by constituents such as the Port Trust, Chamber of Commerce and Trades Association, with only four representatives of the humble ward commissioners, who therefore were in a standing minority of nine to four. I shall not go through a catalogue of the doings of the General Committee, but confine myself to an illustration of one class of cases only, which is strictly in point in the present issue. Under section 441 of the Municipal Act, it is expressly directed that they shall take action after due inquiry Nevertheless, even with the express direction for due inquiry, such inquiry has been omitted, as will appear in reported cases in our Law Reports: how many others there may be, I know not. It must not be supposed that I aim at an object so fantastic as, by legislation, to confer a perfect discretion on any body of persons, failing which they will be liable in a court of law. Whether the Board will exercise their discretion rightly or wrongly is a question apart. The words I seek to insert will not affect any such issue. If only the Board exercise their discretion, that is all that will be wanted, and no court of law would intervene But I submit that we may fairly and urgently press that there shall be included a provision of an imperative character to impose an obligation on the Board to make proper inquiry before proceeding to frame an improvement scheme. If, after they have duly considered the question, they decide in favour of it, my amendment will not give the public any right to appeal to the Law Courts. If, on the other hand, they in fact have neglected to conform to a course of conduct that, we must all admit, obviously is right and proper, then and then only will the public have an opportunity of redress from the court, which, without the provision I seek to include, they would be without; and a peremptory direction to consider the question is not unknown in the Bill itself. It is found in clause 37 (now 38), but it does not improve the position of difficulty to which I am drawing attention.

"In that clause we have the direction that the Board shall consider every official representation made to them—but with what intent? To decide, after a declaration has been made that an area is an unhealthy area, whether a general improvement scheme shall be framed forthwith or not. The point for consideration then appears to be, at what period of time an improvement scheme is to be framed, whether forthwith or not.

"And it is interesting to observe that in the original Bill, as referred to the Select Committee, the Board was expressly required, before taking any action, to be satisfied as to the truth of such representation and as to the sufficiency of the resources to carry it into effect—a provision, Your Honour will recall, taken verbatim from the English Statute, and this also had reference only to an official representation. It has completely disappeared from the Bill. It leads to the supposition that the original scope of the Bill was to allow only official representations, and the additions that now are included may have been made without careful examination of the various questions that are involved. Whatever the causes, the result is that there are directions with regard to one issue, which are omitted with regard to others so closely connected with it as to give ground for serious argument that the Board are free from all obligations to inquire or consider, in all questions in this connection, any matter other than where has been an official representation. And it may be argued that it indicates a policy of uncontrolled action, intended to be conferred on the Board, which I hope and believe is not our real intention. Omissions and variations of words frequently have, as I am confident my honourable and learned friend will bear me out, a result never anticipated by the legislature.

"Sir, I think that this is a question of the greatest importance, and if there is an intention to make 'due and proper inquiry', as there is in England, that matter shall be considered, I submit to Your Honour and this Council that the insertion of these terms is necessary, and that the amendment should be accepted."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Sir,—In the first place, we have in the present scheme done away with official representation. My hon'ble friend, the Member in charge of the Bill says that it has been so done for a very definite and clear purpose, namely, that it may be necessary for the Trustees themselves to take action, and they could not very well take action if they had to wait until an official representation was made to them. Then there is one consideration which my friend seems to omit in this connection. When an official representation is made, it is not a representation for improvement which emanates from the Trustees themselves."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"May I rise to a point of order, Sir? I submit it is very desirable that we should confine our observations to the amendment before us. It seems unwise to divert the attention of the Council to Town Planning schemes. It has got nothing to do with Improvement Schemes."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"I was trying to show the necessity of this clause by putting before the Council when the other safeguards have now been taken away. One of the safeguards is that the Board should be moved only upon the representation of the third party. If the Board proceeds of its own motion, where is the body which will protect the people from the Board? In England, when a Town Planning scheme is framed, if there is any objection it has to get the sanction of Parliament. If my friend will look at page 229 of Allan's Book on Housing, he will see the whole procedure is laid down there.

"But as I say your Bill is so framed that it is such a beautiful jumble of various things that you cannot distinguish one part of the scheme from another. I throw the challenge directly and boldly that, in Chapter III, you have in your excessive zeal for importing into Calcutta all the latest measures of legislation in England about matters of town planning, confounded and confused the whole procedure and made such a wonderful and beautiful jumble that not only I was unable to extract any sense out of it, but I laid your proposals before the highest experts in England. and they were simply aghast to find that is the way things are done in India. My hon'ble friend says that it is not town planning; then what it is, when you are driving a road from Bara Bazar to Chitpur in order to give relief to congested areas? What it is when you are opening squares in thickly populated bustees? It is not only that you are dealing with insanitary areas, but you are dealing with the question of town planning and of the housing of the poor; and here you have not only the housing of the poor but also of the persons displaced. You are going to provide for the housing of the people generally, so that in Chapter III you have got improvements of insanitary bustees, you have got town planning, you have got housing of the poor, for, all these purposes you have put down under one Chapter, which makes it excessively difficult to say as to what the procedure would actually be adopted when these things get on, and thereby you have obscured the real issues. In England compensation and other things are not allowed under certain conditions. They treat these questions separately. Here all these questions are treated together and remedies which ought to apply are being applied to all the parts, and, therefore, we say that having done away with all the safeguards which are considered necessary and essential even in your own country in England,—where people are much better able to protect their own rights and where these things are put into operation by men who have made a special study of the subject, men who are experienced and well trained in these matters, whose judgment always commands confidence, who know how to deal with men and things, where amongst the homogeneous population there is no divergence between those who are affected and those who have got the carrying out of these operations,—they have thought fit and desirable to provide safeguards against the abuse of powers. Here what is the safeguard that you have provided? You yourself conceive that a scheme should be framed. You publish that scheme, you call for objections and you yourself decide. Well, I know that there is a strong feeling in India that one who starts the prosecution should carry it out and should see the man accused, convicted and put in jail. But I believe this is a feeling which is not very generally shared. I ask you if you say that you want to work this Act in a spirit which will command public confidence. What is the procedure you have described that you will follow, that you will command public confidence? Supposing, I say, that there is a large scheme which ought not to be carried through, then who is to decide? You decide. If it were the Corporation which started it and it came to you, well, then, you would decide between him and the Corporation. Who is to decide between you and him? You will decide. Well, that may be your idea of fairness, but it is not anywhere else outside this Council Chamber. Therefore, we say that before we do things we must lay down the statutory injunction that it should be properly and carefully made. You have excluded from your body, deliberately and wilfully, men who will be seriously affected by your operations, because you say they are in the position of accused persons in the trial, and you yourself are formulating these schemes and you decide them. Do you mean to say that the statutory obligation of having due and proper inquiry will be followed? Well, gentlemen, there are certain limitations which a sense of duty imposes upon men who have got to do certain work, but you know that in the past—I speak with no sense of disparagement—in the history of your own service, there have been cases where eminent persons have abused their powers. We know that even in the present day the High Court daily interferes in the interests of persons who come before it, where the personal zeal of the officer is likely to override the provisions of the law. You cannot deny that, and, therefore, what is there to prevent an abuse of authority—not only an abuse but, I say, a negligent use of authority? Why should you object to due and proper inquiry? You have, as I said, done away with all safeguards which prevail in other countries. Therefore, I feel it my duty to support this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"Possibly owing to the fact that there are a number of amendments to this Chapter, the discussion tends to roam somewhat promiscuously over clauses which are in no sense at present before the Council, and I do not propose to follow the Hon'ble Member in his disquisitions on parts of this chapter with which the Council is not now concerned, or on matters which are not even remotely concerned with the improvement of Calcutta. The amendment is that the words 'upon the Board being satisfied, on due and proper inquiry' be substituted for the words, 'whenever it appears to the Board', and the point is whether it is necessary to safeguard the Act by that insertion. The Hon'ble Mover, as I understand, more or less says that it would not make much difference one way or the other, and the only concrete example that the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has given shows that the insertion of the words had not the slightest effect in restraining the overbearing conduct of the General Committee of the Corporation. I, therefore, submit, Sir, that that supports the argument put forward by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, that these words are in no sense necessary. All these provisions which safeguard the interests of the public, occur at a later stage, when an Improvement Scheme has been framed—vide clause 42 (now 43)—and under clause 46 (now 47) the whole matter finally comes before the Local Government who then again considers it. This should be sufficient to prevent any undesirable scheme going through, and I would oppose this amendment on the ground that it is unnecessary."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Your Honour,—I desire to associate myself with the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment now before the Council. What has just fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler would be reason enough for adopting the amendment, if others were wanting. We have the fact and the phenomenon that, although safeguarding words like those that we seek to introduce in this Bill are present in the Municipal Act, they have committed an irregularity to which the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has referred, and have committed it with impunity. If cases of commission with impunity were multiplied, as have no doubt they could be on proper inquiry, would the case for the insertion of a safeguard like this be strengthened or weakened? If, with the existence of words like these on the Statute Book, an omission like this is possible, let us imagine for one moment what would be the state of things without it. We have been told by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas that if a body constituted like this was to do anything without what to them appeared to be due on proper inquiry, they would be hardly worth having. I am not following the Hon'ble Member exactly in his own phraseology, but that is what it comes in effect to. He would leave it to their good sense and discretion. Sir, good sense and discretion do not happen to be a monopoly of Boards like that which is to be constituted under the clauses that we have already carried in this Council. Eloquent reference has been made by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to cases where, in spite of such safeguards, good sense and discretion have been wanting—it may not be very often but painfully often enough. Those from whom we are borrowing these provisions on a somewhat unscientific and irregular method to suit our present purposes, may be credited with some of that good sense and discretion. We are, therefore, entitled to refer more at length than has been done already to those sections in the English Act, which are the basis and foundation of the present clauses. Reference has been made to section 4 of the Housing Act of 1890. My hon'ble friend has read from a book of Allan, an authority on this question, showing exactly how the matter stands in England, and if I may refer to another standard work of the same author, in which he comments on and summarises some of the sections of this now well-known Act, we find his comments on this section as follows :—

'Sections 4 and 5 provide that, where an official representation is made by a Medical Officer of Health that certain areas are unhealthy and that an Improvement Scheme should be made, the local authority shall, if satisfied by the fact, proceed to make such a scheme.'

"Great stress has deservedly been put upon the clauses that the local authority, if satisfied of the fact, will proceed to make such a scheme. I need not trouble the Council with regard to other extraneous matters which this commentary views, but the comment proceeds to say that if the local authority did not make such a scheme, they must send the notification to the Local Government Board which is the confirming authority and which may direct a local medical officer to inquire. Something analogous to that is now provided for later on in our Act, and the local confirming authority, which is the Local Government Board in England, would be here the Local Government, I take it. Then, it says that if a representation affects more than 10 houses, the matter is to be treated under a different section. If we refer to section 8 of the same Act, to which reference has not yet been made, we find that, after receiving the report made upon such inquiry, the confirming authority may make a provisional order declaring the area comprised in a scheme and authorising such a scheme to be carried into execution. Now, we have the inquiry, and we have the report when the matter comes up before the confirming authority. Those would be materials exactly upon which they could invoke the powers that the statute is going to endow it with. If there is no inquiry, statutory I may say, which would furnish materials upon which the subsequent action of the confirming authority would proceed, how are they to proceed at all? Excepting the report of the local authority, which would be the Trustees in this case, what would be there to show that a certain thing appears to them in the wording of the clause that we are now criticising? Sir, it is a truism 'necessary' that bad law makes bad administration. We have been repeatedly told that, unless an intention is clearly expressed or is it to be expressed by implication, it cannot be insisted on that is a reason why we are anxious that the materials upon which the Trustees are to express their satisfaction that a certain scheme is necessary, should be available for the purposes of the confirming authorities, and that would be impossible unless there is a statutory insistence that there should be due and proper inquiry. Supposing there was need, as I hope and trust, there will be, in connection with the Trust Act at all events, to take the municipality before the proper Court which, in spite of the words in the Statute Book, did not do the right thing, what would be the result in the absence of the provision for that due and proper inquiry? Its absence would at once nullify that particular scheme, and it would be clear ground for interference, both by the confirming authority as well as by the Courts whose jurisdiction no Improvement Bill will take away under any circumstances. The belief is that the state of things with regard to the lower executive is so poor in this country that those responsible for the Act do not like to leave things to chance. There is nothing singular in this, nor is the phenomenon confined to this country. It was emphasised in St. Stephen when the Working Men's Housing Act was passing through Parliament. One of the Hon'ble Members speaking on the Bill had occasion to say: 'It frequently happens in this country that those who are the first men to start an inquiry under the Acts were the very persons who were largely interested in the maintenance of the Statute. We have observed that in the Bill, before the local authority could act, an official representation had to be made. A man who probably owed his position in the way of personal or private practice among the people, it would be his duty to take the medical officer who had made the representation as to the insanitary condition of any property, however may be his lucrative practice among the people who might be owners of property over whom he ought to be able to exercise some control and which he may be called upon to condemn. There ought to be some provision for putting the law into operation, whether the medical officer of health did his duty or not.' Another Hon'ble Member said on the same occasion that it was doubtful whether the medical officer of a district or county, singly or generally, would be able to take necessary information in some cases. He therefore suggested that there should be power to obtain a report from independent persons appointed by the Local Government Board. 'These are not matters with which we are concerned for our present purposes, and some of these have no doubt been provided in the Bill or will be provided. What I have read may be taken as admitting a part of my argument so far as the case for dealing with those who are vitally interested in that inquiry and the argument stands. You could not rely upon those that are directly and intimately connected with the carrying out of their Trust, whether the reports be from your own officers or reports of officers upon which you think you can act. Sections 4 and 8 insisted not only upon an official representation about which there are other amendments, and I shall not mix them up with the question of due and proper inquiry, whether by independent people or by people connected with the local authority or by the Local Government Board, which have been throughout insisted on in the English Acts, upon the model of which we are supposed to be proceeding to-day. In this state of things I feel bound to ask as to why there should be any objection to due and proper inquiries. The thing looks so unintelligible, I hardly know what to call it; my hon'ble friend suggests the word suspicious, but I shall not adopt the word. The aid of the Local Government may be invoked so far as may possible; the Local Government will be in possession of the facts, of full circumstances and details upon which they could criticise the measure of the Trustees and say whether the particular scheme will be adopted or not. After it is promulgated, and a variety of things that have been referred to in the course of the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler's speech done, it will be too late, and whether there had been a due and proper inquiry or not, ought to be possible to be found from the records of the Trust, and the Government will have to deal with the question on that basis and no other, unless it be on independent inquiry by itself. For these reasons, I think that it is very necessary to insert the words 'due and proper inquiry', and if it is resisted with any degree of strenuousness, I am afraid the impression left upon those, who look to the smooth and proper administration of the Act, will be very harmful indeed."

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT said :—

" Sir,—The terms of the present amendment are so reasonable and modest that I am unable to understand for myself why the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill would not make that small concession. I have no doubt in my mind that the Bill as it stands certainly does provide some necessary safeguards, because, Sir, you will find that the members of the Board will not be able to exercise their powers merely because they wanted, but they will have to be satisfied as to the unfitness of the buildings for human habitation as provided in clause (a). Therefore, as I have said before, I am not prepared to say that the Bill does not provide any necessary safeguard, but it does. But the only question is that if the members and the people, whom this Bill is likely to affect, and if all communities in general ask for a concession—a very reasonable concession, and a concession which I have no doubt the Member in charge will admit—that the introduction and adoption of the amendment will then in no way interfere with its power, because the Act would provide that 'after due and proper inquiry,' it would be a matter for the Trustees to hold and to decide and determine what that proper inquiry would be. Therefore, my submission is that it is such a reasonable request and it is such a reasonable amendment, that its introduction would in no way interfere with the powers of the Trustees. Therefore, as it has been asked, and feelingly asked, by those Members who have brought this matter before you, I hope that the official Members will reasonably vote for this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. PAYNE said :—

" A great deal has been said on this point, but I think after all it is not of such importance as the Members on the other side are led to believe. They seem to think that there is going to be no inquiry at all. The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has clearly pointed out that the inquiry comes at a later stage, that is in clause 46 (now 47). The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has read from the English Act in which there is an exactly similar provision as that in this Bill. It merely says that the local authorities in England must be satisfied. That, I submit, is precisely the same as our wording, which is 'whenever it appears to the Board'. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has referred to section 441 of the Calcutta Municipal Act and has pointed out that that section lays down that there must be an inquiry. But he forgets that that section refers to the improvement of abandoned or waste land, in which the General Committee act at once on their own authority without any further inquiry. If he will refer to section 406 of that Act which deals with matters of far more importance, similar to that which we are now discussing, viz., the improvement of bustees, he will see that there are no provisions for inquiry of this character. It is provided in section 407 that the inquiry is to come afterwards. This is exactly what we have done in this case."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

" Sir,—May I say a few words by way of explanation? My purpose was to show that in section 441 of the Calcutta Municipal Act there is a provision for 'due inquiry.' If there is a provision that due inquiry must be made, then there can be a resort to a Court of Law to enforce that inquiry. But when there is such a provision and we find that it is neglected, what are we to expect when there is no such provision?"

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The result of the division was, ayes 17, noes 29, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

170. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "after due and proper inquiry" be inserted after the words "the Board", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36).

He said:—

"This question has already been fully discussed, and I do not wish to cover the same grounds and waste the time of the Council."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

171. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the word "whether," and the words "or without such a representation", in lines 1 to 3 of clause 35 (now 36), be omitted.

He said:—

"My amendment, Sir, is this; to omit the word 'or without such representation' in clause 35 (now 36). That is, I want to restrict the operations of the Board only to cases coming up to it upon official representation. The Bombay Act, as my hon'ble friend pointed out when replying to the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur, has not got this provision. The English Act has not got this provision. The necessity that my hon'ble friend made out for a provision like this was that the Board would be in a better position to deal with smaller areas when dealing with insanitary neighbourhoods. Well, I believe the Corporation, or at least the officials of the Corporation, the Chairman or the Health Officer, are better conversant with the insanitary areas in Calcutta than a Board which is coming into existence for the first time. We know in the past the Corporation has been subjected to very severe criticisms as composed of men who hardly know their duty, but that again is now a matter of ancient history. The men who did not know their duty have long ceased to be members of Corporation, and the present Corporation has come into existence as the best Corporation that could be devised in India. We have got there representatives of Government in large numbers. We have got there representatives of trades and commerce, and we have got also a reduced representation of the people, so that with the reduced representation of the people and the enhanced representation of officialdom, I do think that that Corporation must be a perfect corporation even in the eyes of the non-officials, and therefore I do not see why there should be any distrust of this officialized Corporation, and more than that, there may be a very great difference between the Corporation and the Board. The Corporation may want certain areas, about which they know well, should be taken in hand. They after all pay the piper and not the Government, as the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has said. When we come to the financial position of this Bill, I shall show that the Corporation have the ultimate responsibility. Why should the Board seek to go above their heads? We may easily ask them to submit to the Board a statement of the insanitary areas in Calcutta which require to be dealt with first and foremost, apart from the considerations which I laid before this Council when dealing with the question of due and proper inquiry. I think these are considerations which ought to weigh with the Council. Do you or do you not trust this Corporation? If you do trust, there is no reason why you should not rely upon representations made from them. If you do not trust them, well, the surest course to create trust, and to remedy the state of things in the Corporation, is to introduce another Bill to create a new Corporation. With the non-official element, this Council will create a perfectly efficient, reliable and trustworthy Corporation, I have no doubt. It may be done in the course of the two months, by the time you put this Bill into operation. I do think that, as it is, it will be conducive to more harmonious working if we not did not proceed upon representations called official representations. Bombay has done that, England and Scotland are doing that, why should Calcutta, admittedly not with the best materials available for the purpose, not do that, because these materials have got to be created? I do not mean to cast any imputation upon yourself, but all of us—even those who are supposed to be able at a moment's notice to take the command of the channel fleet—all of us have got to be instructed, and we lack the experience of Bombay and England. Why should we depart from well-known precedents? I think there is no case made out for it. My hon'ble friend says there may be small areas. Well, he has got the Chairman of the Corporation at his elbow, who can easily give advice as to what sort of areas these are. If you accept the amendment you cease to be looked upon as being personally concerned, the Improvement Trust becomes an authority only between the Corporation and the public, and this secure public confidence. It avoids conflict between the Corporation and the Trust, and it does no harm even to the objects for which, as my hon'ble friend says, these words were thought unnecessary. For these reasons I do humbly venture to put this amendment for the consideration of this Council "

The Hon'ble RAI BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN BAHADUR said:—

" Sir,—I think these four amendments are of the same nature (Nos. 171, 172, 173 and 174), and it would be convenient if they are taken up together. The amendment proposed would have the effect of the initiation of any improvement scheme by the Board on official representation only. It cannot be denied that the Corporation was responsible for the sanitation of the town, and that the sanitary improvements and all improvements of the town fell within the legitimate functions and duties of the Corporation. We do not know why a separate Trust is being created for the improvement of the town when by an amendment of the Municipal Act, with some additional powers being given to the Corporation, the object could have been equally gained. The duties and privileges could very easily have been entrusted to the Corporation. It is too late now to discuss the reasons which have induced the Government to create a separate body. The Corporation which has been existing for over about 50 years is expected to know all about the insanitary quarters of the town, and how sanitary and other improvements can be effected. The members of the Board of Trust are not expected to be omniscient beings, and it cannot be expected that when they just crawl out of their cradle, they will be in full possession of all information and facts bearing upon the improvement of the town. They shall have to acquire knowledge and information from different sources, and probably they shall have to take the help of experts. All this can be avoided if it be provided that the initiation of any general scheme of improvement or street improvement be taken up on official representation. I submit, Sir, that this amendment should be accepted. "

The Hon'ble RAI SHIBA SHANKAR SAHAY BAHADUR said:—

Sir,—I have an identical motion on the agenda, and I beg leave to support this amendment. I do not wish to repeat the same arguments, in recommending this amendment for acceptance. I simply beg to point out that I understood the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill to say that the Board will act under this clause, on its own initiative, only in case of improvement of small areas. If that is so, why not say so distinctly in the Act? Is there one single word in this clause to indicate that the Board will here act only with reference to the improvement of small areas? As it stands, there is nothing to prevent the Board from framing a general improvement scheme for the whole of Calcutta on its own motion without the necessary safeguards of an official representation. This is exceedingly unreasonable and objectionable."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

" There is no doubt that the functions and duties that have been assigned to the proposed Board of Trustees are the legitimate functions and duties of the Corporation which, as a body, are every day dealing with questions relating to the letting out of new roads and squares. And there is no doubt that there is no other body better acquainted with the needs and requirements of Calcutta than the Corporation itself. The reason why a separate body has been created is that the Corporation has not at its disposal funds enough to carry out large schemes. Clause 36 (now 37) provides for three sources from which official representations are to be made. Therefore it cannot be said that, on the representation of the Corporation alone, the Board will be entitled to take action. There are two other sources to fall back upon. For these reasons I do not see any reason why the Board should be entitled to take action without any representation at all."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—This amendment is considerably more important than 169, which we disposed of last. The discussion of that amendment took three quarters of an hour, and was conducted with some heat. It seemed, however, to be formal and I resisted it on that ground. This Bill was entrusted to the Select Committee which sat for 35 days, and which made many alterations in the Bill, as will be seen from the different types appearing in the Bill. And I submit that, after the close scrutiny which it was subjected to in the Select Committee, the burden of proof lies very strongly on any one who moves an amendment to show that it is not merely indifferent, but that it makes substantial improvement on the Bill passed by the Select Committee.

"Sir, with regard to the very substantial question of whether the Trust shall have the power to take action to remedy insanitary conditions, and to draw up general improvement schemes without an official representation from the Corporation, I think I can put the case in a nutshell. The mover of the amendment has very kindly abstained from involving me at this period in the discussion, which, he indicates, will have to be undertaken some time as to the proper and real share which the Corporation has in the finances of the Trust. I will imitate that forbearance, and not take advantage of it. I will not impart exactly what proportion of the resources of the Trust are subscribed by the Corporation, but it cannot be denied that the Trust will receive very substantial grants from the Government of India. It will get 50 lakhs down and 1½ lakhs a year for sixty years and the proceeds of a jute tax and of the terminal tax on passengers. Supposing that, after two or three years, the Government of India inquire as to how the money, which was given for the sanitary improvement of Calcutta, is being spent, is it conceivable that the Trust should be compelled to answer that it could not proceed with the improvement of the city, as it had not yet received any official representation from the Corporation? I submit that, if they are getting funds independently of the Corporation, they have a right to spend it without any interference from the Corporation. And I see no drawback in this. In his previous speech, the Hon'ble Member talked of the safeguards of the official representation, as if the system of official representations provided for in the English Act was, in some way, a safeguard to the ratepayers of the town against indiscreet or over-violent action on behalf of the local authority, and that, I think, is also the apprehension of the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar who has courteously circulated to us his objections to these provisions, and I will indicate to him also the answer which I make to these objections. I say that the whole object of the official representations provided for in the English Act is not to restrain the local authority, but to compel it to move. Supposing that the local authority has no official representation but is of opinion that a certain area needs improvement, all it does is to send the Health Officer down to submit a report, and knowing the qualifications of the Health Officers of England, and knowing their knowledge in sanitation, it is incredible that the Health Officer should take a less serious view of the local conditions than is taken by the members of the local body. The object of that provision in the English Act is to compel unwilling bodies to act. If the Health Officer, in deference to the opinion of the local body or from fear of opposition, does not make a representation, then application may be made to the Local Government Board for the deputation of a medical officer to report on any area. The local authority must consider the report of such a medical officer, and if it rejects his advice the Local Government, Board may hold an inquiry of its own, and on the results of that inquiry, may order the local authority to frame a general improvement scheme Such an order is enforced by mandamus, and if the members of the local authority are recalcitrant they will ultimately find themselves in prison. It is unnecessary to safeguard against over-violent and over-drastic action by local bodies. I agree that it is right, as the Bill provides, that the Corporation should have the power to compel this Trust to take action. That is apparently all that the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur claimed, and that claim is fulfilled by the Bill. But it must be admitted that when the Board has got independent funds, it should have the power of spending its fund independently of the Corporation. There is therefore every reason that the Trust should be entrusted with the duty of carrying out pressing improvement schemes without representation from the Corporation." The only plausible criticism that I heard directed against the working of the Bombay Improvement Trust is that that there was not sufficient co-ordination about its schemes. This is likely to occur if schemes can only be undertaken on an official representation. It would often be most economical and convenient for the Trust to deal with insanitary areas in the course of carrying out street schemes, and in such a case it should not have to wait for an official representation. There is one small point raised by the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur. He contends that not only the Corporation but also the Health Officer and 25 ratepayers can make a representation, but this is not the effect of the Bill as it stands. The Health Officer and 25 ratepayers can only apply to the Corporation. It is true that if the Corporation rejects their application it has to report the matter to the Trust, but though in that way the attention of the Trust may be drawn to unhealthy areas, there is no compulsion put to it to take action."

"Sir,—What the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said with regard to the paying of the piper—an unfortunate phrase that was introduced by him this morning—has had a painful effect on my hon'ble friend to the left who, in the afternoon, like the giant refreshed, has adopted the self-same phraseology and thereby accentuated it: all this is very unfortunate, I am sorry to have to say. I thought that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas was going to exclude the question of the payer of the piper from the consideration of this amendment at all events; yet he gave us the whole of the list of Government benefactions over and over again—50 lakhs of rupees by the Government of India down—1½ lakhs a year recurring, the jute tax and the terminal tax, in fact all the items about which we were told all yesterday and all the morning to-day. Well, I do not know what other societies think of it; but in our society, when a man does pay, he generally does not make too much of an exhibition of it and tries to keep it as much as possible in the background. Hon'ble Members are hearing, with painful constancy, that 'when we are going to pay so much to the Trust, we must have everything in our own way.' I thought that, Sir, considerations like these ought not to cloud the issues entirely, particularly in a legislature where the matter is being attempted to be dealt with judicially. What the purely financial effect of the thing may be, or what the views of the payer of the piper with regard to a particular question may be, are not matters that ought to be allowed primarily to cloud the issues that come before us as a legislature. We have first got to consider whether the thing is right or wrong. If our position is correct, we wish to make our representation to the Government of India, and we hope that it will be inclined to reconsider the situation, as I read the message that was referred to by Your Honour this morning and yesterday. I refer to it because, while protesting against the incorporation of the mere financial consideration in connection with these amendments, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas thought fit to bring it all the same by way of influencing the situation. But that brings me to the other side of the argument, supposing the Government of India, in two or three years, found that the lack of official representation hampered the Trustees, money was accumulated and no part of it had been spent. This would be too dreadful a position to contemplate, but is not very likely. Lack of official representation has not been allowed in a place like Bombay, which we were imitating and which has not suffered from dearth of schemes; how is it then that they would like to omit it here?

"The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has stated that the Corporation would not be in a mood to hurry up its official representations possibly because it will have to pay 2 per cent. more than at present, which is threatened in another clause of this Bill, and the longer they could delay the improvements the more they would be able to defer their payment. If that is the idea which is to stand in the way of the adoption of a very necessary precautionary measure which this amendment advocates, I am afraid I shall have very little to say. Th

Hon'ble Mr. Bompas began his observations on this amendment by saying that the amendments are, after all, indifferent and will do no violent harm to the Bill. If that be so, then where is the objection to these amendments? The sanctity of the proceedings of the Select Committee has been pleaded, but I am afraid that it cannot be binding on those who had not the honour of sitting on the Select Committee, whatever effect it may have on others who had that honour. We are here to consider, criticise, and deliberate on that the Select Committee has done in 35 meetings; it does not take away our obligation to bring before this Council, in the best of their light, what strikes their in connection with this Bill.

"It is certainly news to me and those who have carefully and anxiously read the English law on the subject and its commentaries, with the provisions of which we are familiar just as much as my hon'ble friend on the other side —it is news to me certainly to hear, as we have heard this afternoon, that the object of insisting on this official representation in England was to make the unwilling local authorities come forward lest their medical officers, who were mercilessly criticised in the debate in Parliament which I referred to, should try to keep their lagging zeal behind. My reading of the Act and the various commentaries on it certainly does not bear that out. They are just as anxious in England as we that the necessary safeguard should be provided and insisted on at whatever stage of the proceedings it may be. The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has stated that the inquiry is required later on. Possibly that is so. I do not know at what particular stage it is done in England, but my impression is that it is done at the initial stage, and rightly so. And that is what we want in this country. It is one of those safeguards which the British legislature, after very anxious and careful deliberation, provided. What used to be done formerly has been pointed out by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu; every single measure of improvement had to come before Parliament under the old administration and practice, which was very cumbrous, and when they thought that a more handy measure was necessary than was provided for in the shape of these expensive, toilsome and individual bills for particular improvements, they thought that they must have such safeguards and protectionary measures as would disable the local bodies from going forward with unduly ardent zeal, and would be a fitting check. That is the genesis of the brake power adopted in England which we seek to incorporate in this section. We look upon the English measures as an eminently precautionary safeguard, and as we are borrowing from the English statutes with regard to every objectionable measure—objectionable at least from our point of view—I really do not see why safeguards such as these should be left out. If due and proper inquiry has been done away with, we are entitled to have some stay between the ardent zeal of the Board of Trust and those that are affected by it. Considerations and reports must lead to deliberation—of course they may also lead to fractional delay; but deliberation, which it must involve, is the essence of the whole safeguard thing with regard to the English Acts, which we cannot possibly overlook or ignore.

"Earlier in the debate, Sir, we were told that, so far as the Bombay safeguards are concerned, there is not really very much in the safeguards of an official representation because it emanates in the first instance from the Commissioner himself who, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas says, being a Government servant, would not have much difficulty in making his representation if the Trust really wanted him to do so. I do not know whether the Commissioner of Bombay will take that as a compliment or otherwise. However, that is the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas's estimate of the particular gentlemen concerned. Then we have the resolution of the Corporation, which we have here—although there is more than suspicion now—that that body may, for its own sinister objects, try to delay the improvements. We have the representation of the Health Officer here, in next place, come through the Corporation, and, lastly, we have the representation of the 25 ratepayers, who have to come also through the Corporation. But it must have been in the passing oversight of the moment that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas overlooked sub-clause (2) of clause 36 (now 37), which enables these 25 ratepayers to have independent action taken through the medium of the President if the Corporation decided not to make an official representation. If there was error that really wanted correction and if the Corporation stood in the way of such correction, the Corporation could not keep back their request. Therefore, the Trust would not be quite as powerless as one would be apt to think from the observations of the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, and even if the Corporation be as idle as possible, there would be machinery enough to put the improvements schemes into motion in some shape or another. It is no new thing, or an isolated one, that men with refined and cultured opinions and sanitary ideals, visiting the eastern cities, with exaggerated notions of filth about which they have read in the books and which probably in their own countries they have not had opportunities of coming across, having regard to their glasscase social life, come and make pronouncements after a week's or a month's stay in the country, that Calcutta is about the worst city in the world. An observation like this, casually dropped, must not be allowed to lead to an impression on the part of those responsible for sanitary administration that will lead to action like that which the Board independently would be authorised to take. I do not mean that casual observations and impressions like these will always lead to drastic action; but unless there is safeguard of the kind that we advocate, it would be possible, without due consideration and inquiry and weighing of all the circumstances governing the situation it would be possible to work up imaginary grievances which the Board of Trustees would feel it incumbent to remove without reference to any one. It is to avoid these possibilities that we are anxious that this safeguard at all events should be provided in this clause, and the Board of Trustees should not do anything except upon official representation of the kind that this amendment seeks to introduce."

"Sir,—The Hon'ble Member in charge has dwelt on the question as being an unusually important one. Then he has referred to the fact that the Board should not be made to depend on the Corporation. Well, Sir, they need not be made to depend on them and still be in a position to exercise the large powers that are here conferred on them. The Government might have proposed that there should be a report made to them directly by a medical expert. All that we seek is that the Board should not move on its own initiative, because, when once they have that power, they will become partizans. That is recognised in the English law, and the Corporation in England are not given the power of initiative. Then the Hon'ble Member has said that this provision that is now introduced is not to restrain but to compel it to move, and he has given that as the reason for the provision in the English law. Well, Sir, I confess that did not occur to me, because it seems to me that the Government should welcome spontaneous action by the local bodies, and would have given them every opportunity to move if there were reasons such action. If there was no restraint, there would be greater freedom on their part; so that I am not impressed with the explanation that has been given. I have an explanation which I shall submit, but certainly the requirement that there must be an official representation before an English Corporation can move cannot be merely forthe reason given by the Hon'ble Member in charge. It would give wider opportunities to local bodies for the exercise of their functions if there were not that limitation imposed. We must look for other reason, which, I believe, I shall be able later on to give. If, Sir, it is only intended to take up these small areas and not to undertake large clearances, then why are these enormous powers absorbed by the Board? If I had suspected that there was any such idea of dealing only with small areas, I certainly would have pressed in Select Committee for the adoption of the procedure for reconstruction scheme, which is simpler and easier and now is being more generally approved in England. With all these enormous powers reserved to the Board, whatever the views of the Hon'ble Member in chrge in athe present day, it would not be safe to assume that those powers will not be fully used.

"Sir, to an ordinary observer, it would appear the most natural arrangement that Corporations charged with the municipal administration of cities should also be given the initiative in selecting an area in their administration to be declared an unhealthy area. Under the present Bill a Board is created ad hoc: I have accepted that as being beyond any question in our present discussion, but it is impossible to disregard the circumstance that the Corporations in England, so many of whom have earned just renown for their highly efficient and honest administration, are not permitted to exercise the power of initiative. We are forced to the conclusion that this must be due to reasons which have been regarded as being of the weightiest character.

"It would be a counsel of perfection, and I do not suggest that it would be feasible, to preclude every possible mischief, but in the English statute there is a well-defined design apparent, to minimise the risk of personal influence having effect, and to so provide that those with whom will lie the decision in essential questions will be, as far as a public body can be so made, free from bias or suspicion that private interests will conflict with public duty. And so consistent is the law in England, in connection with any question leading to a declaration of an area to be an unhealthy area, that when, on the failure of a local medical officer of health to act on the complaint of ratepayers or justices of the peace, as the case may be, an appeal is preferred to the Local Government Board, the functions of that Board are strictly limited to the appointment of a qualified medical practitioner, and when the representation of the latter is received to pass it on, without comment, to the local authority concerned for action, the Local Government Board is kept studiously uncommitted to any opinion, evidently for the reason that the declaration of an unhealthy area, at a later stage of the proceedings, is subject to its confirmation. It is noticeable that there is disclosed, at every turn, a just appreciation of the circumstance that the consideration of the question of a declaration regarding an area, on which depend consequences of such a far-reaching nature as an Improvement Scheme would entail, is to be regarded—in popular language—as a judicial proceeding in which those who take part are performing judicial functions, and that the primary and essential principle of justice should be maintained, in that no person should sit in judgment on a question on which he already has committed himself to an opinion.

"And what do we find in our present Bill? A Trustee—and if there are more than one, the matter becomes more serious—may prefer a complaint, and may sit in judgment among a body of eleven persons only, who will be working with closed doors, on a proposal of his own, to which he has been committed—in all good faith it may be—and consequently has become an active partisan. Again, the proceedings under section 4 of the Act of 1890, to which I have drawn attention, as under clause 35 (now 36) of the present Bill, relate exclusively to sanitation, and in England expert medical opinion, which must be presented in writing, is made, as I have shown, a condition precedent to the question of an unhealthy area being submitted for consideration. Under the present Bill, thousands of the inhabitants of Calcutta may be placed in peril of being turned out of house and home, on a statement—which may be made verbally—of a carpet-bagger, who need not have any residential interest in the city, or any qualification whatever, whether medical or other, to express any opinion on any question affecting the sanitation of the city which he aspires to improve. And I hope that it will not escape observation that the initiative by such an irresponsible person is placed on exactly the same footing as of the whole Board taken together.

"I have submitted that the words 'whenever it appears to the Board, whether upon an official representation or without such representation' are too wide and general. Let me draw attention to what I have termed the possibilities under this clause. I am unable to discern, after close examination, what representation the Board must have before them, without which they cannot proceed, and in what manner the Board will proceed in such circumstances is not clear.

"If I am correct in my view, as I believe I am, the provisions of clause 35 (now 36) could be set in operation without any representation, and then the opening sentence in effect would run as follows :—

'Whenever it appears to the Board without any representation' which would be giving the whole of the instructions thought by the legislature necessary to set in motion the machinery leading to an Improvement Scheme being framed.

"Now, Sir, what have we in the Statement of Objects and Reasons with regard to clause 35 (now 36)?

Clause 35.—The specification of cases in which the Board may frame a general Improvement Scheme closely follows section 23 of the Bombay Act, except that, under the Bill, the Board can act without the receipt of an official representation, e.g., at the instance of the Health Officer. It is not anticipated that cases taken up otherwise than upon an official representation will be frequent, but it is desirable that they should be provided for. In England, under the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, 53 & 54 Vict (c. 70, section 5), the medical officer of health is authorised to make an official representation direct.

"While it is stated that it is desirable that cases otherwise than on official representation should be permitted, it is not indicated why it is desirable, and it has escaped notice that, under section 23 of the Bombay Act, the complaint of the Health Officer is expressly placed within the definition of an official representation. If it is desired that such a complaint should always reach the Board and not be intercepted by the Corporation, clause 36 expressly provides, in the event of the Corporation deciding not to make an official representation on the complaint of the Health Officer, that the rejected complaint automatically must be sent to the Board. The Board therefore will always have an opportunity of considering any complaint of the Health Officer, with the advantage of the opinion of the Corporation on it. But if the object of the words 'or without such representation' is merely to obtain a complaint directly from the Health Officer, unfortunately they sweep away the necessity of any representation whatever. This is quite clear; and it therefore becomes very apparent that this result could not have been intended, and the consequences resulting from the introduction of those words are so foreign to the object and reason officially given for them and would be so grave that I submit that they should be omitted. And it becomes evident that the policy of those responsible for the Bill originally had practically the same intention as I advocate: that is to say, that the action of the Board should be founded on expert medical opinion, and to prohibit the Board from taking action on their own motion and ever becoming judges in their own cause.

"But if there are to be representations other than official representations, what character of representation will be permissible?

"There is no provision in the Bill to prevent the Board, as a body or by a vote of the majority, abdicating their functions and accepting a proposal of one of their members, because it emanates from a colleague, as sufficiently established, to justify a declaration of an unhealthy area, nor to prohibit any report of a subordinate, any chance conversation, when repeated at a meeting of the Board, being taken as sufficient material on which the Board may, without any consideration or inquiry, without exercising their own discretion as they should be required to, declare an area to be an unhealthy area, and their declaration would be final. I submit that the Bill should be so framed as to prohibit any such manner of proceeding. If, however, we accept the principle that only an official representation shall be entertained, we preclude the possibility of action of any such character.

"The want of consistency in this portion of the Bill will become at once apparent to Hon'ble Members if only they will refer to the clause next following. To give greater protection from undue harassment, and as a security against unjustifiable action on complaints of an irresponsible character, in clause 36 (now 37), sub-section (1)(c), the Select Committee deliberately raised the number of persons, on whose report the Corporation might take cognisance of complaints regarding an unhealthy area, from not less than 12 to not less than 25 persons: and it should be observed that such complaints must be in writing and signed—in contrast with a verbal statement of an irresponsible person—by not less than 25 persons, each of whom at the time must be resident in the particular ward in which the area complained of is situated. The amendment acquiesced in had the appearance of a concession, but then where is the logic or safeguard in agreeing to this elaborate provision when a single individual, who may be unable to get a second resident to join him, will nevertheless have the same motive power as the 25 resident ratepayers, and will be enabled to call upon the Board to take proceedings? This, Sir, is what is permissible under clause :5 (now 36).

"We have sought models from English statutes, and yet, when we have come to put our teachings into practice by legislating on a subject entirely new to ourselves, are we to disregard examples which have been based on actual experience, and to start a law unprecedented in its character, in neglect of the instructions from which we have sought enlightenment? Why is it that the English Corporation, whose administrations are carried on by public spirited men of long experience, are not permitted to undertake improvement schemes on unhealthy areas, except on official representation? And why should a power be conferred on the Board of Trustees in Calcutta, which is not given to the great municipal corporations in England? Is the answer given by the Hon'ble Member in charge a sufficient reason?

I have heard it asserted, in general terms, that it would be absurd not to give the power of initiative to the Board. The assertion is not convincing as an argument, when we recall that the prohibition was first given effect to in England 37 years ago, has been steadily maintained, and continues to exist to the present times.

"In connection, Sir, with the administration of local affairs by local bodies we often hear that great difference exists between India and England—but to what end? Is it not with the view of limiting the powers to be conferred on local bodies? And are we here to start in Calcutta a wholly untried local body, which has not yet come into existence, with powers deliberately and systematically withheld from local authorities in England?

"I desire to add, to leave no room for misconception, that on my part I regret that expert medical opinion is not made a condition precedent in our Bill to an official representation, as it is in England. I, however, against my inclination, am constrained to rest content with the number of persons, who will be required to join in a complaint, having been raised from 12 to 25 persons, and the provision that they must be residents of a more circumscribed limit and be more closely connected with the area in question, than in England.

"I submit that it would be impolitic, when we are introducing a new law, which certainly is causing widespead anxiety in Calcutta from its inception, to start with an experiment of an unprecedented character; and that it would be well to be content to bring our Board into line with the English Corporations, that is to say, to let their action depend upon official representations only.

"I am encouraged to press for it because a later clause, to which I shall in due course refer, further supports my view that the more extended power has been added, perhaps inadvertently and without sufficient examination of the conditions that prevail and the principle on which this exclusion has been made in England.

"Sir, it must not, for a moment, be supposed that I have any sympathy whatever with any who, either by their mode of living or neglect of their properties, become a menace to their neighbours, and imperil the general health of a community. But this sentiment would be no answer to the reproach of offending against a primary and essential principle of justice, which requires that consideration of grave issues should be conducted, so far as it may be in our power to make it, without suspicion of bias, and that they should not be undertaken without justification or on inadequate grounds"

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"I do not propose, Sir, to emulate the heat with which the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has just represented his views, and the warmth from which I am suffering is rather engendered by the sun's rays than by his statement of the case. The possibility of this wonderful carpet-bagger, at whose dictates the thousands of Calcutta are to be left homeless, leaves me unruffled. In this case the issue is fortunately simple, namely, whether the Trust shall, or shall not, be allowed to act otherwise than upon receipt of an official representation, and two reasons are advanced for preventing them moving upon their own initiative. First, we are told that the submission of an official representation is a necessary safeguard against ill-considered action. Secondly, it is urged that the Board should ony act at the instigation of the Corporation.

"Let us consider the first argument, that the procedure of an official representation is a desirable clog upon the rashness of the Board. The picture which has been drawn of these impetuous local authorities in England, only restrained from rushing into improvements by the requirement of an official representation from their medical officer of health, is scarcely in accordance with the facts. The feature of the situation in England has been the difficulty of inducing local bodies to move at all. To take the only book of reference I have here at the moment—Allan's edition of the Housing of the Working Classes Act—almost the first words which occur in the introduction are as follows. The reference is to the earlier Acts passed to provide for the housing of the working classes :

'For various reasons these statutes failed to produce the result anticipated, and many of them were practically never put into operation. At first this was largely due to the apathy of local authorities'

"And even supposing that it was sought to clog the desire of local bodies in England to effect improvements, by insistence upon a preliminary official representation, how did these deluded English politicians proceed to do so? By entrusting the power of making a representation, which the local authority must consider, to an expert sanitarian, the medical officer of health. This reaches an almost Gilbertian height of humour. We sometimes hear the cry, Sir, to save us from experts; and I confess that, if desirous of discouraging the execution of sanitary improvements, I should scarcely hope to do so by placing power in the hands of an expert sanitary officer to compel them to be considered. I submit that the position in England has not been correctly represented. The machinery of official representation, and all the special powers vested in the medical officer of health, were not devised as a deterrent to the impetuousness of local authorities, but as a means of forcing them to take action, and the idea that it was necessary to discourage their enthusiasm can only be characterised as weird.

"The second point, that the Trust should only act as the agent of the Corporation, has been put with a frankness which is somewhat surprising. It strikes at the whole idea of the Bill, and at much that has been admitted in connection with the Bill. It is admitted that Calcutta stands in need of improvement; it has scarcely been seriously challenged in the various opinions which have been collected, that the work of improvement is beyond the powers and resources of the Corporation. The Bill therefore aims at the creation of a special board for this special work, and places at its disposal certain special revenues. Having gone so far, surely you stultify the Bill completely if you seek to secure that the Board shall not undertake any work, and shall not spend its funds, except on the initiative of the Corporation. I submit, Sir, that while the Corporation may well be given the right to make an official representation, it is impossible to say that the Board shall not act otherwise than upon such a representation."

The Hon'ble MR APCAR said:—

"Sir,—Does the Hon'ble Member seriously suggest that I said that the local medical officer was a clog?"

The PRESIDENT said:—

"I do not think so."

The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu said:—"Sir,—I look at the despairing attitude of my hon'ble friends behind, the representatives of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association, and I must say that I feel a great sympathy for them, for I feel that they are kept away from their business on what is after all practically a useless work. I do not conceal from myself or from my colleagues that I also entertain to some extent that feeling. But though I sympathise with them, I pity myself I think it is my duty all the same to place before my colleagues in this Council why I consider that this is one of the amendments which is vital in regard to the principle of the Bill. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has just now said that there are amendments which are indifferent and generally do not affect the principle of the Bill, and about which the official Members naturally do not much concern themselves. Well. I wish that he had made a declaration earlier, because many of the amendments were considered by us if not vital but important, and he would concede to us things which he considers unimportant. I think we might get on much more smoothly than we are doing. Probably it would be conceding nothing to us, but all the same we would have a feeling that some concession after all has been made to us. At present we feel like the waves breaking themselves on the embankments which protect the Netherlands; What is the objection that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas takes? He says that the Corporation is not the party who would be best able to advise the Trust. He also says that when we, the Government, contribute so much for the upkeep and for the carrying on of this Trust, shall we not be at liberty to do something for ourselves and to say that we also possess some knowledge of the conditions of Calcutta and that knowledge is not the exclusive heritage of the Corporation? Well, Sir, my friend the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has said that in Indian society it is considered bad form of etiquette to boast too much of one's generosity or to show it to the outside public to any great extent. I suppose I am quite sure that even the worst enemies of my hon'ble friend will not accuse him of excessive degree of modesty, and that in putting forward his claim to take an initiative on the contribution that he makes or those whom he represents, I think he has based his claim upon the responsibility that the Government of India takes upon itself for the proper working of this Trust I will take it at that. I will take it not upon the ground upon which he has put forward or has been understood by my friend the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, but I will take it that, as the Government contributes a substantial part of the expense of this Trust, the Government expects that the work of the Trust should be carried on and not be at a standstill for want of initiative. Assuming that that is so, does my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas really contemplate such a state of affairs—that the Corporation of Calcutta who have been—my hon'ble friend ought to know by this time—greatly hampered by their want of means in carrying out the most necessary reforms in Calcutta, will not avail themselves of the earliest opportunity of putting pressure upon this Trust for whose maintenance it will have to pay an enhanced rate of 2 per cent? Does he mean to say that the Corporation will sit supine with these 50 commissioners—representatives of Government, of Commerce, of Trade, and of the Port Trust and of the people,—will bask in sunshine lulled into langour by the enervating temperature of the tropics and will do nothing for the furtherance of an object for which they are contributing so heavily? Does he think that the ratepayers of Calcutta, who are going to pay 2 per cent., will sit quiet in these insanitary areas which they have been striving to improve? Does he mean to say that their representatives in the Corporation will sit quiet? I think that this is a state of things that cannot be anticipated. Therefore that argument fails.

"The next thing is this, that my hon'ble friend has necessarily been confused by the confusion that he has himself created. Chapter III has got so many things in it that it is difficult to keep them distinct. Section 35 (now 36) deals or professes to deal with one aspect, and that is with insanitary areas: 'Whenever it appears to the Board, whether upon . . . .'

"So that this relates exclusively or is intended to relate exclusively to insanitary areas. Who better than the Corporation of Calcutta—in whose case

I can only say that it will necessarily refer to their Health Officer—are better able to place information which will be available for the purposes of this Act at the disposal of the Trust? Who better than they will be able to say which are the insanitary areas which ought to be dealt with in the first instance, and which not? Is it not possible that while the Corporation, which must be treated as expert in these matters,—while they think that a particular area should be dealt with first, the Board may in the meantime, irrespective of any reference to the Corporation,—because there are many areas which are insanitary in Calcutta—and insanitariness may be only a question of degree—proceed to deal with some other area, and that therefore, apart from the other question of safeguards, question of clogs, I say, upon the principal question as to who is the best person to advise, is it not the Corporation that is best able to advise, upon whom it is desirable that we should depend for advice? My friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler, says that it was felt necessary to create a new body because the Corporation had too much to do. I also assume that position fully, but who is better able to suggest to the Board as to what areas should be particularly dealt with than the Corporation? The other aspect is that it is a safeguard also, that when we come to apply the succeeding provision as to whether an area is to be dealt with as an insanitary area or as an area in which improvements ought to be carried out, the provisions of the law are different in different classes. We have got to deal with objections by the people who are affected by this scheme. Well, if the Trust is not to be the middleman, who is to decide between the Corporation and the people, if the Board itself is a party which takes the initiation, that character of integrity and impartiality will be taken away.

"Is public confidence of such small value that it may be spurned, not taken into account altogether? If all that you desire to secure can be secured, and if at the same time you do not forfeit public confidence, then may I appeal to you with all confidence, that if such a course is possible, that course should be adopted? I have tried to show that you lose nothing and you gain much if you avail yourselves of the experience of the Corporation for the last 40 years and more, and at the same time you retain the confidence of the public. Are these considerations to be lightly set aside? Is it to be said that because something has been done in the Select Committee with the framing of the Acts, that the wording of the law is likely to be the law of the Medes and the Persians when once settled by the Select Committee, and that if there is any good and valid reason for deviating from the language which has been adopted, we shall not do so because the Select Committee has done it. If that were the position, then what is the use of a Bill coming before the Council? Are we here merely to endorse what the Select Committee has said? Is that the principle of legislation that is to be adopted in this Council? If so, it is better that it should be clearly stated: then much of the valuable time that we who have to earn our daily bread devote here may be saved and would be usefully employed elsewhere. In the Select Committee it is not always that questions of principle are decided; those questions are raised there sometimes and decided by a majority, and there is a clear understanding and clear reservedness that these questions will again be raised before the Council and the whole view of the Council taken. I therefore appeal to the official Members of this Council to support me at least in this amendment, and I do so with great confidence."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The result of the division was, ayes 17, noes 23, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

172. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "whether" and the words "or without such a representation", in lines 1 to 3, of clause 35 (now 36), be omitted.

173. If Motion No. 168 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the word "whether" and the words "or without such a representation", in lines 1 to 3 of clause 35 (now 36), be omitted.

174. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that the word "whether", and the words "or without such a representation", in lines 1 to 3 of clause 35 (now 36), be omitted.

174A. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the word "whether" and the words "or without such a representation", in lines 1 to 3 of clause 35 (now 36), be omitted.

175. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that, for lines 1 to 3 of the first paragraph in clause 35 (now 36), the following be substituted, namely:—

If the Board are satisfied, after due and proper inquiry, held with reference to an official representation made under section 36 (now 37), that within a certain area—

He said:—

"Sir,—In the Bill we have that any building in 'any' area may be declared to be an unhealthy area. And the amendment is to substitute 'a certain' for 'any' area. In all seriousness I say that the clause as framed is so wide that the Board could, on the representation of any single individual, or on hearsay, or on no representation at all, on the allegation that there are some insanitary buildings here and there in Calcutta, declare—we now arrive at a fitting climax to what has preceded—declare the whole area of Calcutta to be an unhealthy area, and forthwith frame an improvement scheme for the whole area and still be within the law. My sole purpose is to obtain a check on their action, should the Board fail to make a proper inquiry in respect of buildings alleged to be insanitary, and to secure a proper discrimination if they declare an area to be an unhealthy area without regard to the circumstance as to what is reasonable and necessary. I hope, Sir, that I may have your Honour's sympathy in my endeavour so to shape the Bill as to render the interpretation I have indicated impossible, and to control the Board in the event of arbitrary conduct on their part. There is point given to my amendment to substitute 'a certain' for 'any' area by the words used in the English statute where, Hon'ble Members will see, it is 'a certain area'. I am most anxious to convey that if this variation is allowed to remain, a serious argument would be pressed that a distinction in meaning is intended to be made, and I submit it is our business in Council to leave no room for such distinction to be made, that is to say, if the local authority in England are under an obligation to consider what area is necessary in each case, the Board under this Bill would not be under the same obligation; they would be free to fix their limits according to their arbitrary inclinations and could not be restrained if they exceeded the bounds of necessity or reason. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will remember that, at the meeting held at the Town Hall, strong objection was taken to the indefinite power given to the Board in this respect. It was first voiced by the President of that meeting in his opening speech, when he laid stress on his objection to the phrase 'any building in any area,' and his objection was repeated by more than one speaker. It would serve in some measure to mitigate the fears that undoubtedly have been aroused by this novel and drastic measure if the present point were conceded.

"We of course know that, by reason of omissions and other defects in the drafting of statutes, not infrequently complications ensue. But then these occur owing to oversight or unforeseen difficulties : there would be no excuse if the causes are known to the legislature before a measure becomes law.

"I am led to quote from a judgment in a case in which the right of an English proprietor of an indigo concern was attacked by the local municipality of Motihari, and owing to a defect in an Act of this Council, the aggrieved person suffered. This circumstance led the learned Judge who delivered the judgment of a divisional court of the Calcutta High Court, to exclaim :—

> It is most lamentable that Acts should be so drawn up without an intelligent consideration of, and anxious regard for, private rights which ought to be the study of every legislature that springs from English authority.

"We have followed English statutes closely enough, in certain particulars, to make variations from it dangerous for interpretation. They certainly will create confusion, and I believe will be a source of endless trouble. The judgment of Sir James Colvile in the Privy Council, from which I have before quoted, is of sufficient high authority for us to accept it as a direction to ourselves : to take it as a warning not to change, in particular, 'a certain area' in section 4 of the English statute which I have set out, into 'any area' as appears in this clause: particularly when I feel assured that it is the view of the whole Council to convey the same intention: that is to say, the area to be dealt with should be what is reasonable and necessary; which implies a proper consideration before a declaration is made ; and not to give power to the Board to act arbitrarily, without regard to what may be reasonable or necessary in the circumstances of a case.

"I am not asking for anything new, anything not sanctioned among the commonplaces of law and usage in England; but only for the protection and safeguards that are admitted in that country as of right.

"Then Sir, I would add with reference to a remark that fell from the Hon'ble Member opposite with regard to due and proper inquiry. If there is no due and proper inquiry, then a Court of Law can interfere to impose a due and proper inquiry. If there has been an inquiry, it does not matter whether the discretion used has been faulty, so long as that inquiry has been made. All that the law requires will have been done. But here if there has been unreasonable area included, then the Court might intervene before action is taken, and therefore, Sir, there will be some check on arbitrary conduct. Sir, it is not the point whether or not the Board is likely to act unreasonably. This is not the form, I submit, that legislation should take, and we want direction given in the regular way. I, therefore, submit that it will be an advantage if we have this little amendment made and 'a certain area' substituted for 'any area'."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—I oppose this amendment, because whatever may be the object of the Mover of the amendment in regard to these words which are alone under discussion, I do not think that the change in the wording of the section proposed by him will attain that object. As far as my knowledge of the English language goes, and as far as the advice goes of those who are responsible for the drafting of this clause, there is no difference in law as to whether you say 'if the Board are satisfied, after due and proper inquiry', or 'whenever it appears to the Board.' The meaning is precisely the same. An area is a tract with certain definite boundaries, and under clause 42 (now 43) of the Bill the boundaries of any area covered by an Improvement Scheme must be very clearly defined. The whole of Calcutta may be called a certain area, and the words proposed by the Hon'ble Member will not be able to circumscribe the operations of the Trust I really cannot say to this Council that it seems to me arguable that there is anything in this part of the amendment that deserves consideration."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Struggling with the English language, English idioms and English words has been the constant misfortune of our lives, and how far we have been able to overcome the difficulty is a matter that we cannot judge of; but when two gentlemen like the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar and the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, who, I suppose understand the language as much as anybody else, have different opinions with regard to matters like these, we who have greater difficulties feel very much embarrassed indeed. But I have had occasion to talking over the matter with very distinguished persons engaged in the practice as well administration of law. Europeans, who, I suppose, understand the language, attach the greatest possible importance, for reasons that may not have been quite clear to me, to the change that this amendment seeks to introduce. I do not quite conceive whether the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas considers that it would be desirable to introduce restrictive terms so that real restriction may be possible, and if his complaint is not that; Mr. Apcar's amendment does not go far enough in achieving that end. But if he has no objection to the spirit of the amendment, we might expect him to make such suggestions as will achieve the end, and will make real restrictions possible. But in the absence of such suggestions, I think it is rather incumbent upon us to seek to introduce such restrictions, and if there is really no difference created by the adoption of these words, I cannot understand why their adoption should be resisted. If 'any' and 'certain' are just the same and if certain Members of the Council seem to think that it would be an improvement to have the word suggested by the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar, I think it is the greater reason for adopting that suggestion. But here again, Sir, we have to refer to the English Acts as well as the Bombay Act, which happen to be on our side of the contention. Where we depart needlessly from the precedents so often flourished before us, we come to look upon the situation with a certain amount of misgiving, and the difficulty of understanding the English language accentuates the perversities of the situation. In that view of things I desire to support this amendment, and as the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has said that it really makes no difference, I trust that the Council will see its way to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Sir,—Whatever may be the opinion which the Hon'ble Member attaches to the meaning of 'certain' being included, there is no doubt about this: that it is a change, a variation from the English Acts. Why is that variation made? Is it merely for the purpose of making a change? And when you have changed, is it difficult to understand that arguments will be relied upon to show a distinction between meaning intended under this Bill and that which attaches to the words used in the English statute? It will be asked why is that change made? There must be an object and the object which I have stated will then be relied upon. Sir, it would be a fruitless task for us each, the Hon'ble Member in charge and myself, to say that 'I take this view'. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has no doubt consulted his legal advisers. But I may assure Your Honour that I would not be likely to make a proposal of the nature until after I had made the most careful inquiries from competent advisers. I mention this that it may not be assumed that I am stating only my own individual opinion. I have taken great care to learn what is the opinion of lawyers of eminent authority, and their views concur with mine."

The result of the division was, ayes 15, noes 29, and the motion wa therefore lost.

175A. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that, for lines 1 to 3 of the first paragraph in clause 35 (now 36), the following be substituted, namely:—

If the Board are satisfied, after due and proper inquiry, held with reference to an official representation made under section 36 (now 37), or upon the representation in writing of a qualified medical man empowered in that behalf either by the Local Government or by the Board, that within a certain area—

He said:—

"Sir,—I desire to offer the Hon'ble Member [clause 35 (now 36)] in charge a locus pœnitentiæ. I beg again to refer to the note in the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the original Bill, which says:

'Clause 35 (now 36).—The specification of cases in which the Board may frame a general improvement scheme closely follows section 23 of the Bombay Act, except that, under that Bill, the Board can act without the receipt of an official representation, e.g., at the instance of the Health Officer. It is not anticipated that cases taken up otherwise than upon an official representation will be frequent, but it is desirable that they should be provided for. In England, under the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (53 & 54 Vict., c. 70), section 5, the medical officer of health is authorised to make an official representation direct.'

"Sir, here I offer him a chance of adopting a clause on which there will be provided direct representation made to the Board. That was indicated as desirable in the Objects and Reasons for the change introduced and is the reason of this amendment, and since it is based upon the official Statement of Objects and Reasons, I hope that the Hon'ble Member will reconsider the question and accept the amendment which I now present to the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—This amendment also appears to me unnecessary. The Hon'ble Member wishes that the opinion of a qualified medical man should be obtained, which would be recorded in writing. But I do not see that he gains anything by this. What is the position? The Board has got to be satisfied that certain buildings are unfit for human habitation, and that the area is insanitary. It is almost incredible that the Board should form this opinion regarding any area, without having taken the advice of some competent sanitary officers. Supposing it is conceivable that the Trust should do so, it has then got to receive objections, and presumably, if any people inhabiting a sanitary area were told that their property would be acquired on the ground that it was insanitary, they would file objections. If their objections were rejected by the Board, they would then go to Government. And the Board will have to make the Government believe that that particular area is unhealthy. The Government has got to be satisfied. The Board will necessarily have some medical advice. But suppose that inquiries begin on the report of the Health Officer, whose opinion, though not accepted by the Corporation, has been forwarded to the Board of Trustees. I see no advantage in inserting in the law a provision that the opinion of such an experienced official as the Health Officer of Calcutta must be checked by a further inquiry by another medical officer, who may be very much junior to the Health Officer. I oppose this amendment as I would leave the Board unfettered discretion as to the method it may adopt to arrive at a satisfactory decision in any matters which may come before it."

The Hon'ble Mr. APCAR said:—

"Sir,—I am afraid that the reasons that I gave have been completely lost The reason why there should be medical opinion is this: that the Board should not take the initiative and that they should come to the consideration of the question unbiased and not as partizans. After they have decided to take action with regard to an area and then to send the matter for the opinion of medical officers, obviously is a very different thing. My purpose is that they should not in any degree involve themselves in the consideration of a matter in which they themselves at a latter stage are to be the judges. I do not wish to see them as judges in their own cause. That is what I tried to instil before, and I need not repeat myself here. The Hon'ble Member has utterly misconceived the object and the purpose with which I have presented this amendment, and if the Board are going to act in the way the Hon'ble Member has stated, there seems to be the greater reason to protect the Board from acting on their own initiative and to require them to act on medical advice."

The result of the division was, ayes 14, noes 30, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

176. If Motion No. 175 and Motion No. 175A be not carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that, for lines 1 to 3 of the first paragraph in clause 35 (now 36), the following be substituted, namely:—

If the Board are satisfied, after due and proper inquiry, held, either with reference to an official representation made under section 36 (now 37) or without any such representation being made, that within a certain area—

177. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "not less than ten in number" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

He said:—

"Sir,—My amendment is a very simple one, but even simplicity is hardly a recommendation in the matter of these amendments.

Clause 35 (now 36), as provided, says:

'Whenever it appears to the Board, whether upon an official representation made under section 36 or without such a representation—

(a) that any buildings in any area . . . .'

"So that the whole area may be declared insanitary and the provisions of the law may be applied. If a single building is found to be insanitary, or if a very small number of buildings are found to be insanitary, they can be easily dealt with under the sanitary improvement provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act (Ben. Act III of 1899), which does not require a whole area to be taken up for improvement. It is therefore necessary that some limitation ought to be placed on the statute that, in declaring an area to be insanitary, you must use the wording 'a group of houses,' a phraseology which I find used in the English Act. I was thinking of suggesting a limit, and if ten houses are found to be insanitary in any area, I would concede that action might be taken under this section. It is a very small and low limit. Less than ten houses in number could very easily be dealt with by the Corporation, and I am sure that my friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Payne, in his own day, had dealt with a large number of houses under the Sanitary Improvement Act. That is all I have to say in support of my amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir,—I have a similar motion, and the only other consideration that I should like to urge in support of that motion would be a provision in the English Act under the supplemental provisions, section 72 of the English Act. That section connotes the necessity of some—I shall not say preferential, but—differential treatment in the case where the number of houses happens to be under 10. Section 72 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act of 1890 says:—

'Where an official representation made to the London County Council relates to not more than 10 houses, the Council shall not take any proceedings on such representations, but shall direct the medical officer of health making the same to represent the matter to the local authority to deal with such cases in the way provided by this part of the Act.'

"Then section 73 proceeds to say that the local authority may submit such resolution to the Secretary of State, and thereupon the Secretary of State may direct the officer concerned to hold a local inquiry, and the arbitrator is to report to the Secretary of State as to whether, having regard to the size of the area and the position and structure and of the neighbourhood, and to the provisions of Act I, the case is either wholly or partially fit to be dealt with in the particular way. I quite realise the answer that will be given to my argument based on that section, because it was felt that where isolated houses or groups of houses less than 10 in number were concerned, it was hardly right that the local authority should be called upon to deal with it under the ordinary provisions of the Act. The reason of this differentiation is that the matter might come before the superior authority, which, I take it, would be the Home Secretary, who would make a keen elaborate local inquiry, and on getting a report and then considering whether the London County Council or a central body should make a contribution or not. That is not the objection to which I am calling attention to in this section. My object is to show that where the number of houses affected is very small, the same drastic measures contemplated by the section ought not to be applicable. Of course I do not deny that if a house is peculiarly insanitary, intervention of the sanitary authorities would be necessary. That is all amply provided for under the Municipal Act,—provisions that have, in some instances, been given effect to with beneficial results. The mode of dealing with isolated houses ought to be limited to the less drastic provisions of the law, and as the Municipal Act would still be in vogue, it can be given effect to and effectively operated on under the provisions of this section. Supposing, Sir, in a very highly sanitary and fashionable quarter somewhere near Chowringhee, where every house is all that could be and ought to be, there happens to be a single or two or three small houses which are not of the ideal standard of sanitation, it would be possible, under a section like this as it stands, to declare the whole of that area insanitary and to embark upon a very costly and elaborate scheme of improvement which other circumstances would not warrant. Of course the old story of good sense, discretion, will be repeated in answer, and we shall be told that we must not think of such entrance and unlikely cases. But when we have to deal with legislative matters like these, one likes to be quite sure of his ground and to feel that such a state of things ought to be impossible. Of course, if the group of buildings are so bad as to be a standing source of threat to the whole neighbourhood, the Trust would, under the powers of other sections, be able to take action. But when the number of houses is small, 10 or less, the English Act has recognised that a certain amount of differential treatment is necessary, although there it took the particular shape of having special contributions in aid of their regulation or improvement. How that is to be done is not made clear in the way that clause 35 seeks to make clear. The English Act stops short there that special contribution should be called upon from the London County Council, for the obvious reason that the local authority ought not to be burdened with considerable amounts. Having that as the basis of the argument, we thought that as some limit ought to be placed,—10 would be a convenient number to name,—and that it has been named in the various amendments that are now on the agenda paper. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has argued that any building might include a single building. There, again, the question of the English language comes in. I do not think that any buildings would go so low down as to include a single building, but if there is appreciable insanitation in the neighbourhood, in that case only we suggest that the drastic measure of clause 3 should come into operation."

The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar said:—

"Sir,—I support the adoption of this amendment as a very necessary provision to be incorporated in this Bill, with the object of mitigating the hardship that its operation, without the qualification that is proposed, might inflict. Because there happen to be six or eight houses in an area that may be standing there under insanitary conditions, to take that circumstance as the ground for framing an improvement scheme, would, I submit, be an excessive use of power. It would be certainly in excess of the power permitted to local authorities in England. In the Housing Act of 1890, where it is of general application no specific number is stated, but there is a provision of a definite character for proceedings of a less drastic character than are imposed for improvement schemes with regard to small areas, and that provision has given opportunity to the Local Government Board, under whose active supervision the local authorities give effect to that Act, following the earlier practice, to control their operations in the public interest. But there is no such opportunity afforded by this Bill. The Local Government Board are even directed by law, before confirming a proposal, to send an inspector to the locality to inspect and make enquiries. No control of this kind, I may mention, is contemplated by this Bill, and it now has come to be recognised in England, that no scheme, dealing with less than ten houses, should be carried out as an improvement scheme. When, however, the Act applies exclusively to the London County Council, that body is expressly prohibited from framing an improvement scheme where an official representation relates to not more than ten houses.

"Sir, we cannot get away from or ignore the law and practice in England, and there, three courses are open to local authorities: first, an improvement scheme, a term that has a definite meaning and attaches to a scheme for the improvement of large, unhealthy, or slum areas: secondly, the power that now is being used, more and more, to compel owners of insanitary houses to put their houses in proper order at their own expense; and thirdly, a reconstruction scheme which is a corollary to the second and is worked with it. It applies to small areas only, and follows action taken for the demolition of individual houses, and as I have indicated, is now recognised to relate to not more than ten houses.

"In the present Bill, there is no alternative to an improvement scheme It is an Improvement Scheme or nothing. It is true that no limit is placed on the Board as to the extent of an area to be dealt with, and it may be said that they may deal with a small area or a large one. That might equally have been said with reference to the local authorities in England: mention might have been made, in the English statute, of an improvement scheme only, and they might have been left to frame such a scheme as they, in their unfettered will, might have desired. But that never was said; on the contrary, in the public interest, provision has been made, as well for their guidance as for purposes of restraint and control over them, for the three different courses open to local bodies in their administration of the Act.

"It will be observed that we are asking for the acceptance of a policy that was adopted deliberately in England, many years ago, and was followed when a fresh Act was passed more than eleven years ago, and has been continued in force to the present day.

"I do not suggest that the English law is to be followed rigidly in every detail, regardless of every consideration. But I urge that when we have an English Statute which ostensibly is our model, on an entirely new subject to ourselves, and the local authorities have been acting in England for so long a period and continue to act under it in proceedings and questions about which we have absolutely no experience—when there is a departure in an important principle,—I submit that it is very necessary, and indeed essential, that we should have been informed of the reasons and objects for any departure. I, however, am not prepared to say that this departure was deliberate, after I have come to appreciate what labour it is to study the English statute in all its parts. It may have been an oversight, and I venture to say it most probably was so.

"I submit that it would be an arbitrary exercise of power and a hardship, on such a slight ground as the existence of houses so few in number as less than ten, and those possibly dotted here and there and scattered all over an area, to proclaim an improvement scheme with all the elaborate procedure that it will entail and the very large disturbance that it would create. Action of this nature has been deliberately discarded in England, and I submit that it should not be peremptorily imposed here.

"I have given the subject my careful consideration and I submit that, failing any alternative proposal from Government, when we are at the threshold of a new and untried system for Calcutta, we should be content—and on my own part I would in any event deliberately adopt the policy, if there are not more than ten houses affected—that such houses are put into a sanitary condition. And with that intention, I have on the list amendments that would carry out the object I have in view."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN said :—

"Your Honour,—It seems that it would be very hard to the people of Calcutta if the whole area is placed under the general improvement scheme, even if one or two buildings within that area are found unhealthy or unfit for human habitation Other steps might conveniently be taken to improve one or two particular buildings. Neither it would look fair nor it would be reasonable or sensible to declare the whole area, however large it may be, as unhealthy, and thereby put the entire population of that area to inconvenience, loss, and damage. I believe it would not be unfair if a certain limit of unhealthy and unsuitable buildings is fixed for every particular area. Where there are more than ten such buildings, improvement of the whole area may fairly be needed. Without dilating more upon the subject, I should like to propose that the words 'that any buildings not less than ten in number within a certain area' be substituted for the words 'that any building in any area' in line, of clause 35 (now 36) (a)."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir,—In this amendment also, I think that the Mover of the amendment has failed to attain the object which he has in his mind. His object is that the Trust should not proceed to declare as insanitary and to deal with, under the improvement scheme, an area in which the houses are practically to a great extent sanitary, but where a small minority can be held to be unfit for human habitation. But I do not think that his amendment, if carried, will effect his object. For he must not only limit the number of the houses, he must also limit the size of the area in which they are situated, before he can attain the object he has set before him. The precedent quoted from the English Act is really not in point. In London, under the London County Council, are a number of boroughs, and the provisions quoted by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu lay down rules for dividing works of improvement between the County Council and the boroughs. The County Council is only expected to undertake the larger works. I also submit that there is no real danger that the Trust will spend its money in destroying sanitary areas in Calcutta when there are so many plague-spots waiting for removal.

"The Bombay Act does not contain the proposed restriction, and had it done so practical inconvenience would have resulted, for, I think that I must be correct in saying that in some of the Bombay Improvement Schemes the area dealt with must have contained less of the huge and insanitary tenement houses which are found here. On these grounds I would ask the Council to reject the amendment. I even venture to ask the Hon'ble Member to withdraw it."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Sir,—I had almost thought that the uselessness of my amendment would be a recommendation in my favour, but we are in this position that when our amendments have some value they cannot be accepted ; but when they are of no value again, they cannot be accepted. My hon'ble friend has not done me the honour of going through my amendments. If he would look at amendment No. 187 he will see that 'not exceeding 10 acres in extent' as regards the area ; so that I tried somehow to meet the objection that my friend would raise. Well, Sir, I cannot bring forward anything more than what has been said by the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar and the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"May I suggest that the Trust will not deal with an area in which there is one insanitary house to the acres?"

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Sir,—I am very glad to hear that. My hon'ble friend asks us to take the Trust on trust, but I think the Trust cannot be taken on trust, and we want its powers to be limited and defined. However, at this time of the day, even a jaded horse must plead for respite, and I will not go on further. I would ask Your Honour to put the amendment to the vote."

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT BILL, 1911.

Clause 35 (now 36).

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

178. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "not less than ten in number" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

179. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "not less than ten in number" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

180. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the words "that any buildings not less than ten in number within a certain area" be substituted for the words "that any buildings in any area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

181. If either Motion No. 175 or Motion No. 176 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move—

(1) that the word "that" and the words "in any area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a), be omitted; and

(2) that the word "that" in line 1, and the words "in any area", in line 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b), be omitted.

182. If neither Motion No. 175 nor Motion No. 176 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move—

(1) that the words "within a certain area" be substituted for the words "in any area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a) and

(2) that the words "within a certain area" be substituted for the words "in any area", in line 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b).

183. If Motion No. 168 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "within certain limits" be substituted for the words "in any area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a) and line 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b).

184. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "within certain limits" be inserted before the words "in any area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

185. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the word "specified" be inserted before the word "area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

186. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that the word "particular" be inserted before the word "area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

187. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "not exceeding ten acres in extent" be inserted after the word "area", in line 1 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

He said :—

"Sir,—The power of carrying out effective improvements under clause 35 (now 36) are limited to any area which the Trustees may think desirable should be taken up and dealt with under that Chapter. The Trustees may also take up groups of areas. I think it would facilitate the disposal of objections, if we confined our operations to a certain limited area at a time. We give the people greater opportunities and give the Board greater facilities for dealing with these things, instead of taking up a very large area all at once, and, therefore, I think that my amendment, without in any way crippling the resources of the Trustees in regard to improvements which they wish to effect, will facilitate the work of procedure. In that view, I have put forward an amendment providing that the area to be dealt with for insanitary purposes should be limited to 'ten acres,' so that we may proceed step by step."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir—I oppose this amendment, on the ground that there is no precedent for such a provision either in the Bombay or in the English Act, and it is, as far as I know, a pure hypothesis of his own that ten acres or something less than ten acres is a reasonable area to be dealt with at one time, and nothing over ten acres. It is difficult to know what will really be comprised in our improvement schemes, but I do not think that we can foresee in the least what, when the Trust comes to be advised by experts to undertake operations, will in practice be a convenient area, whether in regard to the engineering and sanitary conditions or with regard to the disposal of objections. I think it should be left to be worked out by the Board, what area, in practice, will be the most convenient to deal with."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"You will observe, Sir, that, in Bombay, it is limited to 'certain limits.' In the English Acts, it is 'a certain area,' and that has given rise to the proposal that now has been made. We have no definition of what the Board may do. It is only in order in some measure to limit their operations that this proposal has been made. Although the limit is fixed at ten acres, it does not mean that it would be the only area that would be taken, because there is power reserved to the Board to take any number of these areas consecutively, so that there will be no difficulty in working that. Where we have no definition of what could be taken up as an unhealthy area, I think the Hon'ble Member has endeavoured to limit it in some degree, and I therefore support his proposal."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"I wish, Sir, it were possible for the Government to accept this suggestion. I have made the suggestion in no spirit of putting any obstacle to the Board's action, but merely for the purpose of defining and limiting the Board's scope of operation. Under the Improvement Act, we can take any number of contiguous areas and deal with them block by block. Of course, ten acres is merely a limit, and I think that blocks of ten acres each would be a convenient method of dealing with areas."

The motion was then put and lost.

188. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "and cannot be reasonably improved" be inserted after the words "are unfit for human habitation", in line 3 of clause 35 (now 36) (a).

He said:—

"Sir,—The reason for this amendment is that we desire, in the first instance, to give owners or occupiers concerned the chance of being able to do that which probably they could have been compelled to do under the existing law, and which, for reasons that we do not know, they may not have been called upon yet to do, which has added to the aggravation of insanitation. Section 444 of the Calcutta Municipal Act provides that, in the circumstances mentioned therein, the Chairman may apply to a Magistrate to abate overcrowding, and, in other sections of the same Act, there are provisions that I need not refer to at length, under which it would be possible to take steps by which an insanitary building could be improved. That there has been neglect in the past, on the part either of the owners or the occupiers or of the sanitary authorities, ought not to be reason enough to take the drastic action contemplated under clause 35 (now 36) all at once. The Improvement Trust will have a long tenure of office, and the insanitary houses in Calcutta are so many and so widespread, that it would be too much of a hardship to begin widespread and unsparing operations at once, simply because of the existing insanitary conditions which those responsible did not correct betimes by availing of the existing law. If power of compelling improvements was given to the Trust, as I believe my amendment would, if carried, the work of the Trust would be easier. They could at once take up such hopeless blocks with regard to which no improvement is admittedly possible. To these they can apply their attention and energy to begin with; after all, the discretion would be in their hands, even if the words that I seek to introduce were introduced. Whether a building can be reasonably improved or not, would be a matter very much within their discretion. With due regard to all circumstance and in the exercise of such discretion, they could take initial action of requiring improvements that have long been neglected, and where such improvements are altogether impossible, they could take the more drastic action. Such an option would be a decided facility, both to the Trust and to the people concerned, and I venture to hope that it will appeal to the Government. The reserve power provided in this restriction will not hurt the Trust but may benefit the people by giving them a chance of improving their properties."

The Hon'ble Mr. BOMPAS said:—

"Improvement schemes as provided for, in Part I of the English Act or in this Bill are meant for what the Hon'ble Member has appropriately described as hopeless cases. The essential preliminary of the improvement scheme is the decision that that is the most satisfactory way of dealing with certain evils. If those evils can be remedied by putting compulsion on individual owners then an improvement scheme is unnecessary. The power of dealing with what I may call the normal case of insanitary building is left with the Corporation and I do not think that it will be popular with the people of Calcutta if two co-ordinate authorities were entrusted with the very drastic powers which are conferred on the Corporation by the Municipal Act.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir,—The only observation I wish to offer in reply is that the proviso in such big types as 'the more satisfactory method of dealing with' in the clause is not likely to have escaped even one who has not studied the English Act. No doubt, unless that appears to be the most satisfactory way of dealing with the situation, the Trust would be incompetent to take it up, but the safeguard we seek is of an extremely indefinite and general character. I am anxious to provide that all that can possibly be done in the way of improvement should in the first instance be exhausted; it can be done reasonably cheaply and within a reasonable limit of time. This will not interfere with the exercise of the discretion of the Trust. All that I plead for is just a chance of effecting those improvements which have not been effected under the Calcutta Municipal Act and which the Improvement Trust, with its larger powers and with Damocles' sword hanging, would to a certain extent be able to enforce. But while enforcing the more drastic remedies in default of improvement, I wanted to give one more chance to the affected owners so that they might not altogether lose property which may be capable of improvement."

The motion was then put and lost.

189. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur moved that the word "particular" be inserted before the word "area", in line 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b).

190. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur also moved that the words "or in any neighbouring buildings", in line 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b), be omitted.

He said:—

"Sir,—I beg to move that the word 'particular' be inserted before the word 'area' in line 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b) and the words 'or in any neighbouring buildings', in the same line of the same clause, be omitted. They are not precise and they seem to be of an ambiguous nature. Their elasticity would give rise to disputes and difference in construction. All legislative enactments ought to attempt to secure precision and certainty in language."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"The amendments, as introduced by the Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur, do not seem to be very important ones, but the reasons which the Hon'ble Member has advanced in support of them show that he has misunderstood the meaning of the clause. The word 'area' in that clause is not an indefinite thing. An area is a thing which has definite limits. The justification for the clause as it stands is that it has existed for many years in the English law. Of course it is almost inconceivable that you should have an unhealthy area which would cause danger to the health of the inhabitants of the neighbouring buildings and not to the inhabitants of the unhealthy area itself. So there seems no harm in allowing the words to stand which the Hon'ble Member would omit. The clause, as it stands in the Bill, appears in the Bombay and the English Act, and it was fully discussed in the Select Committee, and I shall not take up the time of the Council in discussing it again now."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"So far as my knowledge of English goes, there seems to be some difference."

The motions were then put and lost.

191. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the words "and bad arrangement and condition" be substituted for the words "and bad arrangements, or the insanitary condition", in lines 1 and 2 of clause 35 (now 36) (b) (i).

He said:—

"It is incongruous to have in (b) (iii) 'any other sanitary defects' with 'insanitary condition' in (b) (i). That is not in the English Act. I beg to move this."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

192. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the words "and buildings" be substituted for the words "or buildings", in lines 2 and 3 of clause 35 (now 36) (b) (i).

193. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "(such buildings not being not less than ten in number)" be inserted after the words "groups of buildings", in line 3 of clause 35 (now 36) (b) (i).

194. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that clause 35 (now 36) (b) (iii) be omitted.

195. If Motion No. 168 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "the Board are satisfied" be inserted after the word "and", in line 1 of the second paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

196. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur moved that the word "only" be substituted for the word "most", in line 1 of the second paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

He said:—

"Sir,—I beg to move that the word 'only' be substituted for the word 'most' in line 1 of the second paragraph in clause 35 (now 36). I think by this alteration greater precision would be secured and ambiguity would be avoided."

The Hon'ble RAI SHIBA SHANKAR SAHAY BAHADUR said:—

"The next motion, standing in my name, is of an identical character with the amendment just proposed, and therefore I beg to say a few words in support of it.

"Sir, this portion of the clause refers to that stage when the fact of the insanitary condition of any area is established to the satisfaction of the Board and when it is considering the merits and demerits,—the advantages and disadvantages of a general Improvement Scheme as compared with any alternative method of avoiding the evil. Under this clause a general Improvement Scheme is to be framed if it is the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evil.

"Sir, under the language of this clause the Board will have the power to reject all alternative methods of dealing with the evil, even though they may be effectual. The criterion here laid down is that such alternative methods must be better than an Improvement Scheme. It is not sufficient if they are simply effectual. This, I submit, is a very large order. It means that the Board will have to frame a general scheme in each and every case of insanitary area, because in all such cases a general Improvement Scheme will, I think, be the 'the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evil.' I will be told that the Board must be trusted with intelligence, and if there be any alternative practicable method which can effectually deal with the evil, the Board will not reject it. But my submission is that your mandate, your order to the Board, as is evident from the language here used, is that unless and until such alternative method is better or more satisfactory than a general Improvement Scheme, it has the power to frame it. You do not use the words 'most feasible method' nor 'most practicable method' nor 'most reasonable method', you use the words 'most satisfactory method.'

"In the Bombay Act we have the words 'and the sanitary defects in such area cannot be effectually remedied otherwise than by an improvement scheme.' The Bombay Act recognises that a general Improvement Scheme should only be framed if there is no other method of dealing with the evil. It recognises that, considering the hardship to the people, the expenses involved, the limited resources of the Board, the general Improvement Scheme should be adopted only as a last step. Our Bill, on the contrary, lays down that the Board may always frame a general scheme unless some method, better or more satisfactory than an Improvement Scheme, exists. While the Bombay Trust will stay its hands and refuse to frame a general scheme, if there exists—a method, though not so satisfactory as a general Improvement Scheme, but still satisfactory for all practical purposes,—the Calcutta Trust will be entitled to proceed with the general scheme unless the alternative method is better or more satisfactory than a general scheme. The net result is that, while in Bombay a general Improvement Scheme is to be adopted only when it is absolutely necessary and when all other remedies fail, in Calcutta it will be framed in almost every case of insanitation. Is this fair? Is this just? Is it necessary? I submit not. I anticipate the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will say, 'these words are not coined by us but we have simply borrowed them from the English Act, the framers of which Act are supposed to know the effect of the words they use. True, they are so borrowed, but in our Bill the conditions of things are different, and there they have other safeguards which are wanting in our Bill. If we had adopted the English Act in its entirety, there would have been some force in this argument of the Hon'ble Member. But what has been done here is really this: that whatever expressions have been found in the English Act or in the Bombay Act as giving larger powers and larger jurisdiction to the Board, they have been adopted, and all expressions laying down restrictions and safeguards appearing in those Acts have been omitted. So we have to read our Bill as it stands and have to be satisfied if the provisions therein inserted can as a whole be supported by the laws of justice, equity and good conscience, and the Council should not pass it blindly because some expressions contained in it are borrowed from one statute and some from others. I beg to support the amendment, which in effect is identical with the amendment standing in my name."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir,—I think I can clear any doubt that may exist in the Hon'ble Member's mind as to the advisability of this drafting. It is true that the words in the Bombay Act are that the evils could not be effectually removed otherwise than by any Improvement Scheme. The Bombay Act was passed in 1898 and took these words from the English Act of 1890, which was then in force. The English Act came up before Parliament after 19 years' experience of its working and was revised in 1909, when Parliament modified it and put in the words 'the most satisfactory way,' etc. It is practically difficult to say that the evils cannot be remedied except by an improvement scheme. As I said before, a general conflagration might be a very effectual remedy. The wording of the section thus merely gives lawyers an opportunity for raising quibbles. For practical purposes what we want to know is whether looking at the displacement of the population, at the heavy expenditure involved and at the alternative remedies that might be applied by dealing with individual houses—whether from a business point of view a general improvement scheme is on the whole the best remedy available. I think we can profit by the 19 years' experience of the working of the English Act, and leave the word as it appears in the Bill intact."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

197. If Motion No. 168 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "only effectual" be substituted for the words "most satisfactory", in line 1 of the second paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

198. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the word "and" be substituted for the word "or", in line 2 of the second paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

The motion was put and agreed to.

199. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the words "if satisfied as to the sufficiency of their resources" be inserted after the word "Board", in line 1 of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

He said:

"Will not the Hon'ble Member in charge accept this? If he does not, then it is hopeless."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"No, unless you convince me by your speech."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"Sir, I do not understand why there is this objection taken. After all, it is only a reasonable request that the Board should be satisfied of the sufficiency of their resources. All we seek is that it should be incorporated in the law and matters not left absolutely to the discretion of the Board, in order that they might have their attention drawn to this particular point. The Hon'ble Member has been referring to the precedents in the English Acts, some details of which have been accepted, and this amendment distinctly follows that precedent. I think that it is a wise provision that the Board should make it their first study to see whether their resources are sufficient. Supposing there are many competing schemes and representations that have been made, then the Board will come with a scheme of their own, the last of all, and may try to force on their own in their zeal, to have their own accepted or put into operation and, therefore, I say it would be wise for the Board to be required to see in the first instance whether their resources are sufficient. I am not asking for anything which is not included, and which is not thought necessary, in the English Acts.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN said:—

"Sir,—I beg to support the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, this is not merely a lawyer's quibble, though I am bound to say that lawyers consider themselves to be as practical men as others who do not profess to have any acquaintance with law, but who, unhappily for us, happen to administer our law. Apart from that, what is it we are following? My friend, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur, is put down by the statement that 19 years' experience of an English Act ought to satisfy him; surely that ought to satisfy him, and it would satisfy all of us if it also satisfied my hon'ble friends on the other side. Just now, when the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar was rising to move his amendment, he inquired if that would be adopted, and my hon'ble friend said that if he was convinced by the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar's speech he might accept it. I have seen, however, in many cases that men who come to scoff do something else. That might be the attitude of my hon'ble friend opposite, and therefore I hope that the arguments that have been advanced may convince my hon'ble friend, for the Bombay Act, which followed the earlier English Act of 1890, had specially provided that improvement schemes should only be taken up when there were sufficient resources. Well, I believe my hon'ble friend will be able to corroborate me when I say that, in some instances at least, the Bombay people went beyond their depth, like little children that swim on bladders, and the English Act, when revised in 1909, expressly retains that provision. Well, if a safeguard like that is thought necessary for English public bodies, with all the safeguards that are otherwise provided for the operations of such bodies—a strong public opinion, a much more enlightened public spirit and a larger element of non-officials represented on it, away from the secrecy of bureaux,—I think it is necessary that the same safeguard at least should be provided for the Indian Trustees that are going to be created. Why is it that it is said that the safeguard is not necessary? There must be an explanation as to why we depart from well-laid courses which experience in countries which have dealt with these measures has dictated. I have heard no argument except the same statement that we do not choose to follow the English precedent. In the absence of any arguments, convincing or otherwise, and in the presence of these strong precedents in Bombay and England and of the necessity that there must be some safeguard to extravagant operations on the part of the Trustees, I think my hon'ble friend's amendment ought to be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir, I resist this amendment because it does not seem to me that the words can properly be inserted in the clause. The words in the Bombay Act and the English law refer to the case of the local body to which an official representation has been made by the Corporation or by a Health Officer that a certain area is unhealthy, and the law lays down a duty upon that local body to make an Improvement Scheme unless it shows cause to the contrary. Then one very good cause, which can be shown, is that it has not got funds enough. Therefore, it is stated that when an official representation is made, the local body will proceed to frame an Improvement Scheme if it has got the money. If it had not the money then it would be a good answer against the scheme being framed. Now, clause 37 (now 38) of this Bill deals with official representation and provides that the Trust must give its reasons if it does not act on an official representation. Clause 35 (now 36) gives power to the Trust to act otherwise than on an official representation. But it is evident that the Trust will not trouble to frame schemes if it has not got the money with which to carry them out. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu anticipated that the Trust owing to its having such a number of Government nominees on its Board would not judge so correctly the extent of its resources as an English public body. I do not know why he is so prejudiced against Government nominees. I believe that he himself sits as a Government nominee in this Council. After all there are only five nominees out of eleven members of the Trust, and surely the Trust as a whole will be as competent to consider the extent of its resources as an ordinary English municipality.

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Sir,—The Hon'ble Member will remember that this expression existed in the original Bill and was deliberately excluded from clause 37 (now 38) in Select Committee, and it was on account of this exclusion that this proposal has been made. It is not only with regard to clause 37 (now 38) that we want it included. Your Honour will see that the only question is whether or not, on an official representation, the scheme shall be framed forthwith; the whole point there is that it is to be framed forthwith on official representation and no other. I submit that it is a proposal that ought to be accepted, and the Board ought to consider not merely with regard to official representation, but also all questions relating to improvement schemes, whether official representation or not. I think it is most important for the Members of the Board, when there are various competing schemes, to see whether they have resources sufficient to cover them, and which of them."

The result of the division was, ayes 17, noes 28, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

200. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the words "is satisfied as to the sufficiency of their resources" be inserted after the word "Board", in line 1 of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

201. If Motion No. 168 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "if their resources permit" be inserted after the word "Board", in line 1 of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

202. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that, after the word "Board", in line 1 of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36), the following be inserted, namely:—

after making proper inquiry and inspection, on notice to the parties concerned, and if satisfied of the sufficiency of their resources.

203. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the word "shall" be substituted for the word "may," in line 1 of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

He said:—

"Is this accepted?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I do not accept it."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"It will not matter because the 'may' is really 'shall'. The Member in charge says he has consulted legal opinion on questions that arise, but we have in Council a legal adviser of Government, and I am within my right to ask what he would say, and if he agrees with me, it would be well if the amendment was made. It is 'shall' for the reason that there is a duty imposed on the Board to be performed, and where the facts are sufficient for the exercise of the duty, then whatever has to be performed shall be performed. I only desire that we should have that word clearly placed before the Board who may not be quite as conscious of the force of that word 'may'. I propose my amendment on that ground."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, I have a similar motion. In this one instance I find we are more insistent than the Government because we say that if these things are existent, namely, the insanitary houses, insanitary buildings, bad arrangements of houses, and if the most satisfactory way of dealing with them is by framing an improvement scheme, the Board shall frame an improvement scheme. In doing that we follow precedent in the housing of the Working Classes Act, 1909 (53 and 54 Vic., cap. 70, section 4), which lays down that if a certain state of things is found to exist, the Board shall pass a resolution to the effect that such area is an unhealthy area and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of such area, and after passing such resolution they shall forthwith proceed to make a scheme for the improvement of such area."

Therefore we have not been, as my hon'ble friend unjustly accuses me of, harbouring suspicion against Government officials; there is no other suspicion than this that people who deal with other people's money are not apt to be so careful as those whose money they spend, that is, towards which they do not contribute in the shape of taxes. They are not so careful about the consideration of various questions as popular representatives, that is, who represent the people and who in the end have to bear the burden. That is a reason why we say that there ought to be 'shall' and not 'may'; and in doing so, though I have the misfortune of being a Government nominee on this Council, I still venture to make that suggestion. Though I do not speak in any personal sense, and though I say who should not say it the Government even like the trappers in the Australian wilds do sometimes hit upon something that is valuable in its search for what it desires to attain. I do not for a moment put myself down in the same category as the valuable find which an Australian bush-ranger may light upon, but I may fairly claim that the Government after all sometimes does stumble upon a good choice. But apart from that, Sir, I venture to make this suggestion for what it is worth."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir, I resist this amendment because the substitution of the word 'shall' for 'may' would have been proper if some of the previous amendments had been carried. The English and the Bombay precedents would have been in point in that case, but as the clause stands in the agenda, it seems to me inappropriate. Under the English and the Bombay laws, as I said before, the local authority must act on official representations unless it adduces sufficient excuse for not doing so. But clause 35 (now 36), as it stands in the Bill, not only mentions official representations, but says that whenever it appears to the Board that an area is unhealthy, it may frame an improvement scheme. It seems to me most impracticable and unbusinesslike that the Board should prepare Improvement Schemes if it knows that it has not yet sufficient funds with which to execute them. That is the difference I submit between the precedent cited and our clause as it stands, and which renders the amendment undesirable. Of course, it is conceivable that in law, as the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar says, 'may' shall mean 'shall', but I submit that there is a greater chance of 'may' meaning 'may', if we have it in the clause than of 'shall' meaning 'may', and I submit that the clause as it stands is permissive."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I do not know, Sir, whether to read an underlying tone of regret on the part of my hon'ble friend in charge of the Bill that some of the previous amendments have been lost. If so, I hope he will be more careful in the future in his hasty opposition to the amendments. It is never too late to mend. During the first two days of the debate my hon'ble friend had confined himself merely to indicating his opposition to the amendment or on taking upon himself to say that he could not advise the Government to accept the particular amendment in order to have the amendments defeated. As I say it is never too late to mend, and this morning when we opened a new Chapter, my hon'ble friend positively undertook to clear up the doubts of my hon'ble friend Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur. We were not without hopes therefore, that as we proceeded, the process of mending would advance. Sir, if it is conceded that the bounden duty of the Trust would be to do something after all these materials are collected and placed before them, would it be right to let the Trust alone? My hon'ble friend was filled with indignation the day before yesterday at the idea of the possibility of the Trust getting all these huge sums of money in its own hands and not being able to give a good account of itself to Government, if for lack of official representation it could not find work enough to engage itself in. Would it not be a more appalling state of affairs, if after all the materials were collected and all the resources were available, the Board were to say to themselves, it was not obligatory upon us to devise any scheme or to carry on any work of improvement. We shall be told that the Trust are a body of practical business men, endowed with sense and discretion and whoever who desires to bring in any hedging restrictions with regard to its powers is unpractical and unbusinesslike. But if we have provided in this Act all that the Trust is entitled to and more, as we have already done, have we no right to say that when all the antecedent requisitions are strictly complied with, the Trust will have no further option in the matter, but shall proceed to do what the Trust is intended to do? That is the whole purpose of the amendment.

"It was said in connection with another amendment, Sir, that the necessity of providing a safeguard as to the Board being satisfied regarding its resources need not be insisted on, because the Board would not be answerable to any one as the English local authority would be under the English Statute and as the Bombay Trust unfortunately is. But if we look at clause 37 (now 38), the Board has certain obligations with regard to the matter of a distinctly unpalatable kind. If the Board and the Corporation happen to disagree and the matter has to go up before the Local Government, there is still a residium of that unpalatable element, and so long as that exists, the way of the Board is possibly not clear as it might have been wished to be. Be that as it may what possible objection or difficulty can there be in the way of providing that if the elaborate ceremonial that is provided for in this Act has been completely gone through, the Board shall have no right to say that it has discretion and option in the matter and that it will not go forward. In this view of things and also having regard to that legal aspect of the question which has been put forward, I think it is of the greatest importance that this slight modification should be made—slight no doubt in appearance but far-reaching in effect."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"Sir, the position is that the Board need not make any inquiry; they need not consider whether or not they have a sufficiency of resources, but they have to say whether or not the most satisfactory method of dealing with certain complaints that reach them is an improvement scheme, and when they have arrived at a conclusion that the most satisfactory method is to frame an improvement scheme, then the Board are to use their discretion whether or not they will pass a resolution to that effect. My hon'ble friend has referred to various Hon'ble Members as to their not being able to appreciate the meaning of the Act, but may I say here that there is a failure to realise what the duty imposed upon the Board is? I am not concerned so much as to any excuse to the Corporation for any official representation not being accepted. My object is that an obligation should be created when the Board go so far as to say that an improvement scheme is the most satisfactory method of dealing with certain complaints, not to stop short there but to pass a resolution to that effect. I think that it is failing at the critical point. It was with some effort in Select Committee that even the question of passing a resolution was included. I think, Sir, it is imperative that it should have been done in the interest of the public, and now I feel more strongly than before, when it is insisted by the Hon'ble Member in charge that after they have decided that an improvement scheme is the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evils complained of it is a matter of discretion whether the Board need pass a resolution or not. I feel more impelled than before to press that it should be brought home to the Board that their duty is that they shall pass a resolution, not to be able to answer the Corporation, but in order that their duty to the public should be made clear. That is the reason why I have proposed this amendment, and I press it."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfaraz Husain Khan.

The result of the division was Ayes 15, Noes 30, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

204. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the word "shall" be substituted for the word "may," in line 1 of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36).

205. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that after the words "such area," at the end of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36), the following be inserted, namely:—

and shall forthwith communicate such resolution to the Corporation.

He said:—

"Your Honour will see that there is an obligation to communicate a resolution under section 37 (now 38) to the Corporation, when the Board have received an official representation and have decided that an improvement scheme is necessary. But there are other considerations which may lead to an improvement scheme being framed, and if a resolution has been passed to that effect and when an improvement scheme is pending, I think, Sir, it is necessary that a body like the Corporation should be informed without delay. It is not enough to say that the Corporation have members on the Board or that the Chairman may be a member ; there will be no proper information placed before the Corporation such as in all official matters is thought necessary. It may be in the information of individual Members of the Corporation but they do not represent the Board on the Corporation. The Corporation are entitled to be informed officially that an improvement scheme has been framed, whether it is with regard to an official representation that has been presented through them or whether it is on a complaint that has come from the Health Officer or from 25 rate-payers or has been considered independently of the Corporation. I, therefore, think that this amendment ought to be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I quite agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar that it is desirable that when an improvement scheme has been framed, the fact should be communicated to the Corporation. And if he will look at clause 42 (now 43) of the Bill, he will see that when an improvement scheme has been framed, the Board will bring the fact to the notice of the Chairman of the Corporation. So far it is right, but the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has a totally different effect and seems to me to be dangerous. It proposes that the Trust, when it sets to work to prepare an improvement scheme, shall proclaim the fact from the housetop by informing the Corporation. The Hon'ble Member must know that there are many land speculators who will be very glad to know where an improvement scheme is contemplated. And it is desirable that the matter should be kept as much confidential as possible. Because otherwise the speculators will try to raise greatly the value of the land. When an improvement scheme is ready, the Bill provides for inserting advertisements in newspapers, but when it is under consideration, it is most desirable, that so far as the public are concerned, the utmost secrecy should be observed."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"Sir, I endeavoured to intervene to explain that a mistake had been made so as to afford the Hon'ble Member an opportunity of correcting his speech in order to be able to meet my remarks. As for secrecy, does the Hon'ble Member intend to go back on what was said by himself before the Bill was referred to Select Committee, that we could not hope to maintain secrecy with regard to the proceedings in the Board? In clause 37 (now 38) it has been provided that the Board shall decide whether a general improvement scheme to carry such representation into effect should be framed forthwith or not, and shall forthwith intimate their decision to the Corporation. That again would be letting in all sorts of people into the knowledge of what is going on. My endeavour is to make the Board work hand in hand with the Corporation, and if there is any resolution with regard to any matter relating to an improvement scheme, to let the Corporation know of it."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

206. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that after the words "such area," at the end of the third paragraph in clause 35 (now 36), the following be inserted, namely:—

and shall communicate such resolution to the Corporation.

207. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the word "shall" be substituted for the word "may", in the last line of clause 35 (now 36).

He said:—

"Sir, it will be observed that this amendment was dependent on the Board having come to a conclusion that they have a sufficiency of resources, and that was a reason why this amendment was proposed. Inasmuch as that particular amendment has been thrown out, I do not desire to press this amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

208. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the following be added at the end of clause 35 (now 36), namely:—

If the Board decide that it is not necessary or expedient to frame a general improvement scheme forthwith, they shall inform the Corporation of the reasons for their decision.

He said:—

"I suppose, Sir, it is no longer necessary. I gave notice of this motion in the belief that some of our amendments should be carried out. But as the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas points out that section 35 (now 36), embraces official representation, etc., I do not think it is necessary for me to press this amendment. I would, therefore, withdraw it with Your Honour's permission."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

209. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the following be added at the end of clause 35 (now 36), namely:—

> Provided that no scheme shall be framed in pursuance of clause (a) with reference to any buildings or group of buildings without giving the parties concerned an opportunity of improving them.

He said:—

"I shall take Your Honour's ruling as to whether it is still open to me to move this amendment. I am afraid it covers the same ground."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas said:—

"Amendment 188 seems to cover this, Sir."

The President said:—

"It covers practically the same ground and therefore it fails."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 36 (now 37) (1).

210. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that for clause 36 (now 37) (1) the following be substituted, namely:—

> 36. (1) An official representation referred to in section 35 (now 36) may be made—
> (i) by the Corporation—
> (a) of their own motion, or
> (b) on a written complaint by the Health Officer of the Corporation, or
> (ii) in respect of any area comprised in a Municipal ward, on a written complaint signed by twenty-five or more residents of such ward who pay either the owner's share or the occupier's share of the consolidated rate leviable under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899.

He said:—

"Sir, in this amendment I seek to make the scope of the official representation a little more clearer than has been provided in clause 36 (now 37). So far as the Corporation is concerned, I do not wish to disturb the state of affairs, for the Corporation under the amendment would make the representation of their own motion or on a written complaint by the Health Officer of the Corporation both under the clause as drawn and as amended. The only amendment that I seek to introduce is with reference to sub-clause (c) of clause 36 (now 37). The clause as it stands makes it possible for residents who are liable to pay either the owner's share or the occupier's share to make a complaint. I seek that those who actually pay and not the defaulters should have the right of making this requisition. My amendment proceeds a little further in that it omits sub-clause (2). The result of that would be that if there was a representation by 25 rate-payers, it should be possible for that representation to proceed on to the Trustees without the intervention of the Corporation. I do not know whether this will appeal to the hon'ble representative of the Corporation on this Council or not. What is provided in this clause is that the intermediary intervention of the Corporation should be done away with and the elaborate process of their having to transmit the representation to the Board in case they do not desire to make an official representation should be avoided. This would be a slight way of expediting official representation in cases where there is public spirit enough among rate-payers to take the initiative of their own motion. It is not a distrust of the Corporation that actuates this amendment, but it is a desire to expedite official representation, and I hope that it will be acceptable to the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"I have had some difficulty in following the Hon'ble Member's reasons for the amendment. As he told us eventually, its net effect is to confer upon 25 or more rateable residents of a ward the power to make an official representation, and he says that he desires to do so in order to expedite business. This, however, is going further than either the Bombay or English precedents, and I think would have results which, possibly, he does not anticipate. In Bombay 12 or more rateable residents can make a complaint to the Municipal Commissioner, and the latter makes a representation to the Board. Under the Bill they make it to the Corporation, and the latter must inform the Board if they decline to forward it, and therefore the net result is very much the same in both cases. There is no danger of any representation not reaching the Board As the clause stands, it only passes through the Corporation, and to that extent I should say it enhances the position of the Corporation, from which I should not imagine the Hon'ble Member desires to detract. Under the housing of the Working Classes Act, an official representation is made by the Medical Officer of Health, and all that 12 or more rateable residents can do is to complain to him, with an appeal to the Local Government Board. It is scarcely desirable to give too widely the power to make an official representation. The Board must consider such a representation, they must come to a decision, and they must inform the Corporation of their finding, together with their reasons if they decline to act. In the event of their refusing to act, there is an appeal to the Local Government. I presume that the Hon'ble Member desires to attach all these results to an official representation from 25 rate-payers, as otherwise there is no object in his amendment. But to call a representation from 25 rate-payers official is a misnomer. If the Board is to be liable to be bombarded with representations from any group of 25 irresponsible people, it may result in a most undesirable waste of their time, and the object of expediting business does not appear to call for the amendment, which is opposed to both the English and Bombay precedents."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir, if I may say so without presumption, the explanation of the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler appears to be eminently satisfactory, and I desire to withdraw this amendment. That, I presume, will not debar me from moving amendment No. 212.

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

211. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that clause 36 (now 37) (1) (b) be omitted.

He said:—

"Sir, I do not propose to press this amendment, and, if your Honour will permit me, I shall state my reason. It is this. I was not in favour of the Corporation having the power that is here conferred on them, because I think that medical representation ought to precede any action by them. I recognize however that there is a distinction between the Corporation taking action and the Board, as the Corporation will not have the final decision in any question. It will be for the Board to decide, so that they are not really in the same sense judges in their own cause, and, therefore, I withdraw this amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

212. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "are liable to", in line 3 of clause 36 (now 37) ( ) (c), be omitted.

He said:—

"Sir, I indicated the reasons of this amendment in connection with the previous amendment. It is a privilege, the right of being able to make a complaint, and I think that defaulters ought to be rigidly excluded from enjoying that privilege. It often happens that the defaulters are the loudest of complainants, and they ought to be kept out. That is the reason why I seek to take out these words."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"Sir, I venture to doubt whether the amendment would be an improvement, and it seems to be open to misconstruction. At present the clause gives the right of making an official representation to 25 rate-payers who are liable to pay rates. The proposal is that we should omit the words 'are liable to,' and should confer the right upon rate-payers who 'pay' either the owner's share or the occupier's share of the consolidated rate. But what is meant by the word 'pay'? Is it meant that they 'ordinarily pay,' or that 'they will pay if asked' or that 'they are prepared to pay'? If so, the sense is closely akin to that of the present draft. If the Hon'ble Member desires to debar those who are in arrears, he should propose the substitution of some such words as 'who have paid,' but then there might arise the difficulty that the representation was made at a time when the current demand was not yet due. The wording of the clause, as it stands, follows section 24 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act and section 5 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act. In the latter it is 12 or more persons liable to be rated who can invoke the intervention of the Medical Officer of Health. The object of the clause is to ensure that the persons making the representation are of some standing. This would follow to some extent from the fact that they possess rateable properties, and they may be given the benefit of the doubt, and it may be assumed that they will pay their rates when required to do so. It scarcely seems necessary to alter the clause in the manner proposed."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir, if there is likely to be any ambiguity, I should not personally like to introduce any such risk in the framing of the section, and I do not wish to press for it."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

Clause 36 (now 37) (2).

213. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that clause 36 (now 37) (2) be omitted.

214. If Motion No. 211 be carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "clause (b) or", in clause 36 (now 37) (2), be omitted.

215. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the word "Board" be substituted for the word "President", in line 4 of clause 36 (now 37) (2).

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 37 (now 38).

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

216. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that clause 37 (now 38) (1) and (2) be omitted.

216A. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the words "and every other representation made under section 35 (now 36)" be inserted after the figures "36", in line 2 of clause 37 (now 38) (1).

He said :—

"Your Honour, I desire that there should be consideration given to the point whether or not an improvement scheme is to be framed forthwith, not merely with reference to an official representation, because I think that there should be an obligation on the Board to consider in all questions, whether on an official representation or not, if an improvement scheme should be framed forthwith or not. I do not understand why the Board should be permitted this latitude, so that they need consider whether the scheme shall be framed forthwith only when there is an official representation. I think, Sir, there ought to be consideration of that question with regard to each scheme. The Act is framed in the public interest and whenever an area is declared unhealthy, I think that in the public interest steps ought to be taken in order to see whether or not there should be an improvement scheme framed forthwith."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I oppose this amendment, Sir, because I do not think that it is possible to insert the words in the clause, as proposed by the Hon'ble Member. If he looks at clause 35 (now 36), he will find that the representation mentioned there is only official representation."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"It does not exclude other representations, and there may be other representations made."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"It does not exclude their representation, though it does not mention them. Official representations coming from and through the Corporation will deserve that serious consideration of the Trust, but to make it compulsory by law that every chance representation received by post should be treated in the same way, seems to me quite impracticable."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Sir, although this amendment was originally framed with a view of an amendment I proposed in this connection, but it is not confined to that amendment, because the Board have the power to consider any representation made. If they proceed without any representation, this amendment would not have any effect. If however they come to a conclusion that a representation requires consideration, I think that in the public interest they ought to proceed to see whether or not they should frame an improvement scheme forthwith."

The motion was then put and lost.

217. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din moved that the words "if satisfied as to the truth thereof and as to the sufficiency of their resources" be inserted after the word "and", in line 2 of clause 37 (now 38) (1).

He said :—

"Your Honour, the matter of this amendment has already been discussed in connection with clause 35 (now 36). The Hon'ble Member in charge was pleased to tell us that the said amendment was altogether improper and inappropriate so far as clause 35 (now 36) was concerned, and that the proper place for that amendment was in connection with clause 37 (now 38). I therefore hope that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas will not oppose this amendment.

"The amendment itself is simple. It consists of two parts: (1) the Board should be satisfied as to the truth or otherwise of the grounds of official representation by the Corporation, and (2) the Board should be satisfied as to the sufficiency of their resources. Though the latter is more important than the former, yet the former one is essentially necessary. What we are anxious for is that the Board have to make an independent inquiry as to whether the grounds are such as to engage their attention forthwith or as to whether there are other more important and urgent measures in hand at the time, and the Board should wait to pass the resolution or to frame the scheme of improvement.

"I know that the intention of the framers of the Bill is not to ignore these two important things. But, I submit Sir, that the clause should be so couched that the intention may be patent from the wordings of the clause and may not be hereafter a bone of contention.

"With these few observations which are only supplemental to what has already been said and fully discussed in connection with the similar amendment in clause 35 (now 36), I beg to move my amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I took a rather benevolent attitude towards a similar amendment introduced on clause 35 now 36), because obviously these are considerations which must weigh with the Board in determining whether a scheme should be framed or not: they may be expressly mentioned, and if sufficient members consider it worth while, I should be willing to accept it. But the difficulty is that the amendment, as it stands, makes nonsense of the clause. This clause 37 (now 38) has been considerably modified since it was introduced in Council solely with the idea of making it more fair and satisfactory. As it was introduced in Council, we said that the Board should consider every official representation, and if the Board were satisfied as to the sufficiency of their resources, and decided to make an improvement scheme, they should send intimation of the fact to the Corporation, and if they did not send any intimation within twelve months of getting an official representation, the Corporation could refer the matter to the Local Government. But we found that no provison was made for the case of the Trust differing from the Corporation as to the necessity for a scheme. That the Trust should simply differ from the Corporation and should be under no obligation to inform it of the fact or to give the Corporation its reasons was thought undesirable, and so the clause was recast, and it was provided that if an official representation came to the Board, they had to decide whether a general improvement scheme should be framed to carry that representation into effect forthwith or not and intimate the decision to the Corporation. But if the clause is amended in the way suggested by the mover, the words will not make sense. What the Hon'ble Member means is that if they are satisfied of the sufficiency of their resources and the truth of the representation, they will proceed to frame a scheme. But the clause, as it stands, is sufficient to meet his purpose, for the Board cannot proceed to frame an improvement scheme before it is satisfied that it is necessary, and that it has got sufficient funds to carry it out. The Corporation representation would be accepted if the Trust has got no reasons to adduce to the contrary. Obviously good reasons would be that it has not got sufficient funds or that it has got other more important work to do. If the Hon'ble Member's amendment is accepted, the whole clause would have to be recast. I think that the clause as it stands now is more satisfactory to the Corporation than the original one."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, I cannot follow my Hon'ble friend opposite in the strong and impressive language that he uses with regard to this amendment. But if he is satisfied as to the substantial merit of the amendment, then I do not see why the proper wording should not be given to it in order to fit it in with the rest of the clause. When we were moving similar amendments with regard to clause 35 (now 36), my Hon'ble friend said and said with some degree of force, that they were not only considering official representations, but were also considering schemes of their own motion, and he said that the Board would not consider them if they had not sufficient resources to go on with them. He was further pleased to intimate that clause 37 (now 38) would be the proper place where these amendments might very well be made.

"Clause 37 (now 38) and the English Acts, which make it incumbent upon local bodies to move upon official representations and also the Bombay Act have got that language—"if satisfied," etc. The words are identical both in the English Acts and in the Bombay Act and in our original draft of the Bill clause 37 (now 38) we had something like this but in a different sense—'if the Board are satisfied as to the truth of any such representation and as to the sufficiency of their resources for carrying it into effect, but decide that, by reason of the number of schemes awaiting execution or for any other reason, it is inexpedient to proceed forthwith to frame a scheme to carry such representation into effect, they shall forthwith send intimation etc., etc." The present amendment seeks to attain this, and if the Board are satisfied, and if the resources at their disposal are sufficient, they shall go on with the scheme. If my Hon'ble friend, the mover of the amendment, is not technically in order, and if the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill thinks that there would be no harm by introducing this clause, I would appeal to him to so draft this clause as to bring it in conformity with the English Act and the Bombay Act."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"What I wish to say is that if no Member of the Council objects, if you approve, Sir, then I see no objection for postponing the consideration of this clause. In the Select Committee, we turned the clause upside down and I see no particular reason to alter it again. But if any Member has any strong feeling on the subject, I am open to conviction."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"We will postpone the consideration of this clause (37) (now 38) till after lunch and see if we can come to an agreement about it."

The motion was then postponed.

The following motion was also postponed :—

218. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "if satisfied as to the truth thereof and as to the sufficiency of their resources" be inserted after the word "and," in line 2 of clause 37 (now 38) (1).

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

219. If Motion No. 210 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "or the signatories referred to in sub-clause (ii) of section 36 (now 37)" be inserted after the word "Corporation," in the penultimate line of clause 37 (now 38) (3).

New clause 37A.

220. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that after clause 37 (now 38) the following be inserted, namely:—

Inquiry on refusal of Corporation to make an official representation.

37A. (1) When a copy of a complaint in respect of any area is sent to the Board under section 36 (now 37), sub-section (2), they may appoint a qualified medical man to inspect such area and to make a report to the Board, stating the facts of the case and whether in his opinion the area or any part thereof is or is not an unhealthy area.

(2) If such report states that the area or any part thereof is an unhealthy area, the Board shall proceed in the manner prescribed by section 37 (now 38), as if such report were an official representation made to the Board under section 36 (now 37).

He said :—

"Your Honour, I do not understand why a medical inspection is unnecessary, with reference to the Board of Trustees, in Calcutta when it is found necessary for the Local Government Board at Whitehall, a department of Parliament represented by a Cabinet Minister in the House of Commons. When a local authority refuses an official representation, that is to say a representation which has been made by its own medical officer of health or on the representation or complaint of the rate-payers, and an appeal is preferred to the Local Government Board, it is provided that the Local Government Board shall send down a medical practitioner to make inquiry. But here the Board of Trustees is to be regarded as altogether a very much superior authority than the Local Government Board at Whitehall, and I do not think, Sir, that it is very convincing. In England it is necessary that there should be this provision, in order to satisfy the opinion that there shall be a proper inquiry made, here the Board is to have absolute discretion to take notice of a complaint or not, I submit that when there has been a complaint made, it ought to be treated seriously and there ought to be a proper inquiry made by a medical officer of health and that the report of the medical officer should be regarded as an official representation when the medical officer reports that the complaint has been made on sound reasons. The distinction that is drawn between the Board of Trustees is very startling and the clause is not consistent with English precedent."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"This amendment does not seem to be necessary. It deals with the case where the Health Officer of the Corporation applies to the Corporation for a certain area to be declared unhealthy and if the Corporation do not agree with his views they will send his report to the Trust with their comments and the Trust will have to consider it as they would consider any representation from any other sources and accept it or otherwise. It is obviously impossible to make it compulsory for the Board to engage a medical officer as I said before whenever anybody makes a complaint about a certain area. So I submit it is not right to make it compulsory upon the Board to depute a medical officer to inquire into a complaint from twenty-five ratepayers which they have presented to the Corporation and which the Corporation with its staff of sanitary officers decide to be entirely unnecessary and not worth consideration. When it is sent to the Trust, the Trust may be satisfied with the opinion of the Corporation and decide that no further action is necessary. I think it must be left to the Trust whether an inquiry should be made with regard to any particular complaint and what form that inquiry should take. If the complaint has passed through the Health Officer's hands I do not think we will gain much by sending another medical officer of ordinary experience to check and report on the findings of an officer who has had peculiar experience of that sort of work. I think it must be left to the Trust to decide whether an inquiry should be made on any complaint or not."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"Your Honour, this follows upon the complaint of rate-payers, or of the Health Officer, reaching the Board. If the complaint is rejected it must be reported to the Board. Clause 37 (now 38) (2) was introduced in Select Committee on the model of section 10 of the Housing Act of 1890, and there it is provided that if the complaint is rejected there is an appeal to the Local Government Board. In place of the Local Government Board the Trust Board will receive these complaints. There seems to be a gap under the Bill, after an appeal is made to the Board. In England there is action taken to see whether or not this complaint is to be accepted. In the first instance it is fortified by a local inspection by a medical practitioner appointed by the Local Government Board. I want the same procedure to be followed in Calcutta that there should be a qualified person appointed to inspect the locality complained of."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

Clause 38 (now 39).

221. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that after the words "building-sites," in clause 38 (now 39) (a), the following be inserted, namely:—

for the working and poorer classes who may be dislodged by the operations of the Board.

He said:—

"Clause 38 (now 39) provides that the Board would be entitled to lay out new streets for the purpose of providing building-sites and for certain other purposes; now the first question, one is tempted to ask, 'building-sites for whom'? It must not be building-sites for Maharajas and Rajas or for the Hon'ble Members of this Council. Building-sites must not be provided for people who are very well off, for the wealthier classes and the high placed who are very well able to take care of themselves. If such building-sites or buildings are to be provided, they must be provided for the poorer and working classes who might be dislodged by the operation of the Trust, for people who cannot take care of themselves. Such is also the opinion of the Calcutta Corporation and the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. It was only the other day that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas posed himself as the champion of the tenants and vehemently advocated their cause because they were poor, and because they much out-numbered the higher and middle classes. Such being the view of the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, let him confine his attention to the poorer and working classes, but, pray, let him not, in the name of sanitation, and at the expense of the public, at the expense of Trust money, provide building-sites or buildings for the wealthier classes and the high placed. In the course of the debate, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas was good enough to observe, on Wednesday last, that Calcutta was suffering from two maladies. It was cramped, it could not grow; there was no means of access to the suburbs, no main arteries for the outlet of the population; the purpose of the Trust was to remedy these; it was to provide main thoroughfares and to enable the population to spread over a greater area than it occupied now. I quite agree with him in his remarks, but which portion of Calcutta are more cramped, more congested, more unhealthy, more insanitary and more filthy than the northern quarters of the city and the northern suburbs. It was the filthy and congested condition of the northern quarters of the city which provoked Dr. Simpson, a late Health Officer of the Corporation of Calcutta, to observe that portions of Calcutta were more filthy than an African village. It was to the apprehension of the dreaded plague finding a safe lodgment in the filthy and congested quarters of the northern division that the conception of the improvement Trust was due. We therefore fervently hope and earnestly pray that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas will confine his attention to the northern quarters of the town. We wish that he should confine his attention to the removal of congestion in the northern quarters of the town by providing outlet for the dislodged population in the northern suburbs, such as Manictolla, Dum-Dum and Cossipur. It would be an abuse of power, if in the name of sanitation, in the name of removing congestion, Trust money were applied to lay out broad thoroughfares in the southern suburbs in the direction of Tollygunge, Diamond-Harbour Road, places which are already open and well ventilated. It would be an abuse of Trust money if broad roads and streets were made in the southern direction solely for the purpose of providing building-sites, not for the working and poorer classes, but for the high placed.

"The Bill in its present form seems to have invested the Board with wide powers, to make sweeping changes and in the name of improvements and of sanitation to frame large schemes for laying out new streets through any part of Calcutta and for opening up congested areas and thereby demolishing any number of buildings in any quarter both in Calcutta and outside it. But the main objects and reasons which originally led the Government to frame this Bill, were that portions of Calcutta, specially the northern quarters, being too much congested and most of the streets being too narrow and circuitous which go to hamper traffic, it was deemed desirable for removing these and other defects; that open spaces should be provided for ventilation and recreation and that new streets should be laid out for providing direct and swift communication and for affording facilities to traffic, and that sites should be provided outside the limits of the Calcutta Municipality for the population, specially for the working and poorer classes who might be dislodged by the carrying out of the above schemes; but it has never been suggested in any quarter that laying out of new streets was wanted for providing more building-sites in the Calcutta Municipality or such sites were wanted for the wealthier classes; rather the popular impression is that too many buildings have already been provided both in the European and commercial quarters of the town, both for residential and commercial and business purposes, and the time was not far distant when many buildings would go abegging.

"It was only the other day a well informed and prominent resident of Ballygunge told me that houses were springing up like mushroom in Ballygunge, with the result that about 37 houses in Ballygunge and its neighbourhood were lying vacant with the sign-boards attached to them 'To Let.'"

The Hon'ble RAI BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN BAHADUR said:—

"Sir, I beg to move that the words 'for the accommodation of the displaced poorer and working classes' be added after the words 'building-sites' in clause 38 (now 39) (a). The language in the clause, namely, 'providing building-sites' is of a vague nature. What sort of buildings are intended is not very clear. It may include residential buildings for rehousing the dislodged people. There is a provision in clause 46 (now 47) (f) of the Bill for the rehousing of persons who are likely to be displaced by the execution of a scheme, particularly of persons of the poorer classes. I have been told by the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler that the building-sites mentioned in clause 38 (now 39) are not intended for buildings for rehousing purposes. Clause 38 (now 39) is meant for building-sites, which are necessary for laying out new streets, and such building-sites would include only small buildings such as urinals, etc. I beg to submit before this Council that the wording of the different clauses should be such that the intention of the Legislature may be clearly and easily gathered and properly construed by the judiciary. According to well-known maxims of construction of legal phraseology, the words actually used must show the intention of the Legislature. The intention ought to be patent on the face of the word and latent meaning should not be left for the judiciary to infer. However, as the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler tells me that the building-sites mentioned in clause 38 (now 39) are not intended for residential buildings, I do not press it."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"I think, Sir, that this amendment and the two which succeed it are based, possibly, upon some misapprehension of the meaning of the clause. The provision of building-sites in accordance with clause 38 (now 39) (a) is not for the purpose of the rehousing schemes dealt with in clause 50A (now 52). With reference to that clause, there are various amendments desiring to restrict its application to persons of the poorer and working classes only, and these we shall discuss hereafter. But clause 38 (now 39) (a) merely refers to the disposal of lands on either side of a newly constructed street scheme. The clause is modelled on section 30 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, where the Trust has a similar power to provide building-sites for the expansion of the city. This is an essential feature of the Bill. It is one of the purposes of the Bill not only to attempt to rectify sanitary defects within the town, but to control the expansion of the town and provide areas for building along the new streets to be laid out, which will favour the migration of the population to less congested centres and will prevent there the recurrence of the same state of affairs which has disfigured the heart of the town. The process is analogous to the disposal of surplus lands by the Corporation along any line of road which may be opened up. They thereby provide building-sites and this is all that this clause of the Bill contemplates. If this is so, there is no reason for stating that the sites should be either for the working and poorer classes, or for the persons displaced by the operations of the Board. These classes will doubtless share in the advantages of the Board's action, but there can be no reason for saying that no one else shall. The action of the Board under this clause is of a twofold nature: it is partly the disposal of surplus lands by way of recoupment, and it is partly of the description of town planning. The principle of recoupment is not new; it rests on principles quite other than the accommodation of the poorer classes or of persons displaced, and there can be no justification for restricting its application. Moreover, how this could be done in practice is not in any way clear. How is the Board to proceed? Are they only to sell to the poorer classes, who ex hypothesi will be unable to buy? If the poorer and working classes only are to be considered, the restriction would absolutely frustrate any attempt to safeguard the interests of the previous owners of the land, for which there are various provisions in the Bill, to which importance is attached, and what is to be done supposing the persons displaced do not want the land, or there are no residents displaced, as might be the case if the Board was operating in areas outside the town with a view to future expansion? Is the land in this case to be settled as a building-site only with the one cultivator who happened to be occupying it? This is obviously impossible. The amendments appear to be confusing two different things. Whatever the merits may be of the proposal to restrict rehousing schemes to persons of the poorer and working classes displaced by the operations of the Board, they do not apply to this clause, which deals with another matter."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, would my friend accept the wording of the Bombay Act which says: 'providing building-sites, etc.'? There is a misapprehension on our side and we do not understand what it means. It means perhaps that you may take up lands and open out roads and provide building-sites. The question is, building-sites for whom? Unless you introduce some sort of limitation or definition the result will inevitably be that you will bring in a large number of land-jobbers and gamblers. You open up building-sites and somebody goes and buys them up and tries to resell them at an advantage. My friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, says 'we will keep our procedings secret'. I may say that it will not be possible to keep your proceedings secret, and it will not be possible to prevent what had happened in regard to gigantic schemes of the Second Empire in France, but whatever that may be, we do not desire that our poor population should be bought out on the condition which this Act lays down for the benefit of land-jobbers and landholders. If building-sites are provided for people actually displaced or for the expansion of the city we would have no objection; but it is possible, I do not say that it will happen, that somebody may move the Board for a particular site; and it is possible, as in other Boards has happened, that the Board may have to acquire that site for a particular individual or body. That is a contingency which we want to avoid. We do not for a moment say that building-sites should not be provided, but are you going to open out streets to provide building-sites for people who will dabble in land-jobbing and procure these sites at the expense of the resident population of the city? Is there any safeguard in your law against such a contingency like that? There being no safeguards we find that it is necessary that some safeguard should be introduced. It may be that my friend has gone beyond the mark. I appeal to my friends to bear in mind what I have been trying to place before them and to introduce some provision which will prevent the contingency like the one to which I have been alluding."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"That is entirely a different amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"I wish to speak and shall speak against the amendment. The surprise makes my hon'ble friend start up in an expectantly listening attitude. Sir, we have brought in our amendments as I had occasion to say before, in the best of light and that light sometimes differs. Here is an amendment with regard to which I am unable to agree, although other amendments on the same line but of a somewhat different character will commend themselves to us later on. I am unable to follow the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas when he, following the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, desires to stand in the way of the land-jobber; that is a thing which no legislator, nor any executive for the matter of that, has never been able to do. You cannot earmark the building-sites and say none but persons of a certain character shall come in there. Of course by your rules and standing orders which I suppose will be provided, it will be possible to discriminate amongst those who are aspirants for these sites, but as I read this section it is merely a preamble. It is for the purpose of providing sites that the Trust is going to take power. How these sites will be disposed of will be determined later on. Among many things mentioned in this clause 38 (now 39) providing of building-sites is one. What purpose those sites are to be put to is a matter that is not dealt with in this clause and I am afraid the amendment of the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur comes in a somewhat weak form, if he insists on its coming in here. If, however, he would take his stand on an amendment like 222, larger points of agreement would present themselves and for ought we know the Government may be able to see their way to adopting some limitation to be placed with regard to those for whose benefit sites likes these are to be provided; but so far as the acquisition powers go which are of a more general purpose, they are provided in clause 38 (now 39) and therefore this amendment does not come in with the force which it may have elsewhere."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I think the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has certainly dealt with the amendment as put forward by the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur but the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has asked us whether we would accept the wording of the Bombay Act which provides building-sites for the expansion of the city, and hoped that in some mysterious method the insertion of these words would restrain land-jobbing. I do not accept the proposal for the reason that the wording of the Bombay Act has been found inconvenient and in their Bill to amend that Act they have proposed the omission of these words. The Bombay people found it inconvenient, and I see no reason why we should adopt it here. As the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has pointed out it is no good to attempt to improve congested parts of Calcutta unless you take steps to deal with the fatal growth of the population. Within the last decade the population of Calcutta has added another lakh to its number. All remedies are useless unless you are prepared to meet the congestion of Calcutta and the growth of population by laying out suburbs."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"I beg to point out to the Council that there is no provision in the Municipal Act for the laying out of new streets simply for the purpose of providing building-sites alone and not nothing more.

"Of course you may open out a new street to relieve congestion, to facilitate traffic and to provide swift means of communication, but what I object to, is the provision made here for the laying out of new streets simply for providing building-sites not for the working and poorer classes or for the dislodged population, but for the wealthier classes and the high placed."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were by leave of the President withdrawn:—

221A. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur moved that after the words "building-sites", in clause 38 (now 39) (a), the following be inserted, namely:—

for the accommodation of the displaced poorer and working classes.

222. If Motion No. 221 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that after the words "building-sites", in clause 38 (now 39) (a), the following be inserted, namely:—

for persons who may be displaced by the operations of the Board.

Clause 39 (now 40).

224. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that clause 39 (now 40) be omitted.

224A. If Motion No. 224 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that after the words "as a whole," at the end of clause 39 (now 40) (a), the following be inserted, namely:—

and of the congested quarters of Calcutta in particular.

225. If Motion No. 224 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that clause 39 (now 40) (b) be omitted.

225A. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "the several directions" be substituted for the words "the direction", in line 1 of clause 39 (now 40) (b).

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

226. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "neighbouring and" be inserted after the word "for", in clause 39 (now 40) (c).

226A. If Motion No. 224 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "the northern and other congested quarters of Calcutta and their neighbouring areas" be substituted for the words "other parts of Calcutta", in line 2 of clause 39 (now 40) (c).

Clause 40.

227. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "and the construction of such buildings", in clause 40 (now 41) (c), be omitted.

He said :—

"Sir, clause 40 (now 41) provides for matters which must be provided for in improvement schemes. These matters being amongst others the construction of such buildings as the Board may think necessary, I do not understand what that is intended to cover. I think every one will agree with me that it would be dangerous to allow the Board power to go on erecting buildings for purposes which may not legitimately fall within the scope of a public body. In this connection, I shall quote from the letter which the Government of India addressed to the Secretary of State for India on the 26th September, 1907:

'We do not desire that the Trust should undertake the acquisition of building land or the construction of houses, beyond the extent actually necessary to ensure that migration of population to the suburbs which we have endeavoured to show is essential to the success of the scheme. We hope that when once the Trust has commenced operations, private owners will be ready to undertake the provision of house accommodation in suburban areas, but we consider that the Trust must be in a position from the first to control and direct the expansion, and that it should be at liberty, when private enterprise is deficient and until it has been stimulated, by example, to provide houses for the population actually displaced by its operations. The example of Bombay shows how necessary this last proposal is. In that city no provision was originally made to rehouse the population displaced, with the result that the people ejected instead of leaving Bombay and settling in some distant suburbs, merely crowded into the chawls which had been left standing. The Bombay Improvement Trust has since recognised its mistake and has begun to construct model chawls for a portion of these people, its intention being not to provide housing for the whole of the population displaced, but by constructing sanitary dwellings on a commercial basis to induce private capitalists to follow its example.'

"So, there both the Government of India and the Secretary of State have in mind the purpose to which construction of buildings by the Board of Trustees, if at all, should be confined, and I think it is unsafe that these purposes should not be introduced in this clause, and it should be left as wide as it is 'as the construction of such buildings as the Board may think necessary'. The Board, as I have more than once said, consist of a small number of persons who may be canvassed easily. I do not think that we should leave an unfettered discretion to the Board in a matter of such serious importance. It is not done in other countries and it should not be done in ours."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"I think, Sir, there is some misunderstanding of the intention of the clause. The arguments and the references which the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has quoted have reference to rehousing schemes, which are dealt with in clause 50 A (now 52). But this clause does not refer to these, nor is it contemplated that the Board should undertake extensive rebuilding operations, but it may be desirable that, in pursuance of a scheme, the Board should erect some small buildings, e.g., a latrine, or a summer-house in a park, and, if so, the scheme should provide for that. The construction of buildings is similarly provided for in section 25 (i) (b) of the Bombay Act, and the clause is not open to abuse. After all, it only says that the scheme shall provide for these things, one object being that the Local Government shall be in possession of complete information of all the expenditure involved. It is also desirable that the public should be aware of the full details of the proposal. The Local Government, under clause 47 (now 48), may sanction the scheme either with or without modification, and, if buildings are improperly proposed, they can order their omission. Unless it is sought to say that under no inconceivable circumstances in connection with an improvement scheme shall the Board construct a building, the intention of the amendment is not clear."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"Provisions for the construction of buildings have already been made by clause 50 A (now 52), so these words are quite superfluous here and I do not know for whom and for what classes such buildings are wanted."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"With reference to what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler, I am afraid his memory is not quite accurate. If we look to clause 40 of the original Bill, we find that clause (f) runs 'the construction of dwellings for persons displaced by the execution of the scheme and of shops for the use of such persons.' That was originally the intention of the Bill. That has been wittled down to this, 'the construction of such buildings as the Board may consider necessary."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"It might facilitate matters if I offer one word of explanation that clause 40 (f) of the original Bill corresponds to clause 50 A (now 52) of the present Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Construction of buildings was originally in clause 40 (c), as the Hon'ble Member will see."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, then the question which arises is this: if the buildings are intended to be of the nature that my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler suggests, I, for one, have no objection to it. But if they are to be of a different nature, certainly I would object to it. The words as they are 'construction of such buildings as the Board may think necessary' are very wide. They are much wider than any power that was intended to be conferred on the Board either by the Secretary of State or the Government of India, and therefore it would be some use in limiting that sentence 'construction of such buildings' expressly to such schemes. I think that it would be some limitation of the Board's powers, otherwise we feel that we may be to be let in for things which were intended to be covered by the original clause (f) 'buildings of shops, etc.,' and we do not wish that the Board should be converting itself into a trading body or trading society and that is what we object to in these provisions."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

228. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "and the construction of such buildings", in clause 40 (now 41) (c), be omitted.

229. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "for persons of the poorer and working classes" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 4 of clause 40 (now 41) (c).

He said:—

"I am now speaking on clause 40 (now 41) (c) 'and the construction of such buildings as the Board may think necessary.' I want to add 'for persons of the poorer and working classes.' The English Acts do not provide 'of anything else and I do not see why we should be more generous than the English Acts have been.'"

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"As I have explained, this clause does not refer to rehousing schemes, and I think the question of housing the poorer and working classes only can more conveniently be discussed in connection with clause 50A (now 52)."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"I accept my hon'ble friend's explanation, but I may remind him that he may not be on the Board for a long time."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"May I intervene. The reason why I have moved my amendment with reference to clause 40 (now 41) (c) is this. I think the Hon'ble Member will remember that in the first instance it was inserted in the Select Committee to limit construction to the poorer classes and it was eliminated afterwards. Therefore, I was led to believe it was necessary to move this amendment at this stage."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar desired, I think, to speak on Motion No. 230, unless he prefers to do so on No. 229."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"I thought that this clause would govern the Act. However, if that question is left open, I have no objection to have the discussion in the place where the Hon'ble Member suggests."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"These questions may stand over."

The motion was then postponed.

The following motions were also postponed:—

229A. If Motion No. 228 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "for persons of the poorer and working classes" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 4 of clause 40 (now 41) (c).

230. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "for persons of the poorer classes" be inserted after the word "buildings" in line 4 of clause 40 (now 41) (c).

230A. If motion No. 230 be not carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "for persons actually displaced by any improvement scheme" be inserted after the word "buildings" in line 4 of clause 40 (now 41) c).

231. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that after clause 40 (now 41) (c), the following be inserted, namely:—

(c1) the re-housing of persons whose property has been or may be acquired and who require re-housing accommodation and whose yearly income does not exceed one thousand five hundred rupees.

Clause 41 (now 42).

232. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that at the end of clause 41 (now 42) the following be inserted, namely:—

Provided that, in acquiring land for a proposed improvement scheme or for the laying out of a street, no land exceeding fifty feet in depth beyond the area comprised in the proposed scheme, or, in the case of a proposed street, exceeding fifty feet in depth on either side of the street alignment, shall be acquired.

He said:—"I admit that the amendment I have proposed is somewhat too narrow and rigid and will go to hamper the Trust in the acquisition of land; but though my amendment may not, in its present form, find favour with the majority of the Council, what I beg to urge is that there should be a limit to land acquisition. The law should definitely prescribe 'Thus far you should go and no further.' A carte blanche must not be given to the Trust to acquire an unlimited and undesirable quantity of land irrespective of its requirements.

"With reference to clause 41 (now 42), I need hardly refer to the objection that I urged in my Minute of Dissent against the provisions of the above clauses. The clause in question is no doubt a reproduction of the provisions of section 357, sub-section 2, of the Calcutta Municipal Act. It is no doubt in the interests of the public desirable that the Board should be empowered to acquire extra land beyond the one of the Improvement Scheme, so that that they might be in a position to recoup to some extent the costs of any scheme, but that would not certainly justify the Board to indulge in land speculation or, what is worse, in land-grabbing. It would be mischievous, and I say it would be most detrimental to private interests, if the Board in the name of the betterment-principle were authorized to acquire any quantity of land irrespective of their necessary requirements. The evils of acquiring an unlimited quantity of land beyond the necessary requirement of the case have been very well illustrated in the few instances which have been cited by my friend Maharaj Kumar Hrishikesh Laha in his Note of Dissent. It is a common occurrence in the Calcutta Municipality that in laying out new streets or in executing any other improvement scheme, proposals are oftentimes submitted, and as often greedily accepted, that much larger quantities of excess lands beyond the necessary requirements of the case should be acquired (irrespective of consequences to owners of such lands), so that the Corporation might be in a position, not only to recoup the costs of the schemes, but also to make large additional profit by subsequently disposing of the excess lands at fancy prices.

"To what perverse length the pernicious principle of recoupment may be carried will be well illustrated from the two recent cases of the proposed acquisition of land which I beg to quote from the proceedings of the Calcutta Corporation. From these proceedings it would be seen that the demoralising influence of speculation, that is, of making money to the serious loss of innocent third parties, has even hypnotised such a corporate body as the Calcutta Municipality. Give the power, the authority to make money at the expense of others, it is sure to be abused, even in the hands of a corporate body.

Here are the two late illustrations which I beg leave to quote :—

'1. Plan and estimate for construction of a road in continuation of Lansdowne Road.

'The Committee were asked to consider the plan and estimate for the construction of a road in continuation of Lansdowne Road southwards between Hazra Road and Monoharpukur Road and the Surveyor's note thereon.

'The Surveyor's note was as follows :—

'A projected public street, 60 feet wide, has been aligned in continuation of Lansdowne Road southward from Hazra Road to Mudially Road and thence to Russa Road near the Railway bridge.

'An offer made to make over the land required for this road between Hazra Road and Monoharpukur Road was refused, and it was decided that surplus land should be acquired when it is decided to make the road. The Estates and General Purposes Special Committee at their meeting held on the 9th January 1911, asked for an estimate of the cost of acquisition and construction.

'I beg to submit a plan and estimate for the acquisition of land and cost of construction.

'The road will be 1,200 feet in length. The area of land proposed to be acquired is approximately 24 bighas, of which 18½ bighas will be surplus land.

'I estimate the cost of aquisition at Rs. 1,43,320 and the District Engineer's estimate for tank-filling and construction, metalling, sewering, lighting and water-supply is Rs. 59,565, the total cost being Rs. 2,02,885.

'I estimate the probable reimbursement by sale of surplus land at not less than Rs. 2,25,448.

'The details are—

		Rs.
Acquisition of land	...	1,43,320
Tank-filling and construction	...	59,565
Interest at 5 per cent. for two years on cost of surplus land	...	10,534
Total cost	...	2,13,419
Probable reimbursement by sale of surplus land ...	...	2,25,448
Net estimated profit	...	12,029

'This matter was placed before the Estates and General Purposes Special Committee on the 7th March 1911, when Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur objected to the disproportionate amount of surplus land which it was proposed to acquire. He considered that to make the profit proposed was wrong in principle. The Committee resolved:—"That the plan and estimate amounting to Rs. 2,02,885 for the acquisition of land and construction of a road in continuation of Lansdowne Road southward between Hazra Road and Monoharpukur Road be administratively sanctioned, and that the objection of Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur be recorded."

'When the recommendation of the Special Committee came up before the Corporation at their meeting held on the 12th April 1910, it was resolved that the matter be referred back to this Committee for reconsideration and report.

'The plan and estimate were considered.

'Babu Bipin Chandra Mullick said he advocated taking the whole of the land.

'The Chairman said he thought the feeling of the Committee, after examining the boundaries of the plots, was that it would not be possible to take a smaller quantity of surplus land. Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur said they might take the land offered free of cost, and ask the parties if they were willing to also contribute to the cost of the construction of the road.

'Dr. Dutt said the Committee had already decided against that.

'Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur said the cost of construction was not considered by the Committee.

'After further discussion it was resolved—

(a) That the plan and estimate amounting to Rs. 2,02,585 for the acquisition of land and construction of a road in continuation of Lansdowne Road southwards between Hazra Road and Monoharpukur Road be administratively sanctioned.'

'2. Forty-feet road to connect Lansdowne Road with Bakulbagan Road.

'The Committee were asked to consider the plan and estimate for the construction of a 40-feet road to connect Lansdowne Road with Bakulbagan Road on the north of the Lansdowne Market.

'The Surveyor's note is as follows:—

'The Corporation at their meeting held on the 9th November 1910, confirmed the resolutions passed by the Markets Special Committee at their meeting held on the 24th September 1910, recommending for adoption the proposals set out in Mr. J. R. Bertram's report for extending and improving Lansdowne Market.

'Mr. Bertram recommended the construction of a 40-feet road through Mr. J. C. Galstaun's land to connect Bakulbagan Road with Lansdowne Road on the north of Lansdowne Market, to provide for access to the market from the west.

'I beg to submit herewith a plan and estimate of the cost of construction of the proposed road.

'It is proposed to acquire an area of 8 bighas, 4 cottahs, 10 chittaks and 16 square feet of land, of which 1 bigha, 6 cottahs, 5 chittaks and 15 square feet will be required for the road, and the balance 6 bighas, 18 cottahs, 5 chittaks and 1 square foot will be surplus land.

'I estimate the cost of acquisition at Rs. 44,600 and the District Engineer estimates the cost of construction of the road with sewer, footpath, water-supply and lighting at Rs. 7,954, a total of Rs. 52,554. The sale of the surplus land should realize Rs. 69,156.

'The following shows the estimated net cost of the project.—

	Rs.
Acquisition of land	44,600
Cost of construction of road	7,954
	52,554
Add interest at 5 per cent. for two years on cost of surplus land	3,733
	56,287
Reimbursement by sale of surplus land	69,156
Net gain ...	12,869

'If Mr. Galstaun makes a free gift of the land required for the roadway, an area of 1 bigha, 1 cottah, 10 chittaks, 30 square feet, the cost to the Corporation will be Rs. 12,854, as follows:—

	Rs.
Land to be acquired in premises No. 128, Bakulbagan Road ...	4,900
Cost of constructing the road with sewer, water-supply, etc., etc.	7,954
	12,854

'If surplus land is acquired, the net result will be a gain of Rs. 12,869. If Mr. Galstaun's offer is accepted, the cost to the Corporation will be Rs. 12,854.

'The Chairman is of opinion that we should acquire the land and reimburse ourselves by selling the surplus land.

'The Chairman said he inspected the locality with Babu Ramtaran Banerjee the other day. In reply to Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur he said the road was necessary, and it would open out the Lansdowne Market. The quarter was one which was certain to grow in importance.

'The plan having been examined and explained by the Surveyor, it was resolved—

'That the plan and estimate for the acquisition of land and construction of a 40-feet road on the north of Lansdowne Market to connect Lansdowne Road with Bakulbagan Road, at an estimated cost of Rs. 52,534, including surplus land, be recommended to the Corporation for administrative approval.'

"From the first illustration it would be seen that the sole motive which swayed the Corporation or rather the Special Committee in acquiring 24 bighas of land, of which only 5½ bighas was legitimately required for the proposed road, was not only to recoup the costs of the whole scheme, that is, of making a road twelve hundred feet long free of cost, but at the same time to make a net profit of twelve thousand rupees. The idea of making a profit was characterized by Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur as wrong in principle. The cruel wrong involved in the principle could not be better illustrated than by the offer made by Rai Radha Charn Pal Bahadur, who offered, on behalf of the proprietors concerned and aggrieved, to make over the land required for construction of the proposed road free of cost and even went so far as to offer to contribute to the costs of the construction of the road, but still it was not accepted.

"The central idea of the recoupment policy is to acquire surplus land for recouping the costs of the scheme; but here, though the parties concerned offered to make a free gift of the land required and even offered to contribute to the costs of the construction of the proposed road, the Corporation was inexorable, for it would not forego the temptation of making an additional profit of twelve thousand rupees.

"I ask the Council what can be more demoralising than this? In a private party, we call it greed and land-grabbing, but in a corporate body we pass it over, for it is for the good of the public.

"As I was sure that my motion No. 232 would not, in the present spirit of the Council, be accepted, I proposed an alternative amendment, that is, the insertion of the words—'directly and materially' before the word 'affected' in line 3 of clause 41 (a1) [now 42 (a)].

"The word 'affected' as put here is altogether vague; it will go to empower the Improvement Trust to acquire any quantity of land anywhere. Suppose the Improvement Trust were to open out a new road and extend it from Dalhousie Square northwards through the heart of Barabazar, would it be proper to acquire all lands on either side of the proposed road extending on the west to Strand Road and on the east to Chitpur Road and thereby dislocate, disorganise and worse than confound the whole trade of Barabazar? What I beg to propose is that there should be a limit to land acquisition and not to give a carte blanche to the Improvement Trust."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"The Hon'ble Member says that he admits that this amendment cannot be carried as it stands. I need not trouble the Council with a disquisition on the principle of recoupment. He accepts the principle that you may acquire excess land along the line of roads that are opened out. He says that you may acquire a strip of land which he admits would be inadequate for practical purposes. I think this Council will see the extreme inconvenience that would result, supposing we lay out an 80-feet road in a business part of the town and provide only sites 50 feet deep on each side of the road. It would be impossible to erect buildings suitable to accommodate the businesses which would naturally be carried on in such a thoroughfare. When the Select Committee was setting, I endeavoured to find some formula that would limit the operations of the Trust in acquiring surplus lands, but I could find none that would meet all cases. I think we ought to leave it as it has been left in the Bombay Act."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Your Honour, I think that the proposal is not one that we could seriously accept. I quite agree with the Hon'ble Member in charge that 50 feet is too narrow a limit, but I only intervene to enter my protest against this indefinite power that has been entrusted to the Board. There have been attempts made to define exactly a general law providing that limits should be in force, but nevertheless it must not be supposed that all the members of the Council are in agreement in leaving this power absolutely in the hands of incapable persons. In England these improvements are ordinarily taken as private acts, and then the matter comes up after having been thoroughly investigated, and there were definite limits with regard to which there is an improvement area beyond which the acquisition cannot proceed. There every-one knows that after consideration of proper material exactly what is to be done and there is legislation based on that. Here Your Honour will see that there is no kind of restraint whatever. There the danger lies. I merely mean to say that the principle that is here incorporated is one that meets with universal acceptance."

The Hon'ble MR. MADDOX said :—

"If I had known, Sir, that the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur had intended to bring up these cases, I should have looked up particulars before-hand. In the first case, however, it was impossible to take up a smaller quantity of land without breaking into portions of holdings, and in the second case the Corporation decided that it was not desirable to saddle the rate-payers with the cost of an improvement when it could be carried out without any expense."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said :—

"What I beg to say is this : suppose a road were extended from Coomer-tooly to Bagbazar, would the Trust be justified in acquiring land on either side of the proposed road up to Strand Road on one side, and on the other up to Chitpore Road ? My proposal is this, that the Board should not have power to acquire land as it thinks fit, but that there must be some limit to its power of acquiring lands."

The motion was then put and lost.

233. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "directly and materially" be inserted before the word "affected" in line 3 of clause 41 (a1) [now 42 (a)].

He said :—

"I would suggest that the Board should acquire as much land as would be materially or directly affected by the improvement scheme, and nothing else."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"There are two other similar amendments, Sir. I resist this amendment because it makes no material change in the law and does not rest on precedents. The wording of our section is taken from the Bombay Act, and I do not think that anything is gained by the amendment. The idea is that the clause gives the Board power to take up land which is improved in value by their operations."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"My amendment is virtually the same as that of the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur, and if my hon'ble friend will look at the original draft which was before the Select Committee he will find that this provision was not there—the acquisition by the Board of any land comprised in a scheme which will, in their opinion, be affected by the execution of any scheme. There is nothing said here as to what is the meaning of the words 'which will be affected.'

Does it mean 'injurioulsy affected?' I do not understand what it really means. Whenever any area is taken in not for improvement, I apprehend that every part of that area will be in one sense or other affected, but does this empower the Board to take up the whole of the area if any part of the area is affected for the purpose of improvement? I do not understand what is the object for which this wide power is sought to be retained. These are the considerations which move me in putting before this Council my amendment for the words 'directly affected.' I do not think there can be any objection in accepting this amendment. It will to some extent allay public alarm as to the scope of the operations of the Trust, and I hope it will sufficiently meet the purpose for which this clause has been introduced."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"It will be an advantage if we could learn what is meant by this. What are the circumstances that will justify this acquisition? There is no direct intention whatever, and there the danger lies."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"It still does not seem desirable to add the word 'directly.' It may open a loophole to misunderstanding, and as the section stands, it follows the Bombay Act which, as the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has already said, has worked well for a number of years."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"There is one thing that I may point out to my hon'ble friends opposite that in the Bombay Act we find the words 'the acquisition of any land which will be necessary for the execution of the scheme.' Somehow or other these words have been omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"But that is provided for in clause 40 (now 41). Under clause 40 (now 41), it must be acquired, under clause 41 (now 42) it may be acquired."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—

"The object of clause 41 (a1) [now 42 (a)] is to provide for the acquisition of lands for the purpose of their eventual resale in recoupment of the cost of the operations. It will not be to the interest of the Board to acquire any land which they do not think they can resell at a profit, and that consideration will restrain them from abusing the section by taking up land in excess. If the sale proceeds are not greater than the original price paid, then, after deducting the incidental expenses of taking up the land, the Board can only resell at a loss. If the sale proceeds appreciably exceed the original price paid, it follows that the land must have been directly affected by the scheme, and the amendment appears to be unnecessary."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"I understand it in this sense that it may be necessary for the purpose of recoupement or for the purpose of carrying out the scheme; whereas in your case it may be that you are having in your mind the idea of trading. My hon'ble friend Mr. Wheeler says that this is not the intention."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"I do not think that you are in order in arguing in reply."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"I have already said what I intended to say with regard to this motion."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

234. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the word "directly" be inserted before the word "affected", in line 3 of clause 41 (a1) [now 42 (a)].

235. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "materially benefited" be substituted for the word "affected," in line 3 of clause 41 (a1) [now 42 (a)].

He said:—

"My amendment practically covers the same ground but I have used another word. The word 'benefitted' which is used may be taken as more than and less than 'affected.' We have had frequent references to the principle of betterment but none to the principles of what may be called worsement. If it is the intention of the legislature that where the improvement is likely to prejudicially affect the neighbourhood, it will be the duty of the authority all the same to acquire land the same way as it would acquire where there is a chance of some profit. That is not exactly the intention of the legislature, and those are not the lines upon which we are proceeding. It is because of the principle of betterment and recoupment that were adopted to certain extent in the Act previous to the Municipal Act which now governs us, and which was fully accepted in section 357 of the present Municipal Act, that the latter say amplification of the principle has become possible. It is no doubt on these grounds, on a more extended scale, that this enactment is proceeding. But experiences to which the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur had referred, make one hesitate to accept that principle to the fullest possible extent. If I may remind the Council of what a responsible body like the Building Commission had to say with regard to the matter, our minds would be brought back to what has been considered by a responsible and representative body that very closely examined the question, as having an intimate bearing on the situation. That Commission, Sir, it will be remembered, was presided over by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Trevelyan and had for one of its members the Hon'ble Mr. Risley. The landlord element was conspicuous by its absence. The late Hon'ble Babu Nalin Behari Sircar and Babu Kally Nath Mitter, neither of whom could aspire to being a landlord, were the non-official representatives. That Commission, in paragraphs 130 and 131 of its report, fully went into the question of betterment and recoupment. I need not read the whole of the long extracts on the question. But what they said was this. It is not desirable in any way to extend section 204, as it then was, of the Municipal Act and they recommended that 'when the Commissioners desired to acquire any additional land under clause (b) of the section outside the regular line of a street, the owner shall be at liberty to retain such additional land on paying a 'frontage rate' to be fixed by the Corporation, or the capitalised value of such rate, and that the sanction of the Local Government should be required in every case under clause b), and not only, as at present provided in cases where more than 100 feet of land are acquired on either side of the regular line of a street.

"Then with regard to betterment they said:—'it would be in many cases a great hardship to compel the owner to pay for the building of a street which he neither requires nor desires. The opening out of a new street is often as much a benefit to persons away from, as to those residing in, the immediate neighbourhood of the particular locality; and we are unable to say that there should be any deviation from the present system of not putting any greater burden upon the owners of land in the immediate neighbourhood than upon rate-payers.'

"It would no doubt be said against the argument of the kind, that I am trying to base upon the recommendation of the Buildings Commission that that was not accepted in connection with the Municipal Act, and what was as a matter of fact condemned was contained in the present section 357 of the Municipal Act; but the acceptance of the principle on a small and modified form by the legislature on a previous occasion contrary to the pronouncement of the high authority I have referred to, would not justify our doing the same thing over again and on a larger scale and in a more objectionable manner if there is good reason to the contrary, and to my mind abundant good reasons have been shown why such a thing should not be adopted on the extensive scale that this section proposes to add.

"The Municipal Act was concerned with stray improvements that might come before the Corporation in the regular course of administration and would not very largely or seriously affect the whole town, and therefore possibly there may not have been the same objection to the acceptance of the principle, wholesale adoption of which was condemned by the Building Commission, as there would be to a much larger measure like the one that is now before us. Even as things now stand the prejudicial effect is perceptible, but that larger powers like this to affect the whole of Calcutta and the additional areas that may be amalgamated under the provisions of the Act from time to time, may be very serious indeed, if some safeguards like those that we seek to introduce are not provided. In that view of things, the concession that we ask for is not very large. If you clearly show that a particular frontage or a particular area is likely to be distinctly benefited by the scheme you will make them pay for it. But what you are seeking now to do in the clause under consideration is something quite different—any area that may be affected by the execution of the scheme is to be saddled with a heavy burden. I remember, Sir, day before yesterday, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, in resisting the motion of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, that the Trustee whose house or land would be affected by a particular scheme should not take part in the proceedings with regard to that scheme, brought out by way of forcible illustration a case like this. Supposing there was a square 8 or 5 acres away from the house of the Trustee in question, although his house might not be directly affected by that scheme, the placing of the square nearer or further away from his house would be a matter directly affecting the scheme before Trust for the time being, and, therefore, it was right and proper that the Trustee should not take part in such deliberations. That in effect was intended to be the force of the argument and illustration that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas wished to adduce at the time. Taking it at that, are we not entitled to say that if you use the word 'affect' in so very wide a sense, there would be nothing to prevent the whole of the affected area being taken up, if the Trust thought fit so to do, for various purposes indicated herein, that it would be probably beneficial purely from the Trustee's point of view. That would certainly be a state of things that this legislature ought not to countenance, although section 357 of the Municipal Act has been enacted in opposition to the unanimous recommendation of the Building Commission. The recommendations of the Building Commission still stand so far as larger questions like these are affected. The then legislature thought that the principle then partially adopted would not be given effect to with regard to larger schemes that the Municipal Act contemplated at the time. But when schemes affecting the whole of the town is considered, one has to be very careful indeed; and the very slight modification that we seek to introduce will considerably allay public alarm. Nobody for a moment wishes to suggest that a sane Trust would think of taking up the whole town or a considerable portion of the town because of this section. If however that is not the intention, I fail to see why the restricted clause should be objected to."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I do not quite understand from his speech exactly what the position of the Hon'ble Member is. He accepts the principle of recoupment, although the Building Commission did not. But he wants it to be restricted in some way, and he proposes to substitute for 'affect' the words 'materially benefited.' I do not see how this will, in any way, act as a restriction on the Board. He says the land may be affected for better or for worse, and instead of being benefited may be damaged. In such a case it would be to the advantage of the private owner to have his land acquired. Naturally the power of acquiring lands for the purpose of recoupment will have to be exercised with great care, lest the Trust should suffer loss. This is the practical check on the exercise of this power. The wording of the Bill is less wide than that of the Calcutta Municipal Act which gives the Corporation power to take up any land which it thinks expedient to take up. This Bill follows the wording of the Bombay Act which has been in force since 1898, and, when in Bombay, I made careful inquiries as to the way in which this power of recoupment had been exercised, and I could not find out that it had given rise to any public alarm or to any abuse. It is to be remembered that in acquiring land in the north of Calcutta or in a business part of any town, you have not only to pay for the land and house but also heavy compensation for loss of earnings and damage done to business. The acquiring authority is to be assured of a very substantial rise in the price of the land which it is proposed to be acquired, if it is to be guaranteed against loss in consequence of the heavy incidental unproductive expenditure. That I think is a very substantial guarantee against the excessive acquisition of land for the purposes of recoupment in any crowded part of the town. I recommend that we adopt the exact wording of the Bombav Act. I think it is a delicate subject and I think it will be safer to follow the Bombay Act."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"That, Sir, is exactly what we are not doing. We are not adopting in their entirety the words that have been left out which might be a safeguard such as these words imply. The words 'as may be necessary' have been dropped out in the wording of the section."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I have already explained that the words 'will be refused' are in our clause 40 (now 41)."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"With regard to the Municipal Act we have to remember that the Chairman is given a certain amount of discretion under section 357 and we all know that discretion like this has to be judiciously exercised, and that it is a safeguard which is wanting in this clause. In the third instance, we must not forget that so far as the wording of clause (a1) [now a)] is concerned, the mere opinion of a body like the Trust will be enough, having regard to the delicacy of the situation that has been referred to by my hon'ble friend. All these considerations make it necessary that as safeguards such as those are provided in the English Act, some restricting words should be used. If we refer to Acts other than the Act like the Working Men's Housing Act or the Land Clauses Act, we find that if Railway Companies or private Corporations take up any land that appears to be what is called superfluous under these Acts, the legislature takes care that unless it is disposed of in a particular way within a certain time then they must go back to the owners from whom they have been taken, under certain terms and conditions. Having regard to those considerations, I do not think that the restrictive safeguard would be altogether unnecessary or undesirable."

The motion was then put and lost.

236. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "consistent with, and necessary for the carrying out of the scheme" be inserted after the word "matters," in clause 41 (now 42) (d).

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir, if the Hon'ble Member would modify his amendment and would be content with the words which run, 'Any other matters consistent with this Act which the Board may think fit,' I will accept it; without these words it is rather wide."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"I accept that, Sir."

The motion was then put in the altered form and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

Clause 44 (now 45).

237. The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din to move that the words "sixty days" be substituted for the words "thirty days", in line 1 of clause 44 (now 45) (1).

Clause 45 (now 46).

238. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the word "Act" be substituted for the word "section" in line 3 of clause 45 (now 46).

239. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "free of charge" be substituted for the last line of clause 45 (now 46).

He said :—

"I hope, Sir, I shall have the support at all events of the Hon'ble the Chairman of the Corporation, in my desire to free the Corporation of a liability that may sometimes run up to a very considerable figure. The Corporation will be very primarily and vitally affected in this matter. They will have to pay a fairly considerable sum and they ought to have these copies free."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"May I point out that the Corporation is not to pay but to receive this money?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"It is not a matter of the Corporation paying but it is a question of the money that they will receive from the Trust."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 46 (now 47) (1).

240. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that for the words "shall consider", in line 4 of clause 46 (now 47) (1), the following be substituted, namely :—

> shall hold a local inquiry, or appoint a Committee to hold a local inquiry, and the Board, or (if a Committee has been so appointed) the Committee shall hear.

He said:—

"Sir, this is rather an important amendment which I seek to move. The section as drafted is this, 'after the expiry of the periods respectively prescribed, the Board shall consider any objection, representation and statement of dissent received thereunder.' To those who are ignorant of similar procedure in the Corporation, it may appear that my amendment seeks to provide what is already provided. Under the procedure as laid down, when an improvement scheme has been framed notices are given calling upon persons affected to submit objection within a certain time. They submit their objection within a certain time, and then their objections are considered. What I tried to press upon the Select Committee was this, that there should be hearing given to these objections. There is no provision in clause 46 (now 47), as now drafted, of any hearing being given. It may be said that when it is provided that the Board shall consider any objection it does imply that the Board shall give a hearing. I will tell you what happened in connection with section 401 of the Calcutta Municipal Act. There the Municipality of Calcutta has got the power to improve certain bustees which their Sanitary Officer may declare to be insanitary. There also the same procedure is followed. The scheme is prepared and notices are given to the occupiers and owners and they submit their objections and their objections are considered by a Committee of the Corporation. The language of the Calcutta Municipal Act is this, when a complaint has been prepared by the General Committee they shall fix a date for the hearing of objections made by or on behalf of the owners of the bustees. Well, Sir, there was a time when the Corporation would not hear the objection. They said 'hearing' there meant that the objections should be sent in and should be considered in chamber by the Committee of the Corporation, and that a hearing should not be given. I happened to act professionally for one of its parties and I raised the contention that the parties should be heard. I forget who was the Deputy Chairman at the time. I am quite sure that my hon'ble friend Mr. Payne was not the Deputy Chairman, that 'hearing' considering, i.e., it meant that the objections of the parties would be considered by the municipal authorities, who, I take it, are just as much alive to public interests as the Board that is to be created, will be: although the words were that they should be heard. In the present Act we have omitted the word 'hearing' altogether and considering of objections."

What I seek to introduce is that the objectors must be heard and I make that submission fortified by the President in England. Assume that we have got the Act as the clause is now drafted, what is there to prevent the Board from considering the objections that are sent in without giving an opportunity to the parties to be heard and deciding upon that objection behind the back of the people concerned. There is nothing to prevent this, as they have got the statutory power to do so. Well, let us see what is the procedure followed in England. Under the Improvement Scheme of 1899 not only is a hearing given but the Local Government deputes a special officer to go down to the spot and hold a local enquiry in the presence of the people concerned. then, as we know, time was given and a fresh Act of Parliament was needed to carry out the improvement. The fresh Act of Parliament has been dispensed with under the later Acts. The latest Act of 1909 which deals with town planning dispenses with the Parliamentary Statutes dealing with a particular scheme but it lays down certain procedure and in the Act itself it says [section 56, clause (2)].

I will now see what the regulations provide. The regulation provides Regulation 3 of 3rd May, 1910.

My grievance has been that in such an important legislation we are more or less led—I say so without any offence because that is the fact—by amateur legislators. If an expert from London County Council had been brought to advise us when the Bill was in the framing much of the objections that we are raising to-day and much of the time that we have been wasting would have been avoided. I went down to these County Councils and they say that, "we not only hold one meeting but a series of meetings, but in no case an improvement scheme is carried out before at least half a dozen conferences. Well, I tried to press upon the attention of the Select Committee to give this poor people at least the privilege of being heard and not to deal with them behind their back. But I suppose that enough experience even in India has been gained to satisfy officials that doing things always behind people's back if not after all the safest procedure but apart from questions of high policy as a matter of urgent necessity in the interest of the Board itself for the purpose of conciliating public opinion, for the purpose of allaying public alarm, for the purpose of satisfying the people that justice if not done is intended to be done. For all these purposes I think that there should be a distinct provision in the Bill that the people who are aggrieved must get a hearing from the Board high and mighty as it is. I suppose, Sir, that in this matter I shall get the support of all my colleagues in this Council who are not tied down by the traditions of office. I am referring to the experience from England under the legislation so late as 1909—a legislation which has consistently followed the earlier Acts of 1900. Sir, I have been grieved to see that in this Council and on this occasion official members have voted solid on one side. I have not however for a moment complained or raised the question that they are not voting according to their conscience but time there was in this very Council before it was re-constituted under the so-called Reform Scheme when official members used to vote not because of a mandate but because of what they felt to be right and proper, to which, we the people of India, as well as the Government of India, have a claim.

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said :—

"May I rise to a point of order, Sir? Is it a fact that the official members have got a mandate to vote for or against an amendment?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I think in any case the hon'ble member is wandering from the point."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"Sir, in this matter I appeal to the hon'ble members, and if I have been wrong I express to them my sincere regret, and none would be more glad than myself if I know that I have been in the wrong. I say, Sir, that this is the practice in England. Then why should not that practice be followed here? It is quite possible that the Board will follow that practice, but as in England there should be an express circular made under the authority of statutory power laying down this safeguard. Sir, can we say honestly that in India the circumstances are such that that right should not be safeguarded and can we say further that the people in this country have such great confidence in Boards constituted under circumstances like these that for the purpose of satisfying them that justice is being done it is not proper, it is not desirable and it is not necessary to introduce express safeguards in the Statute? If we can say so, the experience of the past is on my side. The various criminal statutes of our Government are on my side which provides safeguards for the liberty of the subjects. I therefore humbly submit that the amendment asking that the people should be given a hearing is eminently just and I hope that it will be adopted by the Government."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir, this amendment and the following amendments deal with a simple question of procedure. The Hon'ble Member has three amendments regarding this—240, 242 and 243. He thought perhaps that amendment 242 was obviously impossible of adoption and put in 243 as a possible substitute—one that could be adopted. His speech, although apparently in support of amendment 240, has dealt entirely with the point covered by his amendment 243. His amendment 240 lays down the procedure that the Board is to adopt after it has issued notices giving details of the scheme—and here I must say I fail to see that the Hon'ble Member had justification to speak as he has done about the Board doing things behind people's back. Surely clause 44 now 45 that we have just passed amply provides against anything like this. Under clause 44 now 45 the notice that will be issued will state that the Board propose to acquire a particular land and the person affected is given sixty days' time to submit his objections if he has any. Notice is also published in the newspapers. I fail to see what more publicity can be given than that. The whole question now is, what is the Board to do when it has published this notice inviting objections and when the objections are received? The Hon'ble Member has referred to the Local Government circular under section 56 of the Town Planning Act, but he knows that it has no relevance to improvement schemes. The whole procedure of town planning schemes is based on entirely different principle in town planning schemes. There is no question of acquisition of land: regulations are made as to the way in which landlords may develope their estates. Obviously it is necessary to hold conferences with the landlords. So no exact analogy can be drawn from that. It is no doubt desirable that the people affected should have a full hearing. The Hon'ble Member in his amendment wants the Board to hold local inquiries. But he has not pressed that point, for he has not mentioned it in his speech. I suppose he has abandoned it and in that I think he is well advised, for often in a crowded part of the town or in a crowded bustee it is difficult to realize the true state of affairs on the spot; one cannot see the wood for the trees: the matter can be much more clearly understood in a quiet room with properly drawn plans before you.

"But apart from the question of holding a local inquiry. Is it right for the Committee to be compelled to give a hearing to any and every man of any position who has sent in an objection? The Hon'ble Member has cited the case of bustee owners. That I submit is a very different case. You have got the General Committee who are to arrange in concert with bustee-owners, who represent a definite and limited interest, how that bustee can be best improved. The landlords may well say that the General Committee should discuss the matter with them face to face. It is a very different thing. We have an ample guide for us in the Bombay Trust. The amendment is unnecessary in regard to the provisions which have worked well in Bombay, and the burden of proof lies heavily on him who would say that by this procedure the Board will bring disaster and ruin in Calcutta.

"But take the case of the construction of a long and broad road like the Princess Street in Bombay. Thousands of people were affected by the construction of that street, most of them of the lowest and the most ignorant classes. In such a case people of this class will submit numerous objections most of which obviously are of no value. If a man says that he wishes the improvement scheme to stay because his grandmother is lying ill, it is useless to give him a personal hearing on the subject. Speaking as a Government officer I can say that one receives from day to day objections and applications of all kinds, some of which are obviously absurd and must be summarily rejected. In some, the best form of enquiry is to depute an officer to make a local investigation. In others, again, it is clearly right to send for the petitioner and to give him a hearing. Every Government officer has to exercise his discretion in such matters day by day, and I submit that the Trust should be put in the same position. If this amendment is passed there will be a waste of public money and public time, and private individuals will also waste their time in being present at a personal hearing which, in many cases, must be infructuous. I see no cause for alarm if the amendment is not carried. We have before us the precedent of the Bombay Trust. The latter has worked well in Bombay and I do not see that a more cumbrous procedure is required for Calcutta."

"Sir, I do not think I am convinced by the argument that has been advanced by my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Bompas, and if you will excuse my saying so the very first argument that he adopted shows that he had not paid the same attention to the methods by which improvements are effected in England as we have been trying to do. He said that I was quoting from the Town Planning sections of the latest Act. He will bear me out when I say that Improvement Schemes are done under the earlier Act of 1890, modified by the Acts of 1909. There are two schemes, first of all—Improvement Scheme under one Act and then the Town Planning Scheme under another Act. Under the Improvement Scheme the procedure is much stricter, as I said, the procedure originally was that there should be Parliamentary Statute for every scheme. There is a local inquiry held by the Local Government itself. I do not think it is necessary to read to my friend what procedure is followed in Improvement Schemes. Then my friend says that I have been quoting from the circular under the Town Planning Act which has no relevancy, as we are dealing with Improvement schemes. I did not quote from the Act of 1890, because there the procedure is so complete and so perfect that I was afraid to ask this Council to adopt the procedure laid down by that Statute. If that procedure were adopted I should have nothing more to add but accept the measure with the greatest amount of gratitude that is possible to accord. But the Town Planning Act considerably modified the rigours of the provisions that were introduced in 1890 for the protection of the public, for the experience of 20 years showed that those safeguards in their strictness were not necessary, and it was submitted that there were other safeguards in the Town Planning Act of 1909. If that argument of my Hon'ble friend is of any weight—what I was quoting was in reference to Town Planning—I say that Improvement Schemes have to be carried out under much more stringent conditions. Give me these, I abandon for good the safeguards under the Town Planning

Acts. My friend says that local inquiry is the least advantageous. Well, the experience of England has not justified that. Local enquiry was introduced in 1890, and it has been kept up to 1909. They have not found local inquiry disadvantageous. My Hon'ble friend was talking of the King's Road and of the Prince's Road in Bombay. Well, the King's Way in London from Holborn to the Strand is, I believe, a much more gigantic scheme than any which we, here or in Bombay, have had to face. There not only was minute Regulations laid down for the protection of the public and the persons concerned, but in the Statute itself each interest was separately dealt with, and it was laid down as to how that interest was to be disposed of. My friend has said that it is quite possible that in a Committee a man may not attend and put forward a lame excuse for non-attendance. Well, that in itself is giving an opportunity of being heard, and if a person neglects that opportunity, it is his fault. If he cannot attend owing to his grandmother's illness, which he thinks to be more important to him from an Indian point of view, he will have judgment passed against him for default, but where people are willing and anxious to come and place their objections before you, what is the machinery that you have provided for enquiring into their grievances under your Act? There is no such thing as local enquiry. The Hon'ble Member says :—

'Look at the elaborate provisions we have provided under clause 44 (now 45).' I have looked at them. What are the provisions? The provision is that there is to be a publicity. Is publicity all that is wanted? I am quite sure you would not like to take up lands in darkness and secrecy. What I want is this—where is the procedure under which you give me a hearing? Is it enough in a suit for money that summons is served upon the defendant, and, when the case comes up for hearing, he has not got to be present there and to represent his case before the Courts. Thus, the procedure under clause 44 (now 45) is nothing. My Hon'ble friend will excuse me for making a personal allusion. He is going to be the President of the Board, and if he thinks that giving notice is all that is necessary as a safeguard in the interests of the persons affected, we can easily imagine what the operations of that Board will be like in Calcutta. My friend says again, 'Look at the example of Bombay. Bombay is not complaining.' Does he know what the Bombay people think about this Improvement Trust, in the same way as I know? He does not know. Officials do not know. I have been to Bombay, where the people are crying out the iniquities of the Improvement Trust. You seem to think that once this has been enforced in Bombay, the Bombay people are satisfied. They are not satisfied: they are very much dissatisfied. If you mix with the people, you will learn what the feeling in Bombay is about this measure. I say that your clause as drafted is no safeguard, I say absolutely none whatever, and some safeguard is necessary. It is quite true, as my friend says, that my amendment is more comprehensive than what I have been speaking about—I am speaking of the least that I want, not of the most that I should like to have. I have asked for a Committee of Inquiry just as they have in England. If you do not give me what your countrymen give to people in England, I have nothing more to say: but give me at least a hearing; that is all I want."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"I omitted to mention that part of the Hon'ble Member's speech. Am I in order, Sir, to do so now?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"No."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said :—

"My amendment is also to the same effect—that a hearing should be given, and I wish to speak a word or two in support of the above amendment."

The PRESIDENT said:—

The result of the division was Ayes 16, Noes 28, and the motion was therefore lost.

THE following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

241. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that after the words "received thereunder", in line 5 of clause 46 (now 47) (1), the following be inserted, namely:—

and (if a Committee has been so appointed) the Board shall consider the report of such Committee.

242. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that before the word "may", in line 5 of clause 46 (now 47) (1), the following be inserted, namely:—

after hearing all persons making any such objection, representation or dissent, the Board.

243. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that before the word "may", in line 5 of clause 46 (now 47) (1), the following be inserted, namely:—

after hearing all persons making any such objection, representation or dissent who may desire to be heard, the Board.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, this is an appeal ad misericordium. This is the least that I can ask and we shall be pleased to have. I do not know whether the arguments are the same. We do not seek to interfere with it, but ask you to give a hearing to such of us as may desire to be heard."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"Sir, my amendment is also to the same effect. The functions of the Improvement Trust are exactly analogous to the functions of the Calcutta Municipality. The Calcutta Municipality have been known to carry out schemes, like the Harrison Road scheme, at a cost of forty-four lakhs of rupees. In the Municipality it is a daily occurrence to allow parties to be heard whether in the matter of bustee or any other matter. There is also provision for putting notices in the official gazette. The whole object is to give every publicity to the scheme. But no provision is made in this Bill for hearing objections. If in a proceeding in a Court of Law, when a complaint has been made and written statement has been filed, the Magistrate says that he would not hear the pleaders, but would decide the case in his own chamber, it becomes absurd. It will be almost the same thing if you take every care to give publicity to a scheme and refuse to grant hearing to the parties affected."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I am afraid that some Members of this Council may be feeling confused by these references to English precedents which I decline to follow. I will, however, take this opportunity of briefly explaining the position. In England there is a general Act which deals with the whole country and empowers any Municipality or County Council to prepare improvement scheme and submit it to the Local Government Board for sanction. It is then provided that the Local Government Board should depute an officer to hold an inquiry. A general Act of that kind is clearly different from this Bill, which constitutes a special body to deal with Calcutta alone. I accept this amendment because it is one to which no reasonable man can take exception, and because it merely prescribes for the Trust, a course of procedure which it would in any case undoubtedly follow.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, I have to express my hearty thanks to the Hon'ble Member in charge for having accepted this amendment. English precedents may go back to the place from where they come, so long as he listens to our humble representations; that is all we want."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

244. The Hon'ble Ray Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "hear and" be inserted after the word "shall' in line 4 of clause 46 (now 47) (1).

245. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that after the word "and", in line 5 of clause 46 (now 47)(1), the following be inserted, namely:—

after hearing any of the persons, making such objections, representations or dissents, who desire to be heard.

Clause 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

248. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the words "of the poorer and working classes" be substituted for the words "(and particularly of persons of the poorer classes)", in clause 46 (2) (f).

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"I think, Sir, that the amendment may be accepted. It will be observed that the reference to re-housing schemes in this clause is merely to them as one of the particulars, details regarding which are to be submitted when a scheme comes up to the Local Government. Clause 46 (now 47) 2) (f) really depends upon clause 50A (now 52), and the arguments which we are now considering are those which apply to that clause.

In the Bill as introduced clause 40 (f) required that the schemes should provide for the construction of dwellings for persons displaced by the execution of schemes and of shops for the use of such persons. When the matter was dealt with in Select Committee, we substituted a separate clause, which is 50A (now 52), dealing specially with re-housing schemes. A certain amount of opinion was then expressed that these re-housing schemes should be confined to people of the poorer and working classes. In the previous discussions of the Bill it had merely been contemplated that measures should be taken generally to re-house the persons displaced, but in view of the feeling on the Select Committee and of the English and Bombay precedents, we required, as a compromise, in clause 50A (now 52) (2) that, in framing a re-housing scheme, the Board shall have special regard to the needs of people of the poorer and working classes. Another very important point will also be observed, namely, that under clause 50A (4) [now 52 (3)] it is provided that the Board shall not themselves construct dwellings or shops under a re-housing scheme unless they are satisfied, after due inquiry, that no other person is willing and able to construct them and is prepared to construct, maintain and manage them under the control of the Board.

"That is how the Bill stands as it emerged from Select Committee, but it is still obvious that certain Members are not entirely satisfied with its provisions, and wish to say absolutely that, except for the poorer and working classes, re-housing schemes shall not be undertaken. The analogy of the Act for the Housing of the Working Classes is not entirely in point, since that Act dealt specifically with people of the poorer and working classes, while the Bill provides for the improvement of Calcutta generally. However, some precedents may be claimed, based on the Bombay Act, and in so far as the schemes undertaken will deal largely with the congested areas, the majority of the people displaced by them will probably be of the poorer and working classes. As regards others, it is probable that private enterprise will be more likely to be forthcoming to meet their needs, and, if so, the Board would be debarred from building on their account under clause 50A (4) [now 52 (3)]. In all the circumstances, it is probable that the amendment will merely represent the actual working of the Act, and it provides undoubtedly for the most important class to be re-housed and the one most likely to need the assistance of the Board. In the view of certain Members the amendment is desirable, and the Local Government does not wish to oppose its acceptance."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—

"That necessitates a definition of the working and poorer classes."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"That is a point which will come up later."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

246. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "having an income of less than one thousand five hundred rupees a year" be inserted after the word "persons", in line 2 of clause 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

H esaid :—

"Sir, in view of the concession that the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has been good enough to make, I do not think it necessary nor expedient for me to press for any arbitrary limit of income to be placed on the Statute. Of course, with regard to the English Acts, there is a well defined standard of rules that guides the situation, and I have no doubt that in working out a clause like this here, rules will be forthcoming, which will enable us to steer clear of likely difficulties. It is necessary in a matter like this to leave matters largely at the discretion of the executive, and, therefore, I do not press for fixing a limit of the income."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

247. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "of the poorer classes" be substituted for the words "and particularly of persons of the poorer classes)", in section 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

249. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that the words "of the poorer and working classes" be substituted for the words "(and particularly of persons of the poorer classes)", in clause 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

249A. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "of the poorer and working classes" be substituted for the words "(and particularly of persons of the poorer classes)" in clause 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

250. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "and require re-housing" be added at the end of clause 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

He said :—

"I should like to add these words, Sir, if the Hon'ble Member sees his way to accepting this; because it is not an omnibus charitable, for requirements that we are giving effect to. It is only with regard to people who require re-housing I take it that a scheme like this is to apply; and, therefore, the addition of these words would make the situation clear and the object more definite."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"We do not consider that the amendment is desirable, Sir, because it rather overlooks the practical method in which these re-housing schemes would be undertaken. The proposal is that provision should be made for the re-housing of the poorer and working classes who require re-housing. But it is practically impossible to define beforehand who will require re-housing. It will be observed that clause 50A (now 52) allows arrangements to be made for the persons who are displaced or who are likely to be displaced, and the procedure in practice will presumably be that the Board will make as good an estimate as it can of the numbers likely to be displaced by any scheme which it may undertake, will decide where they can best be accommodated, and will there erect a certain number of quarters. People will then apply to occupy them, and among these will presumably be those who have been displaced and require re-housing. It would be impossible to ask every man who will be dislodged 'Do you require a new house and where do you wish it to be built?' Buildings will be erected, and people can go to them at their option. The amendment in practice would have no benefit, and I recommend that it should not be accepted."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I should like to press it, Sir, for the very reasons that have been mentioned by the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler. Unless you proceed according to the actual requirements of the case, the Trust is likely to have tenants of the kind that the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray's model building in Bhawanipore had not long ago. The poor people, who will be displaced by the operations of the Trust, will find Calcutta the best place to live away from, and if because of the displacement you are to undertake building of tenements for their accommodation, the chances are, I am afraid, certain that these tenements will be tenantless as the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur's model bustee was for a long time. I do not know what has happened to it now, but for a long time it was one of those white elephants that enterprising and public-spirited landlord wanted to set by way of an example to the neighbourhood. Therefore, I think actual requirements ought to be the best guide with reference to a matter like this, and it ought not to be very difficult to find who require re-housing. I think it is necessary because of the concession that my Hon'ble friend has been good enough to make."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

250A. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Rai Bahadur to move that the words "and require re-housing" be added at the end of clause 46 (now 47) (2) (f).

Clause 46, (now 47) new sub-clause (3).

251. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that after clause 46 (now 47) (2) the following be inserted, namely:—

(3) When any application has been submitted to the Local Government under sub-section (1), the Board shall cause notice of the fact to be published for two consecutive weeks in the Calcutta Gazette and in local newspaper.

He said :—

"Sir, it requires simply giving a notice that the scheme has gone up to Government for sanction".

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"The argument presumably is that the public should know when a scheme has been submitted to Government for orders, in order that they may approach Government on the subject if necessary. We see no objection to accepting it."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

New clause 46A.

252. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that after clause 46 (now 47) the following be inserted, namely:—

[Lo]cal Government to [direct holding] of a local inquiry.

46A. If on consideration of the application made under section 46 in respect of any improvement scheme, and on proof of the publication and service of notices in respect thereof under sections 42 and 44, the Local Government thinks fit to proceed with the scheme, it shall direct a local inquiry to be held in, or in the vicinity of the area comprised in the scheme, for the purpose of ascertaining—

(a) the correctness of the official representation made as to the area and the sufficiency of the scheme, and

(b) the validity of any objections, representations and statements of dissent received under section 42, clause (i), section 43 or section 44, clause (b), in respect of the scheme.

He said,—

"Your Honour, this amendment is for the purpose of obtaining, when the Local Government thinks fit to proceed, a local inquiry into a scheme that has been submitted to them for sanction.

"Under clause 47, (now 48) the Government undertake to sanction, with or without modification, or to reject, any improvement scheme submitted to it.

"To take the question of modification. What does modification of a scheme imply? Surely not that the Government will be content merely with a glance at a map or plan of the scheme submitted, to arrive at a decision on such information and material only There may be objections, and very valid objections, by an owner or occupier. Is there to be no consideration of them, to see whether or not there should be any modification to meet such objections? Again, it may happen that an influential proprietor has objections to a scheme, and may obtain a willing hearing from an officer of the Government, and, on the materials submitted, a ready and apparently very just acquiescence given so far as the petitioner may be concerned, to meet his objections. But a modification in his favour may seriously prejudice a poor neighbouring proprietor—and such results are possible and should be provided for—who may suffer irreparable injury by such a proceeding if carried into effect. Is such a person not to obtain any consideration? I am confident that the Government would not knowingly be a party to any such injustice. But how is the truth to be arrived at in the easiest and yet sufficiently efficient manner? I am not attempting to impose any burden on the Local Government wantonly. In England every scheme is submitted for confirmation to the Local Government Board, just as it is proposed by this Bill that schemes are to be submitted to the Local Government. And if the Local Government Board think fit to proceed, they direct a local inquiry, just as I propose that the Government here should do. And I do not understand, if the work is to be treated seriously, how an inspection by the Government is to be avoided. The Local Government Board declare the limits of an area comprised in a scheme, and without a local inquiry it would necessarily be a perfunctory proceeding: is the Government to stand practically aloof on such a very important question?

"As the Local Government Board have become more accustomed to their functions and their practice has become more settled, they have been given more discretion; but nevertheless I do not ask the Council to enact any provision except such as now is in force in England.

"A local inquiry, among other things, gives persons interested a full opportunity of being heard. And we know how important it is to give the people of this country the fullest opportunity of being heard. Even if a decision is against them, if only they have had a full opportunity of being heard, they are almost content. On the other hand, if they have not had that opportunity, we know how exceedingly, and I may say how disproportionately, discontented they remain, and how they nurse their grievance. Objectors obviously could not be allowed to crowd into the office of the Local Government Board at Whitehall, and it might be wholly impracticable to institute a formal investigation. I do not suggest that petitioners should be permitted to crowd into the Bengal Office, or that there should be a formal investigation of the nature of a judicial inquiry instituted by the Government here. The easiest way is to send down an inspector to make local inquiry. This has been found to be satisfactory and to answer the purposes required in England, and I only ask that the same method should be adopted for Calcutta. The Government could be relied upon to send down a fit and proper person who, with experience and practice, would soon become capable of doing all that would be required: and the Government would soon get a trained staff of so many officers as may be needed for the purpose of such inspections. The Government would thus be in a position to act for themselves, on local information, in respect of issues that may arise, and not be dependent entirely on the Board.

"There is no indication yet that the Government intend to consitute an expert department of the character of the Local Government Board in England as was foreshadowed by Lord Morley in his famous despatch. I would ask, is such action contemplated by Government? Or to strengthen their present Municipal Department to deal with matters arising out of the operations of the Board. On an appeal made to him in Parliament, Mr. John Burns, in the course of the discussion on the Town Planning Act, announced with what staff in the Local Government Board he intended to work to give effect to that Act, and it would be a satisfaction to us to be reassured on the point in the present questions. If the Government intend to look to the Board as their Expert Department for the purposes of the Improvement Act, it would be a matter of serious concern to Calcutta. However zealous and conscientious the members may be, the Board will form the executive and administrative body, among whom much authority will necessarily gravitate to a single individual among them, that is to say, the President, to carry out a law of immense importance, and it will be a danger and a source of much dissatisfaction if they were entrusted with powers of such an unprecedented character and were made absolute masters of the fate of Calcutta.

"There is no suggestion in clause 47, or in any other part of the Bill that the Government need consider any scheme submitted to them before issuing sanction It seems to be a serious omission. It is impossible to believe that it is not intended to make a sufficient inquiry, and if there is any intention, as we may naturally and fairly assume there is, on the part of the Government to investigate for themselves, before giving their sanction to any scheme, I submit a system which has been in force for many years in England. It has stood the test of practical experience and has been found to be satisfactory by all parties, by the local authorities, by the Government and by the public, and I now hope that it may commend itself for acceptance in the Bill. My proposal should have the sympathy of the Hon'ble Member in charge who, when replying to me in Council on behalf of Government on the occasion when the Bill was referred to the Select Committee, declared that the similarity between the provisions of this Bill and the law in England were very close indeed, and the Government would consider schemes as the Local Government dealt with schemes in England.

"I have no idea of imposing a set of cumbersome rules of procedure on the Government. The Government may make such local inquiry as they may think fit. My purpose would be served if the public of Calcutta, where it is very much more required, obtained, as it is secured by law in England, active control and supervision over the Board by the Government. I submit that it is required in the public interest as a practical measure, and I venture to suggest that it is a compliment to Government that we should seek it."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir, it is very difficult to know from which direction the critics of the Bill will attack me next. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has got two amendments which practically seek to attain the same object which the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has got in view, viz., that when the Trust has completed its inquiries and framed its scheme and submitted it for sanction to the Local Government, the Local Government should send an officer to check the scheme. Sir, in the whole of the first day's debate we heard that the official was a bad man and the non-official was a good man and that the Trust was a bad Trust because there was not enough of the non-official element in it. The Hon'ble Member asked that this Trust should have a large non-official element, and now he asks that the work of the Trust which is, after all, mainly non-official should be controlled and checked by some officers of Government. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar hopes that the Government will create a trained expert staff to guide, control and check the Calcutta Improvement Trust. This, Sir, I will say, is not probable. I may say it is practically impossible. Supposing that this amendment were passed, the effect will then be that the Commissioner of the Presidency Division or a Superintending Engineer would be sent down to hold a summary investigation of a scheme which the Board with its experienced staff has been maturing for months. Of course it cannot be said that the reference to Government will be merely formal. Government will doubtless send officers to check any scheme which in its opinion demands such investigation. I submit it must be left to Govenment to hold an inquiry where it is suitable in any particular case. A local inquiry by an officer sitting in an insanitary bustee may be a worse than useless form of inquiry. The precedent quoted by Mr. Apcar is not a precedent in point. The English law provides for the framing of schemes by any local authority in England. The Local Government Board has to send somebody down to see whether the schemes are satisfactory and to see whether they are bonâ fide. If we pass an Act of a similar kind for the mufassal towns, then it will be necessary for Government to provide for some officers to check schemes. But here we have created a special Trust with special funds to do its work, and I submit that it is most unbusinesslike to prescribe interference on the part of the Local Government in every case."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir, some may have playfully called individual officials names, but none, as far as I know, has called the Government a 'bad' Government, and I hope my Hon'ble friend will not do it. What is the object of these schemes coming up before the Government, if the unfortunate official is to be thoughtfully insured against going out in the sun for an hour? I think that was the objection to the amendment of time indicated by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas.

"If the Government is to have real control, as I have no doubt it intends to have instead of this anxiety for insurance against unfortunate officials exposing themselves in the sun in insanitary areas, check of a real nature ought to be provided and check to be anything of a real character, it cannot be exercised except upon proper inquiry such as can be made easier on the spot. In connection with another matter, when it was the question of the Board deputing a medical officer to check the work of the Corporation, in connection with the Corporation making the official representation, my Hon'ble friend drew a picture, not very complimentary to the Board itself, of a medical officer of one year's standing going and interfering with the experience of the Health Officer of the Corporation. I do hope and trust that the Board will not expose itself to any criticisms of the kind like that foreshadowed by my Hon'ble friend. So far as the check on the Board is concerned, the Government can be trusted, and it has an expert machinery that can deal with these things and deal with them effectively. I do not understand this desire of differentiating between this Improvement Scheme of ours and other schemes, because it is confined to Calcutta and is not for the present to be extended to the other towns of Bengal. My Hon'ble friend has just indicated that when a general Town Planning Scheme is brought into operation, probably a safeguard like what we advocate would be necessary. I do not know, Sir, when that general Town Planning Scheme will come. Its near approach has been predicted in the other province, and from what I can see we may have it soon. Some wise newspaper gentlemen have been advising our mufassal members that it is no concern of theirs to interest themselves in amendments in which they are not directly concerned at in the present moment. My Hon'ble friend's indirect announcement may be of interest to our mufassal friends, and they may from now be fortified as to how a general Town Planning Scheme is to be framed. We do not understand how this differentiation from the English Act—the doing away with safeguards of the English Acts—is to be admitted because the scheme is to be confined to Calcutta. Calcutta is not a very small town. It is not one of those petty little bodies which is dealt with by local authorities in England under the recent Acts. It is a vast area which will be added to in the course of time by exercise of the provision of the amalgamation that we have in the clauses that we have passed. Therefore, it will be of the greatest advantage to have these healthy checks in a proper form betimes; and if the Trust is not able to exercise that check at the mature stage of any scheme, where is the harm and objection to the Local Government exercising that check and that being statutorily provided for? Sir, we have a very long series of amendments, and there is not time enough to go into details. But I may go back for one moment to some things that have taken place in the Calcutta Corporation in the past. When one realizes the gravity of a situation that I am going to remind Your Honour, one feels that the necessity of local investigations now and again is very great. I have it on the authority of a very old and experienced and capable Municipal Commissioner, Babu Kallynath Mitra, C.I.E., whom the Government delighted to honour with high title. On an occasion, not so very long ago, a Committee of which my informant was a member, received late in the afternoon an urgent summons to meet the Health Officer and the Chairman at a particular place, because there was a highly insanitary tank that required immediate filling up, and there was no time to be lost—not even time to call a meeting—and they must go on to the spot to decide and accept a contract which I think was ready. However, in the early hours of the morning Babu Kallynath Mitra, the late Raja Rajendra Lal Mitra Bahadur, and others and the Chairman were there with the Health Officer; but the tank was not there. They looked about; the report was there of its insanitary condition; but only the tank was not to be found 'Where is the tank' inquired Dr. Rajendra Lal—from the doctor of a different stamp from the doctor who was running the Health Department at the time The doctor looked about and said my subordinates must know. The subordinates appeared, but could not say where the tank was, and the doctor's caustic observation was that in big entertainments such matters must be negligible; this is a matter of history which might be referred to the records of the Corporation for verification, if necessary. I have it on high authority, Sir, of a gentleman who narrated the incident in the presence of my friend to the left. The tank could not be discovered, and the result of it was that the tank could not be filled up. Such things are extreme no doubt, but a local inquiry at some stage may help in getting rid of an awkward situation like this Though things happen rarely, this plea for local investigation by Government, at all events before the thing is finally decided, ought not to be resisted in the way, I am sorry to say, it is resisted. We have no local inquiry provided for by the Statute anywhere, and I think it should be at the initial stage before much expenditure has been incurred. As that has been resisted, it ought to be at a later stage. But at some stage or other such an investigation ought to be possible under the Statute itself."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"There is only one thing that I should like to inquire from my friend opposite. What is the object of a reference to Government? It means perhaps some sort of control. Some further inquiry or examination at least of schemes. How is that to be secured at present? So far as we know, Government has no machinery at its disposal. There is not the same machinery as they have in England, of a Local Government Board. We have got here a Member in charge of Local Self-Government, but in this case, which requires technical knowledge, I do not know that we have got any such department at present to advise the Government. My friend to my right, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, says that there is a Sanitary Department of the Government. I do not know whether this department is sufficiently well-equipped for the work, but I do believe that it is the intention of my friend opposite and of the framers of the Bill, that this clause is introduced as a safeguard for further consideration in case any consideration was required. If that is so, and I assume it is so, how is that further consideration to be secured? I quite agree with my friend when he says that with an expert body especially created like the Board, with a highly-paid official at its head and a staff of highly-paid engineers to advise it, it will be difficult and sometimes rather perplexing if a Government not well equipped is to interfere. But I admit the force of that argument. It does not follow that because the Government makes some enquiry, it should upset the resolution of the Board. There has often been difference of opinion between a subordinate and a higher authority, as it is evident from the way in which Government sends back some points for further information or for elaboration of further details—things which are nearly every day done in Government departments. In order to secure the object of this amendment, some inquiry may be held so, that Government itself may be satisfied what has been done has been properly done. I do not think that any Government would likely set aside the recommendation or the resolution of the Board of Trustees, at the same time this is intended to be a safeguard. Let a real safeguard and not a nominal one be provided. If you are giving a safeguard, I do not think that the measure we have suggested is not so well suited for the purpose. You, gentlemen, may be able to advise us better as to how the powers may be exercised with benifit to the public and with profit to the Board. A Secretary, very busy with his own department and having lots of things to look after, can hardly be expected to examine into the details of a complicated scheme which may come from the Board of Trustees requiring a lot of technical matters to be looked into, and this is the reason why we want a safeguard.

My friend the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has said that it has been suggested that the official is a bad man and the non-official is a good man. Though I happen to be a non-official, I do not think I may claim the honour of being a good man, but I have never suggested that officials are bad men. Officials are very good men, and we are hardly fit to dust their feet. But apart from that, I do not think that there is any such suggestion. I am afraid, it reminds me of what has been said in olden times by a great poet "a guilty conscience makes a coward" which is behind the expression of that opinion of my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Bompas. We should be the last persons to accuse the officials from whom we have received so much in the past and expect a great deal more in the future."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

The Hon'ble Member in charge is not very well informed when he says that we are attacking him when we are asking for official inquiry, and he is surprised that we should endeavour to have control by Government. If he had been well informed, and no one would have been better able to inform him than Sir Edward Baker, he would have known that I have for very many years past, even with reference to the Corporation of Calcutta, insisted on the great necessity of the control by Government—a well-informed and independent Government control. I think that it is very necessary that there should be control of public bodies by Government. I daresay the Hon'ble Member sitting next to the Hon'ble Member in charge (the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler), may perhaps have information about my views on this question. But I am sorry that any such suggestion as I have made should be supposed in any way as an attack on the Hon'ble Member in charge. The great Corporations in England—of Birmingham, Manchester and Liverpool—do not feel it derogatory to have a control by the Local Government Board—the Corporations that have been founded so many years ago and have earned such renown—and I do not know why the Board, which has not yet come into existence, should feel resentment that there should be a control. I am now thinking only of the public, and when the law says that the Government are to sanction the scheme with or without modification, I want to know what is going to be done. Is it going to be a perfunctory sanction? Is Government to rely, as the Hon'ble Member in charge implies, entirely on what the Board may do, and to accept whatever they do as sufficient and not to make any further inquiry about it? I think that would be the case if my amendment is rejected. I feel more strongly than before that, where sanction is to be given by the Government that ought to mean something, not that everything is to be left to the Board and for the Board to be as the expert advisers to the Government.

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The result of the division was Ayes 12, Noes 29, and the motion was therefore lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 47 (now 48).

253. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that before the words "The Local Government", in the line 1 of clause 47 (now 48) the following be inserted, namely:—

After receiving the report made upon such inquiry.

254. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that after the words "The Local Government", in line 1 of clause 47 (now 48), the following be inserted, namely:—

after deputing a special officer to inquire into the objections, representations and statements of dissent referred to in section 46, sub-section (1).

255. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that after the words "The Local Government", in line 1 of clause 47 (now 48), the following be inserted, namely:—

after due and proper inquiry.

He said:—

"Sir, I think my friend will accept this amendment. Clause 47 (now 48). provides that the Local Government may sanction either, with or without modification, or may refuse to sanction any improvement scheme submitted to it under clause 46 (now 47). What that inquiry is to be is entirely optional with the Local Government."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I resist this amendment, Sir. The clause as it stands confers power upon the Local Government to do certain things and I trust, we may assume, especially as we have heard just now that the Government is good, that Government will not act without such due and proper inquiry as may be required by the circumstances of the case, I distrust the amendment, although it seems harmless, because in his rejoinder referring to a similar amendment to an earlier clause the Hon'ble Member intimated that the words might give an opening to the Civil Courts to intervene and upset a whole improvement scheme on some technicality relating to the nature of the enquiry held. That is a risk which I should be unwilling to incur.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD Sarbadhikari said:—

"Sir, I think I may assure my Hon'ble friend, and the Hon'ble Standing Counsel will probably support me in that view, that the Civil Court will interfere, whatever the state of the law may be, upon proper materials and under proper circumstances. This is a 'superstition' of which my hon'ble friend will not care for."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—

"Sir, it is unfortunate that we have been given no assurance as to what an inquiry will be, but after all the work of the Government is carried on by Government officials, and there may not be consideration given to a subject so far as an inquiry is concerned. I think that alarm is expressed, because apparently the Bill indicates the probability of there being no inquiry at all and no active supervision or control by the Government."

The motion was then put and lost.

256. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that the following be added to clause 47, (now 48) namely:—

The Local Government, in sanctioning an improvement scheme, shall declare the limits of the area comprised in it.

He said:—

"Sir, this is a very simple matter. The Government does not desire to consent to a local inquiry. In such a state of things we want some declaration by the Government of what the limits of an area will be. We want to get some assurance that there has been some control exercised in a matter of such great importance. Now, as it is, 'any' area can be declared. The area is not required to be restricted by such a word 'certain' area, and I think that it is only right and proper that, when the Government are sanctioning the scheme, they should also say what are the limits of that area. I cannot understand why that should not be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I think the Hon'ble Member has forgotten the provisions of clause 42 of the Bill. A precise statement of the boundaries of the area comprised in a scheme is a necessary part of a scheme and in sanctioning the scheme Government also sanctions the boundaries, what the Hon'ble Member asks for is contained in clause 42. I hope the Hon'ble Member will withdraw his amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said :—

"Sir, I certainly shall not withdraw my amendment. The Local Government Board have to sanction a scheme just in the same way. There is a provision in the English Statute which says, after receiving the report of local inquiry suggested, the confirming authority should declare the limits of the area comprised in the scheme and authorize such a scheme. In England the Local Government Board must declare the limits. I do not know why the Local Government here should not be required to do what the Local Government Board must do."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 49 (now 50).

257A. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "fifty thousand rupees" be substituted for the words "five per cent. of such cost", in lines 2 and 3 of proviso (a) to clause 49 (now 50).

He said :—

"The proviso to clause 49 (now 50) is somewhat vague and meaningless A particular improvement scheme may estimate to cost, say, Rs. 40,00,000 (forty lakhs of rupees). If the Board were to alter such a scheme, and if the alteration results in an increase of the original estimate of cost by over, say, 3 per cent., then the additional expenditure would come up to a lakh and twenty thousand rupees, which I beg to submit, being beyond the pecuniary limit of the Board's jurisdiction, must necessarily require the sanction of the Government; otherwise the expenditure would be illegal. The Bombay Act, however, requires fresh sanction of the Government in case the cost of the altered scheme exceeds the cost originally sanctioned, by five thousand rupees. This, I must say, will go to hamper the Board at every stage if they were compelled to run up to the Government for fresh sanction whenever the cost would be exceeded even by such a trifling amount as five thousand rupees."

The HON'BLE MR. SLACKE said :—

"I would not accept the Hon'ble Member's amendment, because it seems to me desirable to adopt the principle which has been followed by the Port Commissioners of Calcutta, namely, to have a certain percentage."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

257B. If motion No. 257A be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "one lakh of rupees" be substituted for the words "five per cent. of such cost", in lines 2 and 3 of proviso (a) to clause 49 (now 50).

Clause 50 (now 51).

258. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that clause 50 (now 51) be placed after clause 41 (now 42), and be re-numbered accordingly.

He said :—

"This is a matter of arrangement only, and I leave it to the Department."

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"We do not think it is any improvement."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 50A (now 52).

259. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the bracket and word "(herein" be substituted for the word "therein", in clause 50A [now 52 (1)].

He said:—

"Sir, I believe it is something very unimportant. It is a clerical error."

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"This is a clerical error and the amendment may be accepted."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

260. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the word "buildings" be substituted for the words "dwellings and shops" in line 3 of sub-clause (1), and for the words "dwellings or shops" in lines 1 and 2 of sub-clause (4) [now 3] of clause 50A (now 52).

He said:—

"I believe, Sir, that this amendment will be accepted, because the words 'dwellings and shops' do not find place in any of the previous clauses. What is intended here is to have buildings which may be used for dwellings. The idea of the construction of shops being undertaken is somewhat hostile to the existing notion of things. If we confine ourselves to buildings that will be amply sufficient to meet requirements. If shops have to be located, that may be done in the buildings. I believe there is no objection to accept this amendment."

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"I would certainly adhere to the wording of the Bill which expresses clearly what is meant. Under the Bill, a housing scheme may provide for 'dwellings and shops,' but if we substitute the word 'buildings' a vague expression is used in place of one which is definite, and it might be argued that we exclude shops, which is certainly not desirable. It is not probable that many shops will be built, as private enterprise should be equal to the demand, but if you want to induce people to live in a certain locality they must have facilities for purchasing their requirements, and if shops cannot be otherwise constructed, the Trust might have to undertake to erect them. In any case they should retain the power to do so. The English Act speaks of 'providing for the accommodation of persons'. The Bombay Act [section 25(3)] speaks of 'buildings for the accommodation of' persons, and has a separate sentence to say that accommodation includes shops. The Bill seems to be clearer than either of these Acts, and it expresses what is the intention of its framers."

The HON'BLE BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"I do not wish to press it, Sir."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

262. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that the words "of the poorer and working classes" be inserted after the word "persons" in line 4 of section 50A [now 52 (1)].

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"That would be in accordance with what the Council has already decided."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

261. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "of the poorer classes" be inserted after the word "persons," in line 4 of clause 50A [now 52 (1)].

263. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the words "of the poorer and working classes" be inserted after the word "persons", in line 4 of clause 50A [now 52 (1)].

264. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "of the working and poorer classes" be inserted after the word "persons", in line 4 of clause 50A [now 52 (1)].

265. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "having an income of less than one thousand five hundred rupees a year" be inserted after the word "persons", in line 4 of clause 50A [now 52 (1)].

265A. If motion No. 261 be not carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the word "actually" be inserted after the word "are", in line 1 of clause 50A [now 52 (1) (a)].

265B. If motion No. 261 be not carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the word "actually" be inserted after the word "be", in line 1 of clause 50A [now 52 (1) (b)].

266. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar moved that clause 50A [now 52 (2)] be omitted.

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"I would propose that this should be accepted. It is really consequential to the other."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

267. If motion No. 262 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that clause 50A [now 52 (2)] be omitted.

268. If motion No. 262 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that clause 50A [now 52 (2)] be omitted.

269. If motion No. 264 be carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that clause 50A [now 52 (2)] be omitted.

270. The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur to move that the words "regard solely" be substituted for the words "special regard," in clause 50A [now 52 (2)].

271. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that before clause 50A(3) [now 52 (2)] the following be inserted, namely:—

(2a) Every rehousing scheme shall provide for the acquisition by the Board of land required for the purpose of carrying out the scheme.

He said:—

"Sir, I do not find any such power reserved under the clause that we have already got. Does not the Hon'ble Member in charge think that some such power should be reserved?"

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"That is covered by clause 61A (now 69), which gives a general power to acquire land for carrying out any of the purposes of this Act. That will meet the Hon'ble Member's point."

The HON'BLE BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"I do not wish to press it."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

272. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "after due advertisement in local newspapers" be substituted for the words "after due inquiry", in lines 2 and 3 of clause 50A (4) [now 52 (3)].

273. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "or" be substituted for the word "and", where it first occurs in line 4 of clause 50A(4) [now 52 (3)].

Clause 40 (now 41).

The following motions were then taken up for consideration:—

229. If Motion No. 227 be not carried, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the words "for persons of the poorer and working classes" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 4 of clause 40(c) (now 41).

229A. If Motion No. 228 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "for persons of the poorer and working classes" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 4 of clause 40(c) (now 41).

230. The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "for persons of the poorer classes" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 4 of clause 40 (c) (now 41).

230A. If Motion No. 230 be not carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar to move that the words "for persons actually displaced by any improvement scheme" be inserted after the word "buildings", in line 4 of clause 40(c) (now 41).

231. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that after clause 40 (c) (now 41), the following be inserted, namely:—

(*c*1) the rehousing of persons whose property has been or may be acquired and wh require rehousing accommodation and whose yearly income does not exceed one thousand five hundred rupees.

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"Amendments 229 to 231 are all designed, in one way or another, to provide that the buildings referred to in clause 40 (c) (now 41) should be only for the use of persons of the poorer and working classes. I have already explained that the word 'buildings' is not mentioned there in connection with rehousing schemes, and it is not contemplated that rehousing schemes should be undertaken in accordance with it. But in so far as there is a certain amount of fear on the part of some Members that if the words are left as they are, they will be open to misuse, I would move with your permission, Sir—

(1) that the words 'and the construction of such buildings' in sub-clause (c) of clause 40 (now 41), be omitted, and

(2) that after sub-clause (c) of clause 40 (now 41) the following be inserted, namely—

(cc) 'the construction of any buildings which the Board may consider necessary to erect for any purpose other than sale or hire.'

"I think this will probably meet the wishes of the Hon'ble Members."

The amendments was put and agreed to and motions Nos. 229, 229A, 230, 230A and 231 were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 51, proviso (i) (now 53).

274. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "or unnecessary" be inserted after the word "impracticable", in line 3 of proviso (i) to clause 51 (now 53).

He said:—

"Sir, I do not know whether the Hon'ble Member in charge will not accept the amendment; I am almost hoping that he will welcome it. This is really an attempt to increase the powers of the Board. They are not only to increase the width of the road to the minimum if they find it impracticable, but I seek to add words which will enable them to increase if they find it unnecessary to do so, though it may not be impracticable. However, if this does not appeal to the Hon'ble Member in charge, I consider it no concern of mine."

The HON'BLE MR. SLACKE said:—

"Sir, we are advised that the proposal will not be any improvement on the proviso as drafted, and I cannot therefore accept the amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 51, proviso (ii) (now 53).

275. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "between six and" be substituted for the words "less than", in line 3 of proviso (ii) to clause 51 (now 53).

He said:—

"Sir, the case has been considered by the Hon'ble the Vice-President and a minimum has been deliberately fixed upon, and yet we are giving by this sub-section the Board power to have passages for sanitary purposes of any width less than 20 feet. All of us know that in the northern quarter, for sanitary purposes, passages of 2 to 3 feet are common, which are a serious threat to the sanitation of the neighbourhood concerned. By the words I seek to introduce, I desire that even with regard to these narrow passages for bare sanitary purposes the width should not be less than 6 feet. If we are to have passages less than 6 feet, they will be a serious threat to the sanitation of the people of the neighbourhood. No passage ought to be less than 6 feet, and we ought to set our face against these nuisances, which are a standing threat to the Calcutta sanitation. The minimum ought to be inexorably fixed with regard to this."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—

"The clause as provided will give the Board power to lay out service passages of any width up to 20 feet. The Hon'ble Member proposes that no such passage shall be less than 6 feet in width. Another Hon'ble Member would fix the minimum width at 10 feet. With this divergence of opinion I think it would be better to leave the width discretionary with the Board as provided in the clause."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Sir, in this connection as a Member of the Select Committee I am of opinion that the minimum should not be fixed, but then it was felt that 10 feet would be narrow and so discretion should be left to the Board that in case of passages for sanitary purposes the Board might allow less than 20 feet, but the minimum they wanted to fix was 10 feet; and we after some pursuasion were able to convince them that that minimum should not be laid down."

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I think that the safest course is to follow the Bombay Act. The object of the proviso is to take service passages out of the 20-foot rule. The Trust from its very constitution will pay due regard to sanitary considerations, and I would leave these matters to its discretion."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"In that veiw of things I will not put my motion, with Your Honour's permission."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

276. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu to move that the word "ten" be substituted for the word "twenty", in line 3 of proviso (ii) to clause 51 (now 53).

277. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the word "ten" be substituted for the word "twenty", in line 3 of proviso (ii) to clause 51 (now 53).

Clause 53 (now 54).

278. The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur to move that the word "Act" be substituted for the word "section", in line 3 of clause 53 (now 54) (b).

279. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "unoccupied land or a square" be substituted for the words "or square", in the fourth line from the end of clause 53 (1) (now 54).

Clause 54 (now 55).

279A. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "the usual declaration shall be issued under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894," be substituted for the words "the Board shall cause to be affixed in a conspicuous place in or near such street, square or part a notice, signed by the President, and", in lines 5 to 7 of clause 54 (now 55) (1).

He said:—

"I do not know why the usual Land Acquisition procedure should not be adopted in the case of any street or square which is private property and which is not vested in the Corporation or in any outside Municipality.

"Suppose the Board want to take possession of a bustee road in my bustee (the road being my private property) and to utilize it for a certain purpose, would it be just and fair to deprive me of my property or my rights in my property without paying me the full market value of the land comprised in the road? What I beg to suggest is that whenever the Board has occasion to take possession of any private street or square, the usual declaration under the Land Acquisition Act should issue for the acquisition of the property."

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"The effect of this proposal, Sir, would be that whenever a private street or square is taken up the land must be acquired. At present, under clause 54 (now 55) of the Bill, when such land is taken, notice is given and compensation is paid. Under clause 54(3) (now 55) the Board is required to pay reasonable compensation for the loss of the rights of the previous owner, and there is a subsequent clause which provides for the settlement of any disputes in that respect. In dealing with a matter like this, this would appear to be the preferable procedure. The private street or square is held subject to the rights of others over it. There is no owner in the sense that private land may be owned, and the person who claims to be the owner is only entitled, as in the words of the Bill, to reasonable compensation for the loss of his rights. The matter is not one which should, therefore, be properly dealt with under the Land Acquisition Act."

The HON'BLE RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"I do not see any reason why the ordinary procedure should not be followed in ordinary cases of land acquisition, and the cases should not be tried by a Land Acquisition Judge, and why should cases relating to private streets and squares matter be decided by the Special Tribunal? In case of private bustees the owner must naturally claim compensation. But would it be proper, as laid down in clause 54 (now 55), to simply issue a notice and then acquire the land? If you want to acquire it you should acquire it under the Land Acquisition Act."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

280. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "and is to be acquired" be inserted after the words "is required", at the end of clause 54 (now 55) (1) (a).

281. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that after clause 54 [now 55 (1)] the following be inserted, namely:—

(1a) The Board shall send a similar notice to the owner of the street, square or part which it is proposed to acquire and also to owners of property adjacent thereto or to residents in the neighbourhood.

The HON'BLE MR. BOMPAS said:—

"I will accept this amendment if the Hon'ble Member is content that the amendment should run up to the words 'square or part.' It is the only thing that can be accepted after 279A has been lost."

The motion was then altered to run "that at the end of clause 54 (now 55) (1) the following words be added, namely,—

'and shall simultaneously send a copy of such notice to the owner of such street, square or part'."

The motion was put in the altered form and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

282. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the word "hearing" be substituted for the word "considering", in clause 54 (now 55) (2).

283. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "been acquired" be substituted for the words "vested in them under sub section (2)," in clause 54 (now 55) (3).

284. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the word "property" be substituted for the words "rights therein", in line 4 of clause 54 (now 55) (3).

He said:—

"It seems that the owner of the propety has no proprietory right in his square. He has only the right of use as others have. My contention is that the owner has a proprietory right. Therefore, the word 'property' should be substituted.

The HON'BLE MR. BOMPAS said:—

No doubt the word "property" would have been more appropriate if the clause had dealt with the acquisition of land. But we are dealing with a case where there is no question of buying out an owner. The Trust may have to divert a private road just as it diverts a public road. If the new road is as convenient as the old one, no one is damaged and there is no reason why compensation should be paid for the loss of their rights in the old road. Compensation has taken the from of providing an alternative road. So also the owner will be compensated if he has suffered any loss by the alteration or closing of the road. The case of these private roads is to be on exactly the some footing as the case of public roads and under these peculiar circumstances the word "rights" is more appropriate than the word "property."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

284A. If motions Nos. 283 and 284 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that, for the words "which has vested in them under sub-section (2), they shall pay reasonable compensation to the previous owner for the loss of his rights therein", in lines 2 to 4 of clause 54 (3) (now 55), the following be substituted, namely:—

"which has been acquired by them under sub-section (2), they shall pay reasonable compensation, as well as the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. to the previous owner for the loss of his property."

285. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that, in line 3 of clause 54 (now 55) (4) (ii),—

(1) for the word "such" the words "any loss" be substituted, and

(2) the word "sustained" be inserted after the word "inconvenience."

Clause 56E (now 60).

286. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "so", in line 3 of clause 56 E(2) (now 60), be omitted.

287. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that at the end of clause 56E (now 60, the following be added, namely:—

"after notifying in local newspapers their intention to do so."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 56 G (now 62).

The HON'BLE MR. BOMPAS said:—

"Sir, may I suggest that item 289A be moved first? That would render the previous amendments unnecessary."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"If the Council and the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur agree, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas may first move amendment No. 289A."

This was agreed to.

289A. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas moved that the following amendments be made in clause 56G (now 62) (4), namely:—

(1) after the word "payable", in line 1, insert the words "to any person";

(2) for the words "the same premises or any adjacent premises belonging to the same owner", in lines 3 to 5, substitute the word "him."

The HON'BLE MR. BOMPAS said:—

"If the amendment which I have just moved be accepted, the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur will not arise. The Hon'ble Member will say that by clause 56G (now 62) the Trust will have power of discontinuing or closing any public street. That is a power which is obviously desirable and which in other circumstances would have been exercised by the Corporation. But it is possible that when you close or discontinue a road or a square you may do some damage to people who are entitled to use it, and sub-clauses (2) and (3) provide that compensation shall be paid to any person who has suffered such damage. Sub-clause (4) however refers to damages to premises and not to individuals and my amendment is necessary in order to make sub-clause (4) consistent with the two foregoing sub-clauses. To pay compensation to the injured person to the extent of his injury is fair and simple, but it is difficult or impossible to say that one side of a house has been benefitted and one side of a house has been injured by the closing or diversion of a road, or that the injury outweighs the benefit or vice versâ. And it seems no more reasonable to refer to an adjoining premises belonging to one owner than to different parts of the same premises. I submit that the whole matter is simplified by making sub-clause (4) consistent with the previous sub-clauses."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 56 G (now 62) (5).

289B. The HON'BLE MR. BOMPAS, with the permission of the President, moved :—

(1) that the words "or square" be inserted after the words "public street" in line 1 of clause 56G (now 62) (5), and

(2) that the words "so much of the same," be substituted for the words "the site of so much of the roadway and footpath" in lines 4 and 5 of clause 56G (5) (now 62)."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 56 G (now 62).

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

288. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "or any adjacent premises belonging to the same owner", in lines 4 and 5 of clause 56 G (now 62) (4), be omitted.

289. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "or any adjacent premises belonging to the same owner", in lines 4 and 5 of clause 56G (now 62) (4), be omitted.

He said :—

"Sir, I am afraid I am not quite able to follow the effect of my friend's amendment, but as it is believed that it will meet requirements of the case, I do not wish to press my amendment. I take it that it will be a general striking of balance which will be taken into account and adjusted."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 56 H (now 63) (1).

290. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "regard to" be inserted before the words "any area", in line 1 of clause 56H (now 63) (1).

He said :—

"I take it, Sir, that it is an obvious correction which the Department will probably accept."

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said :—

"The amendment is an improvement and may be accepted."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

291. If Motion No. 12 or Motion No. 13 be carried, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "within the distance mentioned in section 1, sub-section (3)" be inserted after the word "Municipality", in line 2 of clause 56H (now 63) (1).

Clause 56 H (2) (now 63).

292. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu moved that at the end of clause 56H (now 63) (1) the following be added, namely :—

"and shall publish the same in the manner prescribed by section 350 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, the expense of such publication being borne by the Board."

He said :—

"I think that this amendment will be accepted subject to the modifications proposed by Mr. Wigley."

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said :—

"Under the Bill as it stands, Sir, you will observe that notice of these street alignment schemes is given by sending them to the local authority, which is supposed to take due action to make them known and to collect expressions of public opinion. The amendment of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu is to require the Board to publish a notice in the same manner as is prescribed by the Calcutta Municipal Act. I am prepared to accept the amendment in a slightly different form though to the same effect, and would propose that clause 56H (now 63) (2) should run as follows:—

(2) 'Before finally adopting any scheme or plan prepared under sub-section (1), the Board shall give public notice of their intention so to do, and shall send the scheme or plan to the local authority by which the said area is administered, and shall consider all objections received from any person affected by the scheme or plan, and any representation made to them by the said local authority, before a date to be appointed by the Board in this behalf'."

The motion was put in the altered form and agreed to.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

293. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that after the word "authority" in line 5 of section 56H (2), the following be inserted namely :—

or by any person affected by such scheme or plan.

Clause 56 H (now 63) (5).

294. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur moved that the words "and if they do not proceed to acquire such land within two years from the date of such refusal", in lines 3 and 4 of clause 56H (now 63) (5), be omitted.

He said :—

"I do not know why an owner will have to wait for two years before he is paid reasonable compensation, whereas in the case of setting back a building, a wall, under clause 56H (now 63) (7) the owner is to be paid full compensation forthwith. Now, with reference to sub-sections (5) and (7), I beg to point out that in both cases the compensation to be paid by the Board for their refusal in one case, to grant permission to any person to erect on his land any building or wall, and in the other case by their compelling the owner to set back his building or wall, is not for any damage that may be sustained in consequence thereof, but for the loss of his land, for in both cases the effect of the orders of the Board is that the owner is thenceforth prevented from "utilising or making any use of his land which has fallen within the street alignment or building line. It is, therefore, reasonable that the Board should pay the market value of so much of the land which its owner is prevented from using.

The HON'BLE MR. WHEELER said:—

"This clause deals with the alignment of streets which are laid out with the idea of preventing the congestion of areas to which the operations of the Board have not, at the moment, extended. The amendment that has just been moved would require the Board to pay compensation in all cases in which they refuse to grant permission to any person to erect on his land any building or wall I submit, Sir, that it is inadmissible Under section 350 of the Calcutta Municipal Act upon which this is modelled, the General Committee has power to align streets, and while compensation is payable for the actual setting back of a wall or building, the mere fact that the line is enforced carries no right to compensation at all. It is quite arguable that it should not do so. The clause is purely designed to provide for the future. It is absolutely impossible for the Board to deal with everything at once, and at the same time, as we know, the evils of wrong building and overcrowding may spring up at any time. The clause, therefore, takes power to look ahead and to say that under certain conditions the holders of property should not be permitted so to misuse it as to cause damage to the community. Unless it be argued that they are entitled absolutely to make what use of their property they like, irrespective of the public interests, there is no basis here for compensation. The landlord gets notice and is put to no direct legitimate loss. The case is different when we are dealing with an existing evil arising from over-building; that has been allowed, rightly or wrongly, and for its removal the Board pays compensation. But in the present case the holder of the land has incurred no expenditure. He is merely prevented from putting his property to an improper use. The Select Committee, however, did admit a concession. They agreed that if the Board did not take action to acquire the land within two years they should pay compensation. It might be argued that this was going further than was necessary, but the idea was that the Board should not be encouraged to make alignments broadcast in areas in which there was no immediate prospect of their carrying a scheme into execution. To that extent we can agree, but beyond that it is not legitimate to go."

The motion was then put and lost.

295. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the words "six months" be substituted for the words "two years", in line 4 of clause 56H (now 63) (5).

He said:—

"Sir, in this amendment I do not go quite as far as the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur proposes to go, but I certainly think that two years is a considerably long period to keep an owner out of what I may legitimately call his dues. The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler in resisting the previous amendment said an owner will lose nothing but is only prevented from applying to this Board as to land about which he has received notice. Is not that a loss? Two years' loss of income not only with regard to the increased valuation of the land but also with regard to the growing demands in the neighbourhood would be enough reason for allowing him compensation after a reasonable wait. Therefore, I propose that a period of six months should be provided as the period of waiting Of course, it cannot be expected that the moment the Board has declared its intention of taking up that land, it shall straightaway proceed to take the necessary steps. That would be as unreasonable as the two years' limit. The Municipal Act has a provision which is less than two years. I forget what the exact period is, but I believe it is one year after the original alignment has been declared. For these reasons, I think that the period of two years ought to be reduced and compensation ought to be payable if within six months, the necessary steps are not taken by the Board."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said :—

"I am not altogether prepared to admit that the limit of two years laid down in the Act is excessive, and on the other hand I think that six months is certainly too short. The Board cannot take up everything at once, and they must be given a reasonable time to deal with these matters. But, after reconsideration, we are prepared to reduce the period from two to one year, on the analogy of the Calcutta Act, and that I think will be a fair compromise."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Sir, we are training ourselves to be thankful for small mercies, and accept what we can get."

The motion was then put in the altered form and agreed to.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

295A. If Motion No. 294 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "six months" be substituted for the words "two years", in line 4 of clause 56H (5) (now 63).

259B. The Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur to move that the words "the loss of his land" be substituted for the words "any damage sustained by him in consequence of such refusal", in lines 5 and 6 of clause 56 H (5) (now 63).

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 19th August, 1911, at 11 A.M.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 23rd August, 1911.

No. 29.—The Governor General has been pleased, under rule 23 of the Rules for the conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General, to order the publication in the Gazette of India in English of the following Bills, together with the Statements of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bills and Statements of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information :—

No. 10 of 1911.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

XV of 1872. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Christian Marriage (Amendment) Act, 1911.

XV of 1872. Substitution of new section 81, Act XV of 1872. 2. For section 81 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

Certificates of certain marriages for Secretary of State. "81. The Registrar General of Births, Deaths and Marriages and the officers appointed under section 56 shall, at the end of every quarter in each year, select, from the certificates of marriages forwarded to them, respectively, during such quarter, the certificates of the marriages of which the Governor General in Council may desire that evidence shall be transmitted to England, and shall send the same certificates, signed by them respectively, to the Secretary of State for India."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is proposed to amend section 81 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, XV of 1872, so as to enable all Registrars General of Births, Deaths and Marriages in India to transmit quarterly all certificates of marriages solemnized in their Provinces direct to the India Office instead of sending them through the Government of India in the Home Department as at present. The existing system necessarily involves some delay, and does not appear to have any compensating advantage. It is also proposed to omit from this section the words "and delivered to the Registrar General of Births, Deaths and Marriages in England" because it is inconvenient that the certificates in question should be sent to that officer while all the other returns are preserved in the India Office.

The 2nd May, 1911. H. BUTLER.

NO. 11 OF 1911.

A Bill further to amend the Court-fees Act, 1870.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the 1870. Court-fees Act, 1870; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.
1. This Act may be called the Court-fees (Amendment) Act, 1911.

Amendment of Schedule II, Act VII of 1870.
2. In Schedule II of the Court-fees Act, 1870, after article 1 the following article shall be inserted, namely:— VII of 1870.

"1A. Application to any Civil Court that records may be called for from another Court.	When the Court grants the application and is of opinion that the transmission of such records involves the use of the post.	Twelve annas in addition to any fee levied on the application under clause (a), clause (b) or clause (d) of article 1 of this Schedule."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Bill proposes to amend the Court-fees Act, 1870, so as to enable Courts, instead of recovering from parties to litigation the actual cost of the transmission and retransmission by post of records called for at the instance of those parties, to levy, by means of a court-fee stamp, a uniform fee of twelve annas. This fee is intended to represent the average charge incurred, and its imposition at a uniform rate will facilitate business. It will be payable only in civil cases, and only when it is actually necessary to employ the post for the transmission of the records.

The 13th May, 1911. J. L. JENKINS.

NO. 12 OF 1911.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Forest Act, 1878.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the 1878. Indian Forest Act, 1878; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.
1. This Act may be called the Indian Forest (Amendment) Act, 1911.

Amendment of section 2, Act VII, 1878.
1878. 2. In section 2 of the Indian Forest Act, 1878, in sub-clause (a) of the definition of "forest-produce", after the words "mahua flowers" the words "mahua seeds" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 26, Act VII, 1878.
3. In section 26 of the said Act, for the words "with the previous sanction" the words "subject to the control" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 31, Act VII, 1878.
4. In section 31 of the said Act, after the words "from time to time" the words "and subject to the control of the Governor General in Council" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 39, Act VII, 1878.
5. (a) In section 39 of the said Act, for the words "with the previous sanction" the words "subject to the control" shall be substituted.

(b) After sub-clause (b) the following proviso shall be inserted, namely:—

"Provided that a notification directing the levy of a duty, in the case of timber and other forest-produce brought from any place beyond the frontier of British India, which is not under the control of the Local Government, shall not be issued without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council"; and (c) For the words "with the like sanction" the words "subject to the like control or sanction, respectively" shall be substituted.

Repeal of proviso to section 77, Act VII, 1878.
6. The proviso to section 77 of the said Act is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE main object of the Bill is to give Local Governments power to declare forests no longer reserved, to make rules for protected forests, to impose duties in certain cases on timber, and to issue rules under certain sections of the Forest Act. The present law does not permit of the Local Governments exercising the above powers without the previous sanction of the Government of India, and it is now proposed to do away with the necessity for this previous sanction.

The opportunity has been taken to declare "mahua seeds" to be forest-produce. There is a large and growing trade in these seeds in certain parts of India, and it will be a convenience if it can be subjected to the same control as is exercised in the case of other forest-produce

The 6th June, 1911. R. W. CARLYLE.

NO. 13 OF 1911.

A Bill further to amend the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887; It is hereby enacted as follows:— XII of 1887.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts (Amendment) Act, 1911.

Amendment of section 1 (1), Act XII, 1887.

2. In sub-section (1) of section 1 of the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887, for the words "North-Western Provinces" the word "Agra" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 8 (1), Act XII, 1887.

3. In sub-section (1) of section 8 of the said Act the words "and with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council" are hereby repealed.

Amendment of section 25, Act XII, 1887.

4. In section 25 of the said Act, for the words "one hundred rupees" the words "two hundred and fifty rupees" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IT is proposed to amend the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887, in three respects. The Act is at present known, outside Bengal, as "the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887". In Bengal, however, the Act may, under Bengal Act IV of 1906, be cited as "the Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887". It is proposed therefore to take the opportunity of adopting a new short title for the Act, namely, "The Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887", by which it may in future be cited universally.
